Christmas Period Set For Game Series In California

Prospects Bright for Pennant Season

A barnstorming trip through California has been scheduled for the varsity basketball team which turns out for the first time Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to Coach Billy Reinhart. The trip will be made during the Christmas holidays and a number of independent clubs will be played, among them being several who were met on a similar trip last year.

Oregon's team, champions of the Northwestern Conference in 1925-6, will open the season with excellent prospects for another march to the pennant and a fine chance for the coast title.

Three regulars from last year will don their uniforms. They are Gunther, all-Coast forward; Boy Okerberg, center, and Algot Westergren, another all-Coast selection.

Captain Howard Hobson and Charles Jost will be missed in their old positions at forward and guard. "Red" Scallon, Gordon Ridings, Keith Emmons, Mervyn Chastain, and Bernard Hummelt, all graduates of the frosh team, and Edwards, Kiminki, and Flynn, from the super-varsity of last year, are all good prospects for the vacant positions.

Okerberg will have no one to worry him at center for the frosh were undecided as to whether or not they had a center last year, Ridings and Dave Epps alternating in that place.

Westergren will probably play running guard as of yore and the man to plug up the hole beneath Oregon's basket will be picked from Pat Hughes, Joe Bally, Scott Milligan and several holdovers from the previous year's substitutes.

Washington will probably be the biggest obstacle to stand between Oregon and the pennant, Billy Reinhart thinks. The Huskies turned out for practice last week with a galaxy of veterans and frosh that is sure to surpass their 1925 showing.

The Idaho team will be chiefly made up of seniors. Washington State College team has all of its old stars back to help it in its drive for the pennant. O. A. C. has been practicing since the beginning of the school year in an attempt to put a team on the floor that can stem Oregon's rising tide. Most of its brilliant performers are back in harness, Captain Loris Baker, forward, being the biggest loss.

Two men were more instrumental in keeping Oregon from winning the Coast title last year than any others. These two played for the California Bears and were named Higgins and Carver.

When the diplomas were passed out, both of them were honored and California's basketball stock took a sudden drop. Carver will be remembered as the player who shot most of California's points in the second game after going through a season with scarcely a basket to his credit.

The new basketball pavilion will be finished for practice about December 10, it is said, and until then, the Lemon-Yellow team will practice at the men's gymnasium.

Two men who show up best in the pre-season practices will be taken on the barnstorming trip. Coach Reinhart has arranged tentative games with the Olympic club, St. Ignatius and the Young Men's Institute, all of San Francisco; and with the Auburn Cubs, Grass Valley Golds, Vallejo Redmen and several others.

Unique Performance To Be Given in Eugene By Symphonia Choir

The unique performance of the Russian Symphonia Choir, under the direction of Basile Kibalchich, will be presented in Eugene November 29, as the first A. S. U. O. concert of the year. This is the second trans-continental tour of the choir, which is under the management of Daniel Mayer, Inc., of New York.

"A symphonia choir such as Mr. Kibalchich, the former head of the Archangelsky Choir of Petrograd, has built up and adjusted to near perfection, is an entirely new idea. It embodies a new principle—the principle of the symphony orchestra, the principle of timbre and tonal flexibility which has seldom been applied seriously to vocal music," according to the Boston Evening Transcript of January 18.

'Nibs' Price Striving for Combination to Stop Oregon Attack

By WRIGHT C. MORTON
Daily Californian Sports

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 29—(Special to the Emerald)—Coach John McEwan and his horde of Oregon Webfooters arrived in Berkeley this morning and installed at the Hotel Whitecotton. A light workout in the Memorial stadium this afternoon will suffice to acquaint the Oregon eleven with the turf field of the huge bowl.

The Oregon team has shown its strength all year in a flashy and brilliant aerial attack coupled with a pleasing dexterity in wide end runs. The California varsity, already having suffered three consecutive defeats, is extremely weak in just these departments of the game. California has on its roster four good wingmen, but only one has shown capability in breaking up wide end runs.

Coach "Nibs" Price has been putting his men through strenuous drills all week, laying off today for a little stretch of well-earned rest before tomorrow's battle with the Yellow and Green.

With a stupendous and baffling problem as to whom to choose as a starting backfield, Price is working his hardest to find an efficient combination. The way the names are now stacked points out the weaknesses in the Bruin team.

Captain Bert Griffin is in good condition and has played better football than any other back this year and will be the one tower of strength in the starting lineup. Dick Blewett, quarter, is the best defensive man on the team, but is far surpassed by "Dutch" Clymer, quarter, in the kicking department of the game. Clymer, on the other hand, is weak in defensive play. With "Brick" Marcus, "Flash" Perrin and Jim Cockburn on the disabled list through injured legs, the backfield representing the Blue and Gold looks weak. Earl Jabs, who gained many yards through opposing lines last year, may be able to garner a few precious yards tomorrow. Then there is Gene Van Horn, who has shown up well at half and will probably start the game. Harold Breckenridge, California's third quarterback, has been shifted to halfback and will probably aid in that position.

California has a good defensive line this year, and if the backfield functions as well as the line in the Oregon tussle, the Webfooters will meet tougher competition than they expect.

It will be a battle of wits and brawn. Both coaches are wary of each other; Nibs Price is trying to stage a comeback after three defeats, while John McEwan is doubtful as to the relative merits of the team. The Yellow and Green perhaps feels as do other coast teams—that the Bear is down and out, and the time for feasting for Bear meat is nigh. The spirit at the Bruin encampment points to a gallant fight and struggle for victory for the Blue and Gold.

Scholars

riving at a decision, and would have found it not unseemly to have sent six, for of the ten there was not one man who would have disgraced the University at Oxford, or the examinations in Portland.

Candidates All Young
"When finally named the choices were determined as the conditions of the Rhodes will require on a range of consideration extending in part beyond the matters of sheer scholarship and intellectual ability. In several cases, postponement of the candidacy for another year or two would give the candidate a better chance because of the advantage of maturity. It was a striking fact that all the candidates were nearer twenty than the deadline of twenty-four," he concluded.

Volume 5 Number 5

Obak has started off again with a dandy week-end the college has declared a holiday for all those feeling in their own minds that they deserve a holiday on Saturday. Naturally, every one has taken it this honor system is something like a water system—it runs away with itself. Laugh if you can.

Now if you are feeling tired and rather disgusted with the school on the hill, must be on a hill to be a school even if it is going down hill—Come to Obak's his courses are cinches and maybe clinches too. But even at that you can drag some good hours away. Just one more good drag from some of his good cigarettes will make you feel all hot again. 'Get hot' is his motto and an old one but fitting of these here Equatorial days.

The Alpha Gammas don't approve of their pajamas and the Kappa Delta tong like all of the boys but they love, Bob. But the D. G.'s say right out that for them they wish that the trees about the S. A. E. house were ever green—in keeping with the ranks within.

The S. A. E.'s represented by the one and only Billum Pento Grasp has let out that the cry the women surrounding them on all sides are loud speakers—they talk so loud that with little or no static they can here what the Chi Chi O's think of them. The Cap paws think they eat with their knives—meaning the sleep and eat boys.

The football game at Cal sure you thought Obak would give a front page story on that why no, that is out of state you see in a mis state-ment.

"That would be hell wouldn't it," said the student who decided to write a new Inferno.

The Meat You Buy

It is a popular idea that the fresher the beef you buy—the more tender. If it were killed and dressed today, then tomorrow it should be cut up and sold. That is a fallacy. Beef must be aged—hung up in a proper temperature for the proper length of time—to be at its best—its most tender and delicious state. The best beef must not be strictly fresh. It must have time to relax and become tender. This is the kind of meat you get at our shop.

Tang O' the Sea Clam Chowder

Tang O' the Sea Clam Chowder is a home made product from Rockaway Beach—an Oregon product. It contains all the ingredients of clam chowder except salt and pepper which are added to suit the taste. After it is heated, it is ready to serve. We sampled this chowder before we would buy it. We found it to be delicious and on a par with the rest of our foods of which we carry none but the best. We are sole agents for Tang O' the Sea Clam Chowder in Eugene. If you like clam chowder or clam soup, you should try this by all means. It comes in 6-oz. tins only.
