

Gunning FOR THE Golden Bear

Dr. Albert Boles (formerly Albert Boles Rosenthal) line coach of the University of California team, witnessed both the Idaho and Pacific games from the press box on Hayward field, as scout for his team. The writer interviewed him after the Badger game.

It was a heart stopping moment. Dr. Albert Boles, line coach of five "wonder" California teams, leaned over the counter at the telegraph office after an attendant had announced the final score of the St. Mary's-California game as 6 to 0 without naming the winner. Boles' face actually became pale in spite of his effort to conceal it.

"Who's favor?" he asked. "California."

And the outstanding line coach of the country heaved a genuine sigh of relief and a satisfied grin came over his face.

"That's going to make it tough for Oregon next Saturday for now California is over her big hump of the year. Andy Smith reckoned that St. Mary's game as the hardest of the season. Now we are on easy road after that hard hurdle. Last year we barely beat them and they have been pointing for the last 12 months."

"I don't expect California to beat Oregon by more than 14 points. Of course, we expect to win. I saw that game with Washington last fall when Bagshaw's men were expected to win 40 to 0. We are taking no chances."

"No, the field at Portland won't make any difference. It will probably handicap California more because we are used to playing on a turf field, but if it slows us up it will slow Oregon up so it will be an even break."

"The weather won't make any difference either. Both teams will be handicapped by a wet day."

"The victory will depend on general strength, breaks, and playing ability. Outside factors will make no difference. It's the team which has the punch to shove the ball over that will win."

"We realize Oregon is pointing for us. We play nine games a season and every team points for us. They want to topple the California team off the pinnacle. But we like it. It makes the team fight harder and puts everyone on his toes."

"Oregon has a mighty fine kicker in Wetzel. He looked good in the (Continued on page four)

DEBATE TEAMS FOR THIS YEAR TO BE CHOSEN

Twenty-Nine To Represent University In Forensics, Says Coach Stanley Gray

Sixteen Men To Be Picked At Varsity Tryout Soon; Trip Planned For Women

At least 29 men and women of the University will represent either the varsity or the freshman class in intercollegiate debate competition this year according to present plans announced yesterday by J. Stanley Gray, head of the public speaking department and head of the debating team. Debaters for the entire year will be chosen at preliminary tryouts to be held within the next three weeks.

Sixteen men will be chosen for the entire season at the varsity tryout October 30, on the question of discontinuation of foreign intervention in Chinese political affairs. This subject will be used in the O. A. C. debate with Oregon on December ninth, which event will inaugurate the forensic activities for 1925-26.

New Men To Be Used
New men will be used in every debate this year, said Mr. Gray Monday October 29th, the day before the varsity tryouts. Freshmen men will compete in the preliminary tryout at which six will be chosen to represent the Oregon freshman class against the O. A. C. Rooks on the question of abolition of the federal subsidies to states. Only four men will be used in the actual debate.

The forensic committee of the executive council went on record at a meeting late yesterday as favoring (Continued on page four)

DISABLED VETERANS WILL ATTEND GAME

Disabled war veterans stationed at the United States Veterans' hospital in Portland will be guests of the University of Oregon at the California game next Saturday, October 24, according to Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, who recently completed arrangements with Ed Gavin, commander of the Disabled War Veterans Post No. one of Portland.

The ex-soldiers were offered the choicest grandstand seats, but they expressed a preference to sit in the rooster's section in the bleachers. The veterans also requested that several books of Oregon songs and yells be sent to the hospital so that they could enter into the rooting.

"All of us have been following the Oregon team pretty closely," said Gavin. "We know every player's name, age and pedigree. Believe me, we're 100 per cent for Oregon and Dick Smith."

Friday Classes TO BE DISMISSED FOR EARLY TRAIN

OFFICIALLY recognizing the "Special rally train" and noise parade in Portland, Friday evening, preceding the California-Oregon football game, the faculty has dismissed all classes after 2:00 o'clock on Friday, and all day Saturday.

This will allow all students to catch the official-rally-special that leaves via Southern Pacific line at 3:30 Friday afternoon, behind Villard Hall, arriving in Portland about 7:00 P. M. This will get the students into Portland in time to participate in the big noise parade. The train will return from Portland, Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock, getting the students back into Eugene at 10:30.

SOCCER LISTED AMONG UNIVERSITY ATHLETICS

Britain in all its athletic glory was displayed on a vacant lot near Hayward field yesterday afternoon. Freshmen of the University were seen cavorting around the squared lot limbering up on a basketballish looking object. A sport listed as soccer, known to every English sport-follower, is being inaugurated at the University this week.

Practice for this old time sport began Monday in earnest with two teams of freshmen taking their first workout. Members of the men's physical education department may take this sport as required athletic work, states E. R. Abercrombie, coach.

Faculty members and physical education majors have displayed an intensive interest in this sport, according to reports which reach Coach Abercrombie, he states.

A small campus "world series" is being planned when the teams of the three divisions complete preliminary training, it is announced.

The contests between the beginning freshmen, the learned athletic majors and the veteran professors will begin this week-end providing the weather permits. The faculty representatives will take this sport in order to get the needed amount of exercise necessary to carry on classes, it is announced.

Practice sessions will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday at four o'clock for the first year men and Tuesday and Thursday at the same hour for faculty, physical education majors, and any student on the University campus who desires to show his ability to kick the toughened pellet. These practice sessions will be supervised by men of the physical education department capable of giving the best soccer knowledge, states Harry Scott, head of the department.

A. S. U. O. COMMITTEE MEETS

Members of the buildings committee of the A. S. U. O. met Saturday to discuss recommendations for the bleachers. Ted Larsen, Bob Love, Dean Hale of the law school, Dean Vovard of the school of physical education, and Ed Martin, engineer from Bruce-Kelly Lumber Company and a University of Oregon alumnus, make up the committee. Another meeting will be held this week to take more definite action.

DEMOLAYS TO MEET TODAY
Several important matters are scheduled for attention at a meeting of campus Demolays, which will be held at 4:15 this afternoon at the Craftsman club. A name for this organization and the constitution and by-laws will be voted upon. The election of officers for the term will also take place, and plans for a Halloween dance will be discussed.

DOUGHNUT RULE CHANGES UP FOR DECIDING VOTE

Is everyone standing for the same thing? This question will be answered Wednesday afternoon when the intramural representatives of the organizations on the campus, 19 in all, meet in the men's gymnasium for their second meeting this year.

Will awards be offered for players who distinguish themselves in the various athletics? This is the outstanding question which took up most of the time at the last meeting of the members and will be brought up as the paramount issue Wednesday.

Committee To Report
A committee, consisting of Del Oberteuffer, Don Parks and "Plunks" Reinhart, created to consider the feasibility of offering emblems for winning players will report its findings during this meeting.

Following the discussion of awards a new basketball schedule will be made up, it is stated. This change is due to complications which arose when the first schedule was announced.

Other Questions Up
Other questions regarding the phases of activities for this year will be taken up. All athletic representatives are expected to attend this meeting as it will probably be the last chance for any organization to voice its approval or disapproval of the present rules which govern the doughnut contests.

More students are applying to the University for loans this year than ever before, according to Dean H. Walker, director of the student loan fund.

"There are several reasons for this," he said, "the increased enrollment is the principle cause; then, too, working students have found that the increased standards of the school make more study necessary and they borrow more and work less. Another reason is that many people who were unable to attend college before are now enabled to do so with the aid of the student loan fund."

Despite the fact that more students desire to borrow money, the loan fund is much smaller than it was last year when it was considerably increased by the Risley Church Fund gift of $10,000.

Gifts Constitute Fund
The student loan fund consists entirely of gifts from individuals, clubs, or organizations. These gifts are turned over to L. H. Johnson, University comptroller and are administered by the loan committee.

Dean Walker, warned the students against applying for a loan a day or two before they need it.

"It takes almost a week," he said, "for the loan to pass through the hands of the committee."

Terms of payment for loans are arranged for the individual student. Sophomores may borrow $100, juniors $200, and seniors $300. This year the Woman's League donated a fund of $500 for freshman women who are allowed to borrow $50. No provision is made for freshmen men.

Statistics show that the students who borrow from the loan fund and who are partially or wholly self supporting have higher grades than the average students.

Plans For Rally Now Complete; Special Leaves From Campus

Railroad Tickets On Sale Thursday Morning In Front of Library; Alumni Help With Parade

Final plans for the special train going to the California-Oregon grid game and the noise-rally parade in Portland Friday night have been completed.

Allowing students that have 2:00 o'clock classes on Friday afternoon to have time to catch the rally-special, the original starting time of the train has been changed from 3:00 to 3:30. The train will be made up to accommodate 1000 students, including a baggage car in the center of the train for dancing. Besides this car there will be another baggage car for the carrying of student luggage, there will also be a "club lunch" car to facilitate the handling of the food on the train. This will accommodate students who wish to eat before joining the noise parade in Portland. Tickets for this train will go on sale Thursday morning in a ticket booth in front of the library.

Student rooster tickets for the game are now sale at the Co-op. The price of the student tickets are 75 cents and can only be purchased with an A. S. U. O. card for identification. The seats for the student rooster's section are in the east bleachers of Multnomah field which are reserved for students exclusively. Student tickets provides stub for admission to this section. According to the present indication of the regular ticket sale, Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, estimates that there will be a crowd approximating 20,000.

Due to the importance for the cooperation of the Portland alumni in making the noise parade in Portland a success, James Forestel, rally chairman, has urged all students in living organizations to get in immediate touch with their alumni to have them make preparations for the Portland rally.

Today the rally committee is holding an important meeting at College Side Inn to complete plans and the rally chairman urges that all of the committee including the assistants be present.

On Wednesday evening, speakers will visit all living organizations on the campus to acquaint the students with the details of the special train and of the Portland rally. The committee consists of: Fred Hendrix, Verne Folts, Lauren Conley, Wilbur Wester, Bob Love, Benoit McCroskey, and Bob Neighbor.

Announcement has just been made by Mrs. Gertrude Bass Warner of a prize of $200 to be awarded to Oriental students for the best essay on the subject: "What America Has Done for My Country and What I Hope it Will Do." This contest is given in addition to the Murray Warner prize contest, for University students who write the best essay of 5000 words dealing with relations between the United States and the Orient. The purpose of both contests is to bring to the attention of the individual student methods of improving relations with the Orient, to prevent war, and to bring about a more friendly feeling between the nations.

Further announcements in regard to date will be made later. The Committee Awards has also suggested that the first prize for the Murray Warner contest be increased to $200, the second and third to remain at $65 and $35, making a $300 prize. The increase in the first prize was made to draw out the best talent in the University. It is hoped that the other two prizes will induce students who are not sure of themselves to enter the contest. The first contest is for Japanese, Chinese and Korean students and the second for English and Australians. The Murray Warner essay is to be handed to the committee in February and the judges will announce their decision sometime in March.

Three graduates from the physical education department of the University, Grace Snook, Grace Sullivan, and La Verne Spitzenger, are assisting with the demonstration work.

DEAN MARSHALL VISITS BUSINESS SCHOOL HERE
Dean L. C. Marshall, dean of business administration and head of the department of economics in the University of Chicago, spent yesterday in the study of the business administration department here.

Dean Marshall is studying the departments of business administration in various institutions of higher learning, accumulating first hand information for a book he is writing on the subject. He has spent the spring and summer studying these departments in various universities in England and Europe. From here he will go on to the universities of Washington and Minnesota.

OREGON BEGINS GRIM WORKOUTS FOR 'BIG' GAME

Coaches Confident Varsity Will Make Good In Tilt With California "Bears"

Secret Practices Started By Squad; "A" Sinclair And Lynn Jones Show In Play

Grim determination marked the workout of the Oregon varsity last night on the last lap of the preparation for the Oregon-California game. The same spirit will prevail all week as evidenced in the program that Dick Smith has outlined for the team. There is no inflated ego. The team is on bed rock. It's a matter of fight now.

The team and the coaches have been pointing for the California game and if it is going to show its stuff this season it will be next Saturday on Multnomah field. The coaching staff is confident. They have worked with the team for seven weeks for the "big" game of the year with the Golden Bears. All the other games have been passed over with the idea of bringing the varsity to the peak of its efficiency and strength for October 24.

No Alibi For Game
The squad is full of spirit now and if the week's work keeps up like it started last night the Oregon machine will be vastly different than has been seen in action before.

No alibis are offered for the Pacific game for none are needed. The Oregon team never opened up. It was merely a practice tilt and it was not the object of Dick Smith to run up a large score for a hollow triumph.

Secret practices began last evening. The team goes back to "barnyard" football, back to the old stuff that every man has been drilled in for the past seven weeks. Plays are being polished and the work of every man is being watched thoroughly. The season's work on offense which has been reserved for the Golden Bears, was gone over again and again. The finesse of the play will be put on this week. Light scrimmage is scheduled for this afternoon and Wednesday before the team tapers off Thursday.

Varsity Lineup Made
The varsity was driven up and down the field for an hour and a half last night by Dick Smith with Louie Anderson barking snappy signals for the crew. Lynn Jones was back in his place at full and Al Sinclair took his old position at tackle. The lineup included most of the regulars. Mautz and Smith, ends; Kerns, and Sinclair, tackles, Bliss and Shields, guards; Johnson, center. The backfield included that the heavy steam rolling machine with Vitus and Jones alternating at full, Hodgens and Wetzel, halves, and Anderson, quarter. This will probably be the complete lineup for the game. (Continued on page four)

CLEVER COSTUMES FEATURED BY JOURNALISTS AT JAMBOREE

Pyrotechnical in colorful brilliance, replete with verve and esprit, alive with mysticism and poesy—the Journalism Jamboree Saturday night at the men's gymnasium was all that it should have been. There were news scribes, there were those of advertising and managerial fame, there were specialty acts, prize dances, artful decorations, scandal sheets, synopation, and Charleston advocates.

Of the knights bold, gallant Spaniards, baby dolls artists, pretty insolent maids and the delightful relief of comedy folk, Queen Cleo and "the lady of the Turkish bath" stood at the top in excellence; Arthur Priaux as the vampire queen and Dorothy Koepke garbed in Turkish towels received first honors for their costumes.

Sol Abramson and Web Jones, at once alluring and repellent in feminine attire, made many a masculine heart flutter only to be quelled with esthetic imperiousness. The role of the artist in smock and "tam" was taken by Ralph Casey, while the master of ceremonies, James Leake, was the typical ballyhoo. Professor Turnbull in the garb of a chinaman and partner, Gladys Kimball as his fair china-maid, took honors for the prize waltz.

J. Bernard Shaw and his trained dog, assisted by George Godfrey, Hal Kirk and his band furnished the specialty feature and tripping of the light fantastic was to the tune of the Co-ed Harmonizers orchestra.

In charge of the Jam were Ed Miller, Mildred Carr, general chairmen; Marian Lowry, chairman refreshments committee, assisted by Bernard Shaw; Sam Wilderman, Minnie Fisher, Alice Kraeft; Wilbur Wester, chairman ticket committee, assisted by Esther Davis; scandal sheet, Sol Abramson chairman, and Philippa Sherman assistant; features George Howard Godfrey, chairman, Bernard Shaw, assistant.

ETCHINGS OF G. T. PLOWMAN ON EXHIBIT IN ARTS BUILDING

Yesterday the fifty-sixth birthday anniversary of George T. Plowman, world-famous teacher, was celebrated on the campus by an exhibition of a collection of his work in the salon of the art building.

The University, however, was the honored participants of the celebration as the group of etchings included some exquisite pieces of art. Some, such as the Hotel de Seine, portray such a wealth of feeling, such perfect continuity of expression, and such softness of tone, as to make it impossible for the observer to do anything but admire them.

Others are a bit too literary in their expression. They are analytical and so undivided has been the artist's attention to detail that his works lose their feeling, their spirit and atmosphere, becoming hard and lifeless.

Mr. Plowman is nevertheless, a great artist. He has studied in the Royal College of Art at South Kensington, England, under Sir Frank Short, a master engraver. He has also studied in Paris and has exhibited his work at the Royal Academy in London; the Paris salon, and in many cities of England and the United States.

His etchings are in permanent collections of the Congressional Library in Washington; in the public library of New York; in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and in the Luxembourg Museum, Paris.

He organized and conducted the art department in the Y. M. C. A. in the University of Coblenz, Germany in 1919.

It is the intention of Mr. Virgil Hafen, of the architecture department to keep the exhibition for a week, so that all interested may
