

STAR TEAMS CHOSEN FOR WOMEN'S SPORTS

Choice Made on Basis of Fall Sport Work

The all-star volleyball ball and all-star swimming teams have been chosen on the basis of work done in these sports during the fall term. Honorable mention was given to girls who were next in order for the all-star teams, in accordance with a ruling passed by the Women's Athletic Association. The all-star volleyball ball team was chosen by the head of the sport and Miss M. J. Shelly, volleyball coach, on the basis of all-around ability throughout the season. Miss E. A. Roemel, swimming coach, head of swimming, and the class managers selected the swimming team. All-around ability and the number of points amassed through the season were considered in the choice. Each swimmer excels in at least two feats in the water.

The all-star volleyball ball team is made up of Regina Davault, Margaret Pepon, Nellie Best, Nellie Johns, Velma Scholl, and Harriet Osborn. Honorable mention is given to Geneva Zimmer, Ruth Scott, and Eloise Smith.

Those making the all-star swimming team are Elizabeth Lounsbury, Janet Wood, Beatrice Fish, Virginia Lounsbury, Lois McCook, Margaret Pepon, and Dorothy Brown. Honorable mention is given to Katherine Kershaw, Olive Banks, and Florence Hurley.

CLASSES IN CLOTHING SEE MOVING PICTURE

A moving picture called "The Romance of Cloth," in four parts was shown to Miss Margaret L. Daigh's classes in clothing, yesterday afternoon in the household arts department.

The film which is sent out by the Pacific Mills in Lawrence, Massachusetts, as an advertising scheme, came here from O. A. C. and will go to the University of Washington from here.

Theaters

McDONALD—Third day: Norma Talmadge in the world's most beloved romance, "Graustark," with Eugene O'Brien. And extra added attraction, a musical specialty, "In a Garden of Roses," with Burton's Girl Jazz Band and Orion Dawson, tenor soloist.

REX—First day: "The Scarlet West," a glowing tale of the great frontier, with Custer's heroic last stand and other stirring historic deeds as a background for a virile romance of the west, featuring Clara Bow, Robert Frazer, Johnny Walker, Helen Ferguson, Gaston Glass, Ruth Stonehouse, Robert Edson and thousands of Indians and horses; Century comedy, "Playing The Swell," high class hilarity; International news events of world wide interest; J. Clifton Emmel in musical thrills on the organ.

COMING—"Abraham Lincoln," with George Billings; "When Love Grows Cold," with Mrs. Rudolph Valentino and Clive Brook.

ATTENTION!

Five Year Contract Is Signed by Reinhart; New Line Coach to Arrive for two years; and was a two-year letterman in basketball and made his letter three years in baseball.

Ex-Army Coach
After graduation his first experience in coaching was with army football teams at Camp Mills in 1917 and the First Depot Division, A. E. F., in 1918, where he was both player and coach. He coached at Salem for a year after he was out of the army, and in 1921 coached the Oregon freshman team. He played on numerous professional baseball teams in 1922 and in the season of 1923-24 joined the University coaching staff.

schedule. They held Oregon to its lowest score of the recent road trip, 24 to 24. Five baskets are a mere trifle in a basketball game.

Visitors are Veterans
Every man in the starting line-ups tonight is a letterman, with one exception—Jacoby, the red-haired Idaho guard, who hails from the 1925 freshman team. Members of the Oregon team pronounce him the classiest article on the Gem state team. Reamer, Nedros, Miles, and Nelson, who comprise the remainder of the opening quintet, are veterans.

Reinhart's men will be out to hang up the first win under his new five year contract; the swash-bucklers have visions of another championship cup decorating the Moscow gym.

FROSH TO PLAY ROOKS AT CORVALLIS TODAY

Game to be First of Series
For State Supremacy

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the freshman basketball teams of Oregon's two largest institutions, the University of Oregon and Oregon Agriculture College, will clash in the men's gym at Corvallis in the first game of a series of four, to determine the college freshman championship of the state.

On paper the relative strength of both teams appears about even. Coach Earl "Spike" Leslie and a squad of 14 men will leave by bus at 12 o'clock.

In speaking of today's game, Coach Leslie was not the least bit optimistic. Although his proteges have won three games played so far he is not taking the orange and black babes too lightly.

This afternoon's fracas will find the strongest lineup that Leslie has been able to present this season. The two forward positions will probably be taken care of by "Red" Scallion and "Gord" Ridings. Both of these men are clever floor men and dead shots. At center, the tall, lanky Dave Epps will probably be given first call. The guard positions will be ably taken care of by "Scotty" Milligan and Joe Bally. Keith Emmons, Ted Pope and Bernard Hummel may break into the line up before the final whistle blows.

The men making the trip are: Ridings, Emmons, Epps, Milligan, Bally, Pope, Hummel, Scallion, Johnson, Tetz, Muir, Jackson, Dale and Chastain.

Dean Straub is Pioneer In Use of Telephone

Congratulations Are Extended
Company's Official

Dean John Straub of the University conversed by long distance, with H. M. Durston, division superintendent of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company a few days ago, while the latter was at a luncheon in Oregon City celebrating the 50th anniversary of the telephone there. Eugene will have a similar celebration in honor of its anniversary in April.

"I congratulated Mr. Durston upon being connected with an institution which has had such success in its first 50 years of the telephone has had. I told him that I felt sure the next 50 years would be even more successful," Dean Straub said.

"I have been teaching nearly 50 years, and like the telephone, expect to do even better in the next 50 years."

One of the first telephone patrons in Eugene was the dean. He was the fifth or sixth man to try out the new invention 50 years ago.

Senior Ball Will Have Oriental Decorations; Lighting Effects Good

Klep, who replaced Lauren Reynolds as chairman of the decorations committee, has stolen its plan from the balmy shores of the Arabian gulf, and has succeeded in producing the exact effect, in color and atmosphere.

The orchestra, which consists in picked campus musicians, will be in costume appropriate to the setting, and a colorful and dramatic feature, with a desert scene, a slumbering shiek, a voice in the wilderness and a dusky oriental princess who dances for her freedom to furnish entertainment for the dancers.

Practically all plans for the dance have materialized, according to Clarence Toole, general chairman, and the supply of tickets, which were limited in number, is nearly exhausted.

How often each day is it necessary to wash your hands and face?

Then is it logical to wear a dark garment through months of winter weather without cleansing?

Overwraps, furs, suits and dresses should be frequently cleansed as a matter of sanitation as well as for appearance sake.
