

Pacific Takes Opening Tilt Series, 8 to 7

Oregon Ties Score, But Badgers Rally and Retake Lead

Both Teams Knock Out a Homer Apiece

By DICK SYRING

In a contest marked with home runs, a triple, and a varied assortment of southpaw pitching, the University of Oregon baseball team lost a close 8 to 7 game to Pacific University yesterday afternoon on the varsity diamond. Another game will be played this afternoon at 4 o'clock by the same teams.

If it hadn't been for a certain Mr. James Cameron, Pacific's husky captain and outfielder, Lefty MacDonald, varsity flinger, might have had an enjoyable afternoon. It was Cameron who started the fireworks in the very first inning. Hutt, lead-off man, crashed out a double to left but was thrown out at third when he tried to stretch his blow into a triple. Tuor, second baseman, placed a short Texas leaguer over second base.

Cameron Gets Homer.

Then stepped the mighty Mr. Cameron to the plate with a big bludgeon in his hand. In a previous contest at O. A. C. he shook the dust of the outer gardens for two home runs in one afternoon. Mr. Cameron threw back his head, pulled in his ears, and with a weighty swing sent the pellet far over the head of Harry Dutton, Oregon center fielder, for a homer and two runs.

The Pacific team scored two more runs in the second.

Epps, first man up in the fourth, drove a triple into center field. Don McCormick doubled down the left field foul line to score Epps. Harry Dutton placed a Texas leaguer over first and scored McCormick. Kiminki walked, but Lester Johnson sacrificed Dutton in for the third run of the canto.

Pacific Breaks Tie

Pacific broke the tie in the seventh and went ahead by four runs on an error, two hits, a sacrifice, and a double by the pestiferous Mr. Cameron. At the end of this inning, MacDonald and his left flipper retired in favor of Scotty Kretzer, who finished the game without being scored on.

The Webfoots chewed down this lead with a two run spurt in the seventh on clean hits by McCormick and Minnaugh, and Lynn Jones displayed Babe Ruthian tendencies in the last of the ninth by lofting a tremendous fly over the head of the obstreperous Mr. Cameron in left field. The blow cleared Agate street and may be rolling yet.

Nine Plays Better

The Oregon varsity nine played a somewhat improved game over the exhibition of Wednesday. Reinhart's starting combination with Don McCormick on third and Lester Johnson on second proved successful. McCormick garnered two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate as well as handling one assist and scoring three putouts. Johnson had a great day in the field with five putouts.

Freddy West, right hander, will probably occupy the mound for the Webfoots this afternoon. Either Rowe or Cameron will be in the box for the Badgers.

Frosh Baseball Season Opens Against Albany

Few Regulars Selected For Opening Game Tomorrow

The old familiar cry, "Play Ball," will be heard again Saturday when the frosh baseball team swings into action against the Albany college nine. With only two weeks of practice behind them, Coach Spike Leslie is expecting to encounter strong opposition from the Albany bat wielders. Albany recently lost a close game to Linfield college, who in turn won a ten-inning tilt from the varsity Wednesday afternoon.

Competition has been unusually keen for regular places on the frosh team this year, and as yet no regular nine has been selected. Several aspirants are trying out for each position and Coach Leslie is planning to give them all a chance in tomorrow's game.

"Nobody has received a regular assignment on the team," said Leslie, "and I want to see all that have been turning out to be in uniform Saturday. I expect to give all that I can a chance to play."

The catching task will either fall to Speer or Walton. Three pitchers have been showing up well and the mound duty will either go to Anderson, McDonald, or Fuller. Nelson will probably start the game at first base. Second base assignment lies between Wirth and Strommer. Robie will start as shortstop with Mason third. Outfield selections will be made from Williams, Coleman, Giles, Laughlin, and Hatton.

Old Oregon Tells History of Summer Session Since 1902

Several thousand extra numbers of Old Oregon, which is just off the press, have been printed to send to persons interested in attending the University of Oregon summer session. These copies are being sent all over the United States.

The main feature of this issue is the coming summer school session. The summer traditions are discussed by Dr. Dan E. Clark, assistant director extension division, who recounts the early history of summer sessions, depicting the beginning in 1902 and the growth up to the present time.

In addition, President Hall discusses in "Moving Toward a Summer Quarter," the advantages Oregon has in scenery and climate.

Pictures are given of some of the professors who will teach in Eugene and Portland this summer. Among them are the following: Dr. A. S. Patterson, Syracuse university, New York; Dr. George D. Strayer, Teachers College Columbia University, New York; Professor J. H. Holst, Montana State College; Alice Barrows, from the United States Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Edward P. Cheney, University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. Franklin Fearing, Ohio Wesleyan University.

The inspection will be rated as follows: support of the R. O. T. C. by the institution and student body 27%; efficiency of theoretical instruction 30%; efficiency of practical instruction 43%.

Saturday, the department will hold a preliminary inspection, as a "refresher." It will be held from 8:30 until 11:30 a. m., and according to the department will be a sort of a dress rehearsal before the big review on Monday. The entire department will take part in this.

Drama Contest For High Schools Here May 5, 6, 7

Entrance to Tournament Limited to Twelve; Quota Filled

Final plans for the High School Drama tournament to be held in Eugene, May 5, 6, and 7, are well under way. This contest is being sponsored by the University, with the extension division, and the English and drama departments at its head.

Hendricks hall will be hostess at a special luncheon May 5 in honor of the guests. This will be the opening affair of the varied entertainment, consisting of sight seeing parties, luncheons, picnics and dances which will crowd the three days of the contest. Committees are being chosen this week for every feature of the tournament.

Many letters have been received asking for admission to the event, but the quota is full. Only twelve schools are allowed to enter, and they constitute some of the finest in the state. Next year it is hoped that all who wish to enter may be allowed to do so, but this idea is just being started, so the entrants were limited.

The schools that have entered,
