

Yearlings Train Hard for Rook Game Saturday

Williams Is Valuable In Backfield; Ireland Shifted to End

Freshmen Scrimmage With Varsity

Beat the Rooks! This cry is heard every afternoon out on Hayward field where the freshman football team is practicing for their biggest and most colorful game of the season. Last night the team was out scrimmaging the varsity until long after dusk had settled over the field. After scrimmage was over, the squad, with the aid of the "ghost ball," ran through a snappy signal drill. Every man on the squad is putting all his energy into the work in order to beat the O. A. C. Rooks.

Contrary to reports that the Frosh-Rook game would be played Friday, Jack Benefiel announced last night that the game would be staged Saturday afternoon on Hayward field. The game will start promptly at one o'clock in order that those attending will be able to attend the gridgraph showing the Oregon-W. S. C. game which will start at three.

Shifts Made on Line
In trying to get greater power for the coming game more changes in the lineup will take place. One has already taken form as Phil Ireland has been shifted to end. Phil has been playing a good game at center, but as the team has been weak at end all season this shift will help. He was all-star center in Portland last year where he played on Jefferson high's grid team. George Stadelman will hold down the pivot berth with Terrance King and Harry Van Dine in reserve.

Chuck Williams has returned to the backfield after a try at end. Williams was too valuable a man behind the line to shift. Hal Hatton, first string fullback from Pendleton, is out of the game for the remainder of the season with injuries, having contracted tonsillitis in addition to having a bad shoulder. His place will be a hard one to fill as he has been playing great ball all season. Williams and Bus MacDowell will handle the position left vacant by Hatton's absence.

Yearlings Hold Varsity
The work of the frosh against the varsity last night was indeed pleasing to the yearling coaches. The varsity won, but the frosh were not allowed to carry the ball, playing on the defense all afternoon. The varsity could not gain through the line and every attempt to run the ends was stopped. Most of their gains were made on passes. The freshmen fought stubbornly and several times threw the runner for a loss. The work of Harry Wood at tackle was outstanding, while that of Wilbur Harden and Lloyd Sherrill at end, and Chuck Williams in the backfield were of varsity calibre. Coach Reinhart and Line Coach Baz Williams were favorably impressed by the work of the team. If the team performs as well against the Rooks as they did last night there is no doubt of the outcome.

Negotiations are still going on for the game with the Idaho freshmen to be staged in Portland Thanksgiving day. If the consent of the conference heads can be obtained the game will be staged, according to Coach Reinhart. The Idaho outfit has lost but one contest this season and is reputed to have several great stars in the lineup.

first game of the season, Price's men defeated Santa Clara, 13 to 6, and had a mighty hard time of it, at that.

While the Oregon varsity is fighting it out at Pullman, Coach Enoch Bagshaw will attempt to duplicate last year's feat and mar the clean slate of the Palo Alto Cardinals. The Golden Bears will entertain the University of Nevada Wolves at

Dental and Medical Authorities Who

Endorse Re-Vira

Dr. Gardiner, Dental Chief of Mayo Clinic, recommends Re-Vira for treatment of all diseased conditions of the gums.

Dr. O. T. Osborne, Prof. Emeritus of Yale, recommends Re-Vira: says the bristle toothbrush is "A Joke on Civilization."

Prof. Agis, D.D.S., Dean and Prof. Polyelnic Hospital and School, has written several articles for publication in New York and London journals advocating the use of Re-Vira.

Dr. Brown, President of Dental Association, and several hundred other dentists in New York, recommend the use of Re-Vira for all diseased conditions of the gums.

Neil McLeod Whittaker, M.D., Hackensack, N. J., has written much in favor of Re-Vira. He says: "It is undeniable that clean teeth do not decay, and there is only one safe and sane way to clean the teeth and that is by the Re-Vira method."

L. L. Baker, D.D.S., in the American Dental Surgeon, says: "After years of study and observation, I have found that cleaning the teeth with cotton or a clean cloth has given far better results than the use of the bristle toothbrush. I have never owned or used a bristle toothbrush and my teeth and tissues are sound and healthy." He recommends the use of Re-Vira.

Statements of Other Authorities on Oral Hygiene

The New York Dental Journal, in an editorial condemning the bristle toothbrush, says: "The instrument (toothbrush) was never used so much as at the present time and yet the teeth of mankind were never so bad."

Dr. Kelly, in the Long Island Medical Journal, says: "The toothbrush does none of the things claimed for it. * * it is dangerous."

Dr. D. D. Smith, of Philadelphia, says: "Pyorrhea is simply a manifestation of local irritation, that it increases as the irritation increases and subsides as the irritation is removed."

Kellogg's Sanitarium, Battle Creek, Mich.: "We have not used a bristle toothbrush in our sanitarium for over two years."

Dr. Arthur D. Black, Dean of Northwestern University Dental School, says: "The ravages of decay in the mouths of children in this country are retarding the mental and physical development of thousands."

"Infected gums (pyorrhea) is one of the most common causes of Goiter (Dr. Sajous in Tice Practice of Medicine, Vol. VIII, Page 226.) The bristle toothbrush is mentioned as a cause of pyorrhea in another volume, and by another author."
