

ANNUAL PLEDGE DAY OBSERVED

Governor Walter M. Pierce Administers Vow of Faith At Assembly Yesterday

Senator Upton Speaks On Patriotism To State And Nation; Resolution Made

Acknowledging the obligation due the people of Oregon for the opportunities for securing training, ideals and vision of life, more than 2500 students led by Walter M. Pierce, governor of state, pledged ardent devotion to the common good and labor for the glory of a greater commonwealth of Oregon. The occasion was the Thirteenth Annual Pledge Day assembly service held in the auditorium of the Woman's building.

To be true to American ideals, to have a strong physical body and improve upon that which has been given by the gods of fate, Governor Pierce said should be the aim of University students.

Senator Upton Speaks

"The pledge, when analyzed, means that you are pledging yourselves to be good citizens of Oregon and good citizens of our country," declared Senator Jay H. Upton, who delivered the message of the hour. "Our country is not an institution away off 3000 miles in Washington. Our state is not an institution way down in Salem, but our country today is in this assembly hall, and on the campus and tonight will be with me back in Bend, where I live."

TRYOUTS FOR SECOND ORCHESTRA MONDAY

Tryouts for second orchestra will be held all day Monday under the supervision of Louis Artau, director, and every student who failed to make the first orchestra is urged to tryout, according to an announcement made by Artau.

The second orchestra is being introduced on the campus for the first time this year and is being organized to train students for first orchestra work. Rex Underwood has announced that only students who are members of the second orchestra will have a chance to go into the first orchestra after this year.

The reason many students fail in the tryouts is because of nervousness or stage-fright and it is only fair to give these students a chance, says Underwood.

Although there has been some response a large number of students do not realize what work in the second orchestra will mean and are neglecting to tryout.

J. S. STEVENS NAMED ON CURRICULA BOARD

John S. Stevens, a consulting engineer of Portland, has recently been appointed to the state board of higher curricula to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rabbi Jonah B. Wise.

Mr. Stevens is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he received both a bachelor's and a professional degree. He had served in many important government positions both in this country and in other lands before he finally went to Portland and established offices as a consulting engineer.

The new member of the board of higher curricula, whose duty it is to decide the distribution of courses between the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College, is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Society of Electric Engineers. He also holds membership in Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity, and in Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity.

PAPER ON "CLASSICS" READ IN LATIN CLUB

In a paper "On Defense of the Classics," read at the meeting of the Latin club Wednesday evening, Francis F. Power, president of that club, gave statistics concerning the study of Latin and its practical value. He also developed the fact that in later years the study of Latin has grown tremendously in comparison with its status a decade ago. During the evening Miss Lois Everson gave a piano solo. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting of the Latin club will be held in two weeks, on Wednesday evening, November 11.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

As a tribute to Alfred P. Goss, junior in the University who fell to his death Saturday at Multnomah field in Portland, a resolution of sympathy to be extended his bereaved family and to be published in the Emerald was adopted by the students. The resolution was read by Steele Winterer.

The singing of the Pledge song and Mighty Oregon by John Stark Evans were closing features of the assembly.

SOCIOLOGISTS' PETITION FOR HONORARY GRANTED

At the meeting of the student council Wednesday evening, a petition advanced by the Sociology department for a new honorary to be known as the University of Oregon chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta, national honorary sociological fraternity, was granted. This honorary is in the nature of a seminar for students of that department.

Although no definite action was taken by the student council, it was the consensus of opinion that Oregon is over organized and that while it might not be possible to decrease the number of organizations already on the campus, the student council would be very slow in granting petitions for new organizations to form.

The chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta was granted because it is in the nature of a seminar and will not draw on the social activities of the student body. At the same time a petition advanced by girls interested in rifle shooting to form an organization of women marksmen was refused by the student council.

School of Social Work Is One of Seven Best In The United States

(Continued from page one) includes time spent with social agencies, baby, children's and old peoples' homes, hospitals, health agencies, special schools, and several others, said Miss Creech. The aim in this is to allow the girls to determine for themselves how other agencies solve their problems.

In the juvenile court, or court of domestic relations, as it is called in Portland, the judge's decision often rests on the report of the social worker delegated to investigate the case.

The school gives a B. A. or a B. S. degree to students who have completed three years' required work in the University. Students sometimes attend the school and take up the work after graduation from the University.

Miss Creech visited social agencies this summer in Chicago, New York, Boston, and Philadelphia, to study the methods used in dealing
