

Noted Students To Participate In Junior Game

Picnic at Coburg, May 22 Will Be Exclusive To Class Members

Special Train to Leave Villard Hall at 2:00

The "See Reds" are out to capture the "Golf Sox." This fact was made known yesterday when "Nails" Neighbor, pitcher for the Sox and "Doc" Wrightman, slinger for the Reds, were seen practicing behind the men's gymnasium.

No tickets will be sold, and no seats reserved for this stellar event of the season. The only spectators allowed will be members of the junior class for the game will be played on Coburg field during the afternoon of May 22, when the class of '27 picnic there.

Juniors Well Qualified

Neighbor promises to be one of the famous four in the baseball world before many years. He has a clean record this season and is working hard to keep it spotless.

Wrightman is one of the cleverest pitchers on the market and will probably spring several original curves Saturday.

"Bruce" Leavitt, Red catcher, has not played any games this spring but has been resting up for his first appearance. He is capable of surprising his audience and may make the Sox look dyed.

"Whitey" Spotts, veteran receiver will pick up balls for the Sox.

"Kay" Graef, famous co-ed umpire, will rule supreme during the event. The class is fortunate in being able to see this official as she refused several attractive offers in order to come here that day.

The Lineup for Game Named

The following line-up has been arranged:

"See Reds" "Golf Sox"
Wrightman C & P Neighbor
Johnson 1st B Flynn
Staley 2nd B Hoblitt
Lambert 3rd B Carter
Brooks S S James
Leavitt Catcher Spotts
Cook RF Wester
Jeffries CF Lewellyn
Abramson LF Baker
Chiles Sub P Johnson
Biggs Osvoild

Special Train Provided

A special train will convey spectators to the scene of battle. This will probably leave Villard hall at 2:00 and return about 9:00.

Other attractions besides the game will be a fat mans race; potato race; gunny sack race; cracker eating contest; a volley ball game, and dancing.

The following pep committee has been named to work up enthusiasm among members of the houses and halls:

Class of '01 to Hold Twenty-fifth Reunion At Commencement

The class of 1901 is having its twenty-fifth reunion at Commencement. People of that class who have never been back are being invited to see one more their classmates, and to revisit their Alma Mater.

Former students will have the opportunity to see a new campus, a new University compared to the one of their day.

Mrs. Susie Bannard Holt, vice-president of the Alumni Association and permanent secretary of the class of 1901, has sent out letters to each of the thirty-one members, five of whom live in Eugene. The letter tells of the plans that Mrs. Holt and the other resident members of the class are making to entertain their former classmates.

"Friday night," she writes, "we should have a get-together banquet—informal and intimate. Saturday, alumni day, is full from the Alumnae breakfast at 9 a. m. to the Failing and Beckman contests at 8:45 p. m. Each event will afford opportunities to meet old friends, see old landmarks and become acquainted with new ones. A personally conducted tour over the new campus will be a feature of the day, as many of the class have not been back since the great growth of the University. For Sunday evening, if the members care for it, a picnic supper up the Mackenzie as guests of the resident members will be scheduled."

O.A.C. Rooks Vanquish Oregon Tennis Team In Marginal Contest

The O.A.C. Rooks succeeded in defeating the Oregon Frosh tennis team in Corvallis last Friday afternoon by a score of 4 to 3 matches, thus evening the count in the "series," as the Frosh had previously defeated the Rooks at Eugene the week before.

The summary:
Neer, Ore., defeated Copen, O. A. C.—6-2, 6-1.

Benton, O. A. C. defeated Hartman, Ore.—6-2, 6-4.
Slauson, Ore. defeated Foster, O. A. C.—5-7, 7-5, 6-2.

Klahn, O. A. C. defeated Souther, Ore.—6-3, 6-4.
Cousins, O. A. C. defeated Lee, Ore.—6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Doubles:
Copen and Willett, O. A. C. defeated Neer and Slauson, Ore.—7-5, 6-4.

Hartman and Souther, Ore. defeated Klahn and Cousins, O. A. C.—3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

There will probably be a return match to decide who is to wear the crown sometime in the near future.

Freshman Test Good Indicator Of Grade Record

Low Average of Students Correlates With Scores Of Psychology Test

Scores were recently completed by Professor Howard R. Taylor, of the psychology department, on a psychology test given to the freshmen in the department the first of the year. The results of these tests throw a good deal of light on the educational problems of people that make poor scholastic records.

Of the 302 students who failed to make better than four average in their subjects either in the fall or winter quarter or both, 134 failed to make that average both quarters. These averages were concerned with academic subjects only, eliminating music, physical education, and military.

Of these 134 people there were 24 women and 62 men in the college of arts and sciences; while in the school of business administration there were 5 women and 43 men. The situation of these 134 in regard to the test score is indicative that of the 24 women in the college of literature, science and arts 19 of them made records of class 4, 5, and 6 in the psychology examination, and 5 made class 3, while none made classes 1 or 2. From the 62 men in the college of literature, science and arts 43 of them made a psychological test score classified as 4, 5, and 6; 9 men made class 3; 9 class 2; and 1 class 1. In the school of business administration among the 5 women, 4 classified 4, 5, and 6, and one class 3.

The 43 men in the school of business administration were classified as follows: 32 class 4, 5, and 6; 9 class 3; and 2 class 2.

The summary of this test score suggests that a large percentage of the people that made a poor scholastic average passed below average in the psychology examination; which, according to Professor Taylor, shows that it is not always lack of concentrated effort that lowers grades, but also the lack of specific ability to grasp certain subjects.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Palo Alto Ca., May 17.—A drive to raise $7000 for the Stanford Convalescent home opened last Monday morning and will end May 18. All money will be raised locally. Last year $1000 was contributed by the students.

Orchesis to Give Pantomime for Play Day Plans

Dream Gate, Fairy Legend Will Be Staged Here Next Saturday

"Dream Gate," a pantomime with dances, will be given by members of Orchesis, honorary dancing society, as a feature of Play Day, the athletic event to be held here this Saturday with the O. A. C. women's athletic representatives. This contribution of Orchesis to the festivities of the day will occur immediately after the picnic supper to be held on the lawn just in front of the women's gymnasium, at 6:45 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend the presentation of this scene which will be staged on the north side of the stone wall between Susan Campbell and Hendricks halls.

A garden of flowers, with the semi-circle in the wall for the garden gate and statues resting on the balustrade, will form the setting for the pantomime. Two fountains near the foreground of this grassy stage will complete the setting.

The theme of "Dream Gate" is the revelation to a mortal child at midnight on midsummer's eve of the enchanted realm of the fairy world. This revelation occurs in a mystic garden, separated from the mortal world by a dream gate. At the mystic moment the gate opens slowly for the mortal child to enter. She is granted one hour of happiness, and as the garden opens to her, she discovers a wealth of secret pleasures; but at the very height of her joy—the hour is ended. The gate opens again and reluctantly she returns to the land of mortals.

The characters of the legend are: the Child, the Rabbit, the Poppies, the Gentian, the Canterbury Bells, and the Dandelion.

Jolie Ray pulled a tendon and came back. Charlie Paddock pulled a muscle, Ray Dodge pulled a tendon and is running better now than before. There have been numerous examples of runners who have injured themselves and then "come back". Sweet may be able to do that but he has the odds against him. The 1,200 mile ride on the train from Missoula, Montana with only a workout at Roseburg was probably responsible for the injury.

Students-Professors Eligible to Contest On Price Peace Plan

Announcement of a contest open to all students and instructors in economics and marketing has been made by Edward Plaut, president of the Lehn and Fink Products company of New York. The contest is the culmination of years of effort on the part of manufacturers, jobbers and retailers to find an answer to the price cutting problem, and the evils involved.

The award for the "most practical and workable price peace plan," is to be $1000 in cash, and contestants will have until November 1 to get plans in. Nothing received after noon of that date will be considered, according to word received.

The plan, upon which no limit has been set, must contain a definite policy for retailer, jobber, department store, chain store and manufacturer. The resale price law must be considered from the angle of advisability. Solutions, both practical and legal are required, taking into consideration the problem of "free goods" and "hidden discount."

According to Mr. Plaut's letter, the many articles written upon this subject throughout the past years have tended to point out the evils of the price cutting practice and have failed almost entirely to offer practical solutions.

The chairman of the jury of awards is Hon. Arthur Capper, United States senator from Kansas. He will be assisted by six other judges.

Complete details of the contest may be secured from the College Contest Editor, Lehn and Fink Products company, 250 Park Avenue, New York City.

Crockatt Will Speak To Ministerial Club

Peter C. Crockatt, professor of economics, will talk to the club of ministerial students at the Eugene Bible University, tonight. His subject matter will be the economic and practical aspects of religion.

Mr. Crockatt leaves for eastern Oregon Wednesday where he will address the high school graduating classes of Mosier, Moro, and Grass Valley. His topic is to be "Motives for Work."

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Palo Alto, Cal., May 16.—"College sports are maintained primarily for the benefit to be derived therefrom by the participants," states Glenn S.

Warner, Stanford football coach, who criticizes the view taken by the public and sport writers that university athletics exist solely for the entertainment of the spectators.

This opinion was advanced in reply to the criticism that the two-mile run should be eliminated because the event is uninteresting to spectators.

Warner's twelve years experience as track coach at Carlisle affords a basis for the further statement that the two-mile is not more detrimental or strenuous than the mile, the half, or the quarter. Western athletes are credited with slower time and less competition than those of the east because they do not train as faithfully as eastern runners.
