With the end of the football season comes the conclusion of most of the campus affairs for the year. Everyone is making plans for the coming Thanksgiving vacation, which will afford a brief respite before the three difficult weeks of hard study and examinations which are left this term.

On Wednesday evening nearly one hundred students who served on committees for Homecoming were guests at a banquet given in their honor at the Osburn hotel at six o'clock. Phil Bergh, who was general chairman of the Homecoming directorate, acted as toastmaster, and short talks in appreciation of the work done by the committees were given by Dean Walker, dean of men, and Miss Jeannette Calkins, alumni secretary. Dancing was enjoyed in the palm room between courses and after the dinner.

On Friday night the campus Masons and their friends were entertained at an informal dance given at the Craftsmen's club. In charge of arrangements for the affair was Alden Woodworth. Lawrence Shaw designed the paintings which were used for decorations.

An old Egyptian scene was portrayed by painted figures, Egyptian columns, pyramids and a Sphinx used as hangings, and the room was brightened by many-colored streamers from the chandelier in the center of the ceiling to the edges of the walls. Patrons and patronesses for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. John Stark Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Dan E. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton E. Spencer.

University of Oregon colors came into prominence again at the informal dance given by girls of Susan Campbell hall on Saturday night at the Woman's building. Yellow and green predominated throughout the decorations, and the whole scheme was further carried out by Oregon pillows, pennants and flags, which gave a most collegiate effect. The programs were in the shape of little yellow ducks, with green lettering.

During the evening a unique feature was a selection on the drums by a talented seven-year-old drummer. Patrons and patronesses were Miss Ernestine Troemel, Miss Fanny McCamant and Mr. David Faville.

On Saturday evening at the chapter house Kappa Sigma entertained with a "funny paper" dance, which carried out a clever and unusual idea in the way of motifs for informal dances. All the walls were hung with comic sections from newspapers and with original sketches by Bob Warner. The dance programs were in the form of tiny newspapers. During the evening Ed Cheney, dressed as a scarecrow, gave a feature dance. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Stannard, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl, Capt. and Mrs. Frank Culin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benefiel and Capt. and Mrs. Frank Moore.

Futuristic paintings were the scheme for the informal dance on Saturday night at the chapter house, at which members of Beta Theta Pi honored their pledges. On the walls were plaques portraying various impressions of the sophisticated college flapper, done in very modernistic style. The designs were in bright colors, and each was lighted by an indirect spot light. Potted palms completed the effect. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Nish Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Oberteuffer, and Mr. and Mrs. Fuller.

Phi Chi Theta, women's honorary commerce fraternity, held a silver tea on Wednesday afternoon in Alumni hall, at which faculty members and townspeople were invited. Each year the fraternity awards fifty dollars to the most worthy girl student in the school of business administration, and proceeds of the tea went toward this scholarship fund. In the receiving line were Mrs. F. E. Folts, Mozelle Hair, Eleanor Skene, Gertrude Hill and Lillian Vail. Mrs. Eugene Keltz, Mrs. Gordon Fish and Miss Kathryn Bailey poured.

One of the most popular students on the campus two years ago, Miss Ruth Akers, was united in marriage last Wednesday night to Bert W. Holloway, a graduate of the University of Oregon, class of 1926. Many sorority sisters of the bride and fraternity brothers of the groom attended the wedding. While in school the bride was a member of Kwama, sophomore honorary, of Mu Phi Epsilon, of Mortar Board, and of Alpha Phi sorority. She was also soloist in the University glee club for four years. Mr. Holloway was affiliated with Bachelordon.

Underclassmen of Delta Zeta took a temporary return to childhood at a "kid party" given at the chapter house last Friday evening. The rooms were decorated like a nursery, with dolls, scooters and toy blocks in the corners and on the shelves. Favors for the evening were all-day suckers, rubber balls and horns. About twenty couples attended the dance. Chaperones were Mrs. Catherine Yerex and Mrs. Lillian Russell.

The engagement of Miss Marion

Frances Bonney and Charles Kauffman Wiggins was announced yesterday at a luncheon in Portland. The bride-elect will be remembered as a former student here, where she was a member of Chi Omega. Mr. Wiggins was graduated from the University of Washington and is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The wedding will be an event of early spring.

Notice has just been received of the marriage of Miss Florence Jensen and Harold Goedecke, which took place yesterday at noon at the bride's home in Freewater, Oregon. Both were students here last year. Mrs. Goedecke is a member of Pi Beta Phi, and Mr. Goedecke, who was graduated in last year's class, is a member of Sigma Nu. The couple will be on the campus today to visit some of their friends.

A few of the members of Alpha Delta Pi sorority who did not go over to Corvallis for the week-end gave a very informal dinner dance at their house on Saturday night at six o'clock. The guests were seated at small tables, and the rooms were lighted by candles at each table. Chaperoning the dance was Mrs. Lucy Perkins.

Members of Temenids were hostesses at an informal tea on Wednesday afternoon at the Craftsmen's club for the purpose of getting acquainted with all the Eastern Star women on the campus. Patronesses for the affair were Mrs. George McLean, worthy matron of the Oregon Eastern Star, Mrs. Frederic Dunn and Miss Ruby Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Pearson, both former Oregon students, spent last week-end on the campus. Mrs. Pearson was formerly LaNita Gaskill, and is a member of Pi Beta Phi. Mr. Pearson is affiliated with Kappa Sigma.

Mrs. J. W. Kays entertained with the first of a series of informal teas for which she will be hostess, at the Sigma Beta Phi sorority Thursday afternoon, when fifty guests called. Mrs. L. E. Bean and Mrs. A. E. Roberts assisted in receiving. The Misses Mary, Irene, Lucile, and Corinne Burton played several musical selections during the tea hour.

The Misses Virginia and Mary Ritchie of Los Angeles and Miss Etta Ritchie Smith of Scotland spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the Alpha Delta Pi house on their way south. They have spent the last summer in Europe and are bringing Miss Smith to visit them for several months.

MOTION PICTURES OF OREGON'S DEFEAT SECURED

Motion pictures of the Oregon-O. A. C. annual gridiron classic played Saturday are now being shown on the McDonald screen. Considerable footage was taken of this battle, and in addition the Webfoot camera was turned on the crowds in the Oregon stands, and on the stunts given between halves.

An invitation to Coach John McEwan and the Oregon team will be extended by the McDonald management to attend this first showing of the O. A. C. homecoming game, this evening. In event the varsity mentor and his warriors are able to accept the theater's hospitality, special musical numbers will be presented in addition to the films of the game.

'Gold Bugs' to Hop Out On Maple Court Soon

"Gold Bugs" infest the campus. They will soon be seen hopping and jumping about on the maple court. No, they are not insects, but the basketball team of the school of business administration. They held a contest for a name that would suitably suggest their money-grabbing as well as their ball-playing ability, and Marion Anderson won it with "Gold Bugs." Other suggestions were: Gold Diggers, Roll Toppers, Traders, Business Busters, and Executives.

Frank Hallin, business administration junior, is their organizer, and expects to have about 15 sure-shot, ball-cagers on his squad. Also,

Frank Reinhart may coach this team, so beware lawyers, scribes, and architects, challenges will be forthcoming.
