

New Athletic Playgrounds Are Promised

Work on Fields to Start During Spring Term Council States

Appointment of Klep, Wilson, is Authorized

Students to Manage Series Of Musical Concerts

At the first meeting of the new executive council yesterday afternoon, it was decided to appropriate $1500 from student funds to aid in building three additional fields for intramural athletics, providing the board of regents of the University duplicates the amount.

Rolf Klep

Through the recommendation of the publications committee, the council voted to appoint Rolf Klep editor of the new student humor magazine, provision for which was made through previous action of the council. Douglas Wilson was named manager of the new publication.

The expenditure of $3,000 will be necessary to grade and make the fields ready for use and because of the urgent need that these be built it was felt to be expedient to use student funds in this way. The board of regents is very much in favor with the present plan for improving the fields, just west of Hayward field and just south of the new basketball building but due to shortage of funds is unable to do it all with University money.

Work to Begin This Spring

As voted by the council, work on the fields will be started this spring and they will be ready for use in the fall.

Action was also taken by the council to take over the control and management of the concert series which was formerly taken care of by a joint student and faculty committee. It is felt that if the student body takes over the management of these concerts, they will be assured and a considerable amount of money could be realized.

Six Editions of Magazine Planned

It was largely through the efforts of Klep that provision for the new magazine was made. A group of students and organizations, led by him have been investigating the field for a new college magazine for some time.

The executive council recently authorized the magazine.

The magazine has not yet been named. It will combine comic and literary qualities and will be issued six times a year or twice each term. It will probably be similar to the University of Washington publication, the "Columns", it is stated.

Course in Personal Hygiene to be Given Here in Winter Term

A course in advanced personal hygiene has been scheduled for next winter term by the department of physical education in an effort to promote the true principles of healthy living and to discard many of the common fallacies. It will be three hours, for the winter term only.

In working out the new course, which was the outgrowth of a demand on the part of the students in the beginning hygiene classes this year, the department announces that it is for the student body at large and will not be restricted to any group. It is elective and for men and women.

The three hour course will be a general information course on all phases of personal health, but will go deeper into the problems of healthy living than the beginning course. It is not a course in anatomy or physiology, but a practical informative resume of all the every day problems.

Delbert Oberteuffer, instructor of the hygiene classes, will conduct the new course. His experience at Columbia University, where he received his master's degree in health education in 1924, amply qualifies him for this phase of physical education work.

Y.W. Plans Annual Senior Breakfast

PLANS for the annual Junior-Senior breakfast, given annually under the auspices of the Y. W., are well under way according to Miss Magowan. The breakfast will be held in the Woman's building Sunday morning, June 5, at 9 o'clock. Virginia Keeney is in charge of the affair.

At this breakfast each senior woman is the guest of a junior girl. The lists are prepared, showing each senior who her junior escort will be. This list will be posted later.

Congestion at Library to be Relieved Soon

Newspapers Will be Moved To New Extension of Press Building

"Congestion at the library will be considerably relieved by the extension to the University press building," M. H. Douglas, librarian, said yesterday. "Part of the addition will be temporarily available for the storage of newspapers," he declared.

"At the present time there are several hundred volumes of bound newspapers in the library for which there is no storage space," Mr. Douglas added, "and many more to come from the bindery in the near future." He explained that storing the volumes in the University press building would be a great inconvenience to those wishing to consult the newspapers but would at the same time provide a secure place to keep them until such a time as a new library will be built.

Since January 1, 1926, 4229 books have been added to the library collection. In 1925, 12136 books came in.

"The problem of storing books this summer when school is out and most of them come in from circulation," Mr. Douglas explained, "will be a rather difficult one. A year from this summer, unless some other provision is made," he concluded, "the problem is going to be a serious one."

Organ Program This Evening Opens Series Of Three Recitals

Agnes Von Lehe will present the first of a series of three graduating organ recitals to be given by students of John Stark Evans, this evening at 8:15 in the School of Music auditorium. Frances Pierce will give a recital a week from tonight, and Esther Church will play the next Thursday.

Miss Von Lehe, who is a graduate student, will be assisted by Marguerite Hill, contralto. Following is the program:

PART I.
Prelude and Fuge.....Clarence Eddy
Sonata in B flat major.....Mendelssohn.
Allegro con brio.
Andante Religioso.
Allegro maestoso evivace.

PART II.

Midsummer Caprice.....Johnston
Allegretto Villereccio.....Tunnagalli

Operations Started On Press Extension

The old buildings between the Household Arts building and the University press are being moved to make way for an extension 50 by 50 feet to be made on the Press building. The extension will be finished by the time school starts next fall.

A part of the new structure will be used, for some years, as a storage place for books which are now kept in a room of the journalism building. A small section will be used for the advanced class in typography under the direction of John Henry Nash, who will be here from San Francisco part of the time. Another part of the building will be used for the class in elementary printing.

Oregon, O.A.C. Women Plan Sports Event

Play Day Saturday First Girls' Athletic Meet Since 1922

Non-Competitive Idea Will be Emphasized

Tennis, Canoeing, Hockey, To be Featured

SATURDAY of this week the Oregon women will combine with 50 representative athletic girls from O.A.C. to enjoy sport for sport's sake. Play Day, as the event has been termed, is being held on this campus under the auspices of the Women's Athletic associations of the two colleges.

This is the first athletic event between the schools which does not take the nature of a purely out-and-dried competitive meet and is only another move on the part of Oregon women to get away from the hard feeling and disappointments of intercollegiate sports as formerly conducted. It is the first meeting on the athletic field of the women of Oregon and O.A.C. have had since 1922.

Tennis, Canoeing, To be Features

The morning program will include tennis, canoeing, and hockey. The first two events will be purely exhibition, with the exception of the tennis doubles. In the doubles an Oregon girl and an O.A.C. girl will compete against a like pair. This arrangement of mixed teams has been carried entirely through the program in order to avoid the least semblance of competition.

Horseback riding will be demonstrated in the afternoon, with a team of six of the visiting girls doing stunts in this event as well as the University women. Baseball heads the list of afternoon activities. A social swim for everybody and a picnic supper on the campus lawn are features of the program.

Original Dances to be Given

Following the picnic supper a number of original dances will be given by the guests and the last thing in the evening Orchestra, dancing honorary, will present "Dream Gate", a pantomime with dances. The Orchestra contribution to the program will be staged on the south side of the walk that connects with the two halls of residence. The picnic supper is to be held above this site, and between the halls and the Woman's building. The crowd will move down to occupy the lower lawn for the pantomime, which depicts the adventures of a mortal child in the fairie world for the space of one hour.

Gilbert, Col. Sinclair Review Cadet Parade

The fifth formal parade of the University of Oregon Reserve Officers Training Corps was held yesterday afternoon on Kincaid field, in honor of Dean J. H. Gilbert of the college of literature, science, and the arts.

Dean Gilbert, accompanied by Colonel W. S. Sinclair, commander of the University R. O. T. C., and his staff, composed of Captains T. L. Culin, F. M. Moore, and J. T. Murray, passed before the six companies of cadets and joined the staff of student officers led by Regimental Commander Steele Winterer.

The entire unit, accompanied by the University band, then passed in regimental review. The last parade of the term will be held next Wednesday, when Governor Walter Pierce will review the cadets.

Single Case of Mumps Reported at Infirmary

Loye Smith is in the University infirmary with the mumps. So far as can be ascertained this is the only case of mumps on the campus at present. The other patients at the infirmary are Charles Rose, Ford West, Betty Easterday and Genevieve Chase who are suffering from colds.

Jean Spenker underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday evening. She is at the Eugene hospital. Her sister Edna Spenker who has been ill, left Wednesday for Los Angeles for a rest cure.

Students of Twelve Nations to Present Festival Pageantry

Japanese to Give One-act Drama, 'The Goddess Of the Sea'

The fate of the world hung upon a woman's decision. Should she look through the door, just take one peek, or should she remain hidden. The Goddess of the Sun made her decision—the good Gods, those of Peace, Strength, Power, Love, and Justice, seized their advantage—the world was again bathed in sunlight, and the gibbering devils departed.

All this and more is promised those who see the Festival of Nations in Guild theater next Friday and Saturday night. Twelve nations will present a pageant sponsored by the Cosmopolitan club, which will illustrate the customs of these nations.

Three acts, "The Goddess of the Sun," the Japanese act, "The Ghost," presented by the Filipino club, and "The Choice of Hercules", a Grecian drama in one act, are featured on the program. "The Ghost", centers around modern woman's choice between the "ghost" of independence, individuality, and womanhood, or willing subservience, loving obedience, and motherhood.

"The Choice of Hercules" is a part of Xenophon's, "Recollections of Socrates," dramatized by Christ Loukas, Greek student, who also plays the part of Hercules. The play is being directed by Miss Florence Wilbur, head of the dramatics department, and the dancing by Miss Lillian Stupp, dancing instructor in the department of physical education. The theme centers around the choice made by man when he is about to leave the period of adolescence between a life of vice or one of virtue.

Coaches Claim Title In Baseball Realm By Contested Game

The lawyers' reign of baseball supremacy has ended. By refusing to continue the tilt against the Physical Education majors yesterday when the latter were just about to stage a monster batting rally, the shysters lost their claim to the campus title.

The lawyers were ahead by a few runs when the matinee ended so abruptly, but Hobson, the P. E. spitball artist, was mowing the opposition down like ripe grain, and Reinhardt, imported catcher, was catching like Rudolph Valentino might if Rudy were a ball player.

"Shucks," said Hobson, after the game, "Where do them lawyers get that champion stuff? Pooh, pooh! I had to ease up or my fielders would never of had any exercise. No wonder they are scared of me."

Del Oberteuffer, physical education first sacker, fielded like Hal Chase, dropping less than three fourths of his chances. Sherman Smith, umpire, was the outstanding law school luminary, retiring the opposition right and left with deadly jerks of his good right arm. His outstanding play came when he retired an embryo coach at second while facing home, and playing catch with a youngster named Bert Gooding.

"Plunks" Reinhardt dropped in just as this was being written and warned us not to forget his two three baggers.

Miss M. Hair Returns From Conference

Miss Mozelle Hair, director of correspondence study of the extension division, returned Tuesday evening from the social workers' conference and fifth annual convocation of the Portland school of social work held at the Portland library.

"The conference, which is planned especially for graduates of the school of social work and nurses completing the course entitling them to the certificate for public health nursing, was one of the most interesting and best attended that has ever been held," Miss Hair said.

The special feature of the conference was the convocation which was held at a luncheon meeting on Tuesday. Arthur Evans Wood, director of social service curriculum of the University of Michigan, was the principal speaker.

Class Picnics on Program For Week-End

Trains, Trucks and Fords Commandeered For Transportation

Sophomores to Dance Upon Seavey's Ferry

Freshmen Plan Frolic at Midway

SPECIAL trains, streetcars, cars, Fords, and trucks will carry the members of the three underclasses of the University to their various picnic grounds this week-end. The juniors will entrain at Villard Saturday at 2:00 in a special train for Coburg Bridge. The sophomores will journey to Seavey's ferry in a fleet of trucks Friday afternoon and the freshmen will frolic at Midway the same day.

The juniors are planning one of the "unforgettable affairs of the season" and their predictions have some basis with Dean McCluskey's Oregon Aggravators furnishing the synecopation from 5:00 to 8:00.

Prizes for Dancing Offered

Prizes for dancing, for novelty races, a baseball game between the "See Reds" and the "Golf Sox", and an elaborate menu are a few of the headlines in this galaxy of events. The special train will return about 8:30. Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, George Turnbull, and Mrs. and Mrs. Walter Snyder will chaperone the party.

The sophomores promise the "biggest and best" class gathering of the season. It will be strictly a no-date affair, according to Don McCook, general chairman. Trucks will leave Villard hall at 3:00 and 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon and will not return until 10:30.

The entertainment, in charge of Frank Riggs, is headed by an athletic contest between the single and "married" men early in the evening. George Weber's orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Riggs says he has more unusual features planned for this dance than the Seven Seers had at their masquerade.

Junior Officers to be Installed

Helen Mannary, who is in charge of refreshments, has departed from the usual picnic fare and will serve a surprise menu. Benoit McCroskey, class president, will install the newly elected junior class officers at this time.

The officers are: Frank Riggs, president, Katherine Muntzig, vice-president, Marion Barnes, secretary, Edward Crowley, treasurer, and Robert Warner, sergeant-at-arms.

The committees in charge of the freshman picnic are working vigorously and will have everything in shape for the freshman picnic at Midway. There will be games, dances, swimming, all you can eat and a special feature that will be announced tomorrow. The class will be transported to the scene of the picnic without individual expense on streetcars.

Graduate Assistants Elected to Honoraries

Herbert L. Jones, '26, a graduate assistant in the physics department, was elected to both Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi at the election this spring, making three of the assistant members to be elected by each. Eula Benson, a senior in the department, was taken into Phi Beta Kappa in the fall term and into Sigma Xi this spring, as was Evan G. Lapham, also a senior, both of the latter are assistants in the general laboratory.

Jones will take a position with the Bell Telephone company July 1, in the plant engineering department. He is at present assisting in the electrical measurements and advanced physics class and in the one in photography here.

University High Plans Patrons' Night June 2

The University high school will hold a patrons' night, June 2. The program will begin at 8:15. There will be musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. Lansbury Beck, and short talks by the members of the faculty, explaining the aims of the school. A one-act play by Booth Tarkington, "Station YYY", will be presented by the dramatic club.

Seniors Call Last Meeting of Class

THE last regular business meeting of members of the class of '26, will be held this afternoon in Villard hall at 5:00, when they assemble for the purpose of determining how the funds of the class are to be utilized.

Two spotlights owned by the class will be turned over to the executive council, and anyone desiring to borrow or rent them in the future may make arrangements with that body, according to announcement by Robert Gardner, president of the senior class.

A large attendance is urged at this meeting.

Frosh Trackmen To Participate In Seattle Meet

Sixteen Men to Take Trip To Vie With Huskies; Competition Keen

As a result of the tryouts held yesterday, 16 frosh placed on the team that will meet the University of Washington babes next Saturday at Seattle. Coaches Bill Hayward and Earl Leslie picked 17 men but either Runar Rasmus or Bill Crawford will be left here as both have been under the weather for the past week.

One surprising feature of the tryouts yesterday was the work of the weight artists, George Stager and Mark Sanderson, who threw the shot and discus far and wide. Ernest McKittrick ran a good half mile, with Rasmus close on his heels.

The two sprinters, Creed Cheshire and Arthur Ord, will meet some tough competition in Seattle as the Washington babes boast of some of the best sprinters seen there in many a day. They also look good in the hurdle races, but both Loye McGee and Bob Foster will furnish them with plenty of competition for the afternoon. The Washington yearlings have six men who have had much experience and through them they expect to romp off with the meet. "Spike" Leslie will accompany the team to Seattle, which will leave sometime Friday afternoon. The following men will make the trip: 100 and 220 yard dashes; Creed Cheshire and Arthur Ord; 440 yard dash; Joe Standard and Jaek Jones; half mile; Ernest McKittrick and Runar Rasmus; mile run; Harold Little and Edwin Jensen; high and low hurdles; Bob Foster and Loye McGee; broad jump; Arthur Ord and Loye McGee; high jump; Ralph McCulloch and Bill Crawford; pole vault; Joe Brown; discus and shot put; George Stager and Mark Sanderson; javelin throw; George Bunnell and Bob Foster; relay; Standard, Jones, McKittrick and Little.

Flynn Public Relations Expert

Mr. Flynn is well known over the country for his public relations work. He is known as being interested in community problems, and goes out from St. Paul, where he has his headquarters, to give addresses in the interest of good will. He says, in the "Great Northern Goat" a monthly publication of the Great Northern railway, "Let us remember we should decide all questions between individuals or corporations just the same as we would decide if we were sitting on a jury in court." Each month under Flynn's "minute Editorials" in the "Goat", concise thoughts on important questions appear.

Intra-Mural Baseball Series Takes Third Round This Week-end

This Friday, May 21, will mark the opening of the third round of intra-mural baseball, which will continue practically all day Saturday, May 22. There are but eight teams left in the race out of seventeen that started, the others having been defeated and one having withdrawn because of "insufficient players."

The Sigma Pi Tau-Delta Tau Delta tilt, which was to have been played several weeks ago, but which was postponed due to various conflicting causes, will probably be played before the start of the third round, providing the weather and participants are in favor.

The schedule of games in the third round follows:

Friday, May 21, Fijis versus Betas, 4 o'clock. Saturday, May 22, Sigma Chi versus Theta Chi, 9 a. m. A. T. O. versus Phi Deltas, 1 p. m. Phi Psi versus (winner of Sigma Pi Tau-Delta Tau Delta match.) 3 p. m.

All games will be played on the frosh diamond, unless otherwise stated in the Emerald.

Pitcher Plants Sent To Botany Department

About 100 small pitcher plants were sent to the University botany department recently by Alton Kardell, a freshman on the campus last term, who collected the specimens near his home in Marshfield, Oregon. They were used as laboratory subjects last week.

Exploration of Columbia To Be Related

E. F. Flynn Will Describe Travels of Pioneers at Assembly

Speaker Director in Great Northern Railway

Talk Will Include Plans for Modern Expedition

HOW many people remember who the earliest pioneers were and what they contributed to the development of the country? Because there are comparatively few who know the history of our own country, railway companies are endeavoring to revive enthusiasm by placing memorials along the travelled routes and by organized expeditions. It is of this movement that E. F. Flynn, assistant to the vice-president and general counsel, and director of public relations of the Great Northern railway will address the associated students at assembly today.

The subject of his address is "The Columbia River Historical Expedition", which will leave Chicago for the west on July 15, to traverse the entire Columbia River region, and will include a study of the early explorers, forts and events.

Members of the expedition party will be selected from the historical associations of the United States and Canada. Dean F. G. Young of the sociology department, who is secretary of the Oregon historical association, will probably be one of the representatives. Additional members of the party, and a special feature of the expedition this year, will be several French and American high school students, the winners in an oratorical contest between France and this country on the question of good will.

Flynn Public Relations Expert

Mr. Flynn is well known over the country for his public relations work. He is known as being interested in community problems, and goes out from St. Paul, where he has his headquarters, to give addresses in the interest of good will. He says, in the "Great Northern Goat" a monthly publication of the Great Northern railway, "Let us remember we should decide all questions between individuals or corporations just the same as we would decide if we were sitting on a jury in court." Each month under Flynn's "minute Editorials" in the "Goat", concise thoughts on important questions appear.

Before entering the service of the Great Northern, Mr. Flynn was a member of the American Law League and a practicing private lawyer. He was a visitor on the University campus last fall, addressing Dr. Crockatt's classes in transportation. He demonstrates an interest in all problems that come up in daily life as shown in his editorials. In one which he calls "The Bank of Life", he says, "A bank and life treat us just the same. The world doesn't owe us a living any more than a bank owes us the right to borrow money. Both the bank and the world will help us if we first demonstrate the right to be aided."

"Hate Does Not Save Country"

He expresses his opinion on public relations, in which he is directly interested, in his "Politicians and Statesmen." Neither denunciation, hate nor prejudice ever saved a life or a country," is his conclusion.

In speaking of the Columbia River Historical Expedition which Mr. Flynn will discuss in detail, Dean Young mentioned some of the orators who will make the trip and who will speak at points of historical interest. The probable list includes T. C. Elliot, Hon. Lawrence Burpee, Judge Charles L. Cary, Frederick J. Turner, Judge F. W. Howay and Frederick V. Holman, all men who are interested in the history revival movement.

The musical number of the assembly program will be a vocal selection by Miss Pauline Knowland, a member of the women's glee club.
