

YEARLING HOOP PROSPECTS DIM

Illness of Don McCormick Causes Difficulties; Coach And 4 Players Examined

No Practice to be Held This Week; First Intercollegiate Game is February 5

The hopes for a winning freshman basketball team became dimmer last Saturday when Donald McCormick, star yearling guard and ex-member of the state championship University high five, became ill with spinal meningitis and is now at the Good Samaritan hospital, Portland.

Yesterday morning, Coach Leslie and four of his players, Milligan, Bally, Pope and Bidings were sent to Portland to consult a specialist. These men had been in close contact with McCormick when he became ill.

Stars Out of School

All in all, the first year men's hopes look very slim with their coach and five star players out of school for the present. At the beginning of the hoop season Coach Leslie had a sure winning squad of hoopsters. The recent misfortune has made it necessary to postpone freshman basketball practice for the rest of the week.

Up to the present time Leslie's hoopsters have been very successful. Last Friday afternoon they defeated the strong Franklin high school five and they won from Jefferson high Saturday night, in a preliminary to the Oregon-Multnomah game. The loss of practice, however, will hit the freshman hard. According to the schedule their first intercollegiate encounter is with the Aggie Rooks at Corvallis on February 5. On January 30, a return game with Franklin high school will be played in the University gymnasium.

Game Schedule Given

This year's schedule includes the following games: Franklin high school, Eugene, January 30; Aggie Rooks, Corvallis, February 5; Aggie Rooks, Eugene, February 12; Rooks, Corvallis, February 13; and the Rooks, Eugene on February 19. There are some possibilities that games will be scheduled with Bend high quintet and the Salem high five.

New Magazine Plans Are Completed By Student Committee

its approval is justified, Mr. Klep believes.

Members of the committee who have been active in the preliminary work are Rolph Klep, chairman; Philippa Sherman, Glenn Burch, Douglas Wilson, Carvel Nelson, and Robert Lane. This committee represents the various honorary groups and societies within the school of journalism, which sponsored the new idea in its earliest stages.

An earlier plan to combine a campus publication with "Old Oregon" has been definitely dropped, and also a plan to make the new magazine a production of the journalism department.

COMMITTEE TO SUBMIT CHANGES IN SONGS

A committee will be appointed by Walter Malcolm in the near future to investigate Oregon songs. The changes will not be radical, but it is felt that there is a need for improvement. The composers will be consulted for suggestions, as well as Carl Onthank and the alumni.

LEAGUE WILL MEET IN VILLARD HALL TODAY

Genevieve Chase, Oregon's woman representative at the recent Intercollegiate conference held at Northwestern University, Evanston Illinois, will be the principal speaker at the first Woman's League mass meeting of the term which will be held this afternoon in Villard hall at 5:10. Miss Chase will recount some of her experiences on her trip and tell about the conference in general.

Esther Setters will give a report on the women's activities on the campus, Kathryn Ulrich will tell of the development of the "Big Sister" movement which has been forwarded during the last term. Louise Inabnit will report on the Woman's League teas, and other reports will be made.

Musical numbers have been arranged by Anna DeWitt, president of Woman's League. Alice Dellar will give a violin solo, accompanied by Sarah Dellar, and Esther Church will play the piano.

Woman's League council is desirous that a large number of campus women appear at the meeting as some important business is scheduled to be brought up.

NASH WILL BRING EXHIBIT NEXT MONTH

John Henry Nash, nationally known printer of fine books, will be on the campus for the Oregon Newspaper Conference, February 19 and 20, according to Dean Allen of the journalism department. He will bring a part of his collection of fine old books here from San Francisco again, as he did last year, for exhibition. Mr. Nash was given the degree of Bachelor of Letters at the University during commencement last June for his unusual work in printing.

RELIGIOUS WORK TO BE DISCUSSED

Two-Day Conference To Be Held February 11 and 12

DR. C. E. RUGH WILL TALK

Students, Professors And Clergymen to Gather

Problems in religious work at the University of Oregon will receive a thoroughgoing discussion at a two-day conference to be held on the campus February 11 and 12. Student religious workers, faculty members interested in the work, clergymen of the city, and several religious workers throughout the state will have a part in the sessions.

"The idea in the conference is that all those interested in this sort of work on the campus may get together to discuss aims, methods, ways and means," says Dean Henry D. Sheldon, member of the Religious Work Committee of the faculty, of which Mr. M. H. Douglass, University librarian, is chairman.

Rugh Main Speaker

"The conference will not be a class meeting, but of course those students or townspeople who wish to attend the sessions may do so. It is primarily for the discussion of individual problems," he added. The chief speaker of the two-day meet will be Dr. C. E. Rugh, of the University of California, a noted leader in religious work and the author of two books upon that subject. Both of these books on moral education are considered true contributions to the subject.

Two years ago Dr. Rugh received a commission and a year's leave of absence from his university that he might devote that time to a survey of religious enterprise in the colleges and universities in the United States. No official report has ever been given by Dr. Rugh, but he will open the conference here by a brief summary of his observations.

Program Yet Incomplete

He will remain here during the two days, leading discussions and addressing the conference sessions.

The program for the meetings has not yet been fully worked out, but a sub-committee of the combined faculty and student religious committees on the campus will report the final schedule at a committee meeting to be held Thursday of this week.

naires filled out at registration had proved satisfactory so far and that according to living organization and activities. The committee was advised to continue its work along this line. A general discussion of the work of the Vigilance committee was carried on and Fred Martin was appointed as future head of this committee.

ing the former rule which governed the allotted number of hours a student is allowed to make. According to the former rule a student could carry as many as 19 hours but could get credit for no more than 16 unless he had an average of three or above. The amendment makes it possible for the student to gain his credits if he has a straight three average. This applies to all students, third term seniors included.

BROWNING ANALYZED BY GRADUATE CLUB

"The Gothic Spirit in Browning" was discussed by Miss Margaret E. Houck, graduate assistant in English, at the meeting of the Graduate Students Club of the English department Tuesday evening. The purpose of the club is to afford the members an opportunity to read chapters of their theses, and to discuss them.
