

OREGANA EDITOR OUTLINES WORK TO STATE HEADS

Second Section Dummies Distributed To Workers For Final Preparation

Houses Are Co-operating With Studio; Three New Appointments Announced

Work has progressed so far on the 1926 Oregana that second dummies were given out to section editors last night at a meeting of the staff of the annual publication. Betty Cady, editor of this year's Oregana, was well pleased with the work of her staff and the originality shown by many of the section editors in the plans they submitted for her approval.

The book this year will be worked out with a state motif. It is the plan of the editor to make a unified piece of work, arranging the art work, typography and paper so that there will be some association among them.

New Plan Introduced

A new plan is also being worked out this year which will give the editing staff a check on what each staff member is doing. The plan will be carried out by means of a chart which will be similar to the one used by Freda Goodrich on the 1924 Oregana.

Rolf Klep, who has just recently returned to the campus after spending the summer in Alaska, is assuming his duties as associate editor. Klep was in charge of the art work on 1925 Oregana and was appointed to his present position last spring. Arthur Priault has been appointed managing editor, and Florence Morast assistant to the editor.

Business Staff Named

On the business staff, Ralph Poston, who is attending medical school, is handling the Portland advertising, Frank Wilson the Eugene advertising, and Jim Manning heads the circulation department.

From studio reports the houses are co-operating very well in having their pictures taken. Kennel-Ellis is handling approximately 60 students a day in order to complete Oregana photographs before the Christmas holidays.

MARY BAKER '24 HAS ARTICLE PUBLISHED

Mary E. Baker, '24, has an article entitled "Kentucky Rifles" in the November issue of Forest and Stream. The article was written before she left school for Prof. Ralph D. Casey's class in feature writing. Recently she has sold some jingles for greeting cards to a New York firm.

SOPHOMORES DEVELOPING UNIQUE DESIGNS FOR THEIR INFORMAL

Paint to the left of us, paint to the right of us, kegs and kegs of it. Ask any sophomore who has been working at the Armory during the past week on the decorations for the Sophomore Informal. This saying is literally true for many kegs of blue and red paint in many shades and tints are being used by the underclassmen in their efforts to surpass any previous class dance in beauty of decorations.

The motif for this dance is adapted from the Paris Exposition with many free and modern additions by Ab Lawrence, chairman of the decoration committee. The free idea of design was worked in to avoid being tied down to a particular period and thus allows more originality on the part of those in charge.

One and a quarter miles of blue-gray drapes will find their way into the mass of materials being used for decorations. In addition a half mile of powder-blue cheese cloth will be used.

Tea Honoring Big And Little Sisters Planned For Today

Big Sisters, Woman's League is planning its tea this afternoon in your special honor. You may bring your proteges with you, introduce them to new girls, and get better acquainted with them yourself. The Big Sister committee is very anxious that you respond willingly to this because it is upon successful social gatherings that the success of the Big Sister movement depends.

All little sisters who have no found big sisters, please come anyway, is the message sent out by the committee. The tea will be in the Woman's building between 4 and 6. A musical program has been arranged and girls will have an opportunity to dance. This will be the only Big Sister tea this year, and it is important that all attend.

BIG SISTERS TO TAKE TEA WITH FRESHMEN

Dean Esterly To Be Hostess To Girls Thursday

Dean Esterly has arranged to entertain the freshmen girls at teas in her home through the Big Sister committee of Woman's League, it was announced at the first mass meeting of the Big Sister committee last evening in Alumni hall.

The first tea will be held Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Esterly will receive Doris Brophy, a captain, and the ten lieutenants under her with their forty little sisters. There are ten captains, hence nine other teas will be given during this term and next, so that all freshman girls may have a chance to go.

Special mention was made in the meeting that every freshman girl should be urged to go to the Memorial services which will be held soon for President Campbell. Each big sister is expected to either take her little sisters or see that they go.

The tea which will be given this afternoon by Big Sisters was also brought up. "It is just up to the Big Sisters to make that tea a success," declared Kathryn Ulrich, chairman, "and they are all expected to come with their little sisters."

Mention was also made of the Big Sister table which is available in Dean Esterly's office to all members of the committee. Miss Ulrich pointed out that many of the Big Sisters have not yet filed information cards concerning their little sisters. These cards tell the activity in which each freshman is particularly interested. They are principally for the use of people who are appointing committees and wish to find out about interested freshmen.

POWER OF YOUTH TO BE TOPIC FOR SUMNER SPEECH

Oregon Bishop of Episcopal Church Makes Ninth Trip To University Campus

Special Meetings Scheduled By Organizations During Churchman's Visit Here

"Youth and Its Great Power," is the subject of the assembly address to be made on Thursday by Walter T. Sumner, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Oregon.

Bishop Sumner is making his ninth annual week's visit on the University campus. He conducted Homecoming vespers on Sunday and was special guest and speaker at Hendricks hall during Monday night. Yesterday he was the guest of Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Tau Delta. Today he will be entertained by Kappa Sigma. Bishop Sumner is conducting special conferences each day this week at the Y. M. C. A. between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning, and 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Saturday Last Day

Saturday will be Bishop Sumner's last day on the campus when he will return to his home in Portland.

Bishop Sumner is a graduate of the Western Theological Seminary of Chicago being a member of the class of 1904. He received his D. D. degree at Northwestern in 1912, at Dartmouth in 1913, and Western Theological Seminary, 1913.

A special musical program will be arranged for Thursday's assembly by John Stark Evans, assistant dean of the School of Music.

CAMPUS TO GET LOOK AT STUDENT ART WORK

Several of the articles made by the students of the art and architecture department and contributed to the All-Oregon Art Exhibition recently held in Portland for the benefit of the art museum fund, will be placed on sale at the Ginger Jar, the arts and crafts shop recently opened by the Misses Baird next to the Colonial theatre.

The collection will be composed of a varied assortment of work, made by students in the normal and fine arts departments.

The etching of the proposed Memorial building in honor of the late President Campbell, which is the work of Richard Carruthers, student in the school of architecture, will be placed on sale at the Co-op along with Christmas cards, some of which were made by the students in the department, and others made and contributed by Mrs. Harry Beal Torrey.

The latter have verses composed by Mrs. Torrey and have been decorated by her.

Other pieces of art which were left over will be on sale at the various bazaars which will be held in town before Christmas.

A final sale of all articles which were originally contributed to the exhibition will be held at the Portland hotel in Portland, December 22, and 23, according to the arrangements of Mrs. George Gerlinger, chairman of the exhibition. At this time a work of sculpture by Professor Avard Fairbanks and a painting by Professor A. Schreff will be sold with the rest of the collection.

DEAN HALE WILL BE SPEAKER

Dean W. G. Hale, of the University of Oregon law school, will give an address at the Mt. Angel college, Mt. Angel, Oregon, on "Personal Equations in the Administration of Justice," next Friday evening.

Buy your tickets from the juniors for "the shine" today. The more tickets you buy the better chance you have to win the prize. Save the stubs—you may have the lucky number.

Junior Boot Blacks Will Make Muddy Shoes Shine Today

Shine Tickets Will Be Sold For A Dime

Junior Shine Day—the picturesque gypsy and the conventional bootblack of Main Street will meet today, when the junior boot and shoe shiners (those wielders of fast brushes and polish) again celebrate their annual "bootblack's holiday."

All are requested to wear the worst looking pair of shoes that they possess. Maybe you have more than one pair of shoes that need shining, if so bring the other pair to the campus under your arm—as these shiners of shoes are looking for business. Get that pair of shoes shined for the sophomore informal, and, if you are optimistic, for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Bring your dimes to the campus—buy a ticket, and boost a good cause. Some poor family in Eugene is going to appreciate that dime Thanksgiving Day, that dime which you might spend on a candy bar—but which you are going to give to a junior girl or man today for that much needed shine.

BETA-SIGMA CHI LATEST VICTORS IN HOOP GAMES

Delta Tau Delta and Oregon Club Battle Today

"Swede" Westergren's fighting Beta basketball team romped home with the long end of a 19 to 8 score over the Bowery aggregation, as a curtain raiser of the second round of the Do-Nut schedule yesterday. One hour later referee "Spike" Leslie stopped the Theta Chi-Sigma Chi battle with the count of 22 to 10. Sigma Chi winning.

The Beta's were played to a stand still in the first half of its game with the Bowery due to its inability to hit the basket, and the fine guarding of DaMert who played a sweet game for the Bowery boys.

However, in the second half the Beta's got started due perhaps to Swede's stirring talk on how the game should be played. Epps and Toole each annexed three of the much coveted baskets and placed the Beta team in the lead.

Epps played a brilliant brand of ball for the winners both on offense and defense, and gathered 8 markers for his string. Socolofsky star guard, and Toole, port side slicker, each contributed to the score with 4 and 5 markers respectively.

Windrem and DaMert played a

GEOLOGY INSTRUCTOR TO ADDRESS SEMINAR

Dr. E. T. Hodge, professor of economic geology, will address the geology seminar to be held at the home of Dr. E. L. Packard, 2080 Potter street, tonight. He will have for his subject "Mt. Jefferson."

Dr. Hodge has made a thorough study of the Mt. Jefferson region. He recently completed a map of the area, which is the only complete one of its kind in existence, and has also written a paper dealing with the geographical features to be published shortly by the Mazama Club of Portland.

The geology seminars are held twice each month and all majors of the department are urged to attend.

LEAVES FOR SOUTH

Jeannette Calkins, alumni secretary and editor of "Old Oregon" leaves today at noon by automobile for Palo Alto. Following the wishes expressed at the alumni meeting last Saturday she will look into the proposition of field secretary work and will investigate the possibility of getting such a secretary here. Miss Calkins will visit both Stanford and California universities and will attend the game between the two institutions. She will return after Thanksgiving.

Y. M. TO BRING H. C. HERRING, SPEAKER, HERE

Lecturer Reputed National Authority On Political And Social Problems

Cabinet Decides To Hold Weekly Meetings In Hut At Tuesday Luncheons

Arrangements were made for the lecture next Tuesday evening by Hubert C. Herring, nationally known political and social authority, at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet in the Hut yesterday noon.

Dr. Herring will speak on "The High Price of Hate," in the Alumni hall of the Woman's building at 7:30 p. m.; Bob Hunt member of the cabinet, will preside. The well known speaker is being brought to the Oregon campus by the United Christian Work, and his visit, is promoted by the Y. M. C. A. student organization.

Fascists To Be Discussed

A large number of students, interested in the problems on which Dr. Herring will talk, will attend Tuesday night, according to Mr. Henry W. Davis, director of Y. M. C. A. Fascists, Klans and other supernaturalists are some of the groups which will be explained in the lecture Tuesday night. Herring is at present executive secretary of the national social service commission of Congregational churches with headquarters at Boston.

At the cabinet luncheon, Bart Kendall, president of the Y. M. C. A., announced that preparations were being made with Dean William G. Hale, of the law school, for a means to interest the student body in the movement for the World Court.

Letter From China Read

A letter from Harold J. Rounds, of the class of 1910 was read. Rounds is secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at Changsha, Hunan, China. He is taking a prominent part in missionary work of the Christian churches. The letter expressed deep regret at the death of President P. L. Campbell, who had been a personal friend of Rounds for 19 years. It said in part:

"There are few men whose words linger long in one's memory, but I can remember several things which 'Prexie' said during the four years I was at Oregon. One of the best addresses which the Young Men's Christian Association could secure in those days was one in which we had him make annually on the topic of 'Alternative Ideas in Religion.' He always had a splendid crowd to hear him, for the whole student body held in high esteem his scholarship and his spirit."

Anecdote Related

"He led a Bible class for us, and one morning when some of us had risen rather late, and had had to dress with more haste than care, he called our attention to the civilizing influence of being dressed up. And he did it with the twinkle in his eye that made for him so many friends."

The cabinet decided to hold its weekly meetings at Tuesday luncheons in the Y Hut henceforth. Mr. Davis announced the conferences for University students which Bishop Sumner, now visiting the Oregon campus, is holding in the Y Hut this week. His conference hours are from 11 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. The bishop is anxious to help students with personal or religious problems they may have.

DUNN TO GIVE LECTURE

A lecture "A Trip Through Rome" by Professor Fderick Dunn, illustrated by stereopticon slides, will be the principal feature of the Latin club meeting held tonight at 7:30 in room 107 Oregon building. Professor Dunn, who is to deliver the lecture, has been in Rome and is able to give his own experiences and impressions. All Latin students are invited to be present.

University Depot Has Many Articles Lost During Week

An unusually large number of articles found in the buildings and on the grounds over the week-end have been turned in at the lost and found department in the University depot, and are waiting for the owners to call. There are several umbrellas, fountain pens, gloves, and other smaller articles. The most unusual of all the articles found was a man's svedette jacket, turned in from the journalism building.

WASHINGTON DIARIES DONATED TO LIBRARY

Ladies Organization Gives Four Volume Set

A four volume set of the first issue of the complete "Diaries of George Washington," has been donated to the University library by Miss Mary F. Failing, of Portland, vice regent for the state of Oregon of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union.

The volumes are edited by John C. Fitzpatrick, of the manuscript division of the Congressional Library. They give in Washington's own words the record of his activities from the first expedition beyond the Alleghanies as a youth of sixteen to the days of his final illness.

The picture of colonial social life in Virginia is extraordinarily vivid, according to the descriptions of content given in an accompanying pamphlet. Historically the diaries are highly valuable, biographically they are inestimable. The real George Washington is here clearly set forth in a personal, but unemotional matter of fact manner.

The four volumes are bound in dark blue cloth stamped in gold and illustrated from old prints and engravings.

BISHOP W. T. SUMNER DINNER GUEST AT HALL

Bishop Walter T. Sumner who was a Homecoming visitor, and who will remain on the campus until tomorrow when he will give the assembly address, was the guest of honor at dinner at Hendricks hall Monday night.

After dinner Bishop Sumner gave the women a short talk in which he emphasized the unfortunate frequency of the use of the phrase "getting by with it." There is a great amount of meaning behind those few words, declared the bishop, and what they express is not altogether to the credit of the speaker. Getting by with something intimates that someone is doing a thing without the full knowledge of it being known and this is really an act of theft. The talk was concluded by the expressed hope that the women would not be "get by people."

LAWYERS BASEBALL NINE CHALLENGE IN BASKETBALL

Under the coaching of "Redside Evans," the law school baseball team of last season, has been completely reconstructed. By a change in the styles of playing, the championship team now assumes the proportions of a basketball team.

The all-star players work together with such precision and unity of purpose, that they are confident that they can successfully defend their claim as champions of the sport, and they hereby challenge any aspiring group to a combat upon any floor that may be obtainable at the time of said game. At that time they will more firmly intrench the claim of the law school to its unequalled ability in the sport, says prominent members of the team.

"The personnel of the team is not being divulged at this time," they say, "because we have such a col-

GIRLS TOP LIST IN PSYCHOLOGY LANGUAGE TEST

Men Excel In Mathematics Examinations Given To Show True Aptitudes

Results Said To Compare Favorably With Those Of Other Universities

Man has long thought woman the master talker of the two sexes, but now he may have proof for this belief, literally speaking, if the results of the placement tests carried on by Dr. Howard R. Taylor and Dr. Edmund S. Conklin of the psychology department this year have any bearing on the case. Of the eight different tests given, women held high place in two of them, according to Dr. Taylor, and both of these were linguistic tests.

The men seem to follow more closely in the footsteps of Newton and Descartes and excel in the field of mathematics. Girls were found to be very poor in this line.

Purpose Is Stated

The placement tests are prepared by L. L. Thurstone, chairman of the Personnel Research Committee of the National Research Council. The tests are not primarily to determine the intelligence, explained Dr. Taylor, but to indicate particular aptitudes toward certain lines of work. They were given to freshmen entering the University this year.

Five or six years psychologists will arrive at some satisfactory point to prove that the tests have passed all experimental stages and do show the true aptitudes. The results of these examinations are not given out to individuals, but are filed for the benefit of instructors who may consult them at any time. Dr. Taylor reports that a number of first-year students received almost perfect grades, but this number was comparatively few.

Results Given

Two hours were allotted for the examinations, which are composed of the following tests:

- I. Completion test, (consist of unfinished questions to be completed. A test of vocabulary.)
- II. Arithmetic test. (a test in reasoning). Men received higher grades.
- IV. Artificial language test. (a

PLANS ARE COMPLETE FOR JUNIOR SHINE DAY

The junior class held the second meeting of the term last night in Villard hall at 7:15. Plans for junior Shine Day were discussed. Hugh Biggs told of the history and purpose of shine day; and Verne Folts, chairman of shine day, outlined the organization and plans, mentioning the fact that all juniors were to take part, and should dress in gaudy colors for the occasion.

Ed Keech is handling arrangements for all games and can be reached at any convenient time at Price's Shoe Store.

As a final warning, members of the team advise any groups contemplating acceptance of this challenge, to consider thoroughly the claim to glory which they may now have, before they sacrifice it on the altar of the law school supremacy.
