

Art Instructor Returns From Exposition

N. B. Zane Makes Research In Colonial Interior Decoration

Market Street of 1776 Inspiration to Work

California's Spanish Styles Studied

If there is one particular thing in which the college professor has a decided advantage over the rest of us more or less plodding individuals it lies in the ability of selecting a summer vacation trip which will not only prove exceedingly pleasurable but educational as well. That is just what Professor N. B. Zane, of the school of art and architecture, did this summer when he took his wife and family back to Philadelphia, incidentally to visit relations. While there Mr. Zane did research work in interior decoration and furniture of the colonial period.

"Old High Street," a feature of the Sesqui-Centennial exposition, which was a reproduction of the old market street of the days of 1776, proved to be a decided inspiration to him in his work.

Old Homes Reproduced

"It revived the spirit of the times," declared Mr. Zane, "and many of its features were pleasantly realistic." For instance the meeting house in which friends meetings were held, the old schools and the taverns, were all in keeping with that particular era. The home of George Washington was refurbished almost identically as the original was during the time that the first president occupied it. An inventory of the home written in the handwriting of George Washington was the means by which the decorators were able to refurbish it almost exactly as it was before. An original old home was the Arnold mansion in Fairmont park. Also the Metropolitan museum was a source to which Mr. Zane went for his study.

Exhibition Comprehensive

"The fine arts exhibition at the Sesqui-Centennial was very comprehensive, covering a field of contemporary art and sculpture, etching and various color prints," he said. It was probably the best showing of fine arts ever held in this country at any time. Moreover, it was one of the greatest opportunities ever afforded for art study and inspiration, he declared.

Mr. Zane's return trip was made through Washington, Chicago and thence to southern California. In each locality he visited art museums, and in southern California time was taken to observe the designs of the modern interiors after the Spanish style.

Sigma Beta Phi And Lambda Psi Lead Grade List

Highest Scholarship Goes To Houses Carrying Most Hours

Sigma Beta Phi and Lambda Psi led all other women's and men's campus living organizations in grade ratings for the winter and spring terms last year, according to statistics compiled at the registrar's office.

The Sigma Beta Phi rating for the spring term was 54.401, an increase over their high winter term rating of 49.523. To maintain their lead the Lambda Psi's mounted from 43.30 and 16th place in the grade list for the winter term to 47.632 and ninth place in the spring term. Kappa Kappa Gamma leads the women's houses in the fall term with a 46.451, and Phi Kappa Psi for the men's organizations rated at 39.871.

The average women's organization rating increased from 42.451 in the fall term to 44.940 in the winter, falling off slightly to 44.844 for the spring term. The average men's rating showed a gradual increase from 35.13 in the fall to 37.667 in the winter term, and 38.879 in the spring.

University High Gives Physical Examinations

A new feature that has been installed this year at the University high school is the supervised physical and medical examinations. University High is the only high school in the state that has gone into this work extensively.

The examinations which were held

Monday and Tuesday are much the same as those given in the University, the purpose being to divide the students into groups and care for them according to their individual needs. Miss Florence D. Alden, head of women's physical education, had charge of the examinations for the girls, and Frank Reinhart, coach at the school, supervised the men's examinations.

When peg-tops were in flower

PRINCE ALBERT has been the campus favorite since the days of long-haired fullbacks, high button shoes, turtle-neck sweaters, and hand-painted dormitory cushions. This same wonderful tobacco is even more popular in these days of plus-fours.

And no wonder. Throw back the hinged lid of the familiar red tin and release that rare aroma of real tobacco! Tuck a load into your pipe and pull that fragrant P. A. smoke up the stem! That's Prince Albert, Fellows! Nothing like it anywhere.

When problems press and your spirits slip over into the minus column, just get out your jimmy-pipe and load up with this really friendly tobacco. P. A. is so kind to your tongue and throat and general disposition. Buy a tidy red tin today.

PRINCE ALBERT
