A Dollar That Pays Big Dividends

This week every man on the campus will be approached for a gift of one dollar, or more, for the benefit of the University Y. M. C. A. In truth, every man can well afford to make this gift. It is an investment thoroughly worth while.

Outstanding among the benefits derived from the Y. M. C. A. is the use of the Hut as a club house by men not affiliated with living organizations. In the absence of a Student Union the Y. M. C. A. provides a gathering place for these men.

The Y. M. C. A. does not limit its scope to a few. Rather, it attempts to encompass the campus in its influence.

The Y Hut renders a very necessary service to new and old students by finding boarding and rooming places.

The organization is a valuable employment agency for scores of University men.

The Y. brings to the campus well known speakers of recognized merit.

The Y. renders a friendly service to the foreign students on the campus that is invaluable. It is the only place that most of them obtain any contacts with American life.

The Y. is one of the few organizations that attempts to promote the spiritual life of students. Take away the Y. and you've taken away the most of the University religious education.

These are the dividends. They've been paid before. A dollar from everyone will provide the necessary wherewithal.

Concerning Letters To The Emerald

As stated once before on this page, the Emerald welcomes communications. It is believed that students are interested in the opinions of their fellow men. The Emerald requests that a limit of 200 words be placed on all letters, as space is limited. Communications must be signed, although a nom de plume may be used. The Emerald reserves the right to reject any or all letters.

Something new, at last. Sunday afternoon a whole family encamped under a tree, near McClure. They spread a ponderous picnic lunch, to the evident delight of the entire party, and the wonder of passing students. Good idea, boys, for a pleasant date with the heart's desire.

To the tune of, "We are 100 per cent for Old Oregon. We close for all conference games."—Green-Kilborn and Wilde Knapp, Eugene stores, closed Saturday afternoon for the game. If all Eugene stores could respond so generously, attendance at the games would jump mightily.

We feel it our duty to call attention to the fact that the biggest and finest and best party of the year will be held next Saturday when the journalists give their famous annual Journalism Jamboree. God's better people will toss away the cares of the multitude that night.

Once again—Stetsons. Today the Senior class meets. If the Seniors will make the Stetson hat the official head wear for the fourth year men, they will be reviving a custom that is well worth retaining. The hats are distinctive, good looking and sensible.

The coaches are driving the men hard on Hayward field. Give the men two weeks more training and full hearted support and they'll make the Golden Bear squeal when he hits the turf on Multnomah field.

According to the rally committee, only $3.81 will be required to make the round trip to Portland for the California game. At that rate the whole University can afford to be there. It's worth $3.81 to participate in the riot on the train alone.

Fee payments will start today. He who pays today will live to pay another day—and will probably save three dollars in the bargain.

Intelligence test results are out. Have you a little dumbbell in your house? If so, don't worry. The tests aren't to be taken too seriously.

LETTERS

From Other Schools

THE CHARLESTON!

We've had to come to it. The Charleston is creeping upon us. It made an official debut at Stanford at a recent rally dance, according to front page headlines in the Daily Palo Alto. From other schools also comes word of heroic efforts being expended to master the intricacies of this famous southern dance step. For those who are already despaired of mastering its subtleties, the Indiana Daily Student has a word of cheer. It sums up the situation by saying: "Viewed from any angle, the Charleston is a problem. The number of really good Charleston dancers within the next few weeks probably will be about one dozen couples—no more."

Can the Charleston be Responsible? UNIVERSITY FACULTY MEMBER IS SUICIDE; MOTIVE NOT KNOWN. —Headline in Oklahoma Daily.

One thing we have noticed in scanning the society columns in the papers of other schools. That is, there seems to have been as many announcements of marriages and of engagements among last year's students elsewhere as here.

The rush of rushing has claimed its annual quota of attention and the old question of whether or not first year students shall be rushed has again gone through the mill. At the request of the administration and by a vote of the Interfraternity Council and the fraternities, Cornell has suspended the rushing of freshmen until the fall of their sophomore year. Other schools are advocating new rushing rules or more stringent enforcement of existing ones.

Speeding on the campus at the University of Kansas has called forth drastic action on the part of the Student Council. (This refers to auto drivers and not to students hurrying to eight o'clocks.) Any person convicted of a violation of the campus speed laws is punished, upon first offense, by being deprived of his social privileges for one semester; upon second offense, by being prohibited from driving a motor car on the campus, in addition to the penalty for the first offense; and, in case of a third offense, the offender is suspended from school for one year.  Learn the college yells.
 Two hundred and ten Ramblers sold this year. Bicycle supplies. E. E. McClanahan.
 "Doc" Matlock has been on the sick list.
 C. E. Sanders, '03, is "stumping" Eastern Oregon for Bryan.
 The state oratorical contest will be held at Corvallis this year.
 New and second hand bicycles, cash or easy payments. E. E. McClanahan.
 The Laurean and Eutaxian societies will meet in Prof. Schmidt's room this year.

The October number of the University of Oregon monthly will appear next week.
 Professor Dunn has moved into the room formerly occupied by Prof. McElroy.
 Our football manager is indeed farsighted. Each afternoon he may be seen coaching a team of ten-year-olds who will strengthen the University of Oregon eleven in years to come. Our manager deserves great credit for this. The little boys are thinking of tendering him an oyster supper.

Two of our worthy seniors (one of them the student body president, the other a Dutchman from Grants Pass) may be seen each evening industriously riding on the merry-go-round. Behold the advantage of higher education.
 The college year has begun under the most favorable auspices. The large number of students, both new and old, is most gratifying to the University authorities. Many students have not registered, but when all are counted, it is quite likely that the number will be in excess of 300, an increase of 50 per cent over last year. Many new courses of study are offered this year, and three new members have been added to the faculty. They are: Joseph Schafer, Ph.D. professor of history; A. H. Sheldon, Ph.D., instructor in philosophy and education, and O. C. Stafford, A.B., assistant in chemistry. These new men will add greatly to the strength of the teaching force of the University.

SEVEN SEERS

A New Feature

COMING ATTRACTION

As a special feature for the women readers, the writer has secured the rights on Bazz Williams' "Little Tips To Turn To." Mr. Williams, who is of the coaching staff, has selected for the title of his first article, "My Secrets On Blushing." Girls, if you do not know the proper moment to blush or if you fail to turn scarlet when you say, "Sir!" don't, by any means, fail to read the first installment, which will appear just one week from today.

MORE CULTURE

The sport writers on the campus have at last solved the real reason for Oregon's defeat last Saturday. According to a headline in yesterday's Emerald reading, "Inability to score is held responsible for defeat by Idaho team Saturday." Now you see, if we had made more points than the Vandals, we would have won. Simple enough. Coach Dick Smith has added the sport scribes to his advisory council.

SPEAKING OF SPEED

College students do hit a terrific speed at times. To overcome this, the banks of Eugene have adopted the slogan N. S. F.—Not So Fast, or in simple English—Slow Down. The registrar says though it's Not So Funny.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

Looking back over the past week we find that: the Gamma Phi's have washed some of the windows in their new home; a certain girl whose last name is the same as the first part of a well known baked bean concern, and who has rather strawberry-blond colored hair, continues to wear a diamond ring on each hand; the Tri-Delt's haven't any lawn to mow; it's easier to "count stars" sitting in the new grand stand as it hasn't any top; the old grand stand is much darker, though.

MORE COSMOPOLITAN

The Cosmopolitan club has been making a lot of silly noise. That much is granted, but about the silliest comes to light in the little communication we received yesterday.

FOR THE GIRLIES

A flat tire is better than no date at all.
 IN TWO SCENES
 1
 The night was dark
 The bottle low
 The car could go.
 2
 The Doctor said,
 "He'll recover
 Rather slow."

WATCH FOR IT

The extra special feature next week will be, "How Little Red Riding Hood Got Et." or, "When There's a Wish-bone There's Usually a Family Row."

The first results of the beauty contest are being canvassed by the Seven Seers, and a report will be made tomorrow. Nominations will be accepted, however, today and tomorrow. Women may enter the name of their choice for the handsomest man on the campus with the coupon below, which should be deposited in one of the three ballot boxes in the main library, the journalism library, and the Women's building:

Seven Seers, Statistical Bureau:
 I think that _____ is the handsomest male student on the campus.

SAHIB ALLAH MANCU-SH.

MASH NOTES

Because of the huge stacks of mash notes that find their way into our council room every day, we are saving a space at the end of our column for the communications so that the campus may enjoy these little tributes with us.

A LETTER OF PROTEST

I, an incoming freshman, am appalled and a little frightened at what I find at this University. Here I expected a favorable environment and associations uplifting. But what do I find? That the convict, Tom Murray, is an associate member of the Seven Seers.
 If here such a one is given honor and lifted above his fellows, I erred in registration. Why is this felon placed in company with Bob Mautz, Dick Smith and Miss America? When I think of Miss America's embarrassment, I marvel that Mr. Smith and Mr. Mautz do not actively object. Is there no manhood in our men?

Alpha Omicron Pi announces the pledging of Roberta Douty of Portland.

COURSE IN CLUB WORK TO BE OFFERED GIRLS

A brief but intensive course in girls' club work will be given by Miss Velma Cochran, Girl Reserve secretary of Portland, November 7, 8 and 9th at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow.

The object of the course is to acquaint University women with the methods, purposes and programs of various clubs, and to enable them to be leaders of high school groups and community clubs. The Y. W. C. A. has previously sponsored such a course at the University and they feel that it was successful, according to Miss Magowan, secretary.

Miss Magowan expects freshmen girls to be particularly interested in this undertaking because of the fact that so many of them have been engaged in Girl Reserve and other club activities in high school. Miss Cochran will discuss special problems in regard to the value of club work.

Enrollment for the course may be made by calling Miss Magowan at the bungalow.

GRADUATE STUDENT WRITES

A letter has been received from George A. Hawkins by Dean E. C. Robbins recently. Mr. Hawkins, a graduate student here last year, is now engaged in public accounting work in Denver.

STUDENT DIRECTORY COPY MEETS DELAY

The copy for the student directory will be ready for the printer in about 10 days, says Robert Dart, who has charge of organizing the names. Work was started on the directory Monday and every effort is being made to get it out as soon as possible. The names of the students and their residences were not in before that time, causing delay in the preparation of the copy. It will take several weeks to print the directory and do the necessary rechecking, Mr. Dart believes, so it will not be ready for distribution for three or four weeks.

MANY ALUMNI WITNESS IDAHO, OREGON GAME

A taste of Homecoming was given to the campus last week-end with the arrival of many alumni, who returned to witness the game with Idaho. Handshakings and greetings were thick at the game and at night several old time singers serenaded the women's houses. Among those who returned were: Florence Garrett, Miller Bruhn, Helen Casey, Harold Hofflich, Irving Huntington, Hollis Huntington (well known Oregon backfield player), Phil Stroubridge, O. C. Leiter, Hal Grady, Vernon Moteschenbacher, Claire Shumate, Curtis (Shrimp) Phillips, Wallace Cannon, Harry Skinner, Fitz Brewer, Cliff Powers, DeWitt Gilbert, Si Simola, Hubert and Vincent Jacobberger, Mike Goodall, Ralph Cake, Bill Teurk, Buck Badley, Vera and Eloise Prudhomme, Maybelle Breckon, Nan La Roche, (Bernice Altstock, Irving Brown, Johnny Stimpson, Harry Hulac, Ruth Beck, Scotty McKenney, and Jack Boyd.

"It's twice as fast as writing longhand"

STUDENTS say this because with a little practice they soon become speedy writers. Essays are written, notes kept in good up-to-date condition, and letters gotten off quickly and easily. The New Remington Portable perfectly meets the demands of the student, for it is the lightest, smallest, and most compact of all standard keyboard portables. It is durable beyond words—you'll find it useful for years and years to come. We will be glad to show you the many advantages of this New Remington Portable and explain our new easy payment plan.

WHY YOU NEED THIS GUIDE
 "It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole education system." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.
 "The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes, are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.
 "Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned, may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M.I.T.
 "To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insupportable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.
 "How to Study" will show you how to avoid all mis-directed effort. Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.
