

Week-end Made Successful by Co-operation
Events Surpass Previous Ones in New Ideas And Management
Committees Commended for Services

Now that Junior Week-end is over, it remains to write a few words in respect of the success of every event, the [work] of those conscientious directorate and committee members who were responsible for the success of the week-end.

Campus day with its parade of frosh numeral men to the "O", the tug-of-war, and the burning of the green lids were well handled by Will Kidwell, chairman of Campus day.

The campus luncheon was successfully planned and carried out by Doris Brophy, chairman, and her assistants.

Regardless of threatening weather conditions, Earl Chiles, chairman of the canoe fete, was undaunted, and the result of his perseverance and that of his committee, was a canoe fete which presented a greater variety of floats than has even been shown in any previous fete. Each float expressed a sincere interest on the part of those who designed and constructed it. The ethereal and imaginative effect of the fete was enhanced by the steam-belching dragon, a new decorative idea introduced in the fete. Perfect in design and effect, it was a brilliant tribute to Kenneth Birkemeier, who created and designed it.

Lawrence Armond, lighting chairman, "deserves commendation for his choice of lighting effects. The houses also exhibited good judgment in the lighting of their floats. Ed Theriault, in choosing the features of the canoe fete, presented an appealing program.

The Junior Prom was the pinnacle of the gaieties of the week-end. Splendid in decorative appeal and beauty, it showed a vast amount of research and labor of the committees headed by Rolf Klep, decoration chairman, Lowell Hoblitt, construction, and Howard Osvald, manager. The feature, done by Catherine Sartain, was one of the most dramatic ever presented. Speaking of the work of Ralph Staley, chairman of the Junior Week-end directorate, James Johnson, president of the junior class, declared yesterday, "I think Staley's work has been exceedingly efficient. The perseverance and interest he has shown has been admirable."

Frosh Tennis Squad Defeats Rook Team

The Oregon freshman tennis team made a clean sweep of the matches held with the O. A. C. rooks last Saturday whom they defeated, 7 to 0. Rain halted the play in the morning but resumed again in the early afternoon.

Neer, Hartman and Slauson came through in fine style winning their matches. Chalmers Nooe pulled a "Prince of Wales" in the second set on his doubles match when he fell down and dislocated his shoulder. His partner, Slauson pulled it back into place and play was resumed. This cost them the set, but they staged a comeback and won the match.

Neer vs. Capen, 6-3, 6-1; Hartman vs. Benton, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4; Slauson vs. Forbes 10-8, 6-1; Nooe vs. Klahn, 6-3, 6-3; Peterson vs. Cousins, 6-3, 6-0.

Doubles: Nooe and Slauson vs. Klahn and Cousins, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2; Neer and Hartman vs. Capen and Benton, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Twelve Plan to Attend Seaback Convention

Twelve of the quota of twenty men, which was assigned for the University delegation to the student Christian conference at Seaback, Washington, June 12 to the 21, have already signed up to go, according to the list on the bulletin board in the "Y" hut.

Those who have signified their intention of going to the conference are especially requested to attend a meeting which will be held at 12:30 this noon in the "Y" hut. Any others who are interested in the conference are invited to attend the meeting. A number of men are seriously considering attending the conference, and Oregon is expected to have a strong delegation there.

Senior Women Take Hockey Game 4 to 3

The first hockey game of the season was played yesterday afternoon. It was a fast game, with the sophomores, who were matched against the senior eleven, playing determined and winning hockey in the last few minutes of play. The final score stood 4 to 3, with the big counter for the seniors.

Damage Suit to Be Tried in Moot Court

WHETHER he was under the influence of liquor or is naturally a careless driver, is unknown, but the fact remains that Robert Chrisman, third year law student, ran his car into the car of Jim Robertson which was parked along the highway April 28, causing damages amounting to $130, and resulted in a moot trial to be held tonight in the Lane county court house at 7:15 by the law school moot court. David Evans and Frank Keenan, attorneys for the plaintiff and Lloyd Crow and Harold Emmons, attorneys for the defendant, will have charge of the case.

Randall Jones, third year student, will act as clerk, Rupert Bullivant as bailiff and John Bryson as court reporter.

Eugene to Have 1927 DeMolay Convention

Eugene was selected for the 1927 DeMolay state convention by a vote of sixteen to three each for Klamath Falls and Corvallis, rivals for the honor, it was reported by Mark Taylor, master counselor of the local chapter of the order, and Earl Neet, university students who attended the convention at La Grande last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Taylor was made chairman of the mileage and expense committee, and a member of the 1927 convention committee. He also took part in the ritual work of the Grand Lodge initiation, when 15 new members were received into the order.

Visit of Portland Club Postponed until Fall

The Portland Advertising club has postponed its visit until next fall due to the fact that it is impossible to find an open date for both the club and the advertising classes here. The club had planned to come to the campus sometime in May by auto caravan.

Report

well-balanced unity perceptible from the student's point of view—no adequate sense of the "oneness" of knowledge, and a subsequent failure on the part of the student to grasp early enough the significance of his education.

Thirdly, the presence of an all too large number of students who have no place in the University, who exert a parasitic influence upon the rest of the community.

Fourthly, the widespread use of stereotyped methods of instruction where the habit of spoon feeding is begun early and continued as long as possible.

In the remaining portions of this report we shall endeavor to point out changes in the present administrative policy of the University which we believe would be of material assistance in bringing about a healthier scholastic tenor within the University. In this report we are not concerning ourselves with causes which may or may not exist outside the University. We are convinced that a great deal can be done from within to alleviate the situation, to raise true scholastic achievement to a level heretofore deemed unattainable. Before outlining the changes which we propose we shall reiterate a platitude often uttered by members of the professoriat, to wit, "that the crux of the situation hinges, after all, upon the individual student's getting down to good hard sustained work." We do not, however, subscribe to that other dogma, that "a good student will always get an education in spite of the institution." We wish to change that to read, "with every possible aid from the University."

In the report which is to follow we shall suggest certain changes which we believe will facilitate a more efficient functioning of the education process.

Questionnaire Is Basis of Article For Old Oregon

Mrs. Ernst Writes Story on Fiftieth Anniversary for May Issue

Page of Students' Poems to Be Printed

With the distribution of the April "Old Oregon," material for the May issue is being rapidly assembled. One of the big articles in the new number is by Edward M. Miller, editor of the Emerald. He has contributed a review of the student movement to investigate the status of intellectual activity on the campus at the present time. The article, entitled "The Undergraduate Pause to Think," reviews and reprints in part the student committee report running in the Emerald this week. Material in the article is taken from the questionnaires recently sent out by the student daily. Last month "Old Oregon" printed the report of the Alumni Visiting committee and Mr. Miller's article follows along that line, the studying of campus conditions.

New Series of Articles Begins
 "Old Oregon" edited by Jeanette Calkins, alumni secretary, is starting a series of articles entitled "What is the Matter With the University?" A number of persons representing divergent points of view have been invited to express themselves on this subject. The first of the series has been written by Glenn E. Hoover, assistant professor of economics.

An interesting feature in the May issue will be a page of poetry by Oregon students. Philippa Sherman has contributed a group of three poems under the title of "Mill-Race Musings." The three poems are individually named "Tree Tops," "Maples in Spring" and "Water Thoughts." Ruth McDowell has written "A plea," and "The Rancee" has been sent in by Juliette Claire Gibson. "The Old Ranch Widow," by Walter Evans Kidd, which won the prize in the national contest conducted by the University of Texas, is printed in this section which is entitled "Fir Boughs and Frills."

Another article appearing in the new number will be "A Fiftieth Birthday Is an Occasion" by Alice Henson Ernst, chairman of the Commemoration Ode. The article urges all students, former students, and graduates to submit odes commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University to be used in connection with the Semi-Centennial Celebration next fall.

Story on 30th Reunion

Lester G. Hulin, '96, has contributed a story of the 30th reunion of his class which will take place this commencement. Another story tells of the number of former Oregon students who are candidates in the primary elections in May. An article has been written on the faculty members who are leaving this University to accept positions in other institutions.

W. L. Whittlesey, '01, has sent in two sketches on former days at Oregon. One entitled "Students Studying" showing old methods of studying and the other, "On Your Mark," tells of early athletics, particularly track.

The usual departments will appear, edited by Dick Syring; campus notes, news of the classes, and "The Family Mail-Box" which prints parts of letters received from former Oregon students.

Dean Walker Attends Eastern Conference

Dean and Mrs. H. Walker left last night to attend the National Conference for the Deans of Men which will be held at the University of Minnesota, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week.

After the conference they will spend a few days visiting the Universities of the north central states before they return. They expect to return in about two weeks.

Catalogues Printed on University Press for Different Departments

The University press is busy printing catalogues, reviews, etc., for the different schools and departments of the University besides getting out its regular routine work.

During the last week several large pieces of work have been completed and others started. The Oregon Law Review, put out by the law school, has come off the press. Fifteen hundred copies of these 88 page pamphlets have been printed.

A thousand copies of "Tests and Measurements in Physical Education, 1861-1926" by John Bovard, dean of the school of physical education and Frederick Cozens, will be started soon.

FOR many years, thinkers who watch mechanical progress with a friendly eye have asserted that the goal of machinery is to set mankind free from routine tasks, to give him time and opportunity for those tasks of the mind for which evolution has particularly fitted him.

In two of our most important industries there have been recent developments which may be truthfully said to have ushered in a new epoch. The dial telephone system, after years of experiment, has proved itself a practical and efficient servant of man. And the Otis Signal Control Elevator, also a product of untiring effort and experiment, marks a revolutionary step forward.

The transportation system of a modern building requires fewer elevators of this new type, than were heretofore required of other types. Control is entirely automatic, the car being operated by the pressing of car or hall button.

This type of control automatically brings the elevator to a stop within an exactness of level which eliminates the delays of readjustment experienced under the old system, and also automatically opens the doors as the car stops. This accuracy of landing greatly eliminates the possibility of accident.

In view of these epoch-making developments in the telephone and elevator industries, it is most appropriate that the four new monumental telephone buildings stretching across the country, and located in New York, Cleveland, St. Louis and San Francisco, should be equipped with the latest type of Otis Signal Control Elevators.
