

Baseball Team Loses Two Men By Ineligibility

Conferece Season Will Open With U. of W. On April 30

In a grand old academic baseball game played two weeks ago the Oregon faculty defeated the Oregon baseball squad 2 to 0. Briefly, Ray Murray, southpaw, and Melvin Ray, second sacker, were declared ineligible, via the "scandal sheet" route, for further varsity competition.

The loss of these two men is particularly unfortunate. The loss of Murray will leave Coach Reinhart without the service of a "varsity-experienced" southpaw. "Rube" Murray worked in several of last year's games, and, although wild at times demonstrated considerable ability. "Red" Ray's ability as an Oregon player is not known, but as a transfer from Monmouth Normal school, he came with a high reputation.

Practice for the remainder of the week will consist mainly of hitting and infielding practice. The pitchers are getting into opening-season form. Practice during spring vacation has helped the Oregon's diamond athletes develop a batting eye. It will not be surprising to see nine sluggers on this year's team.

The Webfooters open their 1926 season with the St. Johns Bears of Portland here April 17. April 23 will find the Lemon-Yellow entertaining the Pacific university Badgers on the local diamond. Several tentative practice games are scheduled with local twilight league nines. Oregon meets the University of Washington Huskies in their initial northwest games at Seattle on April 30 and May 1.

Ticket sale in houses is going well. One man and one woman in each house has tickets for sale except where there are two or more members of Orchesis in one house. Each member has twenty tickets for sale. Mildred LeCompte Moore, business manager, urges all to buy tickets immediately, since time is short.

No Seats Reserved

All money for tickets must be turned in by Thursday noon to the business manager, or to some of the assistants, Edith Huntsman, Louise Buchanan and Gertrude Hill. Tickets are sold for general admission, as the McDonald theater is not blocked off for reserved seats. The balcony seats sell for 50 cents, and the lower floor for 75 cents. Town students may obtain their tickets at the Co-op.

Eleven High School Districts Debate for State Championship

The district debates between high schools in the Oregon High School Debating League have all been held and the eleven teams still in the contest are preparing for the inter-district debates, says Dr. Dan E. Clark, secretary of the league. These debates will begin early in April and continue until all but two schools are eliminated, one in eastern Oregon and the other in the western part of the state. The state championship debate between the two winning teams will be held on the campus sometime after the middle of May.

The winning high schools in the district debates were: Warrenton, West Linn, Salem, Eugene, North Bend, Grants Pass, Klamath Falls, Hood River, Hermiston, Union and Ontario.

Oregon Fencers Will Meet Multnomah Club

Oregon fencing team will meet the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club of Portland in Eugene on Saturday, April 10, at 8 p. m., in the men's gymnasium in a return match, the Webfooters having vanquished the clubmen at Portland several weeks ago.

Practice will begin today and will continue intensively for the next ten days at 5 p. m. daily. It is not too late for those who have not been out yet to report if they turn out immediately.

Tryouts will take place the latter part of next week to select the Oregon team.

the time. He could have kept the pace for the rest of the way easily. Guy Mauney, varsity man last year, and Ed Thorstenborg, a "find" of the season, with Ward Cook, finished in the order named, a few yards behind the winner.

The quarter-milers followed on the heels of Joe Price for the 330 yard race, with Don Jeffries close behind, bunched with Ham Allen and LaVerne Pearson. The time was comparatively slow, which means that a lot of hard work is ahead for the quarter men.

Class in Hurdles

The feature race and the one which showed Oregon's future power was the 120 yard high hurdle race between Ralph Tuck, the big "find" of the year and Francis Cleaver, varsity letterman in the stick event, which ended with the fast time of 15.1. Both men showed unequal form and speed over the race.

The sprinters were led over the 100 yards by Jerry Extra, varsity man of last year's squad, followed by Harry Holt, Charles Snider and John Kuykendall. The race was clocked at 10.2, a bit slower than is desired. The dash men have been handicapped and will probably be able to do better before the tryouts next Saturday for the Stanford meet.

Four New Graduates Enroll in Business

Four new graduate students are enrolled in the school of business administration this term. Mark Knoll, who is working for his masters' degree, did graduate work here last year, and until his return this term he has been taking graduate work at Pullman. The other three Lionel D. Haight of Saginaw, Maurice J. Warnock of Silverton, and Lee A. Withrow of Eugene, are graduates of the Oregon school of business administration in the winter term.

These new men bring the number of graduate students in the school of business administration up to 13, as there were nine enrolled last term.

Oregana Meeting Set For Thursday Night

Every detail of the 1926 year-book will be gone over carefully at a meeting of section editors, associate editors, and all those having anything to do with Oregana copy. Thursday evening in the Oregana office on the second floor of the journalism building at 7:30 o'clock, according to Wayne Leland, editor. It is urgent that every editor be present at this meeting, as some important phases of the work will be discussed.

Guild Theatre Has New Lighting System Including Dimmers

Guild theatre is now provided with one of the best University stage lighting systems in the west, which was completed before spring vacation. The lights were installed by the University electric department, and the equipment purchased from Cutler and Hammer of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The lighting room is located in the upper left wing of the stage, reached by narrow stairs. The small room is equipped with 14 dimmers and a switch board that controls every light. All of the dimmers may be controlled by a master dimmer. A small electric fan was also installed.

There are nine front lights and nine back lights on the stage, reflecting red, white, and blue. Each three lights are on a separate circuit, so there is perfect control of every light on the stage. The spot lights and the olivets, the latter with a 1000-watt power, are also controlled from the lighting room. The footlights will not be used, although they were not taken out.

Moveable curtains of monks cloth have been made for the stage, and these afford a neutral background for the lights to play upon.

Edgar Buchanan and Perry Douglas are making all the stage settings. Constance Roth is in charge of the costumes.

HOW ARE YOUR FIGURE LINES?

You can tell a woman who chooses Gossard Foundation Garments. Her figure is neater—trimmer. Her clothes appear smarter. She carries herself with more poise—because she is utterly comfortable.

Firm, slim, and rounded lines must be to wear the Winter Fashions with success and comfort. Garments of support must offer long tapering smoothness, which enhances any frock.
