

Rooms Decorated And Refurnished In Infirmary Now

Doctors Urge Students To Consult Them For Minor Ills

"We believe that when a student who is sick comes to us, we have a better chance to show him how he has transgressed the laws of health than when he is well," said Dr. Fred N. Miller, University physician, in speaking of the work of the health service. "Our aim is two-fold, generally speaking; to teach the student the habits of health, and to take care of him when he is sick and get him well as quickly as possible; and that is not as simple as it sounds.

"We hope to establish the practice of going to a doctor for minor ill, and if the student is convinced he has gained something by early consultation, he will keep it up after school life. We advise students to consult a physician; one trained in biology, physiology and other branches necessary to the practice of medicine, rather than someone who has theories on the care of the human body, but who does not know how the body is made and how it functions.

"It is a discouraging thing to see so many educated people take up with fads that any scientist knows are not based on fact.

"People have been confused somewhat as to the conveniences in the infirmary," said Dr. Miller, in speaking of it as the proper place for sick people. "For its size it is altogether adequate. The rooms were redecorated last year. Half of the beds are new, with kapok mattresses. The annex for communicable diseases is not the pest house used last year.

"We do not allow visiting as freely as some students would like, nor do we allow smoking in the infirmary, for most patients have something wrong with their noses and throats, which smoke irritates. We do not, however, make any prohibitions to show our authority. Nothing is compulsory. A student is free to consult any physician down town; he does not have to go into the infirmary. We do not even send the contagious cases there; the state board of health attends to that.

"We perform no operations, with the exception of sewing up minor wounds. We spend much time in diagnosis, whether the case is simple or complicated.

"We require a complete examination of each incoming student and prescribe individual work for those who need it. We also change from the regular gymnasium classes to a special program anyone whom, we think, might have something wrong with him, and re-examine them every term in order to keep in touch with their progress."

There are thirteen beds in the infirmary, and seven in the annex, with room for more. The charges of the health service are small; ten cents or so for medicine, one dollar for the largest size X-ray pictures, house calls one dollar during the day, and five dollars for night.

The staff consists of three full-time physicians and nurses; one half-time nurse and laboratory girl, also one full-time cook.

"The biggest thorn in Caesar's side is Eef, the Sigma Nu 'dash-hound,' who is his next door neighbor. The first day that they chanced to meet they had a little disagreement, but he has left. Caesar hates to see his popularity waning, but he feels the same about popularity as he does about love—it is better to have "loved and lost" than never to have had his name in the paper.

Caesar realizes that he has lost his school girl complexion, his winning smile, and that "his best friends won't tell him." He can get the girls to vouch, however, that he still has a beautiful voice and although he is getting old he can still sit up and beg for things that please his sweet tooth, the only real tooth

will have a real representative team to send to the islands next summer, if sufficient games can be arranged to make the tour worth while. Only two regulars, Hobson and Bliss, are lost from the organization of last spring, and new men coming up from the freshman ranks will mitigate their loss.

Lettermen back are Rex Adolph, the big first sacker; Freddy West, infielder and pitcher; Arnie Kiminki, shortstop; Lynn Jones, third baseman; Frank Reinhart, the steady centerfielder; Fred Harrison, the slowball pitcher; Ray Edwards, the southpaw right fielder; Bill Baker, the kid pitcher, who broke in with a bang last spring; George Minnaugh, outfielder and catcher; and Bill Ashby, the steady right-handed finger.

This band, together with such promising sophomores as Dave Epps, outfielder; Cotter Gould, outfielder; Art Schoeni, southpaw pitcher; Don McCormick, infielder; Ira Woodie, catcher; Gordon Ridings, third baseman; and Les Johnson, shortstop, assure a team capable of giving the islanders plenty of competition.

Pledging Announcement
Sigma Pi Tau announces the pledging of John W. Butler of Marshfield, Oregon.

Caesar, Grand Old Dog of Campus, Supplanted by Eef, Publicity Hound

Kappa Sig Mascot Resigned as Throne Totters; Youth Gone, He Lives on Memories

At one time Caesar, the Kappa Sig mascot, was the Mussolini of the campus, but now it seems that his throne is beginning to totter a little. In days gone by, he was the dog of the campus, and now he is just one of the dogs.

For many years Caesar has been meeting the boy who delivered the Emerald to the Kappa Sig house, and he was the first one to read the news. He has always been a keen follower of sports, but most of all he hoped to see in the headlines his own name. It pleased the grand old dog of the campus to see his name in print, and, although his eyesight is not so good as it was when he read his first Emerald, he still can tell his own name when it appears in the paper.

Caesar realizes that he has lost his school girl complexion, his winning smile, and that "his best friends won't tell him." He can get the girls to vouch, however, that he still has a beautiful voice and although he is getting old he can still sit up and beg for things that please his sweet tooth, the only real tooth

he has left. Caesar hates to see his popularity waning, but he feels the same about popularity as he does about love—it is better to have "loved and lost" than never to have had his name in the paper.

will have a real representative team to send to the islands next summer, if sufficient games can be arranged to make the tour worth while. Only two regulars, Hobson and Bliss, are lost from the organization of last spring, and new men coming up from the freshman ranks will mitigate their loss.

Lettermen back are Rex Adolph, the big first sacker; Freddy West, infielder and pitcher; Arnie Kiminki, shortstop; Lynn Jones, third baseman; Frank Reinhart, the steady centerfielder; Fred Harrison, the slowball pitcher; Ray Edwards, the southpaw right fielder; Bill Baker, the kid pitcher, who broke in with a bang last spring; George Minnaugh, outfielder and catcher; and Bill Ashby, the steady right-handed finger.

This band, together with such promising sophomores as Dave Epps, outfielder; Cotter Gould, outfielder; Art Schoeni, southpaw pitcher; Don McCormick, infielder; Ira Woodie, catcher; Gordon Ridings, third baseman; and Les Johnson, shortstop, assure a team capable of giving the islanders plenty of competition.

Pledging Announcement
Sigma Pi Tau announces the pledging of John W. Butler of Marshfield, Oregon.

Caesar realizes that he has lost his school girl complexion, his winning smile, and that "his best friends won't tell him." He can get the girls to vouch, however, that he still has a beautiful voice and although he is getting old he can still sit up and beg for things that please his sweet tooth, the only real tooth

he has left. Caesar hates to see his popularity waning, but he feels the same about popularity as he does about love—it is better to have "loved and lost" than never to have had his name in the paper.

will have a real representative team to send to the islands next summer, if sufficient games can be arranged to make the tour worth while. Only two regulars, Hobson and Bliss, are lost from the organization of last spring, and new men coming up from the freshman ranks will mitigate their loss.

Lettermen back are Rex Adolph, the big first sacker; Freddy West, infielder and pitcher; Arnie Kiminki, shortstop; Lynn Jones, third baseman; Frank Reinhart, the steady centerfielder; Fred Harrison, the slowball pitcher; Ray Edwards, the southpaw right fielder; Bill Baker, the kid pitcher, who broke in with a bang last spring; George Minnaugh, outfielder and catcher; and Bill Ashby, the steady right-handed finger.

This band, together with such promising sophomores as Dave Epps, outfielder; Cotter Gould, outfielder; Art Schoeni, southpaw pitcher; Don McCormick, infielder; Ira Woodie, catcher; Gordon Ridings, third baseman; and Les Johnson, shortstop, assure a team capable of giving the islanders plenty of competition.

Pledging Announcement
Sigma Pi Tau announces the pledging of John W. Butler of Marshfield, Oregon.

he has left. Caesar hates to see his popularity waning, but he feels the same about popularity as he does about love—it is better to have "loved and lost" than never to have had his name in the paper.

Baseball

(Continued from page one)
fields are found at Schofield Barracks, Pearl Harbor, and other places.

Billy Rinehart and his men will be welcome in Hawaii, whether they finish at the top of the Pacific Coast conference or in some other place. All that will be asked of them is that they play real ball when on the diamond, and when they are not engaged in athletics, they will be shown the time of their young lives.

From present indications, Oregon

Learn to Dance Well
Ballroom—Valencia—Ballet
—teachers—
Katherine Stang & Milton George
Feature dances furnished
Phone 2279; Hours, 1 to 9 P. M.
STANG'S DANCE STUDIO
90 E. 9th St. (upstairs)

EUGENE BUSINESS COLLEGE
It's A Good School.
Stenographic, Bookkeeping or Secretarial Course
Special Classes by Arrangement
A. E. Roberts, President
Phone 666 992 Willamette St. Eugene, Ore.

GUILD THEATRE
Continuing Tonight and Friday Night, Dec. 2-3—8:30 P. M.
University Dramatic Dept. in their latest triumph
CONTRAST
America's First Comedy
Ask the Crowd Who Saw it Last Night
CAST
Col Manly ..... Laurence Shaw Maria ..... Constance Roth
Dimple ..... Cecil Matson Letitia ..... Kitty Sartain
Van Rough, Arthur Anderson Jenny ..... Mary Campbell
Jessamy ..... H. Van Nice Betty ..... Diana Deininger
Johnathan, Ernest McKinney Charles ..... Perry Douglas
Charlotte ..... Etha Clark George ..... Elmer Grimm

Ticket Sale, 1 to 4 P. M.
At Guild Hall
50c Admission 75c
E.C.S.

Mr. Housemanager-
To give those men full value for their money—
To keep them in the house and—
To keep the grades up—
Use Slabwood—They must have a warm home to live in—and it's a good fuel.
Phone 452
Booth-Kelly Lumber Co.
E.C.S.

BETTER READ!
For Your Table
You buy the choicest cuts of meat and the best brands of canned goods. To match the finest of the fine, our bread should be upon your table.
Special rates to living organizations; give us a call today!
WILLIAMS Butter-Krust BREAD
YOUR STAFF O' LIFE

Grille Dance
Campa Shoppe
Friday & Saturday

No More Turkey
Thanksgiving is past and now a memory.
But —
But there are lots of delicious things to eat besides turkey.—Just imagine a neat, white table heaped with good things to eat! We could start naming them off, but wait till you see our menu when you come in next time!
MANHATTAN CAFE
685 Willamette St.

ASSOCIATION VAUDEVILLE
WESTERN VAUDEVILLE MANAGERS ASSOCIATION
2 Shows, 7 & 9 TONIGHT
George Lovett
—in—
"CONCENTRATION"
—with—
"Wonderful" George Templeton
The Girl with the X-Ray Mind and
Elsa J. Brown, Musical Oracle
Frank—WARNER & COLE—Rae
"Two Sports from Kokomo"
JOE MELVIN
—presenting—
"A European Comedy Novelty"
VICTORIA TRIO
—featuring—
Margaret Mantell
America's Foremost Imitator
Howard—SMITH & BARKER—Mildred
—in—
Good Medicine
A one-act comedy by Jack Arnold
Heilig Presentation Orchestra
Charles Runyan, Conductor, in Feature Musical Act
Topics of Day "Bruisers & Hosers" Oregonian Review
"Wild America," a Fox Variety
HEILIG

(3 BIG DAYS)
THURSDAY
FRIDAY
SATURDAY
Styleplus Suits & Topcoats
are popular with the young man of today
Moderately Priced
$25 to $45
Tuxedo's
$27.50 to $42.50
All the accessories including Patent Oxfords
Gifts
Early Xmas shoppers will find us fully prepared to show you the most beautiful line of men's wearables. Make your selections now.
DeNeffe's
Men's Dress Wear
McDonald Theatre Bldg.

Curl Shop
Expert Marcelling and Manicuring Our Specialty
Phone 578-J
Entrance Thru Campus Grocery or University Barber Shop—1239 Alder St.

Colonial THEATRE
RUDOLPH VALENTINO
in
"The Son of the Sheik"
with VILMA BANKY
UNITED ARTISTS PICTURE
With his arms about her, his lips caressing hers, the music of his voice in her ears—
ALSO—
AESOP'S FABLES
COMEDY
NO ADVANCE IN ADMS'N
MATINEE SAT. ONLY 2 P. M.

Books----Books
Make Your Selections Now for Christmas
An Extra Special Display of Books for Children
Also a well chosen stock of general literature, fiction, biography, travel, philosophy, drama, history, criticism and poetry.
Our superb line of Christmas Cards is now on display. It will be to your benefit to inspect this display.
MEMORY BOOKS — STATIONERY — JEWELRY
CO-OP