

DELTS WIN TILT WITH CHI PSI MEN

Oregon Club Is Victorious Over Phi Psi Quintet

EDDIE SMITH IS STAR

Next Contests Scheduled For Monday, Nov. 26

By E. M.

Delta Tau Delta with Curly Llewellyn leading their offense withstood a last minute rally of Chi Psi and nosed them out with the long end of a 19 to 8 score. In the second contest Oregon Club's fast offense was to much for the Phi Kappa Psi men and the Clubmen won 25 to 6.

Coach "Chuck" Jost's Delts Emerged victorious in their hectic encounter with the Chi Psi, due the work of "Ed" Smith who counted from the free throw line in the middle of the first half, with the one point necessary to win.

Starts With Rush

Llewellyn and Winterer started things off with a rush and the Delts were never in danger until the final minutes when baskets by Martin and Forestel brought the Chi Psi team within one point of the leaders, only to have the final whistle end their onslaught.

The game was featured by good passing and close checking on both sides. The best team that has graced the maple court so far this season was seen by fans when the fast and accurate shooting aggregation of hooster's from Oregon Club met and humbled Phi Kappa Psi.

Boyer and Fumons played a flashy game for the winner's gathering 12 and 7 points respectively. Swede Nelson playing his usual brand of ball was the star for the losers and annexed 4 marker's.

No games will be played today. The next contests will take place Monday. The teams and time will be announced in Saturday's Emerald.

First Men's Squad Picked
Five men on the squad of fourteen to be used in the year's debate work for the varsity will work on the O. A. C. dual which starts the forensic intercollegiate season for Oregon on December 10. The squad is composed of A. Bazzil, Donald Beelar, Hugh Biggs, W. Clark, Walter Durgan, Roland Davis, Robert Gladhill, Jack Hempstead, Jimmie Johnson, B. V. Ludington, Benoit McCroskey, Jack McGuire, Max Robinson and Mark Taylor.

Other men, who won their places on the squad at tryouts last week will work on the other debates of the year: that with Stanford, the U. S. C. dual over the radio at Portland, and the triangle with Idaho and Washington.

O. A. C. Question Announced
Work will start at once on the various questions as soon as they are definitely arranged. The question of the O. A. C. debate is: "Resolved, that foreign powers should immediately discontinue political control in China other than exercised ordinarily in consulate and diplomatic circles."

The debate budget for 1925-26 has already been made out. It will be considered by the finance committee of the executive council at its next meeting. With the item for the proposed women's debate tour of the east, the budget estimate is 1500. Without it, it is approximately $850, which is over one hundred dollars less than that of last year.

LAW SCHOOL PLANS STUDY IMPROVEMENTS

Work On Library Code For Students Started

Plans are being made, whereby the study facilities for the students of the law school will be improved, states Paul Patterson, newly elected president of the student body of the law school. Night study will be facilitated by the improvement of the lighting system. Longer hours for study will be possible, if arrangements can be made to keep the law school building open longer than 10 o'clock at night, he said.

A committee, consisting of Rupert Bullivant, Randall Jones and Bruce Curry, has been appointed to work out a library code which will be administered by the students themselves.

"The main purpose of the student administration of the law school is to deal with problems which come distinctly within the precincts of the law student, such as the administration of the honor system," said Patterson.

The law student organization includes 67 members. Jean F. Dupaul, San Diego, was president of the organization last year. Temporary committees are appointed by the president to attend to the problems which arise.

During the year banquets are given at which prominent members of the bar address the students.

EXTENSION COURSES IN ENGLISH POPULAR

"More emphasis is being put this year on revising old correspondence courses than on adding new ones," says Dan E. Clark, head of the extension division. "New text books are added to the courses, and they are up-to-date in material. All modern history courses have to be revised every year or so. Courses like "American Novel," are not modern after a few years. Any course in economics or sociology that involves legislation has to be revised often, because laws are constantly being made, repealed, and amended." About seven courses have been revised this year, according to Dr. Clark, and only four new ones added. Most of the additions are always in English and literature because of their wider appeal. Usually the extension division adds eight or ten new courses each year, and revises eight or more, according to Dr. Clark. However, this year and next, emphasis will be laid on the revising of old courses.

BUILDING COMMITTEE GETS PAVILION REPORT

Ellis F. Lawrence, dean of the school of architecture, gave a detailed report on the proposed basketball pavilion at the joint meeting of the building committees of the executive council and the University of Oregon, Thursday morning.

Dean Lawrence has made a careful study of the site proposed for the building, adjacent to Hayward Field, and his report covered every phase of the structure, its proposed size, cost, location, and its relation to the main gymnasium which will be built in the next few years.

No definite announcement from the committee as to its plans in regard to the structure will be obtainable until the report of Mr. Lawrence has been carefully studied. A complete list of plans and specifications will be passed on at the next meeting of the joint committee next Thursday.

Homecoming and CHRYSANTHEMUMS Are Synonymous
Homecoming and Chrysanthemums are synonymous, and with the approach of "The Day" you are doubtless being solicited by various fly-by-night florists. May I suggest you will find it advantageous to patronize the local florists. All flowers require a few hours in water to look their best even when first packed, much more so after shipping. This is where the local florist has it over the other variety. I leave to your imagination the difference in appearance between those delivered by the local florist, fresh out of water and full of pep, and those straight out of a box in which they have been tightly packed for twelve hours or more. As to the appearance of the package, the least said the better. In quality of flowers and service we are excelled by none in the community; the proof of this assertion lies in our rapidly increasing business. We are making special preparation for the Homecoming business and prices are commensurate with the quality of the stock.
