

ANNUAL DRIVE OF RED CROSS SET FOR TODAY

Booths Placed On Campus For use of Solicitors; Girls Committee In Charge

Campaign Is Authorized By The Associated Students; Goal To Be Unlimited

Today you will be asked to contribute one dollar for a membership in the Red Cross. The drive will be short, so the most whole-hearted cooperation is needed. Please remember that your dollar goes to a worthwhile cause and that this is the only outside drive held on the campus. Let's go over the top. Steele L. Winterer, Chairman

With an unlimited goal, the campus Red Cross Roll Call, starts this morning to last but one day, giving every student on the campus an opportunity to contribute.

One dollar entitles the subscriber to a year's membership in the Red Cross.

One student in each house has been appointed to solicit the members of the living organizations; booths are to be placed on the campus today and a committee of girls will solicit at the old and new libraries and at the Administration building.

Following is the list of houses which are to have one girl every hour between the hours of nine and three at the appointed places:

Booths Are Given

The Red Cross is an organization chartered by the United States and has been doing work for many years both in times of peace and of war. Its work in peace time consists of helping to care for tubercular children, victims of fires and floods, and other needy persons wherever they may be found.

Cooperation Urged

The Red Cross drive is the only outside drive authorized by the student body. The committee, headed by Steele Winterer, urges the complete cooperation of the students today and hopes to put the drive over with success during this one day.

Oregon-Washington Game Returns To Be Given By Gridgraph

To accommodate those who remain at the University during the Thanksgiving holidays, the Order of the "O" has arranged to receive the Oregon-Washington game play-by-play on the gridgraph at the Woman's building.

An orchestra will furnish music for an informal dance which will precede the game, beginning at 2 o'clock. Returns from the game will commence at 2:45 states Ted Gillenwaters, chairman of the committee.

Traditions against "pigging" to athletic contests will be lifted at this event, says Gillenwaters. Dancing will continue following the game.

LAMBDA PSI DEFEATED BY PSI KAPPA HOOPERS

Six Do-Nut Teams Remain In Championship Race

Psi Kappa won from Lambda Psi 26 to 10 yesterday. The result leaves but six teams in the running for the championship, which are: Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, Oregon Club, Sigma Nu, Psi Kappa and Phi Delta Theta.

"Bat" Nelson's Psi Kappas stacked the cards and the hoopsters from Lambda Psi didn't have a chance. The game was one sided from start to finish, and the only redeeming feature was the sensational shooting of Psi-Kappa's forwards, Martin and Livermore who scored 12 and 10 points respectively.

Yesterday's game was Lambda Psi's initial appearance on the court this year and the team as a whole showed the lack of practice. Ogle and Kuhn were the outstanding men, and at times showed flashes of ability.

Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Chi mix this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at 5:00 Oregon Club and Sigma Nu furnish the amusement. Coaches of the teams report that the athletes are in the best of condition and eager for the fray.

CROSS COUNTRY WITH HUSKIES CANCELLED

Hard luck has again settled on the varsity cross country team. Because of illness among the Oregon runners, the dual race with the University of Washington Huskies scheduled to precede the Thanksgiving day football game has been cancelled.

Three men were in the infirmary last week. The runners are out in suits again this week, but will not have enough time to train for the race. The varsity cross country men participated in only one race this season. In the Pacific coast cross country meet at Moscow, on November 7, the trackmen placed third. A race planned with the Oregon Aggies preceding the Homecoming game was cancelled by the Corvallis team.

The men who have been running over hill and dale this season are Tom Holder, John Niedemeyer, Floyd Runk, Charles Jamison, and

WOMEN'S HONORARY ENTERTAINS DELEGATES

Representatives from three northwestern colleges attended the biennial sectional convention of Mortar Board, senior women's national honorary society, which was held on the campus last Saturday. The delegates entertained by the chapter were: Susan Scofield, Marian Robb, Mary Bash, Mary King Wilson, Lillian Hockey and Jean Beck of the University of Washington; Marie Gauer, of the University of Idaho, and Margaret Bement of Washington State College.

A very successful meeting was reported by Eloise Buck, president of the University of Oregon chapter of Mortar Board. A tour of the campus, luncheons at different houses, two business meetings, a tea, and a smart formal dinner at the Osborn made up the program. "The girls were greatly impressed with the spirit and hospitality," declared Miss Buck, "and said many complimentary things about the Oregon campus."

BUILDING SITE CHOSEN FOR NEW HOOP PAVILION

Court Will Be Located On The University Between 16th and 17th Streets

Architects Now At Work On Plans; Stands Will Seat 6000 Spectators

A definite building site for the new $150,000 basketball pavilion was selected last Saturday at a joint meeting of committees from the student body and the Board of Regents. Plans for the building are now being drawn by Lawrence and Holford, architects, says Prof. J. F. Bovard, dean of the school of physical education.

Will Seat 6000

The pavilion, which will form the center of a group of proposed buildings for physical training, will be constructed on University Avenue, between 16th and 17th streets. Nothing can be stated concerning the details of its construction, as plans have not yet been completed, but it is hoped to make the building as useful as possible in order to meet the needs of the physical education department.

The principal function of the new pavilion will be to care for the crowds at basketball games and it will be constructed so as to seat at least 6000 people. Dean Bovard pointed out that under present conditions it is impossible for the students to see their own games for the Armory holds less than 2000, leaving no room for the general public.

Plans Are Outlined

"This state of affairs deprives the University of a considerable amount of revenue," said Dean Bovard, "and it is a source of dissatisfaction to students who are unable to see the games."

The general plans for the new physical education buildings and grounds include a terrace 200 feet wide and 1250 feet long, for the group of buildings, a terrace 550 feet wide and 1250 feet long for a practice field, and a terrace 500 feet wide and 1200 feet long for a football stadium and baseball field.

RESEARCH FRATERNITY HOSTS TO O. A. C. CLUB

Sigma Xi, national honorary science research fraternity, held its monthly meeting, Friday, November 20. The University of Oregon members were hosts to the Sigma Xi club of O. A. C. and the members from the Portland medical school at a dinner at the Eugene hotel.

Edwin P. Cox, of the geology department, was received into full membership during the course of the meeting.

Dr. Helen Fulton and Dr. W. V. Halverson, of the O. A. C. faculty, presented papers, upon which there was much interesting discussion. The next meeting of Sigma Xi will be held here, probably early in December.

There will be no vesper services next Sunday on account of the vacation. The next services will be held at the music building Sunday, December 6.

The University library will be closed Thanksgiving day, according to M. H. Douglass, librarian. It will be opened at 8:00 a. m., Friday and Saturday and remain open until 10:00 p. m. There will be no change in the hours for Sunday.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID MEMORY OF PRESIDENT

Students, Faculty, Friends Honor Prince L. Campbell In Memorial Service

Judge Harris and Walter Malcolm Speak; Choir and Orchestra On Program

By J. D.

Students of Oregon paid high tribute Sunday afternoon to the memory of Prince L. Campbell, late president of the University. High esteem and homage, born of admiration for the imperishable ideals and achievements he left behind, pervaded the throng which filled the Woman's building to the doors. The spirit of the memorial exercises was one of recognition of a great man's labors, with a solemn undercurrent of mourning for the loss of a friend.

More than three thousand attended the services and many were turned away because of lack of room. Students, friends, faculty, and residents of Eugene were present to show their appreciation of one whose name is linked with the development of this institution from struggling infancy to a commanding place in the world of higher education.

Life Was Noble

"Paying tribute to such a man as President Campbell is like 'gilding refined gold, like painting the lily,'" Judge Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene, the main speaker, said. "The study of his career reveals a lifetime of noble service; the lesson of his life is a lesson of patriotic influence. It is not given to all men to be cast in such a large mold. Through all the day of his youth a splendid idealism was his; he sustained it through the years of his maturity, and in his later years he made it count in the lives of those with whom he came in contact."

Judge Harris traced the President's career from his work as president of the Oregon state normal school from 1891 to 1902, when he was called to the presidency of the University of Oregon, whose growth is attributed in large part to his patient, far-seeing and inspiring leadership.

Walter Malcolm Speaks

The first president of the University, John W. Johnson, Judge Harris said, began and laid the cornerstone of the institution. Prince L. Campbell laid the keystone of the arch. "He gave to it," said the speaker, "his finest efforts and sacrificed to it all that he possessed. As that we see about us is the accumulated work of a successful builder. And he created yet more, for he built character for thousands of young men and women in these halls."

"A tribute from the students of today is not based on personal contact," said Walter Malcolm, president of the Associated Students, pointing out that the majority of the students now here had come since the late President's illness. "It is based on something else," he said, "even greater—on the evidence of the results and the effects of President Campbell's labors and efforts for Oregon. We judge the man by the results of his work."

Orchestra Plays

Mr. Malcolm cited incidents to show the quiet strength of President Campbell in a crisis. His judgment, poise, foresight, vision, confidence in students, and general tolerance were noted as explaining the President's tremendous influence on the University.

POST OFFICE BARS EMERALD

Due to an inadvertent reference to the element of chance in an advertisement that appeared in Friday's Emerald, that issue of the paper was barred from the mails. The error was noticed too late to make a correction, with the result that mail subscribers will be unable to receive copies of the Friday paper.

Life Saving Tests To Be Given Today By Red Cross Man

L. E. Palmer, of San Francisco, representing the western division of the Red Cross will give tests for examiners life saving certificates at 7:30 today, in the Woman's building. Women who already hold these certificates must appear tomorrow night to have them renewed, says Miss E. Troemel, swimming coach.

Mr. Palmer will lecture tomorrow at 3:00 p. m. in the Woman's building on Red Cross life-saving methods. Those who attended the lectures which he gave on the campus last spring will remember his presentation of first aid methods, and his demonstrations of the 57 uses of the sailor's tie.

He is also an authority on the various guard and patrol systems used on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts. He emphasizes his points with anecdotes from his experiences as a life guard on the Pacific coast.

BUILDING COMMITTEE SPONSORS CARD SALE

Georgia Benson Requests Girls To Be Agents

Three hundred large and distinctive Christmas greeting cards are soon to be put on sale among the students by the Fine Arts Building committee, for the purpose of adding to the building fund, is the report of Georgia Benson, chairman of the committee. The etched design which decorates the card was done by Dick Carruthers, architecture graduate of '25. The card is of good quality sepia colored paper and has large envelopes to match.

Thirty girls have been chosen by Miss Benson to sell these cards, and each will have only ten to sell. The following girls are asked to report to Miss Benson this afternoon at 4:30 in 110 Johnson Hall, (the Administration building): Clara Ellis, Agnes Von Lehe, Margaret Peppoon, Laura Beske, Marian Horsfall, Priscilla Webb, Helen Bowers, Beth Ager, May Ora Moore, Easter Craddock, Lillian Vulgamore, Alice Carson, Annette Heckman, Dorothy Lundberg, Iris Aken, Margaret Cleveland, Lenta Baumgartner, Madeline Gurlinger, Lynnie Belchee, Jana Holbrook, Marian Phy, Dolores Haro, Roberta Wilcox, Catherine Sartain, Ruth Miller, Lois McGook, Lyla McMurphy, Florence Grebe, Hazel Heine, Betty Pratt.

"If by any chance a girl cannot attend, it is imperative that she either see me or call me at Dean Esterly's office," Miss Benson announced. "I have tried to pick the girls who represent the counties in the state. I am giving the cards out before Thanksgiving so they will have an opportunity to sell them at home also. There are only three hundred, and each girl will have ten, so they will be sold quickly."

Because of the limited number of cards, students are urged to place their orders early and take advantage of this opportunity. Every house on the campus will be solicited as well as the residents of Eugene.

LAST DAY TO JOIN W. A. A.

W. A. A. is giving campus women their last opportunity to join the organization today. It will have girls at the food counter of the Woman's building from 10:00 to 12:00 a. m. and from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. with the lists of eligible girls, to take subscriptions for membership.

A woman must earn 100 points in sports sponsored by W. A. A. before she is permitted to join the association. A tax of 50 cents a year is levied on all members. It is only to members of W. A. A. that athletic "O's" and sweaters are awarded.

PLAY HANDBALL

Majors in the department of geology are having a handball tournament this week and seven men have signed to take part in it. John Bean is in charge of the drawings and all men interested are urged to see him as soon as possible if they wish to enter.

VARSITY LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON AT 6:30 TONIGHT

Twenty-Nine Men Chosen To Make Trip; Team In Good Shape for Battle

Fire Shown In last Practice; Seven Men To Play Final Game for Lemon-Emerald

STUDENTS RALLY TONIGHT The final student rally of the present football season will take place tonight at the S. P. station when the team is scheduled to depart for Seattle where it will meet the Huskies Thursday. Students are to be at the station at 6:30 p. m., James Forester, rally chairman, announces. The train leaves at 6:40 o'clock.

Twenty-nine men will make the trip to Seattle to compete or warm the bench during the Washington game, announced the coaches last night. This is five more players than it was planned to take, but Dick Smith thought the men who had been out consistently deserved the trip.

According to Baz Williams, line coach, the team is intact for the first time this year, both in the line and backfield. Every man is in good shape, and ready to go in if called upon.

Team Shows Fire

The team showed more fire and ginger in practice last night than they have for several weeks. The lay-off of the last few days has given the men a chance to rest and get their second wind. Last night, the players lined up fast on the ball, ran their plays without the slightest hesitancy, and their department was that of an unbeaten team.

Considerable time was spent drop kicking and place kicking from all angles. Several men showed unexpected proficiency in this department, and if three points are imperative next Thursday, there are several players capable of scoring them. Harrison, Hodgen, Leavitt, Carter, and Shields were especially good at locating the uprights.

Workout To Be Short

It was the last practice of the year for the men who are not making the trip. The selected players will limber up at 2:30, and board the Shasta for the north at 6:30 tonight. They will arrive in Seattle at daybreak Wednesday morning, go to the Olympic hotel, and work out in the Washington stadium in the afternoon. At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon the team will line up for the kick off. After that—no one knows.

Last Game for 10

The other men to make the trip will be: ends, Pat Hughes, Jim Powers, and Frank Riggs; tackles, Bert Gooding, Harold Mangum, and John Warren; guards, Francis Quinn, Ken Bailey, Walter Socolofsky, and Jack Bliss; centers, Carl Johnson, and John McMullen; quarters, Fred Harrison, and Arnold Kiminki; halves, Beryl Hodgen, Lauren Reynolds, and John Mutschbacher; fullback, Harry Leavitt.

Shields, Mautz, Anderson, Bailey, Bliss, Gooding, Reynolds, Powers, McMullen, and Socolofsky are making their last trip, as they graduate in June.

DR. MILNE PLANNING TRIP

Dr. W. E. Milne, professor of mathematics, and family are planning to spend Thanksgiving near Pendleton with Mrs. Milne's parents and friends. They expect to make the trip by car.
