

Second Track Meet of Year At 2:30 Today

Thirteen Events Scheduled Featuring Sprints and Weight Throwing

Varsity and Freshman Squads Have 54 Men

Vic Wetzel Is Entered In Four Contests

THE University of Oregon track squad will have its second intersquad meet of the season today at 2:30. Thirteen events will be run off, seven of them being frosh events and six varsity events.

Vic Wetzel, Oregon track veteran, will be in four events. He has added the high jump and the pole vault to his regular work with the weights.

Shot Putters Work Hard
The varsity shot putters are working hard trying to develop a point winning man in that event. Vic Wetzel and Ed Moore have had varsity experience. Moore was one of the Webfoot weight heaviers in 1925 but was not in school last year. Wetzel has been on the team for the past two seasons.

Dobie Sanderson, from last year's frosh, is showing good form in both the discus and shot and will give the veterans some keen competition. George Stager, another member of the yearling squad last year, is rounding into form and Bill Hayward thinks that he may prove to be a surprise.

Sprinters to Vie
The sprinters will have a big time today with ten men entered in the varsity affair and thirteen frosh ready to line up for the 75 and 150-yard dashes.

Ed Crawley, pole vaulter and letterman, will probably have things pretty much his own way in his event, but Allen Bracher, a transfer from O. A. C., is rated as being a good high flyer.

Entries for today's meet:
75-yard dash, varsity: Allen Bracher, Alex Scott, Hollis Alger, Speed Dixon, Dan Hendricks, N. Burns, Bill Pendergast, E. Schull, R. Jackson, A. Sullivan.

150-yard dash: L. Zuck, C. Price, Fishler, J. Price, R. Jackson, W. Dielschneider.

Shot put: Vic Wetzel, Dobie Sanderson, Edward Moore, A. Montgomery, George Stager.

Discus: Vic Wetzel, George Stager, Edward Moore, A. Montgomery, Dobie Sanderson.

High jump: Vic Wetzel, M. Howell, A. Boyden.

Pole vault: Allen Bracher, Vic Wetzel, Ed Crawley, Tom Bunn, M. Howell.

75-yard dash frosh: P. Livesley, H. L. Kelley, M. Kelley, W. Browne, R. Banks, C. Noeske, Thompson, R. Ricks, Ely, Wm. Suver, P. Maginnus, I. Staples, R. Atkinson.

150-yard dash frosh: P. Livesley, H. L. Kelley, M. Kelley, W. Browne, R. Banks, C. Noeske, Thompson, R. Ricks, Ely, Wm. Suver, P. Maginnus, I. Staples, R. Atkinson.

300-yard frosh: Bonnette, F. Flanagan, Hammill, A. McCarty, E. Pinyne, A. Reinhardt, F. Shimizu, E. Thornburg, Thompson.

High jump: Ball, P. Maginnus, Reed, O. Bredthauer.

Pole vault: O. Bredthauer, R. Casey, Graves.

Shot put: R. Ricks, Welsh, Campbell, H. Hildreth, R. Atkinson.

Hugo Bezdek, Penn State's Mentor, Was Billy Reinhart's First Ancestor

Oregon's Twine-Swishers of 1912 Ended Season In Triple Tie; Dean Walker on Squad

Oregon's first official basketball coach was Hugo Bezdek, who came here in the fall of 1906 for a year's stay. Bezdek gained his knowledge of the hoop game as a member of the Chicago Y. M. C. A. team. The season athletic club was defeated twice and the Ashland Athletic club once. Two games were dropped to the Oregon Aggie five. Members of this early hoop squad included Captain Donald Stevenson, center; Ramp, Moore, Johnson, and Nelson; forwards; and Penland, Strong and Charmon, guards.

With the completion and dedication of the present men's gymnasium in February, 1910, basketball at Oregon received impetus. The game had been discontinued during the two previous years. The 1910 season was started late by the Oregon five due to the tardy completion of the gymnasium. By the time the lemon-yellow hoopsters were in condition the other teams were finishing their seasons. The intercollegiate game was taken up for the first time this year and was new to all the players. Other teams of the northwest had been playing it for two years.

With William Hayward, track mentor, at the helm, several late games were played. The team won from Idaho, which had overwhelmingly defeated the University of Washington. A heart breaking contest was lost to O. A. C. by one point on the varsity floor.

The 1910 team was composed of Captain Harry M. Stine and Jamison, forwards; Ruth, center; Neil and Elliot, guards; and Walker, Moore and Cokerline, substitutes.

The Oregon team of 1911 finished second in the northwest championship race. The varsity defeated every conference college at least once. Out of the 12 games played Oregon won 9, losing only to the University of Washington. During the season, Oregon scored 304 points to its opponent's 169.

It was at the completion of that season that Oregon played the University of Washington Huskies in Seattle for the northwest championship. (Continued on page four)

Dr. H. Crosland To Talk Monday To Law Students

Second Lecture on Crime Detection to be Given Wednesday

Dr. Harold R. Crosland, of the psychology department, will speak at 10 o'clock on Monday and on Wednesday before Dean Hale's law students in the class of "The Administration of Justice." Monday his subject will be "Methods of Detecting and Exhibiting Guilty Knowledge in Persons Suspected of Crime." His topic for Wednesday is "Methods of Studying Handwriting to Detect Forgery, and the Authorship of Forged Documents."

He has proven one of the methods to be of worth in at least four practical cases: two of stealing, one of cheating and the other an experimentally instituted "crime." He is soon to publish an article in relation to these subjects in "The Journal of Applied Psychology."

Because of his interest and experience in such work he has been asked to join an organization of experts along different lines, whose purpose is to render service in criminal cases in court. This organization is unique and the members claim the precedent as being the very first. They are certain that the magazine which they contemplate publishing is the first of its kind in the world.

The organization is including every possible line of expert work: handwriting, toxicology, finger prints, ballistics, typewriting, etc., and now they wish to include the work of psychologists and to delve into the search of the sub-conscious mind to apprehend criminals. They have chosen Dr. Crosland as a representative in this special field.

Journalism Major Is Doctor in China Now

Helen Brenton Pryor, who graduated from the school of journalism in 1919, is now an M. D. in Nanking, China, specializing in children's treatment, according to a letter received on the campus recently.

"We are more or less sitting on a volcano over here, for foreigners are being ordered out of the cities up the river every day. Ships, except English, are being commandeered for troops, therefore travel is uncertain. It is an interesting life and not without its thrills," she said.

The first English person she has seen since she has been in China is Helen Whitaker who is a member of the language school faculty in Han Si Men college. Miss Whitaker graduated from the University in 1920.

While at the University, Mrs. Pryor majored in journalism and took up medicine later. She was editor of the Emerald part of her senior year.

Senior Ball Promises to Be Different

Chairmen of Committees Confident Dance Will Be Big Success

Programs and Favors To be Given at Door

Feature Shows Dangers Of This Generation

WITH the presentation of the Senior Ball this evening the senior class will have its last fling at entertaining the campus. The committees chosen have been at work for the past two weeks trying to work up an affair of exquisite finish and ingenious motif. Judging from the good humor Rolf Klep, chairman of the decorations, has been enjoying for the past few days the decorative scheme must be working out as well as expected; an unusual result in campus dances.

Supper Dances Arranged

At the directorate meeting yesterday each member of the directorate expressed perfect confidence that his part of the work would go off well. Very few difficulties have been encountered by the committee, a fact no class but seniors would be likely to be able to boast of since the alleviation of trouble is only by means of workers who are familiar with their particular situations.

Programs and favors will be presented at the door. Each program will designate the particular supper dance the individual has. "I wish to request everyone to observe these dances properly, otherwise someone may have to go hungry," declared Dot Ward, chairman of refreshments. There will be six supper dances set aside, beginning with the fifth and running through the tenth.

As an added feature, Billy O'Bryant and Abbie Green have worked out several selections on the piano (Continued on page four)

Summer Schools Held In Foreign Countries Offer Varied Work

A broadening and entertaining vacation for the summer school student lies in the foreign summer schools conducted in other countries. Each summer new schools are planned in foreign educational centers, and interesting courses arranged. Following are some of the summer sessions planned for 1927:

Oxford: July 29-August 20. Subject: "Shakespeare and the England of His Time."

France: July 1-October 30. Courses in language and literature at various universities.

Berlin: July 14-August 24. Subjects: German language, literature, political and social history, art, civilization, political economy, and sociology. Special classes in other subjects will be formed for groups of ten students registered before June 1.

Heidelberg: June 27-August 6. Two sections of three weeks each. Subjects: German literature, folklore, music, art, pedagogy, history, and economics.

Vienna: July 18-August 27. Subjects: German language and literature, social and economic problems, art. Education courses for teachers.

Madrid: July 11-August 6. Subjects: Spanish language and literature, history and art.

Porto Rico: July 15-August 17. Subjects: Courses for Spanish-speaking graduate students. Courses in Spanish for English speaking students.

Further information about these schools and others may be obtained from the Institute of International Education in New York City, New York.

Freshman and Senior Women Win One-Sided Games in Basketball

With three years of playing behind them, the senior women's basketball team won a fast game from the sophomore second team, which made a better showing than on Wednesday. Despite the fact that the final score was 49 to 8, and that there were substitutions on both sides, the game was speedy, and the sophomore seconds had the seniors puffing before the end.

Splendid team work and quick passes characterized the playing of the freshman first team against the junior second, and resulted in a victory of 48 to 16 for the frosh. Genevieve Swedenburg, Dorothy Dietz, and Marian Newman, forward, made an excellent pass after another. Marion Newman came out high point woman with 32 points to her credit.

In another unevenly matched game, the freshman second team defeated the junior third, 34 to 8. All games so far have been won by large scores, but no team has yet played its equal in rank. These games are more or less preliminary in nature, and it will not be until next week that the hotter contests begin. There will be no games played on Monday and Tuesday.

Frosh Mermen To Swim Here First Time Today

Woman's Building to Be Scene of Vancouver Club Competition

For the first time this season, the student body will be given an opportunity to see Oregon's exceptionally strong freshman swimming team in action. The frosh are to meet the Vancouver Community club outfit in the Woman's building pool at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

This meet and the mix with the Aggie rooks in the local tank February 26 will conclude the yearling season. The frosh this year have had trouble finding competition and have been able to schedule only a few meets. However, they hold an impressive 44 to 15 victory over the rooks.

Although the freshman squad is weak in reserve strength, it is possessed of several stars who pile up the first place points. Johnny Anderson, the blonde flash, has in unofficial meets, bested every sprint record in the Northwest and has beaten the mark in the 150 yard backstroke by several seconds.

Anderson is training to enter the State and Northwest championships at the close of the season and should cop more than one event in record time.

Chuck Silverman, the frosh distance man, has swum some excellent races in the 440 and the 220 yard free style events. He has not lost a race this season.

Raley, breast stroker, is reliable and can be counted on for points. Harold Hatton, of the yearling basketball squad, recently turned out for the water sport and gives Silverman real competition in the longer races.

Father of Mrs. Hall Dies of Heart Trouble

Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall received word yesterday of the death of her father, Mr. Henry C. Carney, Evanston, Illinois. Mr. Carney had been seriously ill with heart trouble for several months. Mrs. Hall will not be able to go east at this time owing to the fact that she is ill with an attack of influenza.

Sheldon to Go to Texas For Education Meeting

Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the education school, is leaving the twentieth of this month for an educational meeting in Dallas, Texas. He will be gone about three weeks. Walter C. Barnes, professor of history, is to take Dean Sheldon's world history class while he is away.

Piano-Playing And Pigskin-Punting No Longer Mutually Exclusive

Great Increase in Quantity and Quality of Musicianhip, Thinks Eugene Carr

"The day in which the American boy may take music lessons and at the same time hold a coveted place on the football team has arrived at last," said Eugene Carr, instructor in music, in commenting upon the increasing appreciation of the American public for music.

"Not many years ago," he continued, "this same boy would have been the inspiration for magazine covers, which pictured the uncomfortable lad on his way to a fifty cent music lesson, passing by his disgusted companions—uncomfortable because he knew they despised his Sunday clothes and the tell-tale music roll."

The great change which has taken place in the American appreciation of music is attributed by Mr. Carr to be due in part to the superior musical training which children receive in the grammar grades. Children are now taught to sing correctly. The organization of juvenile orchestras and bands is becoming increasingly common.

Another factor in the popularity of music, Mr. Carr believes, is the growth of music as an American profession. In this connection he quotes from John Philip Sousa, who, in a recent magazine article, proclaims that music has at last been

Sixteen Freshmen Survive First Drill In R. O. T. C. Contest

After the smoke of battle had cleared away from the R. O. T. C. barracks yesterday afternoon, only 16 lonely cadets remained of the five companies in the department. They alone could tell the story of how they had withstood the relentless attack of the officer's staff assigned the task of selecting the best drilled freshmen in each company.

This was the first of three preliminary drills that will be held at the regular drill period each Friday until March 11, at which time a final contest will be held. Only those who have shown up best in the preliminary drills may compete in the grand climax. The military department is offering three prizes of $25, $15, and $10 to the winners of the final competition. Judges for the contest on March 11 will be Captain F. M. Moore, F. L. Culin, and Lieutenant G. E. Herbert.

The victorious freshmen in the first preliminary competition were: Company B, Leon Baird, Rulon Ricks, and J. R. Smith; Company C, Gordon Peffey, Albert Wright, and Donald McCall; Company D, Willis Warren, Karl Landstrom, and Harold Bateman; Company E, Elmer Gant, George Jackson, Roy Wilkin, and Ernest Hall; Company F, Paul Knepp, Jack Coolidge, and John McRae.

Organized Groups Make Higher Grades Than Non-organized

Students living in organizations made a higher average number of points during the fall term than did the non-organization students. Sorority women made an average of 43.16 points as opposed to 40.98 for the non-sorority women. Fraternity men garnered 35.45 points against 35.38 for the non-fraternity.

The general undergraduate average for the University was 38.46 points, with 35.41 for the men and 42.00 for the women. The averages show a slight increase over those for the fall term of 1925-26 which were 35.03 for fraternity men, 33.88 for non-fraternity men, and 40.09 for non-sorority women. Sorority women failed to do as well, having made an average of 43.40 points a year ago during the fall.

Evans in Portland For Organ Dedication

Two of the University's music professors, John Stark Evans and Eugene Carr, left for Portland yesterday afternoon for a three day's visit.

Mr. Evans will dedicate the new Rueter organ for the Sunnyside Seventh Day Adventist church on Sunday; and the rest of the time, he says, will be given to complete rest. The production of "Robinhood" by the Franklin high school, Friday and Saturday nights, is the main reason for Eugene Carr's trip. He is very anxious to hear the two leading actors sing, whose voices have received a great deal of praise, lately, among musical groups, and who broadcasted over the radio several nights ago.

Fraternities Draw for Locations at California

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, at Los Angeles—(By PIP)—Representatives of the twenty-two national and local fraternities of the University of California at Los Angeles recently drew for preferred fraternity-house sites adjacent to the new university campus at Westwood.

Under this arrangement, those of the fraternities whose representatives drew first numbers will be given first choice in the matter of selecting the lots on which their houses are to be erected. The others will take their turns in making site selections, according to the numbers drawn.

Varsity Hoop Squad Awaits Aggie Contest

Gordon Ridings Will Be Back in Lemon-Yellow Lineup Tuesday

Okerberg Heads Loop With 100 Counters

Advance Ticket Sales Are Large

THE University of Oregon basketballers are enjoying a well-earned rest since Wednesday of this week. Their next encounter will be a return engagement with the Oregon Aggie hoopsters February 22, in McArthur court.

In spite of the fact that the Webfoot casabana handed the Orangemen a drubbing in Corvallis last week, Jerry Gunther and also that the Aggies have had a very unsuccessful road trip, the fans are anticipating a real tussle Tuesday, that is if the advance sale of tickets can be considered a reliable criterion. The reserve section of McArthur court is practically sold out, according to Bob Overstreet, who has charge of the ticket sale.

Good Season So Far
The Oregon cagers have piled up an enviable record this year, having lost but one game, and that by a one point margin to the University of Idaho at Moscow. The lemon-yellow men have counted almost two to one for their opponents during the season. Probably their greatest exploit was against the Washington Huskies whom they defeated 60 to 25 at Seattle.

Last season Duke Okerberg, lanky Webfoot pivot man, led the conference in scoring, swishing the net for a total of 98 points. He has bettered his last year's record already this season with a round hundred markers and has two conference games left in which to add to his record.

The other Oregon players haven't been asleep at the switch either. Algot Westergren, guard, has dropped the oval through the hoop for a total of 61 counters, and Jerry Gunther is close behind him with 59 points.

Sophs Work in Well
The Oregon sophomores too have been busy. Gord Ridings has accumulated 46 points, and Scott Milligan has rung the bell for 37. Dave Epps has chalked up nine counters, Joe Bally and Keith Emmons two each, and Don McCormick one.

Jerry Gunther has not been scoring as heavily this season as he did last, but Billy Reinhart has used him as a defensive player more than formerly. Against the University of Washington Reinhart had Gunther watching Schuss, all-coast forward. He held the Huskie flash to one field basket and upon this occasion collected ten points for himself.

Against the Orangemen at Corvallis Gunther took after Graap and stuck to him like a bur. One field basket and one point from the gift line was all the agile Aggie was able to chalk up, and until Gunther had the misfortune to stumble and fall down he held his opponent basketless.

Key Headed for All-Coast
Okerberg is the only one of the Oregon veterans who has not rated a berth on the mythical all-coast quintet. Last year, in spite of his impressive record as a point gatherer, he was beaten out by Higgins of California. This year, however, Higgins is coaching the Golden Bear's frosh and Okey has already overshadowed his former record as a point garner. Besides this, Okey has out jumped the opposing centers and figured in the majority of the Webfoot plays. This puts him (Continued on page four)

Floyd Maxwell, '22, To Be on Campus Soon
Floyd Maxwell, '22, who is now manager of the Broadway theater, will be on the campus Tuesday for a short visit.

Maxwell is coming to view the rehearsal of some acts that the Glee club will present at the Broadway theater spring vacation.
