

Bills Proposed At Bar Meeting To Aid Justice

Dean Hale of Law School Present at Annual Bar Association

"In my opinion, a lessening of the delays of court procedure and a more complete representation of the courts will result if the two measures are passed that were approved at the annual meeting of the Oregon State Bar association at Portland," stated W. G. Hale, dean of the law school, yesterday.

Dean Hale is a member of the association and was present at the annual meeting, October 2 and 3, at the Multnomah hotel. Two important measures were agreed upon by the members of the association.

The first proposes to move the power of control of the court rules and regulations from its present place in the legislative department to the judicial department. It has been a subject of discussion for several years, but this year is the first time an agreement was reached.

"Power has been divided between these two departments in such a way that when difficulties arise it is impossible to fix the blame on either. The solution lies in letting the courts take care of their own rules and regulations, and holding them responsible for the results of their management," said Dean Hale.

The second measure approved by the association rules that membership in the State Bar association becomes automatic with membership in a local bar association if the local is affiliated with the state.

This measure received no opposition, and Mr. Hale predicted that it would go into effect by July 1, 1927, the date of the next meeting of the association. The effect of the measure will be to give lawyers all over the state representation in the association plans.

A pointed address, "What Business Thinks about the Law," by E. B. MacNaughton, Portland, one of the speakers scheduled, protested against the alleged slow action of the courts of the law. Dean Hale pronounced his criticism severe, but admitted that on the whole it was just.

"The fault lies in the division of power between the two departments," he declared. He believes that the passing of the bill vesting more power in the judicial department will eliminate the difficulty.

Orchestra Officers Elected at Meeting

The University orchestra met after the regular Tuesday night rehearsal at a short business meeting to elect officers for the coming year.

The officers chosen are: Edward Best, president; Murlin Drury, vice-president; Grace Potter, secretary; Marcus Woods, treasurer; Harold Baughman, librarian.

Banners Designed for Semi-Centennial Week

Immense lemon-yellow and green banners placed majestically at the entrances of the various buildings will be one of the bright attractions on the campus during the week of the Semi-Centennial celebration.

These banners, posted at a different building each day will mark the scene of the day's celebration. Two banners will be placed at the front entrance and two more at the side entrance.

Measuring twelve feet in length, the huge bunting have been occupying every moment of the time of Miss Kerns' class in normal art for the past few days. In design they resemble a varsity pennant. The background is of yellow felt, edged with a narrow green strip. At the top is a large Oregon seal in green felt bearing the words, "Universitas Oregonensis" in small yellow letters. Below the seal, arranged one under the other, are the years 1876 and 1926 in green felt.

The banners were designed, cut, and made by Miss Kerns' class. The stitching will be done by Miss Deigh's class in sewing and the standards will be made under the supervision of Professor W. B. Wilcox of the architecture department.

More Women Urged To Attend Practice Of Dancing Groups

In preparation for Orchesis tryouts which will be held next Monday and Tuesday, October 11 and 12, at five o'clock, Miss Lillian Stupp, instructor in physical education, is conducting a series of intensive dancing practices at the Women's building at five o'clock, every evening except Wednesday. Students who wish to make 50 points toward a Women's Athletic association sweater, are also included in this group.

Twenty students are trying out for Orchesis, but Miss Stupp urges that others turn out immediately, since there are ten vacancies to be filled from last year. The only qualifications are that the dancer have taken two terms of interpretative dancing at Oregon, that she pass a test on the general outline of the work, and that she have an understanding of the type of work done by Orchesis.

Tryouts are based on individual ability and not on personality. Four judges mark aspirants by the point system and those scoring 200 points out of the possible 280 are eligible. One hundred and eighty points from the 280 will give 50 points towards a W. A. A. sweater. An original dance is included in the tryout, and it is possible to make 50 points of the 280 on this.

Tryouts are held at the beginning of every term. Students passing the Monday or Tuesday night trial, dance before the Orchesis group on Wednesday night. Girls turning out for W. A. A. points may turn out without the qualification of two terms of dancing.

Dr. R. C. Clark to Read At Stanford Meeting

Dr. R. C. Clark of the University will read a paper at the convention of the Pacific coast branch of the American Historical association to be held at Stanford University, November 26 and 27. The thesis of his paper is not yet definitely decided but will probably concern the history of the Pacific Northwest.

The convention will be attended by representatives of the history departments of all the colleges on the Pacific coast. This branch of the association was organized for the convenience of those members who live too far west to be able to attend the Eastern meetings.

Student Leaders Tell Importance Of Celebration

Semi-Centennial Week to Draw Members Of 140 Colleges

The magnitude of the celebration October 18 to 23 in which Inaugural, Semi-Centennial, and Homecoming will be combined, was stressed by speakers at a meeting of the members of all Homecoming committees in Johnson hall yesterday.

Dean James H. Gilbert pointed to the growth of the University from an institution with an enrollment of 78 students, 3 teachers, and an investment of $50,000 in buildings, to a statewide school of higher education with an enrollment of 3000, a faculty of 150 members, and an investment in buildings of $2,500,000 today, after only 50 years.

Over 140 universities and colleges will be represented at the celebration. Twenty-five university professors will be in attendance. Noted educators, and famous men in other branches of life will be present.

He stated that student help on all events would be necessary and that students will be especially needed for decorations and guides and usher purposes.

Hugh Biggs, president of the associated students, cited the importance of doing committee work well. He said that the Homecoming committee was one of the two big committees of the year.

"In the next five or ten years, or so, under the excellent leadership of President Hall, the University will be known throughout the country as one of the first class universities. The inauguration will be the first step in this progress," was the opinion of Karl W. Onthank, executive secretary of the University.

Phil Bergh urged the students to exert every effort to make their share of the work a success.

Professor F. S. Dunn Will Attend Institute

Frederic S. Dunn, professor of Latin, will attend the Linn county teachers institute in Salem, Monday and Tuesday, October 11 and 12.

He will give four lectures covering the following subjects: Homer's "Iliad in Art;" Virgil's "Aeneid in Art;" "The Acropolis," and "Through Rome with the Emperors."

Art Majors to Hold Gay Revel Next Week

Next Wednesday evening at 7:30, the painting studio will be the scene of a gay and somewhat Bohemian revel. All freshmen majoring in art or architecture or any others who are interested in these departments will have an opportunity at this time to become acquainted with the upper classmen of their departments and with the art faculty. President Hall has also been invited.

Every year these get-togethers have been a custom and a success, declare various veterans of the school.

As for the style of the coming affair, it will be informal, smocks and old clothes being in order. An orchestra will be provided for dancing and refreshments will be served.

The dance is being sponsored by the executive committee of the Allied Arts league. Those in charge of the event are Fred Stevens, chairman of the floor committee, Katie Patterson, refreshments, and Carl Heilborn, music.

Hut and Bungalow Launch Campaigns

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of the campus will launch their annual canvass for funds at the beginning of next week.

The Y. M. C. A. is raising a budget of about $800 and the Y. W. C. A. one of about twice this amount. For the first time these two organizations are making the canvass simultaneously.

In a small booklet that the two organizations issue jointly is a foreword by President Hall in which he highly commends these two institutions and the work they are accomplishing on the campus.

The money raised by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. is expended by the "Y" cabinet for the employment and rooming department, the bringing of speakers to the campus, magazines, phones, games, papers, and other things that go to make the "Hut" and "Bungalow" attractive and serviceable.

Freshman Commission Meet at Y. W. Bungalow

A large number of freshman women attended the first meeting of the Freshman Commission which was held last evening in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. The program consisted of short talks and music which was furnished by sophomore girls. Pauline Stewart acted as temporary chairman as no officers have been elected.

Katherine Freitag explained the purpose and past activities of the organization to the girls. Margaret Fasching sang two songs, "Ashes of Dreams," and "Down Here." She was accompanied by Charlene Heaston.

The meeting closed after the nomination of five girls, who will act together in nominating officers for this year. The girls who were named are: Elsie Goddard, Helen Ready, Helen Bell, Marguerite Clark and Estelle Johnson. These girls will meet at 4 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow Monday and Tuesday, at another meeting of the whole group, the nominating committee will submit nominations for president, secretary and treasurer for this year.

Aubrey Furry, Former Student, Is in Opera

Students of music at the University will be interested to learn that Aubrey "Doc" Furry, former student on the campus, is the baritone of the American Grand Opera company, which will make its first appearance in Portland on November 11. Alberto Bimboni, composer of "Winona," will be in Portland-October 25 to conduct the final rehearsals of the opera, and he will probably remain in Portland working out plans whereby the opera company will travel in the state with its productions after the first showing in Portland. Bimboni also plans to start an opera school in Portland for the purpose of developing talent of the Northwest.

DOBBS HATS

The Autumn models are characteristic Dobbs inspirations. There is something unusual about them that is not easy to describe, but it is noticeable to the man who likes to express his mood in the swing of his hat; for the want of a better word it is called "style." Dobbs hats are full of it
