

Bear State Gridsters Round Into Early Form

By W. L. Parker

The results of last Saturday's games in California showed the big teams rapidly rounding into the form that will make the games on October 17th, almost the best of the year. On that date, Stanford plays U. S. C., and California plays Saint Mary's.

Standford had hard luck in their first game. The Olympic Club kicked off to start the game and a Stanford back missed his catch. Patrick, ex-Stanford captain, scooped up the ball and scored. Against Santa Clara last Saturday, Nevers and Bogue found themselves, and with the assistance of a harder charging line put Stanford back as a contender.

California's 54 to 0 victory over Nevada shows the Bears of old. Earl Jabbs, one of the best backs on the Coast, got in the game and scored five touchdowns.

Big Dana Carey's stunt of overhauling Guttormsen, the midge quarterback of the Nevada Wolf-pack, illustrates Andy Smith's doctrine that even a guard, if he has the old fighting spirit, can do a lot of things he need not do.

This coming Saturday the Bears play the Olympic Club. The Club has an all ex-Stanford backfield and several ex-Stanford linemen. Every man cherishes the ambition to paste California all over the field.

The Clubmen square off against the Bears at the kick-off and fight till they drop. They usually drop pretty fast towards the latter part of the game.

Saint Mary's is coasting along developing a reserve strength by using second string men in their games. The Saints figure, in their game against California, to outplay the "big boys" in the first half, hold them even in the third quarter, and then, in the last quarter, "every man for himself."

U. S. C. is making lots of noise against weak teams. Elliott, all-Southern California halfback in high school two years ago, is a wonder, but this is his first year at quarterback. He may hit a snag when he tries to work the same plays against strong teams that work against the little teams. "Bo" McMillan, the star of Centre college's great teams, said, "I don't believe in using the quarterback as a ball carrier, for when Centre played Harvard, the Harvard linemen pummeled me so hard that all I remembered was the starting signal and then I grabbed the ball myself."

ASTRONOMY COURSES POSTPONED UNTIL 1927

No astronomy courses will be given this year according to Prof. E. H. McAlister of the mechanics and astronomy department. Professor McAlister is the only instructor at the University qualified to teach the subject, and this year his time will be taken up by his courses in mechanics and several additional classes in mathematics.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ADVISES SAFETY AIDS

Attention of all students on the campus has been called by the health department to personal cleanliness in this period of numerous colds and small sores. Many students do not take advantage of the health department in these matters and make conditions unsafe for others.

Advice is also given that all students should look into the cleanliness of the places where they eat and be personally satisfied with conditions. Experience has shown that it is better for a student to investigate first than to miss several days or weeks of school.

Observations of a Friend

It is more than likely that you have been around a bit of late and have been impressed, as a friend was, that "a reduced price on some garment or article for the home is that price at which it should have been marked originally; that some people appear to mark their prices right only at sale time."

"The difference between the Penney Store and some stores," our friend said, "is that you mark your prices right all the time."

The Golden Rule is in force at this Store every day—not now and then!
