

ORDER OF O MEN VOTE TO RETAIN DIAMOND SPORT

Baseball Is Held Slighted At Oregon; Indignation Meeting First In Years

Decision Made To Circulate Petition Among Students For Ascertaining Opinion

By WEB JONES

An indignation meeting of the Order of the "O," held last evening in the Administration building, unanimously voted a resolution to keep baseball as an intercollegiate sport at Oregon. This was the first indignation meeting of the organization in many years.

Petitions will be circulated by the Order of the "O" today in order to ascertain student opinion. "It is necessary that the students take a stand either for or against baseball," said Louie Anderson, president. "The student council did not vote on the matter, it is up to the students now to say whether they want it. Petitions should be signed and the organization wants everyone to sign one way or the other."

Bleachers Lacking

The new $10,000 baseball field which the University has taken so much pains to build will be wasted and will remain idle if the sport is abolished it is pointed out. Before, it has been the custom to knock baseball because it was financially not a paying sport, but no effort has been spent to build it up. There has been no advertising or work at all towards making it a financial success. Bleachers have been lacking and none of the efforts which was used to increase the popularity of football were used for baseball.

"The northern schools are not desirous of abolishing the sport and are certain to keep it," said Mr. Anderson. "While at Seattle this fall, I asked Tubby Graves, the Washington baseball coach, and he was all for the sport." The adverse criticism is not coming from other sources but originates at Oregon.

Many Turn Out

Baseball should have the same privileges as track or basketball—neither of which are paying sports and which are paid for by the receipts of football or from the Associated Student funds. Every year 125 men turn out for baseball and they should be as privileged as the football or basketball players. An athlete who is a baseball player, will not come to the institution if he cannot play.

Basketball which was formerly a very unprofitable sport, by careful handling the past year, reached a plane where it could almost pay for itself. It has been built up from practically nothing until now it will probably make money this season. Baseball could be handled the same way. With a new field and new bleachers the interest in the sport will be held.

The Order of the "O" will meet at the "Ad" building at 12:45 today to arrange the circulation of the petitions.

ADDRESSES MUST BE FILED

The following named students have failed to file their University addresses at the Registrar's office: Orville N. Anderson, William Abernethy, Clausin D. Hadley, Honor Mobley, Velson O. Read, Florence A. Ross, Muriel K. Walther, Ruth A. Wonnacott. It is imperative that the above named students call at that office and give their street addresses as important information concerning registration for the winter term, for which they will be held responsible is soon to be mailed to all students, according to Carlton E. Spencer.

FRATERNITY TO GIVE CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Christmas program of Mu Phi Epsilon will be given Thursday evening, December 10 in the school of music auditorium, at 8:15. This program has been arranged by John Stark Evans, and will be composed of Christmas music of several varieties.

A woman's sextette will sing a group of old Christmas carols, and a stringed trio will render some violin carols. Solos, vocal and instrumental, will be featured during the evening. The program promises to be one of the most interesting and enjoyable of all the musical events of this term.

POSTAGE NOTES HIGHER

Students are asked by the post office department to remember that Christmas cards and all post cards must bear 2c postage. In the rush of the season, the new postal rates are apt to be forgotten and the department takes this opportunity to remind everyone to bear in mind the new schedule.

TURNER'S DELEGATES FIRST TO REGISTER

To the Turner, Ore. high school, goes the honor of having the first delegates register for the sixth annual conference of high school students on the Oregon campus. This came yesterday when shortly after noon, two girls from that city arrived on the campus. They were Doris Hillery and Roberta Wilson.

The school that is sending its delegates the farthest is probably Baker. Students from this school came nearly 450 miles. Credit must go also to Union high school near La Grande which, although only 25 miles closer, sends two students and a faculty adviser from a student body of only 150.

MUST APPLY FOR DEGREE

All those who expect to apply for a degree are requested to call at the Registrar's office before this term is over and to register for a degree. Failure to follow regulations in this matter means that the students will not receive a degree.

STUDENTS CHEER GRIDIRON COACH FOR LAST TIME

Dick Smith Thanks Students And Team For Support; Nineteen Win Letters

Finance Committee Report Shows Net Increase Of $1192 Since Last Year

When Dick Smith, at the assembly yesterday, made his last appearance before the Associated Students in the role of gridiron coach he was given, first, a rousing welcome, and then a friendly farewell.

Coach Smith spoke of his gratitude to the student body and to the football team for their loyalty and absolute support throughout the season. He expressed his hopes for the future athletic success of Oregon.

The names of the members of the football squad winning letters were announced by Coach Smith. These men are Bob Mautz, captain; Louie Anderson, Gene Shields, Kenneth Bailey, Jack Bliss, Nick Carter, Carl Johnson, Harry Leavitt, Bert Kerns, Albert Sinclair, Sherman Smith, "Tek" Reynolds, Lynn Jones, George Minnaugh, Otto Vitus, Beryl Hodgen, Vic Wetzel, Homer Dixon and Bill Dills.

Preceding the awarding of the letters, Walter Malcolm, president of the Associated Students, gave the policy of the Athletic committee and also expressed his appreciation to Dick Smith, in behalf of the Student Body. Smith consented to take over the work of coach for one year, after the resignation of Joe Maddock last year, when it seemed impossible to obtain a football mentor of ability.

Evidencing an economic policy which is being carried out in all phases of student business this year complete reports were given at the meeting which was the first official Associated Student assembly of the year. According to the chairmen giving the reports on their respective committees the financial status of the Associated Students is brighter this year than at any other time in the history of the University.

Kenneth Stephenson, representing the Finance committee, reported that the debt of the Associated Students has been practically cleared for the first time since building of Hayward field. He gave the figures of the incomes from the various activities, including sports, which so far shows a net increase of $1,192, over last year; the Emerald, which so far this year has netted an income of $868, and other income.

Ted Larsen, chairman, giving the first report ever to be made by the building committee, on which his fellow members are Dean William G. Hale, Dean John F. Bovard, Bob Love, E. Martin, Jack Benefiel, outlined its work. The new basketball pavilion on which work will start during the Spring term, he said, will be located between Fifteenth and Eighteenth streets facing University street. The pavilion will cost $150,000 and will seat 6,000. Work on the building will be completed in time for practice next fall.

Larsen also made a report on the Student Union building plans. The building will cost approximately $275,000 and will be situated at the

TO THE HIGH SCHOOL VISITORS

The University of Oregon is glad to welcome you to the campus for these two days. It is the hope of the University that the annual conference may this year be an even greater success than in years past. On behalf of the student body and faculty I therefore take this occasion to repeat that you are, each of you, more than welcome and we hope you benefit by the sessions.

Walter Malcolm, President.
A. S. U. O.

PHI BETA KAPPA AWARDS KEY TO NINE STUDENTS

Two Graduates And Seven Seniors Are Elected To Honorary Membership

Stetson Chosen President Of Fraternity For This Year; Clark Is Secretary

Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity elected seven seniors and two graduates to membership yesterday.

Those elected are: Paul Ager, Winifred Andrews, Eula Benson, Orlando Hollis, Evan Lapham, Gilbert Sussman, Margaret Woodson; and F. C. Wooton and Frances Degerstedt who graduated last year.

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa is based on scholastic achievement to a great extent and also on research activity. Of the members elected this time Orlando Hollis has been the highest average in general scholarship, with a three-year mark of 1.11, the highest average made by any student in several years.

Various Schools Represented

The schools of law, and education and the department of economics were represented with two students each and romance languages, mathematics and physics each claim one of the newly elected persons.

Paul Ager, of Bend, is a major in economics. He is vice-president of the student body and chairman of the publications committee. Winifred Andrews, a romance language major, is from Eugene. Eula Benson, a mathematics major, is

ARCHITECTS TO VISIT CAMPUS ON MONDAY

With the coming of a group of representatives of the American Institute of Architects Monday morning, the local school of architecture will have the advantage of the criticism of some of the country's leading architects, according to Dean Ellis F. Lawrence.

The visitors, including probably the whole of the board of directors and all the officers of the American Institute of Architects are, at present, making a tour of the country. Arriving in Eugene Monday morning on their way south, they will be the guests of the students and faculty of the school of architecture, at breakfast at the Eugene hotel. Following the breakfast they will be conducted over the campus. The women's building and the music building will be among the buildings visited. After a stroll over the campus, the men will devote the rest of their short visit to the school of architecture where an exhibit of the school work will be held.

Those besides D. Everett Waid, president of the association, who may come are: Abram Garfield, Cleveland; William L. Steele, Sioux City, Iowa; Edwin H. Brown, Minneapolis; William B. Ittner, St. Louis; William E. Fisher, Denver; C. Herrick Hammond, Chicago; C. C. Zantzing, Philadelphia; William J. Sayward, Atlanta; Sylvain Schnaittacher, San Francisco; Nat Gaillard Walker, Rock Hill, S. C.; F. Ellis Jackson, Providence; J. Monroe Hewlitt, New York City; Goldwin Goldsmith, Lawrence, Kansas; E. C. Kemper, Washington, D. C.; and Arthur Peter, Washington, D. C.

Goldwin Goldsmith is head of the school of architecture at the University of Kansas. C. C. Zantzing, for many years was the chairman of the educational committee of the Association and had a great deal to do with the standardizing of the educational side of architecture.

William J. Sayward is a former partner of Mr. Wilcox, instructor in the department of architecture on the campus. He was also a school associate of Dean Lawrence.

DEBATERS PRACTICE FOR O. A. C. CONTEST

Chinese Question Subject Is Chosen For Analysis

Five days are all that remain before Oregon men meet Oregon Agricultural College in the first intercollegiate debate of the year. Under J. Stanley Gray, head of the department of public speaking, the four men on this part of the year's debate work are putting the finishing touches on their constructive speeches as well as improving rebuttals.

Wednesday night, Dr. W. A. Barnes of the history department criticized the debaters as they went through the debate in regard to their analysis of the Chinese question, which is to be used in the dual debate.

The question of foreign intervention in China's affairs is one of vital interest to people on the western slope of the American continent, and it is increasing in importance all the time. The problem as it will be handled in the coming debate resolves itself into a question of whether it is better to immediately allow China to carry on the functions of its republic, unassisted, or unhampered with, as it is now by the foreign powers, most of which rather oppose the idea of relinquishing their claims immediately.

Benoit McCroskey and B. V. Ludington compose the affirmative, while Herschel Brown and Jack P. McGuire constitute the negative. This debate is the only one which these men can participate in this year. The other men on the fourteen man team selected October 30 will be used in later debates.

WEST HAILED AS COMING MUSIC CENTER BY VOICE INSTRUCTOR

"No, I am not an Oregonian. I probably wouldn't have this sore throat if I were—and they tell me I can't wear rubbers or I won't make a sorority."

Eugene Carr, instructor in the voice department of the school of music, feigned great sorrow. Then his dark eyes glowed with sincerity as he spoke of the Pacific Coast as the "coming" musical section of the United States.

"I believe, as many other believe, that the time is coming when the west will be just as good as the east in the musical world. Formerly all students have felt it necessary to go to the east to study. From there they go to Italy and return with an Italian name. Then before they come west they feel that they must get press notices from the great critics who are in New York. It is only after this achievement that they come to the west."

It is Mr. Carr's belief that within a few years students from the west will stay and work here and win their fame.

"The demand is here," he said. "Many great artists come to the west. The material is here, for I see people in our own school of music who have just as great promise

FIRST SESSION OF CONVENTION STARTS AT 9:00

Joint Meeting of 3 Groups Opens Conference; Individual Discussions Follow

Marion Brown, University High Dean Of Oakland, To Speak To Students

The leaders of 25,000 high school students of the state are here for the initial session of the sixth annual high school conference, which opens this morning at 9 o'clock.

From east and west, north and south, over highway and railway, delegates last night and this morning poured into the campus for the two-day sessions at which they will thresh out problems of high school life common to them all. Indications late last night were that the expected quota of 500 would arrive in time for the first sessions.

The wheels start rolling with the opening of the first joint session in the Music building promptly at 9 o'clock. Walter Malcolm, president of the student body will preside and will address the delegates on "Conference Objectives." Dr. H. D. Sheldon, chairman of the administrative committee, will give the address of welcome.

Faculty Meets Tomorrow

At 10:10 the conference will be divided into three groups, the Association of Student Body Officers, the High School Press Association and the Association of Girls' Leagues. The faculty division will hold no session today, but will convene tomorrow from 10:00 to 12:00 o'clock.

Avery Thompson, Salem high school, president of the student officers division will preside at the sessions of that group which will be held in the Music auditorium.

SCIENCE CLUB TO HEAR EUGENE DOCTOR FRIDAY

The Oregon chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary science research fraternity, will hold its next meeting Friday, December 11, at Deady hall. The business meeting will start at 7:30 p. m. and the open session at 8:00 p. m.

Dr. O. R. Gullion, head of the Northwestern hospital of Eugene, will speak on "Post-ethmoid and Sphenoid Infection." Dr. Gullion recently returned from Vienna, where he has been doing extensive study.

Dr. W. P. Boynton, head of the physics department, and secretary of Sigma Xi, is sending notices of the meeting to about 75 out-of-town members.

of career as any artist in the concert series which we will hear this year.

"It is advantageous that students on the Pacific Coast remain here and study. Those who are on the ground floor now will be on the ground floor when the west becomes good. The country is young, and they can grow with it." Then he added, "My beard is not gray enough nor am I old enough to be a prophet, but musicians and critics in the east, where they are flooded with young musicians, and good ones too, hold this same view concerning this section of the country."

It seems strange that with talent and opportunity these promising students are not heard of. Mr. Carr explained this by saying, "We do not hear of them because they are afraid to work. Like all Americans they are in too much of a hurry. They expect to become great in a year. They must take their time, be more deliberate, work harder. Richard Hageman, director of the Chicago Opera said that America could produce opera stars and singers as great as those of Italy, France or Germany but that they were not willing to go through what the foreigners go through."
