

REGENT FROWNS ON JOINT SCHOOL PLAN

Proposal Lacks Economy,
Says Mrs. Gerlinger

That amalgamation of the state institutions of higher learning, as advocated by certain persons in the state to cut down expenses, would not be effective as a measure for economy is the opinion of Mrs. George Gerlinger, member of the Board of Regents for the University, as expressed in an interview yesterday.

One phase of this movement toward amalgamation would be to put one president at the head of all state institutions of higher education.

"There is a great deal said in the press these days about the mounting cost of higher education to the state," Mrs. Gerlinger said, "and there seems to be an honest doubt in the minds of many people whether the expenditure is justified. In various economy programs set forth, higher education seems to be one of the items of cost to the state that is especially questioned."

"The amalgamation of state institutions of learning set forth ostensibly as an economy measure in reality would not be an economy, but on the other hand, would be a very real loss in efficiency and economy."

"I do not think there should be less education," she continued, "but more education of the right sort. However, people have a right to challenge the value of their investment in time, money and effort if graduates do not develop into high minded citizens."

Mrs. Gerlinger expressed an enthusiastic appreciation of the spirit and intelligence of the University students. "Personally," she declared, "I feel that the great majority of young people that are turned out from our institutions of higher learning are worthy of the big investment that has been made in them both by the state and by the young people themselves and their parents."

When asked concerning the parts to be played by various interested factions in the choice of a new president for the University, Mrs. Gerlinger said: "Legally and morally it is the responsibility of the board of regents to select the new president and they expect to do so as soon as possible."

Oregon Fails to Check Onslaught Of Beaver Aggregation Yesterday

(Continued from page one)

yards in the last half. Bob Mautz intercepted one of Schulmerich's heaves.

In the first half Oregon ran 35 plays from scrimmage for a total gain of 117 yards in comparison with the 11 plays and 31 yards for O. A. C.

The Linup OREGON

MautzR. E.
DixonR. T.
KernsR. G.
JohnsonC.
LeavittL. G.
SinclairR. T.
SmithL. E.
AndersonQ.
VitusR. H.
WetzelL. H.
JonesF.

O. A. C.

RobbinsR. E.
DickersonR. T.
OlmsadR. G.
BaleomC.
RichertL. G.
J. DixonR. T.
WardL. E.
EdwardsQ.
DenmanR. H.
SchulmerichL. H.
SneiderF.

Substitutions—O. A. C., Liebe for Richert, Badley for Olmsad, Luby for Denman, Richert for Liebe, Liebe for Dickerson, Denman for Luby, Oregon—Carter for Johnson, Shields for Kerns, Kerns for Dixon, Reynolds for Jones, Bailey for Leavitt, Riggs for Smith and Minnaugh for Anderson.

Many Alumni Visiting Friends In University While At Homecoming

(Continued from page one)

ignates the selling of real estate and insurance as his life work, registered from La Grande.

Thelma Riley, '25, is on the campus this week-end. She is secretary to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Baker, Oregon.

Helen Armstrong, '25, now teaching at the Creswell high school, was the first of the graduates to register at the alumni booth Friday afternoon.

Mary Jane Dustin, '25, who is here for the week end is doing library work in the high school at Bend. She was prominent in the school of journalism, also in Y. W. C. A. and library work here.

Norma Jean Wilson, '25 of Portland is employed on the Morning Oregonian in the business office. While on the campus. Miss Wilson was extremely active being a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, Theta Sigma Phi and other honor organizations.

Mrs. Robert Boetticker nee Ruth Sanborn is now living in Vancouver, Wash., where her husband is teaching. Mrs. Boetticker graduated with the class of '23 and was a member of Semara.

Ruth MacGregor, who belongs to the class of '26 is working in Portland for the Southern Pacific. Miss MacGregor was on the campus last year and assisted on the faculty in the physical education department. She is a member of Hermanian club, W. A. C. and was head of hiking and a member of class teams in track, basketball, and baseball.

Miss Katherine Freeman of Portland who graduated with the last year's class is working in Maier and Frank's Portland store.

Mrs. Kenneth Moore nee Mildred LeCompte a member of the class of '24 was among the old grads who returned for Homecoming. Mrs. Moore was prominent in activities while on the campus. She was president of Orchestus, a member of Hermanian club and active in women's athletics.

Mrs. Gladys Keeney Whitney '24, of Portland is among alumni who are visitors on the campus during the week-end. Mrs. Whitney who is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon is a popular radio soloist. She was vice-president of the Woman's League in 1924.

Miss Freda Goodrich is now assistant librarian at Washington high school in Portland. Miss Goodrich was unusually active in college, being a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, Theta Sigma Phi. She was news editor of the Emerald one year and editor of the Oregana.

Miss Edyth Wilson of the class of '24 is teaching in the Astoria public schools. She was a major in the Romance Language department and active in Y. W. C. A. work on the campus.

Mrs. Nellie Rowland Green, '25 is now living in Portland, where her husband is attending the Oregon Medical College. Mrs. Green is a member of Orchestus and the Normal Art club.

Miss Lillian Dale who attended Oregon two years ago is now a senior at Monmouth.

Miss Leola Green White one of Oregon's most prominent grads is now with the Portland Grand Op.

Classified Ads

FURNISHED Apartment for Rent—Large, sunny rooms; modern, except heat; between University and town; very cheap.—1364-J.

TO RENT—Storage for Ford car. $2.00 per month. See Scott Hayes 1369 Beech.

Holeproof Hosiery

DISTINCTIVE IN DESIGN
ELEGANT IN APPEARANCE
SEE THE NEW COLORS

Orchid—Forget-Me-Not
French-Nude—Sunburn
Satin—Blonde
At These Prices

Silk Over Artificial Hole-proof$1.00
All Fine Silk$1.25
Full-Fashioned Silk$1.75
Full-Fashioned Chiffons.....$2.00

J. Matt Johnson Co.
IT PAYS TO PAY CASH
30 NINTH AVENUE, EAST
30 Easy Steps From Willamette

era company, being a musician of unusual note. She is also well known to radioland being a popular soloist.

Ann Myline, class of '25 is back at Susan Campbell Hall. She is teaching science in the Riverton high school.

Florence Baker, class of '25, is at Susan Campbell hall for the week-end. She is teaching physical education at Marshfield.

Another guest at Susan Campbell is Irene Kendall, '25. Irene says she is doing the same thing as everyone else, teaching. She holds a position in Albany high school.

Frances Degerstadt, '25, who is assisting Prof. B. W. DeBusk in psychological research at Portland, is back on the campus.

Golda Boone, '25, is visiting at Susan Campbell hall during Homecoming. She is supervising physical education work at Bend.

Francis Linklater, '23, brother of Edward Linklater, now an assistant in the chemistry department, is among the students back for Homecoming. He is staying at the Phi Kappa Psi house.

Hal E. Hoss, former president of the state editorial association and managing editor of the Oregon City Enterprise, is in Eugene. The Enterprise is owned by E. E. Brodie, former minister to Siam and Oregon student for three years. Mr. Brodie is also in Eugene.

Among the old grads who have returned to the campus for Homecoming are Jim Say, who graduated with the class of '22. Jim is now working in the bank at Wilsonville. He is staying at the Phi Kappa Psi house.

Alexander Brown, 22, assistant city editor of the Oregonian, managed to take off a couple of days to return to the campus.

Dick Sunderleaf, ex-440 man on the Oregon track team has returned. He says he is glad to be back.

Louis Dunsmore, who also graduated with the class of '22, thought he would come back to give the campus the once over. Things have changed quite a bit, says Louis, but the spirit of the thing is the same.

Arriving late Friday evening.

MANTLE PICTURES—

Pictures Suitable to Hang
Over the Fireplace

Special selections of hand-made pictures by W. B. McDonald, one of Oregon's best known artists.

—Also pictures by Parrish, Amick and Innes.

See Them on Display at "The Little Shop Around the Corner"

Eugene Art and Gift
Shop
McDonald Theatre Bldg.

Playing
MONDAY
TUESDAY

First National Presents

"Playing
With Souls"

— with —
Mary Astor
Clive Brook
Jacqueline Logan
Buster Collier, Jr.

Charles W. "Beauty" Robison, '11, former yell king, reached the campus in time for the alumni smoker after the rally, and made up for lost time by telling the crowd two of the side splitting stories, and by lusty and tuneful singing in the impromptu alumni glee club. Mr. Robison, now a lawyer in Astoria, blames his late arrival on the poor roads they have up his way.

Paul Spangler, who graduate from Oregon in the liberal arts department in 1919 is on the campus this week-end. Mr. Spangler, after leaving Oregon, majored in medicine in the Harvard medical school and served his internship in a Massachusetts hospital.

Hilda Chase '25 is back to help celebrate Homecoming. She drove up from Coos River, where she is teaching school, Friday evening, and marched in the torch parade.

Grace Sullivan and LeVerne Spitzenberg, both of the class of '25, arrived from Salem Friday evening in time to watch the torch bonfire. Miss Sullivan, who excelled in girls' athletics while in school, is a "gym" instructor at the Junior high school in Salem. Miss Spitzenberg, also a sport enthusiast, teaches dancing at the same school. Both are graduates of the school of physical education.

Ferry Davis, ex-'25, is down from Myrtle Point to watch the Oregon team do their stuff. Miss Davis, a graduate of the school of journalism, is teaching at present. Next year, she says, she expects to get into the journalism game proper.

Gertrude Tucker, '25, came down from Cottage Grove, where she is physical education instructor in the high school, Wednesday on a double mission. No small part of it was to join in the Homecoming festivities. Incidentally, she has been attending the teachers institute for Lane county. While in school she was a physical education major.

Hazel Mills is here from Florence to remain until Sunday morning. She is a member of the class of 1925 and is now teaching English and French to high school students at the coast point.

Milred Crain, '25, left her gymnasium work at Ashland schools the first of the week to see the bonfire and game, and as a side light, to attend institute. She is supervising all grade gymnasium work at Ashland, besides the work with the boys and girls in the Junior high school and the girls in the Senior high. While on the campus she was active in debate, Euxtaxian, Orchestus, Hermanian Club, and numerous athletics. She was a physical education major.

Lucy VanDersterre, '25, is here from Linslaw, where she is handling all 'tenth grade subjects in the high school at that place. She is among those grads who came early to attend teacher's institute in session over the latter part of the week.

R. J. Heffner, secretary of the Bell Telephone system in the west, whose headquarters are in San Francisco, is in town for the Homecoming game.

George O. Goodall, a graduate of 1902, who played on the varsity team in 1900 and 1901, is in the insurance business in Eugene. He still follows Oregon's football program with interest.

Justin "Jud" Smith, ex-'25, came back to join the boys around the fire place at the Delt house. "Jud" is now in the drug store business in Medford.

Ken Smith, Meredith Beaver and Harold Dedman, all ex-'22's and now seniors in the University of Oregon medical school at Portland, were seen wandering about the campus yesterday. They rooted for a losing tug of war team.

Harold Evans, erstwhile motion picture publicity man, reporter and what not, left his position with the 4-L Bulletin to see the Oregon-O. A. C. game.

The Elkins Art and Gift Shop

"The Shop of Quality"

832 Willamette Street

We have the largest and best stock of quality gifts we have ever offered the discriminating purchaser.

Prof. Allen Eaton, U. of O. art instructor, established this Art and Gift Shop fourteen years ago. University students have helped very materially in making the shop a success.

FOOTBALL

Seattle Washington

THANKSGIVING

NOVEMBER 26, 1925

OREGON

VS

WASHINGTON

Mail Your Application for Reservations to Graduate Manager's Office, University of Oregon, Eugene

