CASH, PLEDGES FOR BUILDING EXCEED $7,000

Murray Warner Collection of Art to be Housed in Proposed Museum

Booths are Gifts of Alumni and Others Interested in State Cultural Center

A building fund for the erection of an art museum on the University campus is the object of the campaign sponsoring the All-Oregon 1925 Exposition and Bazaar being held in Portland from October fifth to tenth.

In the past few years the University has been acquiring an admirable collection of art through donations and bequests from people interested in the furthering of art in the University and subsequently, in the state of Oregon.

The Murray Warner collection of Oriental art which has been growing with delightful rapidity year by year is one of the chief reasons for the building of a museum. The last collection bought by Mrs. Warner has necessarily been stored in waiting for a suitable place for display to be built.

More than $7,000 in cash and good pledges, besides the promise of several substantial bequests, has been the result of an initial effort. The present campaign is expected to carry the total well up toward the $300,000 mark which will be required for the building of a fire-proof structure.

The booths are being furnished by gifts from Oregon Alumni, students and others interested in the building up of a cultural art center in the state. Several works of art valued very highly have been donated by representatives of the fine arts department in the University.

Another campaign, probably similar to the present one will be put on next year for the purpose of promoting the building fund. The whole idea has been largely that of Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, secretary of the drive and member of the University Board of regents.

OREGON CLUBS PLAN DANCE FOR STUDENTS

An informal, no-date dance for all students not in living organizations will be held in the woman's building Saturday night from 8:00 until 11:30.

The affair is being sponsored by the Oregon Clubs who are planning to entertain at least 200 people. This is the first big no-date dance of the year and according to the committee an effort is being made to make it a success. Excellent music has been secured, and refreshments will be served. Students are asked to remember that there is no fee, and that dates are not in order.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening are: Dean and Mrs. Sheldon; Dean Virginia Judy Esterly; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fish; Miss Gertrude Talbot and Miss McCann.

DEMOLAYS TO DISCUSS FUTURE PLANS TODAY

A meeting of members of the Order of DeMolay who are attending the University will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 at the Craftsman Club, it has been announced by Mark Taylor, Master Councilor of the local chapter of the order, and a sophomore in the University.

Professor Dunn, of the University faculty, and Joe Frazer, student, will speak at the meeting. Plans for activities to be promoted by the campus members in co-operation with the local chapter of the Order will be discussed.

Big Bleacher Rally To Be at 5 O'clock Today Says Martin

At five o'clock this afternoon, the student grid fan will see on Hayward field the varsity football men preparing for the crucial Idaho game Saturday. If he should walk toward the grandstand he will be forced to contribute, himself to the preparation for the Idaho battle. A bleacher rally will be in progress.

Starting at five P. M. says Freddie Martin, yell king, there will be a half hour of yell practice for all students who can possibly make the supreme effort necessary to reach the grandstand at Hayward field. It is especially necessary that freshmen come out if possible.

The "bleacher rallies" as these yell practices at the football field are called, are a great factor in determining the type of yelling delivered at the contests. Much depends on the support given rallies such as the one this afternoon.

The event: a bleacher rally. The place: Hayward Field grandstand. The time: Five P. M. today. "Be there," says Martin.

MANY CHANGES MADE IN R. O. T. C. COURSES

Thirty Two New Students Enrolled This Term

The R. O. T. C. work this term is starting off successfully, according to Captain Frank E. Culin, of the R. O. T. C. department. In cutting down expenses, the war department has made several changes in the instruction of the cadets. In order to meet this new plan the R. O. T. C. department has had to change its courses. Certain subjects that were taught in the sophomore year are now part of the freshman course, and many subjects formerly taught in the basic course are now in the advanced course. The subjects are given far more time this year. For instance the course of instruction in the use of the machine gun, which last year required only 24 hours now requires 54.

There is a considerable number of student officers this year. Twenty-three of last year's juniors are following up the work and thirty-two new officers are enrolled. Only one definite appointment has been made so far this term and that was the appointment of Walter Malcolm to the rank of Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel, on September twenty-ninth. Captain Culin states that any further appointments will be deferred until the winter term.

The inspection by United States Army officers of the R. O. T. C. branch here for special rating will take place sometime in the spring term, probably in April. In regard to this Captain Culin says, "regardless of the class of instruction offered here by the officers of the R. O. T. C., the honor of receiving this rating lies in the hands of the military students. It is through their attention or inattention that we will win or lose this high honor."

Sergeant Powers, in charge of the R. O. T. C. supply department, stated that nineteen .22 caliber U. S. army gallery rifles, model of 1922, were on the way from the Springfield, Massachusetts arsenal. This rifle is of the same type that was sent here for inspection last year and will be used to equip the rifle team.

The Registrar's office requests that all seniors transferring from other institutions call at the office at once and fill out a card applying for a degree if they intend to be graduated from the University this year, either in January or June. The seniors on the campus as juniors last year were supposed to file this card last spring.

REX UNDERWOOD HONORED DURING STAY IN FRANCE

Campus Violin Instructor Passes Virtuoso Test And Receives Diploma

Noted Musicians Conduct Examination; Applicant Is Highly Recommended

Rex Underwood, professor of violin in the school of music, was awarded one of the world's greatest musical honors at Fontainebleau, France, during the past summer, when he was granted a diploma for passing the virtuoso test before musicians of international fame.

The virtuoso test corresponds with the examinations given at the Paris conservatory of music, differing in that one must be very highly recommended before he is allowed to take the examination. As far as it has been possible to ascertain, there has been only one other person who successfully passed the test for the violin.

Only One Takes Test Of a class of 25 which studied the violin during the summer session of the school, professor Underwood was the only one to receive a recommendation permitting him to take the test.

The committee before which the test was taken included some of the world's greatest figures in music today. Anton Heckking, cellist, Isador Phillips, head pianist of the school, Professor Remy, principal violin teacher and member of the conservatory, and Widor, internationally famous organist were some of the principal examiners.

The method of giving the test consists of assigning the candidate certain numbers which he is to play before the assembled board of examiners. They are very strict in their criticism, and in order to pass, the musician must very closely approach perfection, according to campus authorities who were in Europe during the summer with Mr. Underwood. The numbers played by Professor Underwood were the "Symphony Espagnole" and the "Vivaldi Concerto in A Minor."

"I should have been very nervous," Professor Underwood stated, "but we were leaving that morning, and the board gave the examination very early, and I was so sleepy that I hardly knew what I played."

STUDENT DIRECTORY WORK BADLY DELAYED

Work on the student directory, which is due off the press in about three weeks, is being held up noticeably by the slowness of some students in turning in their Eugene addresses. These changes of addresses should be filed with the registrar's office immediately to insure all the names being printed in the directory.

The following named students have not given their Eugene address into the registrar's office: William Abernathy, Betty Marie Alexander, Orville Anderson, Besie Andrew, Jerold Bernard, Ronald Blakesley, Loris Bonney, Flora Campbell, Robert Crissman, John Clapp, Jasper Crawford, Thelma Cross, Tony Greer, Claudin Hadley, Fonda Hanks, Robert Hengin, Phillip Holmes, Francis Jackson, Lester Johnson, Edward Kier, Raymond Martin, John McClellan, Franklin McCrillis, Herman Mierjurgan, Honor Mobley, Bernard O'Shea, Velton Read, William Reddick, Beverly Roberts, Florence Ross, Ernest Schlessor, Robert Sergeant, Donald Showalter, Milton Simon, Marion Sten, Gilbert Sussman, Arthur Tarlow, Lavern Tolleson, Muriel Walther, George Weber, Vera Wilbur, Ruth Wonacott, Sinclair Wright, and Robert Yoke, Jr.

First Year Women Guests At Women's League Tea Today

New Women Urged To Enjoy Event

The first of the year's series of Wednesday afternoon teas given by Women's League will be held in the Woman's building today between the hours of 4:00 and 6:00.

Dancing, refreshments, conversation, and laughter will make up the program. Special stress is placed upon the two last-named features, for the chief purpose of these social "get-togethers" for women is to acquaint new students with those who are already familiar with the campus.

The Big Sister committee of Women's League will be functioning and little sisters will be escorted to the teas by their big sisters.

Freshmen women, for whom these affairs are arranged, are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

COLONEL FRANK DAY TO SPEAK AT ASSEMBLY

Seating Space Increased to Accommodate Students

In anticipation of an exceptionally large attendance to hear Colonel Frank P. Day, noted Eastern educator, who will speak at the assembly Thursday, the seating capacity of the auditorium of the Woman's building has been increased. To avoid congestion in entering the auditorium juniors and seniors will use the northwest entrance, sophomores and freshmen the northeast entrance, and the faculty the south entrance on the sun room.

Colonel Day, who is dean of freshmen, and director of the Division of Academic studies of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, was Rhodes scholar from New Brunswick, taking his Bachelor of Arts and Master's degrees from there, and doing special work on the Beowulf in the University of Berlin, where he studied with Brandl, considered by educators as one of the greatest living authorities on Beowulf. While at Oxford Colonel Day distinguished himself as an athlete as well as a brilliant scholar. He was a member of the varsity football team and rowing crew, and held the college heavy-weight championship of England.

Colonel Day served with distinction during the war. He organized and was commander of the 185th Canadian Infantry Battalion which he served with all during the conflict. He received his promotion as lieutenant-colonel on the field during the battle of Amiens. Colonel Day is a writer of note, having made recent contributions to Harpers, Forum and other publications.

Dean John Straub, will preside at the assembly and special musical numbers will be presented by Roy Bryson, tenor.

"Hello" books to assembly. INVITATION TO DRAMA CONFERENCE EXTENDED

A call has been issued to all American institutions which teach dramatics, acting and playwriting, to attend a conference in Pittsburgh, November 27 and 28. Thomas S. Baker, President of the Carnegie Institute, which for eleven years has been noted for its department in dramatics, has issued the invitation hoping that students and professors will take a profound interest in this new attempt to interest the public in finer and better drama.

There are 900 community and little theaters in the United States, besides the theaters in the universities and colleges, showing that there is already a wide spread interest growing up among the American people.

NEW ATHLETIC MANAGER PLAN SET IN MOTION

Ray Moeser, Senior, Will Supervise Entire Staff of Major, Minor Teams

System is Declared Much Fairer Than in Former Years; Frosh Get Chance

The new athletic managerial system which was provided by an amendment to the constitution of the Associated Students will be inaugurated this year under the head of Ray Moeser, senior athletic manager. He will have under his supervision the entire managerial staff of the four major sports and the minor sports.

The system makes it possible for a freshman to begin work in his first year and by the time he is a senior have a good chance to become manager of his chosen sport. This is much fairer and more systematic than the haphazard methods used in the past. Now the rank of a manager will depend upon his service and reliability.

Freshmen Begin Work A form letter was sent out to all men's living organizations by Mr. Moeser to inform them of the new system and to solicit their aid in getting freshmen out for the jobs. He has received a half score of replies and only a few positions are now open. Already a number of freshmen have begun work for the year.

"It's a year around proposition," said Mr. Moeser. "The men will be chosen solely on service and reliability. When the staff calls on a man and he can be relied upon when we want him, he is the man who will be promoted first. It is a civil service process."

Position Carries Distinction The position of manager of a sport carries with it no little distinction for the man who reaches it. He is given a varsity sweater with the letter the size of the sport which he managed with a small "m" in the center. Each major sports manager has under him a group of upper class assistants who in turn have a group of sophomores under them to assist with the working of the freshmen. This insures a steady flow of experienced managers from year to year. As soon as one man is promoted, another is ready and capable of taking his place.

A probable list of managers to be changed from time to time has been selected for the year. The list follows:

Senior student manager, Ray Moeser; football manager, Dick Lyman; first assistant, Dave Adolph; field manager, Paul Sletton; advertising manager, Stewart Ball; gridgraph manager, Frank German and sophomore assistants, Bob Henningson, Emberson Wright, Calder McCall and Harold Brunfield.

Frosh football manager, Don Gridley; assistants, Humboldt Greig and Carol Williams.

Basketball manager, Robert Neighbors or Paul Stetten; assistants, Stewart Ball and Ed Lynn. Baseball manager, Jean Crowthwaite or Paul Sletton; assistants, Humboldt Greig, Harold Brunfield, Frank German and Paul Clark.

Minor sports, James Johnson, probably; assistants, Robert Warner and Bus Revis.

STUDENTS WEAR SLICKERS The prominence of the slicker type of raincoat now seen in the University is shared in the University high. This fact was evinced when a visitor yesterday counted 19, or approximately one third of the 54 coats hanging in the main hallway to be gay-colored slickers.

John Stark Evans To Appear In Out Of Town Recitals

John Stark Evans, associate dean of the school of music, has been engaged to give several out of town recitals during the next few months. The first of these will be in conjunction with the "All Oregon 1925 Exposition" in Portland next Saturday morning, at the Municipal Auditorium. Mr. Evans is donating his services at this function which is being given to raise funds for the new Fine Arts Building to be erected on the campus, as a memorial to the late president P. L. Campbell.

On October 24, Professor Evans will play at the dedication of the new pipe organ at the First Methodist Church in Sacramento, California. Following this he will go to Tacoma, Washington, where he will give the dedication recital on the organ of the new Presbyterian church.

EXPERTS OF GRIDIRON TO HANDLE BIG GAMES

Officials Are Picked From Noted Sports Critics

George Varnell, veteran Seattle sports critic and football official, will referee three of Oregon's conference games this fall—the encounters with Idaho, California, and Washington. He picks the official all-coast team at the end of each season's play. This year he will have plenty of opportunity to watch Oregon's all-star aspirants. Sam Dolan will referee the Stanford game at Palo Alto, and Moyer will be in charge of the Oregon O. A. C. tussle November 14. Dolan will try his hand as umpire for the California game.

Morris will umpire the O. A. C. and Washington games, Cave will be behind the defensive line at Palo Alto, and Tom Loutitt will serve in that capacity during the Idaho affair next Saturday. Loutitt will act as head linesman during both the California and Washington games. Ingram will be in charge of the down indicator next Saturday, Korbel at Stanford, and Huebel at the O. A. C. homecoming game.

All of these men are capable officials with many years of playing and officiating experience, and know how to handle games in snappy fashion. Very few rule infractions will escape their alert eyes.

CASWELL BACK FROM SOUTH

Dr. A. E. Caswell, of the physics department, has just returned from San Jose, California, where he was called by the death of his father. His mother returned with him to Eugene. Because of Dr. Caswell's absence, there has been some delay in arranging his courses, but the classes are organized now and regular laboratory work is beginning.

FRENCH INSTRUCTOR RETURNS AFTER EXTENDED VISIT IN PARIS

"Tourists, tourists, tourists—that's the Paris of today all during the summer months," said Miss Germaine Cornier, French instructor, when asked about her trip this summer to her home in Paris. Her trip, of course, was a most enjoyable one in every way. As she and Miss Henriette Gouy also of the Romance Languages department made the voyage together on the steamship "Rochambeau" of the French line. Miss Gouy then went on to her home in Marseilles. The International Exposition of Decorative Arts was held during the spring and summer in Paris; and Miss Cornier was a frequent visitor to this place of interest, at which nearly every country in the world, with the exception of the United States, was represented. Here, too, tourists were ever prevalent and rode daily through the streets looking at the exteriors of

FROSH CHOOSE ART ANDERSON AS PRESIDENT

Audrey Jensen, Portland Elected Vice-President, Sally Hughson is Scribe

Vernon McGee, Ray Rankin Successful Candidates; Only 220 Votes Are Cast

As president of the class of 1929, Art Anderson of Portland, Oregon, was chosen at the freshman election held yesterday at 4:00 o'clock at Villard hall. Audrey Jensen of Portland, Oregon will be vice-president.

The four freshman candidates for the presidency were pledged to fraternities, the houses having agreed to permit their men to accept the office. Anderson, Phi Delta Theta, was opposed by Ben Southers, Phi Gamma Delta, Lloyd McGee, Kappa Sigma, and Ronald McCraith, Alpha Tau Omega.

220 Votes Cast in Election The other officers elected are Sally Hughson, Portland, secretary; Vernon McGee, Ashland, treasurer; and Ray Rankin, Portland, sergeant-at-arms. Votes cast numbered 220 which indicates that a large number out of the class did not take advantage of their votes.

At the freshman meeting, Fred Martin, yell king, spoke to the class about conduct at football games, emphasizing the importance of organized rooting on the part of the men. He spoke of the famous Oregon spirit which will be carried on by the freshmen and called attention to the bleacher rally this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

Dean Walker Commends Class Dean Walker congratulated the class on the sportsmanship demonstrated at the parade and mix last Saturday. He stressed the value of good sportsmanship at all times and particularly at school athletic contests. Plans were discussed for the no-date freshman dance to be held in the Woman's building October 16.

Members of the nominating committee were: first committee, Joe Haliday, chairman; Peggy Wood, Joseph McKeown, Lorraine Pierce and Richard Robinson; second committee, Gladys Steiger, chairman; Edward Sladter, Geraldine Spence, Allen Boyden and John Galey. No nominations were made from the floor.

Y. W. C. A. SPONSORS TEA FOR NEW WOMEN

An informal tea will be given at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow Thursday afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00 o'clock. New girls on the campus are especially invited. The object of the affair is primarily to help the girls get acquainted.

The "Big Sisters" are co-operating with the social committee in trying to get all of the freshmen social chairman, is in charge of the tea and program.

FRENCH INSTRUCTOR RETURNS AFTER EXTENDED VISIT IN PARIS

"You should have seen the Russian one," she said smiling. "It was truly Soviet art, all red on the outside with funny lines and terrible pictures and decorations inside." There is talk of holding the exhibit over for another season, before during the summer in Paris. Miss Cornier also spent a month (Continued on page four)
