

Dean of Music To Take Second South Seas Trip

Dr. Landsbury, Sister To Visit Fijis, Samoa, Hawaii, Tongo

Islands Still Free From Commercialization

The South Seas, a land of enchantment, of sparkling seas and exquisite beauty; this is the country that is beckoning with promises of a fascinating vacation. Dr. John J. Landsbury, of the school of music, and Mrs. Landsbury Beck have definitely decided to again visit this bewitching country this summer and are anxious for all who are interested in making such a trip to come and talk with them.

Trip Is Inexpensive

Last summer Dean Landsbury and Mrs. Beck made this tour and they became so interested in the country that they are again making the tour of the Fiji, Samoan, Hawaiian, and Tongo Islands, personally conducted by James Lee Wheeler Jr., their guide of last year. Mr. Wheeler is the personal representative of New Zealand and the Island Governments and the representative also of the Union Steamship company. He is now in New Zealand making plans for the coming trip. "We will travel first class all the way," said Dean Landsbury, "yet the trip is not expensive. But it is off the beaten path, and the real beauty of the country is enhanced by the fact that it is not commercialized as yet, and one is not bothered by the inevitable American tourists that infest the European countries."

Polynesians Held Wonderful

Dean Landsbury intends to leave from San Francisco in June. With the exception of personal service, passports and small items $875 is the cost, and all accommodations are first class. The best hotels and private cars are used by the party. Suva, the capital city of Fiji, will be the headquarters during the tour. The exact route has not been decided yet, and New Zealand may or may not be included in the itinerary. "The Polynesians are a wonderful, laughing, cordial people," said Dean Landsbury. "They are handsome, with powerful physiques, and good features."

Dean Landsbury was impressed with the cordiality of the different races on his last trip, and will again go into the interior of Fiji, where the former old cannibal king lives. "It scarcely seems possible," he said, "that 75 years ago these people were blood-thirsty cannibals and that now they are peaceable, quiet-loving natives." The New Hebrides, the only place where there are a few man-eating cannibals left, may be included in the route.

"The islands are at their best in the months of June, July, and August," stated Mr. Landsbury, "the land is not hot then, and the indescribable beauty of the country is at its height." Dean Landsbury also emphasized the excellent opportunity that the trip offered for studying the Pacific question at close range. "We are extremely interested in having anyone, who is anxious to see this beautiful country with such advantages, come and talk over the trip with us," he concluded.

|---------------|---------------|
| Frosh (12) | (11) Columbia |
| Clarke (1) f | Gather |
| Robie (3) f | Chandler |
| Potts (2) c | Fitzpatrick |
| Coleman (2) g | (3) Heenan |
| McDonald g | (8) Sullivan |

Substitutions: Freshmen, Chastain, Hydorn, 4; Columbia, Hagan.

Referee, Plunks Reinhart.

The University of Oregon frosh upset the old dope bucket by defeating the Columbia university hoopsters, 12 to 11 in McArthur court Saturday night, in a preliminary to the Montana-Oregon tilt. The fighting Irish came down from the city of roses a favorite because of their easy victory over the frosh in the game played the week before in the Coliseum at Portland.

Robie, at forward for the yearlings, started the scoring when he converted from the gift line. After that the lead see-sawed back and forth until Sullivan, Columbia guard, hit his stride in the last half and piled up a four point lead. Coach Spike Leslie, freshman mentor, rushed Clark back into the line-up. With the aid of Hydorn they come within one point of tying the score. With less than two minutes to play Coleman dropped the oval through the hoop and gave his team the necessary one point lead to win the game.

Roland Coleman's defensive play was an outstanding feature of the freshmen's game. Robie and Hydorn showed up well on the offense.

After tonight's shindy, the Webfoots will have three scuffles ahead—
