

NEW MAGAZINE TO BE STARTED

Plans Will Be Considered Friday Afternoon

VARIED OPINIONS HELD

Tabard Inn, Pot And Quill Discuss Probabilities

Definite action towards starting a new Oregon magazine will take place Friday afternoon when all persons interested in the venture will meet in 105 journalism building for the purpose of discussing probable means for getting the new publication under way.

The meeting Friday, which has been called by a joint committee from Tabard Inn of Sigma Epsilon, men writers' fraternity, and Pot and Quill, women writers' fraternity, will culminate a series of informal discussions on the magazine which have been current on the campus this fall. As nothing of a tangible nature has evolved from the discussion to date it is hoped to reach a basis for further planning in the assemblage tomorrow.

Several Proposals Advanced
Several proposals for the new magazine have been advanced. Earlier in the term the editorial staff of the Emerald suggested that an amalgamation with the alumni publication, Old Oregon, might be effected. During Homecoming this proposal was considered favorably by the alumni council, although official action was deferred until a definite proposal might be presented by properly organized students. Many of those interested in starting a new magazine would prefer to initiate an entirely new publication, believing that sufficient talent to promote the venture is available on the campus.

Opinions Vary
A variety of opinions as to the type of the magazine have been expressed. Some wish to see a strictly literary magazine appear, others wish to see the college comic reappear, while still others have expressed the hope that an entirely new type of publication combining the merits of various existing publications might be forthcoming.

Those who have assumed the responsibility of getting the magazine under way are anxious that everyone interested in the project be in attendance at the Friday meeting.

PRIZE OF $5000 OFFERED FOR CRITICAL PAPER

A prize of $5000, is offered for the best adverse criticism of "Profits," by the authors, William Trufant Foster and Waddill Catchings. The contest is open to everyone, everywhere. The criticism must be sent to the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research, Newton 58, Massachusetts, before January 1, 1927.

There is a copy of this book in the University library. The arguments presented in the book are posted on a sheet on the bulletin board in the basement. The leading ones are:

"Progress toward greater total production is retarded because consumer buying does not keep pace with production. Consumer buying lags behind for two reasons: first, because industry does not disburse to consumers enough money to buy the goods produced; second, because consumers, under the necessity of saving, cannot spend even as much money as they receive. There is not an even flow of money from producer to consumer, and from consumer back to producer."

BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT RECEIVES MANY CATS

The biology department reports results from the plea for cats which was issued last week. A farmer brought in four cats and offered to bring in some more as soon as he catches them. According to Dr. H. B. Yocom, of the biology department, farmers are glad to have some place where they can dispose of their surplus cats without being compelled to "sack" them.

Several Eugene people have protested against the apparent inhuman treatment that the sacrificed cats must suffer. One woman reported that she had not been able to sleep since the notice appeared in the Emerald, fearing that her two cats would be abducted. This notion that the cats are tortured is false, according to Dr. Yocom, who explained that the animals are gassed and die in approximately 45 seconds. He also emphasized the fact that the cats are always kept 24 hours before being gassed in order that no special pets will be killed without the owner's knowing about it.

More cats are wanted at the same rate, twenty-five cents each.

BIG SISTER TEA IS POPULAR WITH GIRLS

The largest number of girls so far recorded at such an affair this year attended the Big Sister tea which was held last evening in the Woman's building. The response to the invitation was very gratifying, according to those in charge. Each Big Sister appeared with her small flock of little sisters, and it was reported that everyone had a good time. Besides the usual program of tea, cookies, and dancing, vocal solos were given by Leota Biggs and Louise Stoila, and the dance music was furnished by Alice Hill, Mary Clark and Edith Shell. The Kwamas served.

Heretofore Woman's League teas have had no program other than dancing. More extensive programs are being considered, in order that some of the abundant latent talent of the freshman class be allowed to come forth.

SCHOLARSHIPS SOUGHT BY STATE A. A. U. W.

In an effort to place in the University of Oregon some of the scholarships and fellowships given to University students through the national office of the American Association of University Women, the state organization of the A. A. U. W., has instructed their state scholarship chairman to gather information through Universities in regard to candidates. This action took place at the first regular state meeting of the A. A. U. W. in Corvallis recently.

A number of these scholarships are granted for study in the United States and foreign countries, open mainly to graduate students, all of them from $500 to $1,000.

Any student who can fulfill the requirements can apply. It is the work of this state committee to find Oregon students who are eligible, and who would take advantage of the opportunity offered.

PLANS FOR SPECIAL TRAIN ARE OUTLINED

Students Are Offered Rates For Seattle Trip

A student special will be chartered from the Southern Pacific to make the trip to Seattle for the Thanksgiving game if 200 or more students signify their intention of going. A cut rate of $14 round trip, including berth for the two nights the train will be in Seattle, is being offered. The regular round trip rate to Seattle, including berth, is about $26.

Music, dancing, and other special features will be provided if a sufficient number of students decide to make the trip.

The train will leave sometime Wednesday afternoon from Villard hall, and will go directly to the Seattle stadium, where it will remain until its return Thursday night or Friday morning. If students wish, they may live on board the train.

Stop-over privileges will be allowed in Portland, students not having to return to Eugene until

HOME COMING, FEATURE OF NEXT 'OLD OREGON'

A summary of Homecoming will feature the December issue of "Old Oregon," which will be off the press the first week in the month. Material is being rapidly assembled now. Rolf Klep is doing some cartooning, taking-off events of the week-end. He has contributed other cartoons to the alumni publication, which is edited by Jeannette Calkins, alumni secretary. There will be "sidelights on homecoming" and a large department devoted to news of the classes. Some of the personals have been contributed by students who have participated in the contest, offered by the editor, for the best personal notes of alumni who were back last week.

E. H. Young, President of the Alumni Association, has contributed an article telling of the important events of the alumni meeting. Several steps were taken, which he has taken up for the benefit of alumni who were unable to come down for Homecoming. Both Miss Calkins and Young were re-elected to their offices at this meeting.

"Old Oregon" will have an article on the 1926 Oregon, written by the editor, Betty Gady. Ralf

Couch has sent in Medical School notes and Dick Syring will edit sports.

Last year a series of personality sketches of the Deans in the University were run under the title of "Under the Gargoyles." A new series of personality sketches will be run this year on some of the members of the faculty.

A picture was taken of twenty seniors on the senior bench which will be used either in campus news or as a cover picture.
