

VARSITY ON EDGE FOR CONTEST; CAMPUS AWAITS GRADS' RETURN

O. A. C. Vs. OREGON

Weight Comparison Gives Slight Advantage in Favor of Eleven from Corvallis

Forty husky Beaver players will entrain from Corvallis Friday afternoon for the struggle on Hayward field the following afternoon. It's a powerful machine that Coach Paul Schissler has developed in the compounds of our sister institution.

The dope favors the Orange horde for they have completed a fairly successful season.

The weights of the two teams gives O. A. C. a slight advantage. Oregon's heavy backfield, in all probability composed of Jones, Wetzel, Vitus, and Anderson, will outweigh the Aggies by only two or three pounds. Schulmerich, the 199-pound giant, boosts the team's weight. Paul Snider, 185-pound fullback holds it up for Web Edwards and Red Denman, 150 and 165 pounds, respectively.

The beef on the Aggie line lies in big Jim Dixon and Lewis Dickerson, who weigh a total of 417 pounds; 210 for one and 207 for the other. Both are tackles. Dixon is over six feet three inches in height; and Dickerson is six feet, six inches. Dixon is the fastest man on the team and can outprint the fast backfield men or ends. Both men outweigh Al Sinclair and Homer Dixon by 15 pounds to the man.

Guards find the Oregon players just about on an even basis with Roy Hickert, 160, and Glen Almssted, 185. Bailey Shields, Socolofsky, Bliss, Leavitt or Kerns will enter for Oregon.

Ends for Oregon, Mautz and Smith outweigh Dallas Ward and John Logan by 15 pounds each. Ward, 170, will probably play against Mautz and Logan, 150-pounder, against Smith.

Center is a stand-off. Lloyd Balcom, 175, outweighs Carl Johnson, but weighs less than Nick Carter.

In the Aggie machine three men are playing their last year. They are Paul Snider, fullback; Glenn Olmsted, guard, and Roy Rickart, tackle.

Every man on the starting lineup, with the exception of Snider, Olmsted, and Rickart, and most of the substitutes played on that famous Aggie frosh team of two years ago. This makes their third year of play together.

In the starting lineup there is but one letterman, the veteran 185-pound fullback, Paul Snider. The rest of the men, with one exception, are juniors.

Enthusiasm is high in Corvallis. Everyone is behind Schissler's team. The Orange and Black comes once again as a favorite. Dope records and figures go to the winds when two machines fighting for the biggest game of the season clash. A mighty battle is in store.

EX-LIBRARIAN DIES

Word was received yesterday of the death of Mrs. Graham McConnell, who died at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland, Sunday evening. Mr. McConnell was librarian of art and architecture at the University library last year.

BONFIRE CHIEF DEMANDS THAT FROSH REPORT

Work to Begin in Earnest Today—"Biggest Blaze" Aim of Frosh Committee

Special Feature Planned; Girls to Serve Coffee to Men of Night Squad

Every freshman is expected to report today to those in charge of the Homecoming bonfire on Kincaid field and help with the construction of it, states Elam Amstutz, assistant general chairman of Homecoming, who has charge of this work.

Roland McCreight is the freshman chairman and working under him are: Joe Bally, in charge of materials; Ben Souther, transportation; Thornton Gale, guarding; and Joe Holiday, construction of the fire.

Frosh Working Hard

Year after year the freshman class tries to outdo its predecessors in the construction of the largest bonfire. The huge Homecoming bonfire that each year helps put the "old pep" into the students and the returning grads, is handled exclusively by freshmen.

This year the freshmen are taking the responsibility of this task to heart and are attempting to do their bit towards a successful Homecoming.

Blaze to be Fast

The plans are to construct a bonfire that will burn furiously while it is burning, and will last but a comparatively short time. This will insure a spectacular conflagration, and one that will be at the peak of its size when the important ceremonies will be in progress.

A great amount of work has already been done by the first year men. Large poles have been set in the ground, and will furnish a framework in which the material will be placed.

More Fuel Needed

A great deal of material is already on the ground but more will be needed to fill the required space of the pyre, which is 20 feet square and about 45 feet high. The size is limited by the University authorities to lessen fire danger.

As the fire must be completed by Friday noon, most of the work will have to be done today. A special treat is in store for those men of the class of '29 who have to remain on guard duty tonight, as the freshman women are organized and will serve hot coffee and some form of refreshments at midnight to the watchers.

The freshmen have a surprise in store for everyone in the way of a special feature during the burning of the fire. John Nelson has charge of this part of the program.

ORDER OF 'O' MEN MEET AT 12:30 FOR PARADE

According to Louie Anderson, president of the Order of the "O," all wearers and former wearers of the lemon-yellow "O" are requested to meet at Hayward field next Saturday at 12:30 p. m. Mr. Anderson stated that a sign would designate the place for the meeting. Before the Homecoming game the annual parade of the Order of the "O" will be held. It was strongly emphasized that all men wear their sweaters.

A section of seats has been constructed in front of the old grandstand for the wearers of the "O." At 6:30 o'clock a banquet will be held at the Campa Shoppe for the owners of the lemon-yellow letters.

Women to Carry Green and Yellow Balloons at Game

A novel feature of the Homecoming game and a colorful part of it will be the green and yellow balloons which every Oregon co-ed is expected to wear as part of the general scheme of field decorations.

Special arrangements have been made by the committee in charge of the stunt with the Woolworth store in town. Balloons may be obtained there at a cost of five cents apiece and it is imperative that every house manager make it her duty to get these balloons or appoint someone to do it for her.

Hugh Biggs, who has charge of the regular field decorations, will have charge of this event also and he wants every woman to make it her duty to carry these balloons and add to the colorful effect on the field.

For those women who do not live in some organization balloons may be obtained at Woolworths. House managers must call sometime today in order to insure getting the proper quota, as only 1500 balloons have been ordered by the committee.

SALE OF PENNANTS FOR GAME TO START

Small lemon-yellow and green pennants, which will be worn by Oregon enthusiasts during Homecoming, are to be on sale Friday at the depots, the University Co-op, the entrances to the football field, and at the houses and halls.

Distribution at the houses will be supervised by the following people who are asked to call at the Y. W. C. A. Bungalow this morning between the hours of 10 and 12 and receive their pennants: Alpha Phi, Josephine Ralston; Alpha Omicron Pi, Catherine Mayhew; Alpha Gamma Delta, Elaine Crawford; Alpha Xi Delta, Kathryn Freitag; Alpha Delta Pi, Edith Dodge; Alpha Chi Omega, Edith Fenwick; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Louise Clark; Gamma Phi Beta, Margaret Harbaugh; Delta Gamma, Martha Swafford; Delta Delta Delta, Elizabeth Schultze; Delta Zeta, Effie Hendrickson; Chi Omega, Jane Cochran; Hendricks hall, Katherine Kneeland; Susan Campbell hall, Virginia Hunt; Girls' Oregon Club, Leona Hosteller; Tau Nu, Dorothy MacMaster; Kappa Omicron, Annie Watkins; Sigma Beta Phi, Lonna Powell; Thacher Cottage, Josephine Yocum; Pi Beta Phi, Vivian Blair; Beta Theta Pi, Lester Johnson; Chi Psi, Bus Sullivan; Phi Kappa Psi, Lester Olsen; Sigma Nu, Roger DeBusk; Kappa Sigma, Vern Dale; Sigma Chi, Ralph Henderson; Alpha Beta Chi, Thornton Gale; Sigma Pi Tau, Henry Cramer; Delta Tau Delta, Meril Hagen; Lambda Psi, Adrian Burriss; Alpha Tau Omega, Bob Hynd; Theta Chi, Palmer Schlegel; Phi Gamma Delta, Bob Sargent; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Bill Crawford; Friendly hall, Robert Lemon; Phi Delta Theta, Franz Wagner; Kappa Delta Phi, Ed Syring.

Proceeds from the pennant sale will benefit the Women's League Scholarship Fund. Ten cents each is the price set by the committee in charge. The Homecoming committee stresses the importance of each person appointed getting his supply of pennants early.

ALL FROSH CLASSES EXCUSED There will be no Friday or Saturday classes or laboratory periods for freshmen. There has been some misunderstanding on the part of both pupils and instructors in regard to the Friday vacation, according to the statement issued by Dr. Gilbert.

OREGON TRAINS FOR FRAGAS ON WET GRIDIRON

Determination Shown by Squad on Field as Work for Aggie Tilt Advances

Frequent Changes in Line Made by Mentor; Backs Show Good in Workouts

By Dick Godfrey

Deep in the real Oregon mud, caused by real Oregon rain, the Oregon football machine is turning the afternoon hours into use in its effort to prepare for the coming onslaught of the Oregon Aggies, Saturday.

Every man and coach trekked home yesterday afternoon only after the players showed the effect of darkness drove them from the field, the grueling three-hour session. They were limping and bruised but happy.

Beavers to Meet Real Team

Work-intensive work, done without a smile, is the program for this week. The men realize they must find themselves, find themselves as a real team, in order to beat the Beavers this year.

They are classed as 14 points below the coming Beaver. However, to watch them work, this 14 point margin given the Aggies is liable to look awfully big when the Beaver colony representatives hit the Web-foot line.

Coach Strengthens Line

A line, one to equal that which withstood the onslaught of the Washington backs last year, is the desire of the coaches. In order to get a combination of this type the coaches are shoving varsity men back to the ranks of the scrubs and boosting scrubs to take their places.

But when a scrub gets a chance and doesn't look so good he is shoved back. Then a new man is given a chance. Yesterday Warren and Leavitt were tried at guard. Then Bailey and Socolofsky took a try. This combination didn't satisfy the coaches, so Bliss was given a chance with Bailey. This combination worked together two years ago and showed up well yesterday.

Even with this good showing the coaches are not entirely satisfied. They want to send the best eleven men into the game Saturday they can get. Everybody is shot in and then jerked.

Backfield Stated Strong

The backfield seems to be the only settled part of the team. Jones is tearing up the mud at fullback; Anderson is hurling passes with uncanny ability and is running the team in a manner unseen before this year. Wetzel is showing exceptional ability in booting the slippery ball, and Vitus is cracking opposition in interference. This is only the offensive side of the play, however. On the defense each man has been assigned his territory and from work against the scrubs and frosh, it doesn't seem safe to mingle long in their territory.

"The lineup for the game is a problem with me," said Coach Smith yesterday, "I'm planning on using the eleven best men, but as yet I am not quite sure who they will be."

Anyway everything will be ready by Saturday afternoon at 1:30, when the team is led on the field by Captain Bob Mautz.

STUNTS TRYOUTS

Tryouts for all rally stunts will be held today at 11 o'clock in the Woman's building. There will be no other tryout period held before the rally.

FRESHMEN TO TUSSLE ROSEBURG WARRIORS

Coach Leaves This Morning With Twenty-two Men

Twenty-two white-shirted Oregon frosh football players with assistant coach, Bill Allison, will leave this morning at 8 o'clock for Roseburg where they will meet the fast American Legion eleven of that place in a hard tussle this afternoon.

The squad, which is made up of the second string men, were hard at work last night in preparation for the game. Play after play was run through perfecting all rough edges. The passing department of the team was in good form. The wet, slippery ball seemed to make no difference to these gridiron aspirants.

The starting lineup will find Johnson and Shotwell at ends. Both men are light but offset this handicap with speed. Wade and Bonnett, tackles, are big men. "Tiny" Wade tips the beam at 217 pounds. Rhodes and Hindz, guards, are short, heavy men. Carlson, center, has proven to be a good passer-back with a quick spiral pass. Jost, quarterback, was barking out the signals in first team style in last night's play. Coles and Raymond, halfbacks, are speedy and can hit the line to a good advantage. Llewellyn, fullback, is expected to give the Legion players considerable to worry about.

The men making the trip are: Johnson, Shotwell, Wade, Bonnett, Rhodes, Hindz, Carlson, Jost, Llewellyn, Coles, Raymond, Harthrong, Blum, Bynnington, Brandon, Brunze, Whorley, Strader, Bratton, Benson, Gilbert, Brown, and Assistant Coach Bill Allison.

FIRST PRACTICE FOR BLEACHER STUNT TODAY

First practice for the bleacher stunt of the Homecoming game will be held at 1 o'clock today in the new stand on Hayward field. The next and last will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Attendance of those present at both practices will be checked and special tickets for admittance will be given out. Any upperclassmen who wish to take part in the stunt are urged by the committee, to report today. They will also be presented with similar tickets.

Because of duties elsewhere during the game, athletic managers, members of To-ko-lo and Grakos will be unable to aid in the feature.

As there are no classes today, Fred Hendricks and Paul Sletton, in charge of the feature, expect a large number of men to be present for the affair.

Plans Completed For Entertainment Of Alumni Visitors

By Edward Smith

Forty-eight more hours and Oregon's eleventh annual Homecoming starts its three-day procession into the university's annals of great campus celebrations.

The stage is set; the business learned; the properties ready. Friday, the alumni 3000 to 5000 strong, according to various estimates, will begin arriving in Eugene and on the campus. Then the action will start.

The student body, ready to welcome this great influx of alumni and guests, awaits the rising of the curtain.

Late yesterday, with the meeting of the entire Homecoming committee, all plans for the "Old-Grad" celebration were perfected, according to James Leake, general chairman. The official program was announced and each event awaits its hour.

Though the program proper does not start until Friday night, the student welcoming committee under Ward Cook, chairman, will be busy the entire day meeting incoming trains. "Alums" will be taken in autos to registration headquarters in the Administration building. Those who haven't rooms and accommodations will be taken care of by a committee in charge of Earl Smith.

Parade Starts at "O" At 7 o'clock, amidst a flare of colorful rockets and fireworks, the "pajamarino" is scheduled to descend upon Eugene and the campus from the "O," high on Skinner's butte. To add to the color, each man will be dressed in green and lemon-yellow pajamas and will carry torches belching bright-hued flames.

This pep parade should be the most picturesque in the history of the University, it is declared. Ed Theriau, chairman of the parade committee, has completed plans which will take the "pajamarino" in serpentine fashion, through downtown hotels, restaurants and shows. Girls are asked to accompany the procession.

Fire to be Colorful The "pajamarino" material for the frosh bonfire, the material for which is now taking final form on old Kincaid field. Another flare of torches and the bonfire will be lighted, while fitting ceremonies are staged. Here again color will predominate, as a chemical producing green and yellow flames has been manufactured for the blaze. Elam Amstutz, assistant Homecoming chairman, is in charge of this event.

Immediately following the bonfire ceremonies, or about 8:30, according to the schedule, the Homecoming rally will start in the Woman's building. According to James Forester, rally chairman, the pep-fest will be short and interesting. Speeches have been cut to a minimum; stunts have been added.

Smoker Is Scheduled Instead of milling about the floor, as during past rallies, the alumni and students will be seated this year. Special seating arrangements for the various classes and the alumni have been made. Girls are asked to be present.

The alumni smoker, an innovation, will end the formal program for Friday evening. It is to be held in the men's gymnasium and seniors will be hosts. Men of the other three classes will not be allowed to attend.

The alumni council meets Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in Jeanette Calkins' alumni office; at 11 o'clock the annual alumni meeting will take place in the Guild hall, when election of officers will be held.

Tug o' War Planned Another event scheduled for Saturday morning is the annual Delt-Beta freshman tug o' war. This
