NUMBER 115

EIGHTEEN ENTER ARENA; NOMINATIONS FOR TODAY

Construction On Pavilion To Begin Soon

Bid of $169,401 Accepted Building Committee And Regents

Roof of Building to Be Specially Constructed

Portland Contractor to Do General Work

The total bid of $167,401.60 for the construction of the new basketball pavilion was submitted to the building committees of the student body and the board of regents at a meeting yesterday at 10 a. m. and accepted.

The pavilion will be located on the ground directly south of the military barracks and work will start on it within the next 15 days according to L. H. Johnson, comptroller of the University.

A. Pajunen, Portland contractor, submitted the low bid of $139,168 for the general contracting work on the building. The sum includes the construction of a Lamella roof which is a new departure in buildings of this type. The roof will be built entirely of wood and will have no trusses, girders or columns to obstruct the view.

Lamella Roof to Be Built

The new Lamella roof in addition to being highly desirable because of its lightness, is much safer and will not collapse even though a portion of it be destroyed by fire. It is also cheaper than the steel girded type of roof. A bid of $155,000 was submitted in case this type of structure was to be used.

Successful bidders for the other contracts are, wiring, Sigwart Electric Co., at $5,575; heating, Chase and Lesley, at $18,775.00 and plumbing, Williamson and Co., $3,883.

Thirty-eight concerns submitted bids to the building committees for the four different parts of the contract. All bids were exceptionally low according to officials of the two committees. The highest bid received for the general contract was one by Geo. Isackson for $189,000.

Contractors Allowed Ten Days

The successful bidders will be allowed about ten days to sign the contracts and return them to the committees. No difficulty is expected from this source according to L. H. Johnson.

The building will be built along the lines originally planned by Lawrence and Holford, architects of Portland. The contractors will complete construction in time for the regular basketball season next spring. A. Pajunen constructed the new grandstand on Hayward field last summer and is familiar with building conditions in this city.

Prizes Offered for Emerald Staff Work

A prize of $7.50 is being offered for the best copyreader on the Emerald staff, it was announced yesterday. Other cash prizes are being offered for the best work done by individual night editors. The prize for night editing is $15. Staff aspirants still have an opportunity to compete for this prize. Those interested should see Mildred Carr or Allan Canfield at the school of journalism.

U.H.S. Seniors to Give Play at Springfield

The seniors of the University high school will present their class play, "Robin Hood", Friday night at Springfield. The initial presentation of the play was given at the high school auditorium last Friday afternoon, and another performance was given Friday evening.

Choice Seats Open For Junior Vodvil

"THE ticket sale for the Junior Vodvil is going rapidly," stated Pete Brooks, manager, yesterday, "but there are many good seats throughout the house yet unsold. It would be advisable for students desiring good seats to obtain them immediately."

Representatives of the various houses made their application for seats yesterday, but under the new seating system these seats will be distributed in different parts of the theater.

Baseball Tourney Between Houses To Open April 24

Games to Be Five Innings Only Except in Finals And Semi-Finals

The intramural baseball tournament under the direction of Virgil Earl, director of athletics, will start with the first round of the play on April 24 with 17 living organizations entering teams in the annual spring play.

The first and second round will be completed by May 3, and during the long interval between the second and third round the teams will be permitted to play off any challenge games other than those on the straight elimination schedule. The final game will probably be played about June 1.

The diamonds to be used this year will mark a great advancement in do-nut baseball for the new freshman field and the varsity diamond will be used exclusively for all scheduled games although those not on the schedule may be played on the University high school diamond or any available space. The schedule is so arranged that it will not interfere with practice of varsity and freshman teams on these diamonds.

The games this year, with the exception of those of the semi-final and final rounds, will be five innings only. The final and semi-final games will go for the full length. The department will furnish all catchers' equipment and umpires, but the organizations must furnish the balls for the games. The usual eligibility rules for intramural sports will be enforced, and those men who are candidates for varsity and freshman teams may enter at the discretion of their respective coaches.

Several teams have been working out regularly and it is probable that by the time the tournament starts next Thursday there will be some well-organized nines out for honors.

Stockholders of Co-Op Meet Today at 4:30

A mass meeting of the stockholders of the Co-Op store will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in Villard hall for the purpose of nominating members of the board of directors, receiving the reports of officers, and considering other important matters.

"This meeting for stockholders of the Co-Op, includes all members of the students and faculty," said Orlando Hollis, president of the board of directors, in correcting a mistake made in an article appearing yesterday morning, which stated that this was to be a meeting of the board of directors.

At this time two freshmen, four sophomores and two faculty members will be nominated. Of these, one freshman, two sophomores and one faculty member will be elected to serve on the board of directors during the coming year.

The elections will be held with the student body elections, said Mr. Hollis.

Co-Eds to Mix on Youth Topic Here Tonight

Morals of Young America to Be Argued in Three-Sided Debate

Oregon to Defend Both Sides in Triangle Meet

Affirmative Team Leaves For Seattle Wednesday

IS THE youth today tending toward so much moral laxity and disregard for conventions as to bring the character of the race down to a lower standard? That is the main issue which will be fought out by co-ed debaters of Reed and Oregon in Villard hall as one end of a no-decision triangle between Oregon, Washington and Reed tonight. An open forum discussion in which the girls will answer questions from the floor is a feature of the local event after the contest ends tonight.

Oregon Meets Two Foes

Miss May Helliwell, senior in education, and Miss Frances Cherry, sophomore in journalism, uphold the negative side for Oregon against the Reed affirmative. Since the affirmative sides travel in all three institutions, Oregon's affirmative, Miss Margaret Blackaby and Miss Cecil McKecher left for Seattle yesterday for the contest there at the same time. Reed negative debaters Washington affirmative in Portland.

"Resolved: That the present increased freedom granted to youth is leading toward a higher type of personality and character," is the question.

Question Declared Interesting

The youth problem of modern life is not only vital, but interesting. The main affirmative contentions are that youth freedom is developing higher character than previous generations had because a more constructive attitude results, because moral conduct is saner. The speakers also will contend that a new interpretation must be given to old standards; that the youth of today, through this, show good sportsmanship instead of conservatism, decency instead of modesty; that they are blessed with tolerance, frankness and a spirit of honestly trying to find out new truths of life.

Varsity Arguments Given

On the other side, the Oregon negative speakers will oppose the resolution on the grounds that youth are throwing away all old conditions unthinkingly because others are doing it instead of searching for a better way to solve problems; that they have cast aside responsibility; that they are not making good use of their leisure time. They also emphasize that freedom from skepticism is leading toward materialistic conceptions of life, resulting in paralysis of creative impulses. Statistics, they say, show that there is an increase in crime and vice among youth.

All Debaters Experienced

"I am sure that the girls for Oregon tonight are defending a side with which youth is not usually in sympathy," said Robert D. Horn, women's debate coach, yesterday. "They have shown a keen insight into the problems which confront the youth of the present generation." Miss McKecher, of the affirmative, and Miss Cherry, of the negative, have been in intercollegiate debates for Oregon before. They opposed Washington in a dual debate last year. Miss Helliwell two years ago was on the championship team while Miss Blackaby was in the doughnut semifinals last year.

Speeches will be 15 minutes in length with each speaker allowed five minutes for rebuttal argument.

Students Will Hear 'Little Symphony' In Concert Monday

The Little Symphony under the direction of George Barrere, flutist, will be presented by the Associated Students next Monday evening at the Methodist Church auditorium in the last concert of the school year.

The Little Symphony consists of the choir of wind instruments, flute, oboe, clarinet, horn, trumpet and bassoon combined with an adequate balance of the stringed instruments. It possesses all the qualities of the full symphony orchestra and at the same time the sweetness and subtle charm which is lost in the larger orchestra.

The French government recently conferred upon Mr. Barrere the Rosette of Officer of Public Instruction. He is a first Medallist of the Paris Conservatory and has been an officer of the Academy since 1903.

The concert will begin at eight o'clock and admission to students will be by presentation of student body ticket.

Many Letters Dropped Here by Air Service

The letters sent by air mail are increasing every month in Eugene. The mail is sent now to Salt Lake city by train and then to its destination by air. A new route has been planned by which the mail will go by train to Pasco, Washington and from there to Elko, Nevada, where the air service will pick it up. Due to the fact that two of the five planes are not ready for use yet, the new starting places will not be used for two months yet.

The postal air rate is eight cents per zone, the United States being divided into three zones, the first extending from the Pacific coast to Cheyenne, the second from Cheyenne to Chicago, and the third from Chicago to the Atlantic coast. Three cents is added to these rates for foreign destinations.

Nomination Speeches To Be Limited

Annual "Silver Tongued" Assembly Scheduled For Today

Paul Ager Will Submit Revised Constitution

Song Week Awards Will Feature Meeting

"There will be an absolute limit on all speeches, depending on the importance of the office to be filled," according to Walter Malcolm, president of the student body, in speaking of the annual "silver tongued" assembly, which will be held today at the regular assembly hour, eleven o'clock. "Nominations for president will be allowed three minutes, vice-president, secretary and editor of the Emerald will be allowed two minutes, and the balance of the offices will be allowed as much time as possible, under two minutes, according to the amount of time remaining for nominations to be made."

Election in Villard

All nominations are to be made from the floor, the only other opportunity to put a candidate's name on the ballot being through a petition, which must be signed by 50 students and filed with the A. S. U. O. secretary, DeLoris Pearson, within 48 hours after the meeting today, according to the announcement.

The election will be held on Wednesday, April 23, in Villard hall, allowing the customary six days between nominations and the date of election. The polls will be open between the hours of 9 a. m., and 3 p. m., for voting.

Awards to Be Made

The entire assembly hour will be spent in the purely student body business meeting. The minutes will be read, but due to the amount of time required for nominations no particular reports will be called for, says Walter Malcolm. The revised constitution of the associated students will be submitted by Paul Ager, who will explain the purpose of the revision as well as the important changes made.

Presentation of the awards earned in the recent Song Week will be a feature of the meeting. The women's loving cup, won by Pi Beta Phi, is being presented by Laraway's music store, of Eugene, and the men's cup, to be awarded Beta Theta Pi, is from the student body. The cups will be held for one year by the winners, when Song Week will be held again making it an annual custom on the campus.

The offices to be filled at the coming elections are president; vice-president; secretary; Emerald editor; senior woman, and junior man on the executive council; three senior men, two senior women, two junior men, and junior man and junior woman on the student council; yell king; and editor of the Oregona.

It is hoped that there will be no recurrence of the occasion at a previous nominating assembly, when after a flowery piece of oratory was all but complete, the orator forgot the nominee's name, and had to be coached in order to deliver that important part of his speech, says Walter Malcolm.

Training Offered Dramatic Students

Dramatic students desiring advanced training at the Theatre Guild school in New York can register for the new season on July 6, 1926, at Guild theatre. Registrations for this term will close on Thursday, June 10.

The new catalog, outlining the course, is now at press and may be obtained upon request by writing to the school secretary.
