

Freshman Girls To Be Entertained By Big Sisters

Get Wise Party Planned For Saturday Night At 8 O'clock

A Get-Wise party for the freshmen women will be given Saturday evening, October 16, in the gymnasium of the Woman's building, according to Esther Hardy, chairman of the Big Sister committee. The affair is to give new girls an idea of the openings in various campus activities and to promote a wider acquaintance between "big and little sisters." Because of several pledge dances which are being held that evening, Miss Hardy asks that the Big Sisters in those houses see that their Little Sisters are taken care of first. The party is scheduled from 8 to 9.

There will be no general committee meeting of Big Sisters this month. Reports should be handed in by the captains and their lieutenants to show what has been done and what needs to be done. Some of the duties of Big Sisters, says Miss Hardy, are to find out if their Little Sisters have satisfactory housing conditions, if they have any friends and are generally happy, and if they are progressing in their studies. At least one visit should be made by a Big Sister to her Little Sister.

Rooters to Compete At 4 O'clock Today

YELL KING JACK SEABROOK will pick his 400 cohorts today at 4 o'clock on Hayward field, at which time they are urged to turn out in order to practice for the card stunt.

Seabrook will instruct the group in the movements of the cards and will also teach them the Oregon chant, which will be used in connection with the stunt.

The maxim of, "First come, first serve," will apply to membership in this rooting club. As there are only 400 tickets available for this special section, those who wish to be among the favored ones should be there early.

The year will be Wednesday, October 20, from 4 to 6 o'clock. Freshmen women are urged to attend these teas, even if not taken by their Big Sisters.

Open House Colds Bane to Doctors' Life at Dispensary

Along a well-worn path, a constant stream of sniffing students wended their way in the direction of the dispensary.

Arriving there only standing room was available, and they patiently waited while scores of students were doctored, and then they, too, received a portion of gargle and tablets. Whether the fact that this is the week after open house has anything to do with the sudden affliction or not, cannot be decided, but the fact remains that the majority of campus folk are suffering from a cold.

More than fifty students passed through the swinging doors today and received a remedy for their common ailment. The most severe cases have migrated to the infirmary.

To Wear At the Game

Co-eds, business women, debutantes and matrons look forward with eagerness to that first football game and the ones that follow after. The competition in the grandstands is just as keen as it is down the field—each woman wants her costume to make a touch for the approval of the grandstands. Teamwork is essential in her choice of accessories; her hat must be the ultimate in smartness, a beret or turban; her frock and coat fashionable but appropriate. Our football fashions will meet the approval of the grandstands in smartness and yours in price.

The Tweed Sports Frock

The ball's on the five-yard line—the grandstand's in uproar—then's when coats fly open, revealing trim little tweed frocks on the smartest misses, manishly cut with V-necklines, clever pleats, belted and gaily trimmed in bright red, blue or brown. What could be smarter and more suitable for the game? $19.75 and up.

Woolen Hose If It's Cold

There's no hose too gay for stadium wear even if it has big red, black and green checks. We can show you a gay assortment, some more in all different weights for any kind of weather and to match any costume.

Teatime After the Game

Of course, for a tea-dance after the game it's a different matter. While sports frocks are correct you'll want a more dressy model, of Chanel red silk, perhaps, in two-piece effect. Come in today and select one of our models, because you know the smart competition you meet at these college dances. $25 and up.

Snuggly Sweaters

Let the cold October winds blow—nothing can keep you home from the game if you have a cozy warm sweater to wear 'neath your coat. And on fair days a suede wind-breaker will be all the jacket you'll need. Select yours here.

A Hat to Shade Your Eyes

The East Stand will be just as comfortable as the West if you wear a wide, low-brimmed hat such as this. It is beige velour with a brown grosgrain band, smartly high-crowned and creased. $4.95.

Warm Sports Coats

Red, orange and brown shades give a rich tone to this coat with badger fur collar. $29.75.

A Dressier Model

An all 'round good college coat, dressy enough for the best occasions, but warm and sturdy enough for the games.

Fashioned of brown velour, lavishly trimmed with beaver. $39.50

A Swagger Sports Jacket Of Soft Wool

The generous collar and pockets of this jacket attract the eye of the college girl as well as its loose, manish fit. Various plaids in shades of red, brown and green. $8.95.
