

Women's Track Finals to Be Run Off on Tuesday

Sophomores; Juniors, Expected to Live up Girls' Class Meet

Last Practice Is Today for First Teams

If the women's preliminary track meets, run off Thursday and last night, are any criteria the sophomores and juniors will put up a good fight for class honors in the final meet to be held next Thursday.

The sophomores gathered 67 points to 20 for the seniors Friday, and the juniors made it slightly less, 54 to 29, from the juniors Thursday evening. Hatton, throwing for the juniors, sent the javelin over 85 feet more, while Peepoon, also a junior, hurled it a foot or so less. Osborn, sophomore, showed the next best distance with 7 feet 3 inches. Peepoon and Hatton also have the baseball throw cinched for the juniors, if the preliminaries tell no tales.

In the dashes and hurdles, the second year team has the advantage, according to the trail sheet, with Johns and Scott taking a number of first places for that team.

Class Teams Announced

All class teams were announced last night by Nellie Johns, class manager, and Miss Ernestine Troemel, coach of track. These were picked upon a basis of the showing made in the preliminaries and the scores checked during regular practice hours.

Saturday morning from 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock all first team members must show up at the grounds for their last work-out. Nellie Johns stipulates that these girls must indulge in no practice after that Saturday morning until the meet Tuesday afternoon beginning at 3:30. Second teams are likewise to practice Saturday morning, but there is no limit to the amount of practice they may have until the final meet for second teams which will take place Thursday, May 20.

First team tracksters will officiate at this meet. Following is the list of the teams: Seniors first team: Knips, Wood, Lewis. Senior second: Robson, Devault, Pierce, Mobley, Evans, Lounsbury. Junior first team: Graef, Peepoon, Scholl, Hatton, Butler, Morgan. Junior second, Cleveland. Sophomore first team: Osborn, Johns, Gallagher, Carlson, Lounsbury, Scott. Sophomore second: Adams, Hardy, Kingsley, Richardson. Freshman first team: Kurtz, Reeder, Ralston, Smith, Moore. Freshman second: Baylis and Stewart.

Amphibian Exhibition Will Be Given May 21

Amphibian, women's honorary swimming organization, will give an exhibition May 21, in the Woman's swimming pool. The program includes a large variety of swimming and diving features, races and stunts. A water circus and pirate act, displaying unusual ability in water activity, will feature the affair.

Reserved seats are being sold by members of the club for 15 cents. As this is the first demonstration of the kind to be given by the Amphibians this year, effort is being made by the club to make it of special interest.

Ten University Men Will Go to Sutherlin For Y.M.C.A. Meet

Ten men from the University will leave this afternoon for Sutherlin, Oregon, where, under the leadership of Edwin Johnson, they will conduct several religious meetings and will arrange for the starting of a Pioneer club in that city. The Pioneers is an organization of boys from the age of 12 to 15, and is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A.

Saturday night the men will conduct a social in the Presbyterian church under the leadership of Ed Buchanan. Sunday afternoon the boys' meeting will be held. Bob Mautz, Harry Leavitt, and Edwin Johnson will speak at the meeting. Edwin Johnson is at present the leader of a Pioneer club in this city.

Sunday evening the young people's meeting at the Presbyterian church will be in charge of Eugene McKinney. Later in the evening, Jack Hempstead, Roland Davis, and H. W. Davis, will speak before a mass meeting at the church. Donald Ostrander is in charge of the music.

The following men will make the trip: Edwin Johnson, Bob Mautz, Eugene McKinney, Roland Davis, Harry Leavitt, Don Ostrander, Edwin Buchanan, William Kidwell, Jack Hempstead, William Forbis, students, and H. W. Davis, director of the United Christian Work on the campus.

Willcox Will Return To Campus on Tuesday

W. R. B. Willcox, professor in the school of architecture, will return to the campus Tuesday of next week from Washington, D. C., where he has been attending a convention of the American Institute of Architects, according to a telegram received here yesterday.

Dean Ellis F. Lawrence, of the school of art and architecture, also went East for the convention, but no word has been received as to his return home, although he has already left Washington.

Before their departure to the convention, both Dean Lawrence and Professor Willcox expressed their intention of returning in time for La Critique Premiere, the exhibition of the work of the school, which is scheduled for May 27.

Portland High School To Play Frosh Today

This afternoon at 2:30 the Oregon freshman baseball team meets the Washington high nine of Portland. The Colonials are rated among the topnotchers, in the Portland interscholastic circle.

Coach Eldon Jenne is bringing the following men: Gabriel, MacDougal, Ebel, Buono, Weinel, Kruse, Moore, Palmer, Andrews, Jensen, Johnston, Bridge and Edick, manager.

Through some misunderstanding in schedule the Salem high school nine failed to make its appearance yesterday afternoon for a tilt with Coach Harry Ellinger's yearling team.

Hermian Club to Spend Week-end on McKenzie

The members of Hermian club and the staff of the women's physical education department have accepted an invitation of Mrs. Edith Lay to spend the week-end of May 19, at her home near the McKenzie bridge.

The club is planning many stunts and games, and the girls expect to ride over the Pass summit and to go in swimming in the river before returning Monday night.

California Publicity Man Met Emerald Officials Here Yesterday

A plan to make the Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association, of which all the Pacific Coast conference schools are members, a more thorough and complete news source with more cooperation among colleges than has heretofore been accorded, was discussed yesterday at a meeting attended by Walter Burroughs, director of publications of the University of California; Sol Abramson, editor-elect of the Emerald; Ed Miller, present editor, and Frank Loggan, business manager. Mr. Burroughs, with Edward A. Zeus of the firm of Lederer, Street and Zeus Company, publishers of all California periodicals, was a guest on the campus yesterday, on his way to Seattle for a vacation.

Mr. Burroughs' plan met with hearty approval here. Both Mr. Miller and Mr. Abramson are of the opinion that the P. I. P. A. can become a powerful and reliable news source among the colleges provided it is given more encouragement. Before returning to California, Mr. Burroughs will again stop here to discuss the matter with Graduate Manager Benefiel, who at present is attending the Pacific Coast intercollegiate conference meeting at Palo Alto.

As director of publications, Mr. Burroughs also is head of the publicity department at California. He discussed with Sam Wilderman, director of publicity of the associated students of the university, the possibility of forming an association of publicity men of the Pacific Coast conference, whereby more cooperation could be obtained in handling advance publicity for the big intercollegiate games, and especially football.

Mr. Burroughs suggested that regular photograph services be employed and pictures exchanged among the colleges. Also that for several weeks before the opening of football season the publicity men start preparing their news for the papers that seem eager for collegiate news. He also thought that it would be practicable to have the publicity men meet when the conference holds its annual gatherings, and there work out plans and publicity campaigns for the ensuing year.

Conversation:

Bob: My girl and I are going on a picnic Sunday, the lunch will be put up at the Toastwisch.
Dick: Say boy, they sure know how to make 'em—good eats.

M. H. Douglass Speaks At Library Conference

M. H. Douglass, University librarian, who is president of the Pacific Northwest Library association, will give the opening speech at the seventeenth annual conference of the association which will meet at Big Four Inn, near Everett, Washington, June 14 to 17.

Several members of the library staff here are expected to attend the conference. E. Lenore Casford, a senior in the University in the reference department next year, will talk on Ethical and Moral Guidance at the round table discussion of the school library group.

There are 350 individual members in this organization and 60 institutional members. The association is a branch of the American Library Association. British Columbia, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Montana and Oregon are included in the Northwestern branch.

The committees representing the organization, Mr. Douglass explained, have done some very beneficial work. The bibliography committee a few years ago got out a complete check list called the Pacific Northwest Americana. Eleanor Ruth Rockwell of the Portland library association compiled a book recommending the list of books on the Pacific Northwest which were appropriate for small libraries.

The subscription books committee frequently publishes a critical review of books sold by book agents, and sends the pamphlet out to all libraries belonging to the Pacific Northwest Association and to other subscribers.

Mr. Douglass has been president of the association for two years. He has previously held the offices of secretary and treasurer. He was present at the first meeting of the organization and has missed just one of the sixteen conferences which have been held.

Sophomores Win from Frosh Hockey Team

The hockey game yesterday afternoon between the sophomores and the freshman second team resulted in a 6 to 0 victory for the second year girls. Three goals were worked over in each inning. The freshmen were seldom able to get the ball past the sophomore line, let alone through their halves and fullbacks. This is the second shut-out game of the week, the juniors having knocked down a 7 to 0 score from the freshman first-string girls the previous night.

McClure Renovation Partially Completed

Renovation of the large chemistry lecture room on the second floor of McClure hall is almost completed. The apparatus room has been changed from the west to the north end of the room, giving, since this partition has been removed at the West, four extra windows for the class room, with a loss of only one of the original class room windows for the new apparatus room. New lighting fixtures are also to be installed.

A new elevator, four feet square, is to be constructed in the dispensing room on the third floor of the building, to run up into the attic ware rooms.

The inside walls of the whole building are to be painted white. Most of them are either gray with age, or have been painted darker colors. The painting has already begun in the old press room in the basement, which will be used for a laboratory next year.

Magic Moccasins

WHEN Hiawatha strapped on his magic moccasins he could measure a mile at a single stride. But, at best, he traveled at a snail's pace compared to the speed you can make today.

Glance through your paper and in a few moments you have covered the earth. You jump from New York to San Francisco, Pittsburgh to London, Toledo to Timbuctoo. You know what is going on the world over almost as soon as the events occur.

Turn to the advertising columns and you are transported to the grocer's, the clothier's, the music store; you visit the factory of a manufacturer, or talk with the inventor of a new household appliance.

Right in your own armchair, unhurried, unworried and without effort, you can make your choice of good merchandise, check up values and compare prices.

Merchants and manufacturers who put advertisements in this paper MUST GIVE GOOD VALUE. They know that advertising, by increasing the number of their sales, will enable them to lower prices and give you more for your money—and at the same time increase their own income.

Read the advertisements and you'll be miles ahead of the magic moccasins.
