Plans Completed For Noise Parade Through Main Business Section Friday

Big Pep Meeting of Alumni And Students To Be Held On Multnomah Club Field

Spirit supporting the Portland noise rally parade is running high on the campus. Plans for the rally are now complete. A huge serpentine parade will start from the official rally special train which will stop on East Morrison street. The students will march across the bridge, joining the alumni at Front and Washington street, the whole rally noise parade then proceeding up through the business district and main streets and then up to the Multnomah club, where a big tag rally smoker will be held.

Three O'clock Classes Dismissed

The official rally special train will leave the campus on Friday at 3:30 via Southern Pacific. The faculty and rally committee have urged that every student take this Friday afternoon classes after 3:05 in order to make it possible for all students to take this train. Should students be driving up to Portland, they are to meet the train at East Morrison street and add to the noise parade by having noise making apparatus and horns in their cars.

Complete Schedule Announced

The complete schedule for the Portland rally plans is as follows: 11:00 o'clock Thursday—Pep assembly at the Women's building. Thursday evening—Speakers will visit all houses, explaining the nature of the Portland rally and special train.

Band, Senior Cops Will Officiate at Rally Assembly

ALL MEMBERS of the R. O. T. C. band will attend the rally assembly this morning to take part in the program, it was announced yesterday by rally committee members. They are requested to meet in front of the library with their instruments at 10:50 o'clock. It is necessary that all members be present.

Senior cops will also be on hand for the rally, it was announced. They will be prepared to go gunning for the bears as one of the committee men expressed it. They will meet on the library steps at 10:50 and go to the assembly en masse.

TWO ART EXHIBITIONS ALREADY SCHEDULED

International Print Makers To Bring Samples

Two exhibitions of art which promise to be well worth seeing, are scheduled for this term and next, according to Dean E. F. Lawrence, dean of the school of architecture.

The dates for the exhibitions have not been decided as yet but the first will arrive in December or January. It is scheduled for display at Corvallis, December 23, and it is not known whether it will come to the campus before or after the Corvallis exhibition.

The second which is scheduled will be the International Print Makers Exhibition comprising nearly 400 prints, matted but unframed, and being the works of artists from all parts of the world. These will arrive sometime during the winter term.

Both collections represent some of the greatest art of modern times. They will be on display in the art building. These will be the second and third exhibitions respectively, shown this year. The first, a collection of etchings by George T. Plozman, world famous etcher, is now on display.

SWIMMING RE-SCHEDULED

Freshmen women's swimming practices will be held on Thursday this week, instead of Friday as was scheduled in yesterday's Emerald. The sophomore practice will not be given on Friday on account of the dismissal of all classes declared by the administration. All sophomores must see Miss E. Troemel, coach as soon as possible to arrange for making up this practice.

SENIOR COUNCIL VACANCY FILLED BY BETTY RAUCH

Esther Church Chosen To Head Music Committee; Replaces Margaret Hyatt

Paul Ager and Mildred Carr Appointed On Publication Body For Coming Year

Elizabeth Rauch was appointed senior woman on the executive council at a meeting of the council last night. Miss Rauch was chosen to take the place left vacant by Maurine Buchanan, who did not return to the campus this year.

The duties of senior woman include being a member of both the music and forensics committees, and chairman of women's activities committee.

Two Heads Chosen

Further appointments made by the council were two committee chairmen. Esther Church was chosen as chairman of the music council to fill the place of Margaret Hyatt, who also failed to return this fall. Miss Church will supervise the activities of the music committee which includes concert series, glee clubs, orchestras and all other student musical affairs.

Two changes were made on the publications committee. Rolf Klep, appointed chairman was replaced by Paul Ager. Klep is not in school this year. Mildred Carr was chosen as fifth member of the committee, formerly held by Paul Ager.

Constitution Allow Changes

These appointments were made under the constitution of the student body which requires remaining members of the executive council to choose successors for any positions left vacant on the council. "These committees," explained Walter Malcolm, student body president, "are chosen as standing bodies to function for the entire year."

FEES TOTALLING 1000 ARE STILL DELINQUENT

More than one thousand students of the University have failed to pay their fees up to a late hour last night, according to the registrar's office.

There are only two and a half more days in which fees can be paid without a late payment fine and a great number of students will not be on the campus Friday afternoon or Saturday. This will make a congestion at the cashier's window during today and early Friday.

No one will be permitted to buy tickets to the California-Oregon game in Portland Saturday at student rates unless they possess a student body ticket. The fact that the train leaves Friday afternoon lessens the time for some students to pay.

The cashier's window closes promptly at noon Saturday and will remain open today and tomorrow until 4:00 o'clock. Few bad checks have come in so far, probably because of the heavy penalty attached to this offense. A check returned without funds means that the student will be dropped from the University without further warning.

STOLEN FORD RECOVERED

The thief who stole Ted Gillenwater's Ford a week ago evidently realized the value of his treasure. At any rate, he went to all the trouble of changing the license plates and driving the Ford to Albany. Ted located his Ford even under these difficulties, however, and it is now parking in the Alpha Tau Omega back yard again.

Houses Must Get Noise Machines For Big Parade

"FINDING it impossible for the Portland alumni association to take an active part in putting over the Portland rally noise parade, it is now necessary for each living organization on the campus through their own alumni to organize an entry for the parade," said Jim Forestel, rally chairman, last night.

This will make it necessary for each fraternity on the campus to long-distance or wire their alumni today to have them organize a "noise vehicle." Up to last night, three houses had an entry already organized for the parade. They are Chi Psi, Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta with several other houses almost sure of a noise vehicle. Steam rollers, trucks with saws and irons for noise making, and other combinations are rapidly being organized. "It is now up to each living organization to see that our Portland rally is a success," said the chairman.

NATIONAL Y. W. WORKER SPEAKS

Foreign Organizations Are Described Successful

The Oregon Y. W. C. A. together with other University and college organizations is making possible a similar organization at Dorpat University, Esthonia, a new republic which promises to produce future national leaders because it is a seat of culture. Such was the declaration of Miss Elsie Heller, national Y. W. C. A. secretary, who spoke to the finance committee yesterday on various topics of interest.

"Students all over the world today are sharing in their thinking, and in the financing projects of world wide value. The Oregon Y. W. C. A. helps through it's gift to the national and world organizations in work which over a million women of 40 countries are engaged in," Miss Heller stated.

World Topics Included

This year the local organization will incorporate in its program some of the thinking on, and discussion of, international subjects such as: The World Court; problems of the Pacific Basin; race relations; social and economic problems. This study and research is preparatory to an international Y. W. C. A. conference which will be held in this country during the next year. The culmination of the conference will be the Pan-Pacific conference to be held in the Philippine Islands under the auspices of the World Student Christian Federation in 1927. The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss problems which are facing peoples of countries bordering the Pacific coast. Miss Heller will give a short talk at the Freshmen Girls Commission meeting this afternoon in the Bungalow at 4:30. She will discuss phases of Christian work which is being done by groups of students at various universities, and will suggest plans for conducting the year's program.

Object Explained

The Freshman Commission serves as a means of bringing all freshman women together informally for the purpose of solving problems of different sorts, and to become acquainted with each other. The primary object of the commission, according to Beatrice Peters, general chairman of the organization, is to help the first year students become adjusted to the campus and to enable them to drop their high school attitude toward everything in general.

BEARS PRACTICE LONG INTO NIGHT FOR OREGON MIX

Powerful Searchlights Are Used To Drill First And Second Teams For Fray

Andy Smith Puts His Squad Through Fast Workouts; Lineup Changes Ae Made

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Berkeley, Oct. 21.—(Special to the Emerald.)—Amid the beams of five powerful searchlights the varsity football squad had its first workout this semester in the Memorial Stadium last night preparing for the Oregon contest. Long after Old Sol had sunk behind the horizon, the first and second elevens were maneuvering before the ever watchful eyes of Andy Smith.

It was as a new experience for the men and, was an important step towards improving practice conditions. Hilgard field had been used for practice and had served the purpose while the days were longer. But as winter approaches and the hours of practice become more limited by factors beyond human control, it has become necessary to shift to the stadium. Here powerful spotlights may be used to good advantage.

White Spheres Are Used

To cope with the darkness, white spheres were also introduced. They did not get much use last night but should be of more importance in the future.

Before the stadium was veiled in darkness, Andy put his charges through an extensive workout in preparation for the coming game next Saturday in the north. Except for two noticeable changes, the men of the first and second squads went through the paces in their old positions. Most important of the changes was the shifting of Myron Brown from the backfield to end, on the first eleven, this is Brown's first attempt to play at this position. The second shift placed "Smoke" Francis back at his old berth of tackle on the second team. "Smoke" played that position two years ago and should experience little trouble there.

Punting Looks Good

The afternoon's scrimmage found Captain Tut Imlay handling his old position as well as ever. Opposite him at the other half position was Jim Dixon, whose trusty toe sent the pigskin away for good gains most every time he was called upon to punt. The fullback berth had a number of candidates, the most consistent player being Al Young. Bert Griffen, however, had a good workout until he was taken out with a slightly injured ankle.

The quarterback position was handled alternately by Dick Blewett and "Scop" Carlson. Blewett played an excellent game against St. Mary's last Saturday and will be a worthy success to his competitor in case Carlson is forced to retire from the Oregon contest. "Scop" was the heady signal-barker who contributed so much to the Bruin's successful season last year.

In the line were Miller, center; Harvey and Carey, guards; Coltrin and Cook, tackles; and Huber and Mell, ends. Alternating with these men were Brown, Thatcher and Dougery, ends; Couper, Giddings, and Rau, guards. Any of the aforementioned men may start the game Saturday. At present every man is having an equal chance to display his worth at his respective position.

COLOES CHOSEN

The senior class of the University high has chosen its class colors, flower and motto. The colors chosen are old rose and gray, the flower, the Caroline Testout rose; and the motto "Fear God and take your own part."

Talks, Yells to Arouse Enthusiasm for Battle At Rally Session Today

The opening shot in the Gunning for the Golden Bear will be fired this morning in the big pep assembly to be held at the Women's building at 11:00 o'clock today. The team and coaches will be present, eager to see if the student body as a whole unit will be there to back the Oregon varsity.

Bill Hayward

The band will meet in front of the library at 10:40. From there a parade of the bandsmen with the Senior cops following, will march to the Women's building.

The program for the huge pep rally assembly will begin with an opening speech by Walter Malcolm, president of the A. S. U. O. Freddie Martin will then open up the pent-up enthusiasm with a series of rousing Oregon yells. Following this the Glee Club will entertain with several songs including the new Oregon football song. The students will each be given a separate copy and all expected to join in singing this new song.

At the end of this song, the Oregon team will take the stage, with the students showing their confidence in the varsity by a lusty yelling demonstration. Bill Hayward, trainer; Billy Reinhart, assistant coach; Baz Williams, line coach, and Dick Smith, head football mentor, will give brief talks on "Oregon fight" and the team.

HOMECOMING CONTEST TO CLOSE OCTOBER 29

Students Urged To Submit Ideas for Slogans

Two reserved seat tickets for the Oregon-O. A. C. game will be the prize given to the winner of the 1925 Homecoming Slogan contest now being conducted by the Homecoming directorate. All slogans must be submitted to Miss Jeanette Calkins, alumni secretary on or before October 29.

The prize slogan will be used on posters, for newspaper publicity and other Homecoming advertising. Karl Onthank, J. Gilbert, Jeanette Calkins, and W. F. G. Thatcher make up the committee in charge of the slogans and will act as judges.

Few slogans have been turned in, and in order to make suitable selection it is necessary that at least several hundred be submitted, according to members of the committee. Every student is urged to submit his ideas on the blank coupons printed in this issue and send them to the alumni office before next Thursday.

In order to make the 1925 Homecoming what it should be a short, peppy, expressive slogan is desired by the committee. The contest is open to students, alumni and others.

MANY LOST ARTICLES IN UNIVERSITY DEPT

Over fifty articles have been turned in at the lost and found department in the University depot so far this term and less than twenty of them have been called for by the owners. All articles are listed, the places where they are found and the name of the finder being kept. Umbrellas are the most numerous and are in all the shades ranging from red and green to purple and black. Fountain pens are also plentiful as are purses and check books. One man's overcoat left in one of the buildings is waiting for the owner to call.

MILITARY INSIGNIA COMING

Sergeant Powers, head of the R. O. T. C. quartermaster department, said today that the "O's" for the left sleeve of the military uniforms have been requisitioned and will arrive in about two weeks. When they arrive he wants everybody not already wearing one on his uniform to be sure to procure it without delay as the uniform is not complete without the badge.

U. H. S. ENGLISH CLASS ELECT

The special make-up class for the first semester of freshman English at the University high school has organized and elected the following officers: president, Golds Hartley; vice-president, Martha Wilson, secretary, Frances Monroe; sergeant-at-arms, Leona Stephenson; chairman of committees, Clara Maltman. The class is under the supervision of Miss Margaret McCullough.

GRID-GRAPH TO SHOW PLAYS OF BIG GAME

Students and towns-people will be able to follow the developments of the Oregon-California game by grid-graph at the Rex Theatre next Saturday afternoon, according to arrangements which have been made with them by A. S. U. O. The game will be called in Portland at 2:30, and the Rex will be open at 1:00. Those who attend the Grid-graph will be privileged to stay for the afternoon show, according to Rex management.

PROGRESS IN RECONSTRUCTION OF FRANCE SLOW, SAY, DYMENTS

Travelling through ruined villages and over battle fields of war-worn France, drawing comparisons and contrasts as to conditions now and during the war when they both served "over there," is the experience of Dean Colin V. Dymment and wife, Bertha Stuart Dymment, both members of the University of Oregon faculty, now on a year's leave of absence.

In Boulogne, the Dyments visited the cathedral and the cemetery for the British dead, according to a letter received by Mrs. Prince L. Campbell from Mrs. Dymment. They saw a long train unload hundreds of peasants and people of the working class on a pilgrimage to the cathedral for a special fete day, where the sick expected to be cured of their diseases and where they must spend two nights in the public square in front of the building. During their two day stop in this town they visited the fish mart. "It seemed as if the ocean
