

Weather May Postpone Game With Linfield

Competition for Places On Varsity Strong In Practices

Slauson, Flynn Working For First "Sack"

Unless weather conditions change soon, the two game series scheduled with the Linfield college nine next Friday and Saturday will be postponed, according to Bill Reinhart, varsity coach. The baseball field is still soggy from the recent rains so last night's practice was held on the new intramural diamond.

Red Slauson

Each practice witnesses a battle royal for the infield positions vacated by Howard "Hobby" Hobson, second sacker; and Rex Adolph, first base. The absence of these two capable infielders leaves the Webfoot inner works full of holes. The fight for the initial sack position has simmered down to two players, Red Slauson and "Limney" Flynn. This is Slauson's first appearance in Webfoot baseball. Flynn has been a member of the super-varsity for the past two seasons.

Two Out for Second
The keystone position also has a pair of aspirants who are working tooth and nail for the first call. Clifford Kuhn, member of last year's super-varsity, is working at second base. Kuhn displayed a good batting eye in the few contests played last year. Competition is being augmented by the appearance of Lester Johnson, infielder from last year's yearling team.

Third base has many candidates. Lynn Jones, two year letterman, is out for third base honors. Other aspirants to the job include Bill Dallas, Don McCormick and Mark McAllister. Should Reinhart see fit, Jones can be shifted to his old position in left field, making room for one of the younger players.

Kiminki at Short
The shortpatch position will probably be taken care of by Arnie Kiminki who alternated with West last year. Arnie has steadied considerably and seems to have quit fighting the ball. Bill Eddy, from last year's frosh team, cannot be overlooked and will probably break into the line-up occasionally.

Reinhart has five good outfielders. Harry Dutton, member of the super-varsity for the past two seasons, is making a strong effort to win a regular position. Dave Epps, Cotter Gould and Audrian Llewellyn, from last year's freshman team, are showing up well. Epps and Gould hit the ball hard last year. Kuhn also has played in the outfield.

Intra-mural Net Meets Scheduled Tomorrow

Intra-mural men's doubles tennis tournament will start tomorrow at 3:15, according to Coach Ed Abercrombie. To date, 16 organizations have entered and the drawings have been made.

The matches scheduled for tomorrow are: Alpha Beta Chi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon; Friendly hall vs. Alpha Tau Omega; Delta Tau Delta vs. Kappa Sigma; Sigma Pi Tau vs. Beta Theta Pi.

Those selected for Friday are Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Nu; Chi Psi vs. Oregon club; Phi Kappa Psi vs. Theta Chi; and Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Donut Baseball Tilt Schedule Ready; Play Delayed by Weather

Oregon dirt dampened by excess moisture is all that is holding up the parade of donut baseball, according to Virgil Earl, who is in charge of the sport.

The schedule has been made up for the 18 organizations entering teams, and workouts on the two playing fields are progressing as fast as the weather will permit.

Fraternity athletes and baseball players are advised to begin their preliminary training on the davenport so that when Old Sol loosens up they will be in shape. This year's donut baseball promises to be a fight of the first water, with a fair chance for the losers of first matches to get revenge on the losers' side of the tournament.

Just as soon as the fields can be played on the games will start with the following teams matched against each other:

- Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon;
- Alpha Tau Omega vs. Chi Psi; Beta Theta Pi vs. Psi Kappa; Alpha Beta Chi vs. Kappa Sigma; Theta Chi vs. By; Phi Kappa Psi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Friendly hall vs. Phi Gamma Delta; Sigma Pi Tau vs. Phi Delta Theta; Sigma Nu vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; Delta Tau Delta vs. Bye.

Hiking Club to Make Trip up Butte Saturday

Spencer's Butte will be the objective of the University Hiking club, on its second hike of the term, Saturday. The club was organized during the spring vacation, and will take at least one more trip before the end of the year.

Everyone who can go is invited; the hikers will leave the "Y" hut Saturday at 10 o'clock, and take the College Crest street car as far as is possible.

Bring 25 cents to pay for meat, buns, coffee and sugar. Bring other food if desired, with a tin cup and spoon.

Mrs. Scholz Will Talk Of Girls' Student Tour

Mrs. Richard F. Scholz, dean of women at Reed college, Portland, will be on the campus Thursday afternoon and Friday morning, at which time she will interview girls who are contemplating the student European tour which she will conduct this summer.

Those who have considered the trip in the group which Mrs. Scholz will direct, should see Dean Esterly this week to arrange an interview with Dean Scholz.

Fate of Canoe Fete Partners Set for Today

Dean H. Walker to Hold Hat With 24 Fatal Numbers

Dean H. Walker, dean of men, will draw the partners for the canoe fete this year. This drawing will take place on the library steps immediately after 10 o'clock classes today.

Numbers were given to each living organization a few days ago and only the first 24 will be in the lottery this year. The numbers which were taken by each house are permanently recorded in the offices of the dean of women and dean of men and will be used for all canoe fetes in the future.

This rotating system will give the houses who do not participate one year a chance to take part the following year. Previously the canoe fete has been a drawn-out affair and difficult to judge, while with only 12 on the program it will be a much more interesting affair, the committee in charge said.

Herbert Socolofsky, chairman of the canoe fete, said that he hoped every one would attend the drawing to learn with whom they were to work with this year toward getting the prize.

Those organizations in the hat are:

- Sororities:
- 1. Alpha Phi
- 2. Alpha Xi Delta
- 3. Hendricks hall
- 4. Kappa Kappa Gamma
- 5. Phi Mu
- 6. Kappa Alpha Theta
- 7. Alpha Gamma Delta
- 8. Pi Beta Phi
- 9. Delta Gamma
- 10. Sigma Beta Phi
- 11. Delta Zeta
- 12. Kappa Delta

Fraternities:

- 1. Phi Delta Theta
- 2. Sigma Phi Epsilon
- 3. Friendly hall, number one
- 4. Delta Tau Delta
- 5. Psi Kappa
- 6. Phi Sigma Kappa
- 8. Alpha Tau Omega
- 9. Phi Gamma Delta
- 10. Phi Kappa Psi
- 11. Kappa Sigma
- 12. Sigma Pi Tau.

Y. M. Will Install New Officers This Evening

Formal installation service and dinner of the new Y. M. C. A. cabinet is to be held tonight at the home of H. W. Davis, director of the United Christian work on the campus.

In addition to the retiring and new members of the cabinet, other Y. M. C. A. officers will be present.

William Schulze is the incoming president, with Homer Dixon vice-president, Herbert Socolofsky treasurer, and Joe Holaday secretary.

Those committee heads which have been appointed are: deputa-tion, Robert Hynd; social, Ernest McKinney; boy's work, Dan McPherson; foreign service, Gilbert Brighthouse.

The cars will leave for the house on College Crest from the "Y" hut at 5:45 p. m., it was announced.

Summer Course in Library Work Gains Widespread Attention

The pamphlets on summer courses for library workers, which are awaiting their turn to be mailed from the extension division headquarters in the Household Arts building, are the most recent of the summer session publicity material, which is bringing daily inquiries from prospective summer students. Letters from Florida, Massachusetts, and Alabama have been received, inquiring further about the session for this year. Already as many names are on the prospective list as were on last year's when summer school opened, or over a thousand.

Library courses, according to the new pamphlet, will be taught by Miss Della J. Sisler, of the University of California's school of librarianship; by Mrs. Mabel E. McClain, Oregon circulation librarian; and by Miss E. Lenore Casford, periodical librarian here, who had her training at the Carnegie Library school, Pittsburgh.

The joint meeting of the California Library association with the Pacific Northwest Library association, June 13 to 15, at Gearhart, comes the week just before the opening of the summer session. This will enable those who wish to attend both to spend the four-day interval in sight-seeing or outing.

L. E. Palmer Leaves To Instruct Lifesaving For Red Cross Corps

L. E. "Pete" Palmer, pre-law junior, left the University today to take charge of the Red Cross lifesaving school at Spokane. Palmer was formerly coast field representative for the Red Cross lifesaving corps, and has conducted several lifesaving schools at coast chapters.

Concluding the work at the Spokane chapter, Palmer will conduct lifesaving institutes for the national organization during the summer. He plans to return next fall to complete his law studies.

Palmer was vice-president of the men's lifesaving corps of the University, and was coach of the freshman swimming team this season. He was also an honor student during the past year.

April Issue Of Old Oregon Out This Week

Summer Session Articles, Educator's Pictures Will Feature

A special summer session number of Old Oregon, the April issue, will be off the press the latter part of this week, according to Jeannette Calkins, editor.

The issue features the summer sessions at Portland and Eugene. There are special pictures, three full page spreads of scenic sports near Portland and Eugene that summer session people can easily visit.

There will also be pictures of the prominent educators from all over the United States who will be instructors at the sessions.

An introduction to the magazine has been written by President Arnold Bennett Hall on Oregon's summer school in which he tells of his plans for making the summer session one of the biggest things for the University and of building it up so that it will be considered one of the four terms of the academic year. If this plan is adopted it will be possible for students to enroll for any three of the four terms or for all of them.

Dean Alfred Powers, director of the summer sessions, has also written an article, "A Story of the Hundred Professors." This is really an outline of the plans for the summer school this year and includes items about the instructors.

Walter Whittlesey, a graduate of the University and now professor of political science at Princeton University, is the author of a poem, "Oregon," which will appear in the April issue. The poem was inspired when Mr. Whittlesey was here for summer school last year. He says he thinks of it as a song and would like to see it set to music.

Another poem, "A Summer Afternoon at Oregon," by Irene Stewart, will also be printed, and Sol Abramson, editor of the Emerald, has prepared an article on traditions.

The regular special sections will appear as usual, including: "A Connoisseur of Rare Birds," which is the book review section edited by S. Stephenson Smith; Faculty News Notes, edited by Mrs. Ralph Casey; Campus News; News of classes; etc. The section used last month, called "Lemon Extract" humor section, will appear again this month.

F. S. Dunn to Address Corvallis Lodge Group

"Symbolism and Ritualism of Masonry" will be the topic of a speech by Frederic S. Dunn, head of the Latin department, when he talks to the Masonic lodge in Corvallis tonight.

Professor Dunn is to talk to the McKenzie River lodge, a masonic order recently established in Eugene, on April 13, on the same subject, which will be a talk on the
