

SPACE LIMITED SAYS LIBRARIAN

Individual Desks Ordered to Replace Tables

LACK OF RESERVE ROOM

Lobby Entrance Wanted To Avoid Confusion

With the increase in the number of students, the problem of library accommodation becomes more acute, said M. H. Douglass, librarian, yesterday. It is a question not merely of space, but equipment and arrangement.

The greater use of reserve books creates a demand for more room, books and library assistants. The present arrangement fails to meet this demand. Condon hall does not supply sufficient space to take care of all the reserve work, though study conditions are more favorable there than in the main building. Individual desks have been ordered for the library; these are a great improvement over the long tables.

Capital Is Lacking

In expressing his hopes for a new library in the near future, Mr. Douglass said, "It is entirely within the hands of the administration. The trouble lies in the large amount of capital needed to build one unit of the building; too much capital is involved. The funds are constantly used up, and unless some large amount is available at once the library cannot be started for some time."

In listing the main deficiencies of the present structure, Mr. Douglass spoke first of the great necessity for a very large reserve room. Schools formerly building huge general reading rooms are now building spacious reserve rooms. With a large reserve floor, new methods might be used which cannot be worked out in the present situation.

Lobby Entrance Needed

There should also be a lobby entrance to the circulation desk so that the students might get books without passing through the main reading room, which causes disturbance. Students cannot concentrate with constant noise in the room. The card catalogue should also be apart from the reading room, in order to avoid confusion, the librarian pointed out.

Though closed stacks are necessary in an institution of this size, Mr. Douglass expressed his desire to have a large open shelf where students might choose books after having a chance to look them over. There is no place in the library now however where such a shelf could be installed. There should also be a place for current and bound periodicals which are now not all kept together.

Convenient desks are needed for graduates and professors doing research work, who must have a great deal of material on hand. The Carroll system which provides individual desks and bookcases with good light and privacy might be adopted for this purpose.

Because of these and other needs, Mr. Douglass says, the library service cannot be most efficient, or the most favorable study conditions for library users.

BAND MEN ALLOWED TO PLAY IN ORCHESTRA

R. O. T. C. Head Suggest New Schedule

Men desiring to play in both the band and the orchestra will not be hindered from doing so by the Military department, is the word of Colonel Sinclair. By having the band practice on the same night as in both organizations has arisen, and according to the Military department, men may play in the orchestra and be exempt from military band if the practice arrangements are made satisfactory to the leaders of both groups.

It was the aim of the military authorities to save one night for those who would play in both groups. By having the practice on Thursday night, instead of the orchestra, the question of play Wednesday, which would take three nights a week, Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday, for band and orchestra members. Men desiring to try out for both should see Mr. Landles and Mr. Underwood and make arrangements to do so.

LIFE SAVING OFFERED AS VOLUNTARY WORK

Miss E. Troemel, of the physical education department, is conducting a life saving class on Tuesdays and Thursdays at three o'clock. The enrollment in this class is voluntary, but when one has signed up for it she is expected to attend regularly.

The class provides for instruction and practice in the various breaks, deep and shallow water carries, and approaches which are demanded in the Red Cross Life Saving tests. After a certain number of practices, Miss Troemel will conduct the official Red Cross tests. When a member successfully passes all these tests she will be entitled to a Red Cross Life Saving certificate.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY LE FOYER FRANCAIS

A meeting of Le Foyer Francais was held at the Y. W. Bungalow last evening, when officers for this year were elected as follows: Dorothy Henderson, president; Miss Grete Gray, vice president; and Miss Margaret Templer, secretary-treasurer.

During the hour, Dr. Ray Preston Bowen, head of the Romance Language department gave a talk on "The Reaction of an American Professor Teaching at Sorbonne." Miss Olga Jackson gave a selection on the piano.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL SQUAD TO SCRIMMAGE

Tomorrow afternoon will see the freshmen football squad in the first scrimmage of the training season. This is the first time that any of the players will have been put under fire of actual scrimmage. The work-out tomorrow will consist of one squad against another.

By the process of self-elimination the first year men's football squad has been cut to approximately 75 men. At the beginning of the training period the number turning out was over the century mark. According to head coach, Earl "Spike" Leslie, the freshman gridiron aspirants are rapidly rounding into condition and the work has changed considerably. Each evening the men are being put through a much rougher work-out and seem to be withstanding this additional work in good shape.

The football squad is still practicing on the fundamentals which Leslie stresses as the most important part of the game. Up to date the seven squads, which are under the personal supervision of coaches, have been practicing on three plays. In addition to this signal practice, the men have been put through line scrimmage where the tackles and guards are pitted against each other. The backfield is also scrimmaging against the line. "In this line scrimmage the men have been divided into small groups which relieves the dangers of injuries," said Leslie.

Next Tuesday has been set for the date when the Oregon freshmen will pit their strength against the varsity in practice games. Scrimmage against the varsity from then on will be part of the daily training program. Intensive training will be given the yearling squad in order to get them in readiness for the Chemawa Indians, who will line up against them on Hayward field, Friday, October 16.

JOURNALISM MAJORS PLANNING JAMBOREE

Plans for making the Journalism Jamboree, annual get-together for journalism majors, the biggest and best ever given on the University campus were discussed at the luncheon of Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalism fraternity, held Tuesday noon at the Anchorage. This affair is always sponsored by these two organizations and Edward Miller and Mildred Carr were appointed to take charge of the affair. This has become an important event during the first part of the year for students in the journalism department. The date has not been decided but will be announced at an early date.

A report of the national convention of Theta Sigma Phi held at Seattle, Washington, this summer, for which the University of Oregon and Washington members were joint hostesses, was given.

Plans and the program for the coming year were discussed by both organizations and as these were the first meetings of the year many topics were up for discussion.

Keeps Your Hair Neat-- Rich-looking and Orderly

IF your hair lacks natural gloss and lustre, or is difficult to keep in place, it is very easy to give it that rich, glossy, refined and orderly appearance, so essential to well-groomed men.

Just rub a little Glostora through your hair once or twice a week,—or after shampooing, and your hair will then stay, each day, just as you comb it.

Glostora softens the hair and makes it pliable. Then, even stubborn hair will stay in place of its own accord.

It gives your hair that natural, rich, well-groomed effect, instead of leaving it stiff and artificial looking as waxy pastes and creams do. Glostora also keeps the scalp soft, and the hair healthy by restoring the natural oils from which the hair derives its health, life, gloss and lustre.

Try it! See how easy it is to keep your hair combed any style you like, whether brushed lightly or combed down flat.

If you want your hair to lie down particularly smooth and tight, after applying Glostora, simply moisten your hair with water before brushing it.

A large bottle of Glostora costs but a trifle at any drug store.
