

Boxing Bouts, Cock Fighting Bring Thrills

Multnomah Club Fencers Win at Smoker From Oregon Swordsmen

Abramson-Malcolm Tilt Lacks in Gore

The men's smoker held Saturday night resulted in a wide variety of entertainment, ranging from fencing to a burlesque boxing match, and including cock fights, horse and rider contest, and some fast boxing exhibitions.

In the curtain raiser, the Multnomah fencing team earned a double victory over Oregon representatives by winning in bouts, 5 to 4, and in points, 36 to 32. Cuts, touches, parries and thrusts came thick and fast on both sides, and the result was in doubt until the final encounter. The men in the iron masks for Oregon were Buchanan, Wilhelm and Gale. The club line-up included L. Pesznecker and Isherwood.

Three Rounds Torrid

Irving Pelz of Oregon drew with Ole Hanson of O. A. C. in the head-line boxing event. These boys went at it hammer and tongs throughout three torrid rounds and got a big band from the crowd for their efforts.

Hanson out-boxed Pelz in the opening stanza, landing a hard right that staggered the Oregon man just before the whistle, but the latter came back strong in the two remaining chukkers and milled his way to a draw by a two handed attack to his opponent's body.

The highly advertised Abramson-Malcolm contest was somewhat of a dud as no gore was spilt and no stretchers were needed. One Round Sol, armed with a typewriter, entered the arena and typed some scathing right and lefts to Malcolm's vital spots, but desisted when a baseball bat found its way into the president's corner. The round ended with the boys in a fond embrace, after having done their boxing with a hammer and nails.

Quartet Wins Applause

Tex Newby and Frank Buchter drew in the opening fistic contests, and were followed by Al Smith, Paul Peek, Ted Larsen and Fred West, who dispensed harmony to the delight of all assembled.

Mel Green and Beldon Babb slugged their way through a spirited bout featured by a knockdown apiece and Morrie Collings took a clean cut decision from Bill Bamber, having his opponent on queer street in the second canto. Charley Dawson, former Oregon boxing instructor, refereed all the matches.

Battle Royals O. K.

The battle royals afforded the most action of the evening. In the first, Ray Jost and Merrill Hagan, Delts, hammered their way to a slashing victory over Mervyn Behnke and Art Hamilton, Sigma Nu's. Behnke was the first to hit the floor, and when Jost and Hagan combined to pummel Hamilton, arbitrator Mautz mercifully called a halt.

Rolly Wilson and Ted Pope, A. T.O.'s, took two out of three knock-down and drag-outs from Street and Winters, a fighting duo of gamecocks from Sigma Chi house in the second encounter.

The heavyweight match between Irving Flegel and George Burnell, of the Betas, and Tony Greer and Carl Klippel, Kappa Sigs, furnished enough excitement and action to please the most exacting. The Kappa Sigs took all three rounds, but the platform was extended to stop the big boys as they crashed to the canvas.

McCulloch Wins Cup

Ralph McCulloch, A. T. O., took the cock fighting championship and the accompanying silver cup by downing Clal DeMott, Sigma Nu, in a challenge match after he had survived the eliminations. The Beta team composed of Jack Jones and Jerry Gunther won the horse and jockey competition, successfully downing all opposition.

The smoker was greeted by a large attendance, and those in charge plan to make it an annual affair. Frank Riggs, promoting the boxing matches, lined up an excellent card on short notice.

cent while that for higher education was swelled only 4.19 per cent. The committee recommended a high tuition for out-state undergraduate students.

The committee adopted a number of resolutions expressing its appreciation of being permitted such close contact with the University's immediate problems, of the assistance and co-operation of the faculty, and the entertainment accorded it, and the co-operation of the University in setting the coming Semi-Centennial celebration in conjunction with Homecoming at the wish of the alumni.

Visit Held Valuable

"The visit of this committee really starts something interesting and worth while, for it brings into close contact a disinterested body of people who are yet greatly interested in the welfare of the University," declared Jeanette Calkins, secretary of the alumni and of the visiting committee. F. Harold Young, president of the association, also expresses himself as greatly pleased with the venture and its success.

Committee Members Listed

Members of this year's committee were: Mrs. Charles W. Robison, of Astoria, representing the alumni from western Oregon; Henry N. Fowler, Bend, as the member from eastern Oregon; Dean Alfred Powers of the Portland Extension division as a faculty representative; Vernon Vawter, who was away on business had been appointed from Multnomah county, but Fred Fisk, member of the board of regents, served in his place and F. Harold Young, ex-officio member by virtue of his presidency of the alumni association.

While on the campus the committee held conferences with some of the most prominent students, was host to the deans of schools at Hotel Oshorn, dined with a number of the faculty members at Hendricks hall and attended assembly.

Two composing that old race horse, Spark Plug, gave the cops under Annette Heckman a merry chase down into the dressing rooms of the gymnasium. Another pair tried with silver to wheedle Mildred Onslow, who wore the badge of the chief of police of Eugene, into letting them stay for the performance. The judges, Mrs. Esterly, Mrs. George Gerlinger, Miss Gertrude Talbot and Miss Mauds Kerns, were the kids of the party with their knee socks and ribbons in their hair.

Although all the money from the door receipts and sale of Dixies has not been turned in, Annette Heckman, treasurer of Women's League, estimated the amount realized from the affair at $275. This money will be applied to the foreign scholarship fund of the League.

ty of private investments, while expressing honeyed words on the sanctity of Haitian independence and our moral obligations to the Haitian people is a piece of sheer hypocrisy unworthy of the American nation and calculated to lower still farther American prestige among the Latin-American states. That such conditions exist is generally unknown to the American people, due to the press censorship in Haiti, the unwillingness of the Senate to listen to appeals, such as a paper from a prominent Haitian citizen presented by Senator King a few weeks ago, and the official attitude of the government, which, in answer to criticisms, points to the official reports of General Russell, who is of course a government official and concerned with the justification of acts during his regime.

Thus are the blessings of American democracy distributed among our unwilling neighbors.

"Failure of Modern Education" Subject Of Assembly Address

J. Stitt Wilson, writer, lecturer, and former mayor of Berkeley, California, will arrive on the campus Wednesday to deliver a series of three lectures, the first of which will be given at assembly Thursday. The topic of his subject at that hour will be "Failure of Modern Education: A Constructive Criticism."

Mr. Wilson comes to the campus under the auspices of The United Work which represents the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. The purpose of the organization is to bring capable speakers to the campus each year. In speaking of Mr. Wilson, Rev. H. W. Davis, Director of the United Christian Work said, "He has made a profound impression on colleges of the country, and is without a doubt the most popular speaker attending the summer conference on the Pacific coast."

Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson will be entertained at "Horizons", the home of Mr. Davis, on College Crest. A luncheon in honor of the campus guest will be given Thursday noon at Hendricks hall, and it is probable that a luncheon with the students as hosts will be arranged for Friday, says Mr. Davis.

The other two lectures of the series will be given Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock in Villard hall. Students and townspeople are urged to attend.

Co-Op Head to Attend St. Louis Convention

At a meeting of the Co-Op directors Friday afternoon, it was voted that the manager of the store, M. F. McClain, be sent as delegate to a convention of the College Book-store association, to be held in conjunction with the American Book-store association. The convention will be held May 10-13 in the Statler Hotel, St. Louis, Missouri.

A financial statement, made by the store's accountant, showed the Co-Op to be in a very desirable financial condition, Orlando Hollis, president of the directors of the store, said. Mrs. Marie Hadley was made secretary of the directors at a previous meeting. Another meeting will be held today at noon.

Oregana Editor Asks Section Heads' Report

Actual printing of the 1926 Oregana will start this week, according to word received from the printer today, and it is imperative that section editors who have not as yet turned in all their copy should do so at once.

The following section editors are asked to report to the Oregana office immediately and to bring with them all finished copy for their respective sections.

Richard Syring, Douglas Wilson, Laurence Armond, Mary Benton, Ruth Corey, Ruth Miller, Jack Hempstead, Phillipa Sherman, Elizabeth Beans. If any of the above mentioned people have turned in all their copy report to the office for corrections.

Phi Mu Alpha Singers To Appear in Wendling

The Phi Mu Alpha minstrel show, in which most of the members of the Men's Glee Club are participating, under the direction of Eugene Carr and the management of James Leake, will probably be given in Eugene the latter part of the term.

The performance at Wendling will be given on the 22nd of April, at Cottage Grove the 29th, and at Oakridge the first part of next month.

Freshmen Commence Practice for Baseball

First call for freshman baseball practice was issued yesterday by Harry Ellinger, frosh baseball coach. The first practice is to be held on the new freshman field which is located just behind the varsity field. It has just been completed and should be in good condition as soon as the ground settles. Practice will be held there every afternoon at 3:30. Coach Ellinger and Don Park, major in the school of physical education, will direct the practice.

Until yesterday about thirty men had registered for frosh baseball and others are expected to turn out for the practice today. There is plenty of room for competition for the positions on the team.

The schedule of games to be played is being arranged. Games are to be played with the varsity, the Rooks and probably some other outside teams.

Classes to Nominate May 10, Elect May 13

At a meeting of the various class presidents and some of the class advisors held in Dean H. Walker's office recently, it was decided to hold the class nominations of officers of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes on the same day, and hold the election on one day. This will avoid the confusion of three separate elections.

The class nominations will be taken verbal on Tuesday, May 11; and the election will be by ballot on Thursday, May 13. The polls will be open from 10 to 2 on Thursday in Villard hall.

Secretaries Asked To Send Officer List

Secretaries of clubs are asked to send in promptly a list of the new officers of their respective organizations, to facilitate the keeping of up-to-date records in the Dean of Women's office, by Miss Georgia Benson, secretary to Dean Esterly. The constant change of officers of the various clubs, said Miss Benson, makes it very difficult to keep accurate records in her office.

Footprints from Deauville

INTRODUCED IN EUGENE EXCLUSIVELY BY GRAHAM'S

HELLSTERN OF PARIS introduced these unique sandals, and every smart Globe Trotter en route to the Riviera packed them away in trunks labelled for the Azure Shore.

They were quite the sensation at Deauville. New York soon imported them for Florida and Cuba, and now Graham's introduce them to Eugene, just about to break out into golf, tennis and the other Summer sports.

Minnehaha in her soft moccasins never felt more lithe than the wearer of these new sandals. In leather, cleverly fashioned with woven leather throngs across the toes that give with each step, then immediately slip trimly into place. A cut-out back, an ankle strap and a low heel complete this engaging sports shoe.
