

Foreign Air Will Prevail At Vivid Drama

Cosmopolitan Clubs From Four Schools Will Be Guests

12 Nations in Festival Tonight and Saturday

Filipino String Orchestra To Furnish Music

COLORFUL costumes, dances and music from the Orient and the Occident, compose a kaleidoscopic pageant from 12 nations of the world in the Festival of Nations, which will be presented at Guild theater tonight and Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

The Cosmopolitan club, sponsor for the performance, has sent invitations to the Cosmopolitan clubs at O.A.C., Willamette university, the Chemawa Indian School, and Linfield college. Guests from these institutions are expected to see the Festival on Wednesday and Saturday night. Those who wish to see the Festival are asked to come Friday night if possible, since the limited seating capacity of Guild theatre and the guests from the other schools will make it difficult to obtain seats Saturday.

To-Ko-Lo Society Elects New Officers

LESTER JOHNSON, freshman baseball and basketball player, was elected president of To-Ko-Lo, men's sophomore honorary society, at the annual election of officers last night. Al Boyden was selected by the members for the position of vice-president, Art Anderson, for secretary, treasurer, and William Crawford and Elwood Enke for guards.

To-Ko-Lo has been very active in campus activities during the past year, according to retiring officers. The society has had charge of the freshmen parade, library steps and numerous other traditional campus activities.

The retiring officers are: Art Priaulx, president, Walter Cushman, vice-president, Jack Hempstead, secretary-treasurer.

O. A. C.-U. of O. Play Day to Be Held Saturday

Friendly With Social Mingling Feature of Girls' Meet

From 9:00 o'clock tomorrow morning until late in the evening Oregon co-eds and girls from O. A. C. will mix on the campus in the first Play Day, an institution used for the first time this year between the two colleges.

Canoeing, tennis, hockey, baseball, and a social swim will be the athletic events of the day.

The idea of the participants is to make Play Day a happy, get-together, fun event between the schools, with no hint of the slightest element of competition. In each event that "matched" sides are needed, both teams will be composed of an equal number of Oregon and O. A. C. women.

The canoeing will be purely demonstration work. The class finals will be run off and a four-crew team will demonstrate crew work. This is the first use of crewing, as such, to be shown on the mill race by the girls.

The tennis singles will also be exhibition work, but the doubles will be the mixed teams. One feature of the day is that no girl will enter more than one athletic event, thus giving as many girls as possible a part in the play of the day. The 10 girls that will take part in baseball and the 11 girls will compose Oregon's share of the hockey event have already been chosen. It has been the intention of the members of the women's physical education department, which helped to select the teams, to place the representative girls in the sport which they excel in, as well as to give all an opportunity.

The visiting girls will be taken to the various living organizations to lunch. At 5:30 o'clock visitors and hosts will meet on the lawn just in front of the Woman's building for the big finale of the day—a picnic supper.

"Dream Gate" a pantomime, will be presented by the members of Orchesis immediately after the supper. This promises to be a picturesque climax to Play Day, and is open to the public. It will begin probably at 6:45.

National Officers Here To Install Fraternity

With the arrival of Clifford B. Scott, grand historian, of O'Neill, Nebraska, and O. E. Draper, grand guard, of Seattle, yesterday noon, the work of installing Kappa Delta Phi into Sigma Phi Epsilon began.

Last night the initiatory work started with part of the 24 charter members being given the ritual. Initiatory work will continue today until all active members have been initiated. Alumni members will be initiated Saturday morning. The charter will be presented to the local group Saturday afternoon after which a formal banquet and dance will be held in the Eugene hotel.

Oregon Alpha of Sigma Phi Epsilon located at O. A. C. is assisting the installing officers with the initiatory work. Representatives of Washington Alpha at Pullman, Washington Beta at the University of Washington, Montana Alpha of Missoula and California Alpha of the University of California are in attendance.

Girls Install Officers For Coming Year

Anna DeWitt Gives Report On Conference Held at Los Angeles

Work of Honor System Discussed by Members

University's Status High in Financial Plan

NEXT year's officers were installed and chairmen of committees named at the last mass meeting of Women's League held in Villard hall at 5:15 yesterday afternoon.

Esther Hardy was named chairman of next year's Big Sister committee, Edna Ellen Bell, chairman of foreign scholarship, Frances Plimpton, chairman of activities, and Elizabeth Waara, chairman of the Woman's building committee.

Kathryn Ulrich Presides

Kathryn Ulrich presided at the meeting after she was installed by Anna DeWitt, retiring president, and outlined plans for next year.

Women's League will conduct teas as it did this year; the "get-wise party" for the freshmen girls will be given. Dime-crawls, the proceeds of which go toward the foreign scholarship, will also be repeated next year. The league plans to entertain guests of the University when the high school conference is held. Since this year's rummage sale was so successful, it will be repeated next year, and also April Frolic. A campus circus will be inaugurated on the campus next year, announced the president, if plans are successful.

Anna DeWitt, retiring president, who installed the new officers at the meeting, reported on the Western Sectional conference of inter-collegiate women, which she and Kathryn Ulrich recently attended at Los Angeles. They brought back many good ideas for Oregon's Women's league, she said. Thirty colleges were represented, making 70 girls, and the deans of women also attended the conference. A discussion on "Adjusting Freshmen Women to Your Campus" was given by the University of Colorado. There they bring an expert to the campus for the first two weeks of each year to help the freshmen.

Honor System Discussed

The practical application of the honor system is not much improvement over the old system, in most places. A discussion of prominent organization was given by the University of Nevada and a report of finances by the University of Oregon. The president stated that this University ranks among the first in a competent financial program.

"We obtained many ideas just by talking to the girls," said Miss DeWitt.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $1,053.55 for Women's League, $170.15 of which was cleared at April Frolic.

The new officers are: president, Kathryn Ulrich; vice-president, Catherine Strupler; secretary, Nancy Peterson; treasurer, Harriet Osborne; reporter, Margaret Long; sergeant-at-arms, Elaine Crawford.

Oregon Professors Interviewed in Last Portland Center Star

The Portland Center Star, the Portland extension division newspaper which is printed three times a term, came off the press yesterday.

According to the Star, Dr. E. S. Conklin, head of the department of psychology at the University, will speak to the Graduate club of the Portland Center at the Medical School on Marquam Hill, May 22.

Wilkie N. Collins, a former visiting professor of English literature in the University, and now a writer of note for magazines and New York newspapers, is to handle a course in criticism in the Summer Session at Portland, this year.

The paper also contains an interview with Dr. F. G. C. Schmidt, professor of German on the campus, on German literature.

"Johnson" Monicker Proves Dark Horse

THE old "dope" about Smith, Brown, and Jones being the three most popular surnames in America misses the truth by just one-third, according to a tabulation of the common names from the Oregon directory of the last three years and of the alumni directory. Johnson has supplanted Brown, just as a Maryland man, who is writing an article on the frequency of names, has predicted.

Only the alumni nomenclature attempted to uphold the dignity of Brown, thereby sacrificing Jones to Johnson. Otherwise the new order—Smith, Johnson, and Jones—reign supreme at Oregon. In 1923-24 the Smiths' had 16; the Johnsons' 18; and Jones' 16; last year there were 28 Smiths; 10 Jones; and 18 Johnsons; and this year there are 42 Smiths; 17 Jones; and 40 Johnsons.

Fine Arts Fund To Receive $100 From Seniors

Entire Class Votes to Join Alumni Group; Other Money Voted

The last senior meeting of the year was held yesterday afternoon. At this time it was decided to give $100 as a gift for the Fine Arts building. Fifty dollars was voted to be paid for the senior section of the Semi-Centennial edition of the Emerald. The rest of the money in the treasury is to be used to buy a year's membership in the Alumni Association and one year's subscription of Old Oregon for each member of the class of 1926.

The two spot lights belonging to the class were turned over to the jurisdiction of the Executive Council.

All seniors were requested to meet in front of the old library by the Senior Bench, next Thursday just before the assembly hour for a group picture of the class for publication in Old Oregon.

The senior class was urged to attend the annual Alumni luncheon on the Saturday before commencement. Those graduating will wear their caps and gowns, and at that time they will be given all literature on the graduation exercises.

Salem High Defeats Freshman Nine 7 to 5

In one of the hardest fought baseball battles of the season the Salem high school nine defeated the University of Oregon yearling nine 7 to 5 in a fray played on the varsity diamond yesterday afternoon.

Coach Harry Ellinger used three pitchers in yesterday's battle and were touched for 14 safe hits. McDonald started on the mound with Emmons taking a fling at the job and Evans finishing the game. The freshman hit the offerings of Lyons and Fabry for only 9 bingles.

This afternoon and tomorrow the yearling nine face the O.A.C. Rooks on the Corvallis diamond in the last two games of their series. In the two previous frays the Rooks were victors by a large score.

Liquid Air Treatment Used for Poison Oak

"Liquid air treatment for poison oak has been used with some success at the University of California and at the Oregon Agricultural College," said Dr. Fred N. Miller of the University Health Service, "but it is yet in an experimental stage."

Dr. Miller stated that we do not have it here because it still an experiment and is very expensive to install. The treatment consists in freezing the tissues, and killing the poison oak. It is sprayed on the irritation several times in severe cases, but one application has often been found to be sufficient for ordinary cases.

Dean Hale to Leave For Stanford June 15

William G. Hale, dean of the University of Oregon law school, will leave June 15, for Palo Alto, California where he has accepted a position on the faculty of Stanford university for the summer school session and will teach courses in torts.

Prospects For Varsity Track Appear Better

Cripples' Return Brings Ray of Light among Cinder Artists

Multnomah Meet Will Offer Good Work-out

Team Pointed for O. A. C. Contest May 29

BY WEB JONES

THE return of the cripples to the track squad this week sent a ray of light into the after-conference-meet gloom which has pervaded Hayward field. The Multnomah meet in the immediate offing appears to be merely a good workout for the varsity team. By no means will the competition be easy but it will be enough to bring out all the heretofore hidden strength for the last time before the "Big meet" of the year on May 29 at Corvallis.

Vic Wetzel, javelin thrower, discus tosser, and shot heaver, who has been reclining lazily in the sun on Hayward field to "sun out" his injured arm which has prevented work, is now back in the harness and Bill Hayward says he will be able to work with both the shot and discus but will not be able to play with the spear this season. That puts the mentor in a bad place for a javelin thrower.

Holder May Not Run

"Doubtful" was the way Bill characterized the case of Tom Holder, one of the most promising two-milers ever seen on Hayward oval, who was forced to quit work with a broken ankle bone. Holder has been warming up swathed in tape and bandages and the other night he ran several laps. If he improves he will be able to enter the Big Meet.

The entire turnout will be entered in the Multnomah frays and the best three men in each event will be picked to make the trip to Corvallis. There will be juggling of events, for Bob Overstreet is trying his legs on the quarter and Bill Prendergast, erstwhile quarter man, is to run the 220. The rest of the crew, varsity, super-varsity and joggers will enter their respective events.

Olympic Player to Come

Multnomah, from reports received, is no set up by any means. Chief among the athletes who make a wholesale invasion of the campus Saturday will be the Olympic famous Ralph Spearow, who once, while vaulting for Oregon, came within a hair of making a coast record with the bar set at 13 feet 6 inches. The vault, which he barely missed, was the feature of the afternoon. He will enter the high jump where he approaches 6 feet and any number of other events—for he has won track meets almost single handed in the heyday of his career.

Approximately $180 will be given in prizes.

Amphibians to Sport In Sea Garden Pool

A SEA GARDEN effect, under water will be one of the novel decorative schemes that will greet persons who come out at 7:15 this evening to see the Amphibian swimming exhibition in the tank of the Woman's building.

Colored lighting effects will be employed to make the scene effect more attractive and elaborate. As these are glowing the Amphibians will do various formations underneath the water. Diving, racing, life saving, and stunts will all contribute to the program.

The club personnel, under the direction of their coach and advisor, Miss Ernestine Troemel, has been practicing intensively for the event for several weeks. There will be a fifteen cent admission charge.

R. Bailey Goes To Moscow for Tri-State Meet

"Heroes in the Battle of Life", Topic of Oregon Speaker

"Heroes in the Battle of Life," an oration advocating freedom of thought, is the subject which Ralph Bailey, Oregon's entrant in the northwest Tri-State contest at Moscow, will deliver tomorrow night. Bailey has completed a three month period of preparation under the coaching of J. Stanley Gray, head of the department of public speaking. The event is the last on Oregon's forensic calendar, and it is believed chances of winning it for the second year in succession are excellent.

Bailey, accompanied by Jack Hempstead, general forensic manager who is making the trip instead of the coach, leaves this afternoon on the Southern Pacific for Spokane from where they will go to the University of Idaho at Moscow Saturday morning.

The oration makes an appeal for the extension of monetary support and public recognition to the most talented men in the various fields of human endeavor such as science, arts, politics and sociology. Bailey believes that through government bureaus, churches and schools, we would have a systematic subsidizing of our advanced thinkers. He contends that the American public should accept the intellectual work of their pioneer thinkers in order to insure advance of Western civilization.

With this event, the Oregon man completes a four year forensic career in which he has made an enviable record. In his freshman year he was on the Oregon debate team which defeated Washington 2 to 1. He lost the same Tri-State

Freshmen and Sophomores Picnic Today

Busses for Second Year Students Leave Villard At 3, 4, 5 o'clock

Free Streetcar Tickets Provided Every Fresh

Games, Food, Dancing Are Features Planned

PICNICS, three of them will be held this week-end. The freshmen and sophomores today, and the juniors, tomorrow.

Freshmen will journey by street cars to Midway. Sophomores will travel in busses that leave Villard hall at 3, 4, and 5 o'clock to their destination at Seavey's ferry. Tomorrow juniors will leave on a special train from Villard hall at 2 o'clock for their happy picnicking ground at Coburg Bridge.

Fresh Go in Street Cars

Free street car tickets both ways will be distributed to every freshman wishing to go. Tickets will be given out at a booth in front of the library between 1 and 5 p. m. They are absolutely necessary and must be obtained during those hours. Students may take the Springfield car at any place. Cars will pass Villard hall five minutes after every hour and five minutes after every half hour. The picnic will be over at 11 p. m. It is a no date affair.

A treasure hunt, with a prize Rockefeller would delight in, is only one of the big lively events lined up for the afternoon's amusement. Baseball games for both eds and co-eds, horse shoes, swimming, and strolling, are other afternoon pastimes.

The refreshment committee will start serving lunch, all you can eat, at 6 p.m.

Features to Enliven Dancing

From 7 until 11 o'clock the members of the class will dance to the strains of Sharkey Moore's red hot note blowers. It won't be just plain dancing, according to the committee, but tags, and Paul Joneses. Features will be interspersed and many prizes will be awarded. A bonfire will cast a cheery glow over the evening.

Chaperones for the freshman picnic are: Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, dean of women; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fish; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Horn.

According to Don McCook, chairman of the sophomore picnic, the sophomore frolic will be the "biggest and best ever given, resplendent with fun and noise. It will resemble a fourth of July celebration," he says.

No dates will be allowed and all women are asked to go. Busses will leave Villard hall at 3, 4, and 5 o'clock and the picnic will be over at 10:30.

Sophs Have Weber's Jazz

Entertainment, under the direction of Frank Biggs, will be of the merriest order. George Weber's six piece orchestra will furnish music for the dance. Swimming, athletic contests between the single and "married" men, prize races, and a baseball game between brunettes and blondes, are some of the features. A committee of five women will decide the complexion of men wishing a berth on the ball team.

The refreshment committee has departed from the usual picnic fare and will furnish a surprise menu. Class officers for next year will be installed by Benoit McCroskey, retiring president.

Juniors are warned by the committee, against making dates for their picnic. The refreshment committee visited the Table Supply store last evening in order to make sure that the food they had ordered was up to standard, and they report that the menu is no ordinary one but ought to lure anyone at least 20 miles.

All members of the class of '27 are asked to meet in front of Villard hall at 2:00 tomorrow. A baseball game between two famous teams will be the first event of the afternoon. This will be followed by a volleyball game, races, swimming, dancing eating, and more dancing. The Oregon Aggravators will furnish music.
