

FALL WORKOUTS LURE TRACKMEN

Perfect Weather Permits
Three Practices In Each
Week; Hayward On Job

Interclass Contests Are Set
For October 31; 100 Men
Are Training For Meet

Track work for this fall has made unusual progress because of the fine weather that has permitted Bill Hayward, Oregon's veteran track mentor and trainer to have his men working outside at least three times a week. Hayward Field has not been entirely devoted to football for the track has been filled with aspirants for the past month.

The big event on the fall track schedule will be the interclass relays which are placed for October 31, the day the football team plays Stanford at Palo Alto. The 100 frosh and varsity track men are working hard for the meet. Five relays are scheduled for the program. They are the 880, half mile, mile, two mile and medley, the latter containing two 220 yard dashes, one 440 and one half mile. In the absence of Bill Hayward with the team, Harry Scott will take charge of the program.

Cross Country Squad Out
Cross country men limbered up for the first time last week by going around the four mile cross country course. Now it has become a daily part of the training to make the course. The dozen aspirants for the intercollegiate cross country meet which will be held at Moscow on November fifth. Other meets with the University of Washington and Oregon Agricultural college are being planned for the hill and dale men.

The program outlined by Bill Hayward makes track an all year around proposition with training from fall through the winter and into the spring when the real outside grind begins. Now is the time for the men, who want to make the varsity team, to get in and work if they expect a show. Bill favors the man who has been out all year. All distance men as well as quarter milers are expected to go out for cross country. This develops stamina and form.

Shoes To Be Ordered

Shoes will be ordered for frosh and varsity football men who intend to go out for track if they turn their names in to Bill Hayward's office. In order to get to work as soon as the weather permits in the spring Bill will equip his men this winter.

The men who are making a strong bid for the varsity distance team are Jeffries, Osterman, Kelly, Cook, Reid, McCune, Gerke, Mauney, Holder and Kimball. Another week's work will bring out the leaders and give Hayward a definite lineup on his men.

FROSH TO MEET VARSITY TODAY

Experienced Men Compose
"Super-Varsity" Team

HARD GAME PREDICTED

Leslie Has Many Freshmen
At Disposal for Game

The gridiron gladiators start the afternoon early today at 10:00 o'clock with the preliminary battle between the super-varsity, and the freshmen football team. The super-varsity is composed of some first string men, some second stringers and some third string men so it will be a battle on their part. The frosh shock troops, have been getting some fine workouts for the last week both in offense and defense against the varsity.

The super-varsity which enters the game today will make it hard sledding for the babes. It is composed for the most part of experienced men. Hedges, and Hughes will take the wing positions, their old places on the frosh eleven of last year. Farley and Marsh, both experienced linesmen will handle the tackle positions. Quinn and Flangus will go in as guards. McMullen, who has been out of the workouts for some time, will handle the pivot berth. The team will be piloted by Walt Cushman, the Oregon Reget. Pausti and Davis rate as halfbacks and either Leavitt or Bennke will get the call for fullback. This team has been working in scrimmage together with practically the same lineup as well as representing Idaho before the game last Saturday so they have developed a good deal of team work.

Spike Leslie will have unlimited men at his disposal and will probably give all of his men a chance to get into the line up. He has four full teams who have been working fairly well together. This contest will begin his sorting process in earnest. The first year men have met with several disastrous injuries to the most promising players which will slow them up.

Dick Reed, assistant freshman coach who has charge of the yearlings will probably enter the following lineup: Burnelle and Pope, ends; Martin and DeMott, tackles; Flagel and Winter, guards; Klippel, center; Woody or Wilson, quarterback, Ostrum and Hogan, halfbacks and Gaden, fullback.

Man Goes to Work In Pajamas

AT DAILY work in his pajamas, Mark Twain wrote his immortal volumes in bed. Pajamas were his dress suit—and from the fun he got out of his work, his sport suit—much of the time.

College girls today are following in his foot-steps. Many a class book is studied—many a thesis is written in bed.

HERE'S A TIP FOR YOU—Plan on dropping into our store this week to see our line of pajamas. 6 different models to choose from.

Harold Lloyd in The Freshman

---At the Goal!

He's reached it! Scored the biggest touchdown of his mirthful career and kicked the ball of laughter over the goal post amid thundering cheers in "The Freshman!" But there is more than laughter in "The Freshman!"—There's a peep into the heart of a boy who saw the castle of his dreams come tumbling down amid the jeers of his fellows,—and the throb of romance that warms the cockles of your heart when he finds the girl who, piece by piece, helps him build again—a cascade of laughter and a tear drop or two—and thrills! Thrills to set your nerves tingling in the big football game when the downtrodden "Freshie," the water boy, the last substitute, the forlorn hope of a distracted coach plunges into the massacre of his team to save the glory of his Alma Mater!
