

Baseball Squad Preraring for O. A. C. Contests

Reinhart Baffled to Find First Bagger; Woodie Lacks Experience

Varsity Loses Final Fray To Badger Nine

The Oregon varsity baseball team did not take time out to recuperate from its recent disastrous four game series in which a 10-inning contest was dropped to the Linfield college nine, 5 to 4; a loss to Pacific, 8 to 7, a win, 8 to 4, and a close defeat, 10 to 8, in a 11-inning fray.

It was a hard working squad that worked last night with only Arnie Kiminki four days intervening before the Webfoot nine invades Corvallis for the first two conference games. The local diamond was too wet for infield work, but Coach Billy Reinhart put his men through a strenuous session of batting and sliding practice.

Hitting Carnival
Last Saturday morning's contest was a battle of base hits in which the Pacific University Badgers garnered 16 and the Lemon-yellow nine but 10. The visitors started with one run in the first, but the varsity retaliated with 3 in the third and held the lead until the seventh. Pacific gained two runs in the eighth. Oregon then drove out four singles making them count for four runs. Pacific scored two in the ninth, one in the tenth and two in the eleventh for a hard fought victory.

Mimnaugh Needed at Plate
The big trouble that confronts Reinhart is to find an able first sacker. George Mimnaugh filled in during the series and performed exceptionally well with 37 putouts, but he is needed behind the plate. Ira Woodie, who alternated with Jones behind the windup, clearly showed that he needs more training before assuming control of the first string berth.

Les Johnson, at second, will probably become a permanent fixture. His performance during the series was good considering that this is his first year on the varsity. Don McCormick at third possesses a good whip over the diamond to first. He fields well, and at the plate gets more than his share of hits.

Dahl for Short
The shortstop position seems to be still in the air with Arnie Kiminki and Bill Eddy fighting it out for honors. Eddy alternated with Kiminki during the recent series but didn't have much of a chance to show his ability. He probably fields more accurately than Kiminki. Kiminki's big advantage is at the plate. In the Linfield game he crashed out two safe blows. Saturday's contest saw him rap out three singles in four times at bat. Dave Epps played the left position of the outer garden to a good advantage and is probably there to stay. With Jones in the outfield at center, Dutton, Kuhn and Gould are surviving candidates for right field. Gould's hitting was not up to his standards of last year when a member of the freshman nine. Evidently seeking revenge for the defeat of the varsity earlier in the day, the frosh scored a glorious 20 to 1 victory over the Albany college team in the afternoon. Not a hit was registered off the pitching of McDonald and Fuller and a lone tally resulting from an error prevented the frosh from shutting the visitors out. Fourteen of the opposing batters were retired via the strikeout route during the course of the game.

Flashes of real form in fielding and baserunning in addition to the pitching was shown by the yearlings. Six errors by the visitors accounted for several of the frosh runs although 14 bingles were hung up by them. Coach Spike Leslie used 15 players during the game.

R. O. T. C. Has Annual Review Under Gaze Of Army Inspectors

A band was heard playing a military march, bright colors peeped out from the frs of the graveyard, and then long khaki-clad lines emerged from the shadows onto Kincaid field where "the weather permitted" that there be a slack in April showers for a time, so that the Oregon unit of R. O. T. C. might hold its annual review. Thus approached the "light Brigade" of the University, which later, after a series of drills and maneuvers, was to receive commendation from Major R. M. Danford, F. A., and Major C. H. Bonesteel, Inf. of Washington, D. C.

The entire unit of the University of Oregon R. O. T. C., consisting of about 410 men, participated in the review, which passed for inspection yesterday at 3 o'clock before Majors Danford and Bonesteel, who have been making a tour of inspection, visiting various senior division units that have been recommended this year for a rating by the war department in "The Distinguished College Inspection" class. Although they are to select the thirteen college units which they consider the best of the twenty-three west of the Mississippi river, only eight have been visited so far. According to Major Danford they have been much impressed by "the nice unit, fine spirit, and good band" that were displayed today.

Major Waddill of this corps area of the R. O. T. C. was also a campus visitor for the inspection from San Francisco.

Cadet Captain R. A. Muir acted as battalion adjutant during the inspection, with W. F. James as lieutenant colonel. Bill Kidwell was in charge of Company B; Bert Kerns, Company C; A. W. Christensen, Company D; Joe Price, Company E; and B. A. Serfling, Company F.

has resulted a lack of effectiveness. "Inasmuch as the constitution is generally conceded to be supreme over all other existing by-laws, rules and regulations, the administration does not feel any hesitancy in offering this amendment for the sake of harmony with the constitution," Biggs declared. Students who framed the amendment are: Lowell Baker, Thomas Graham, Phil Bergh, Ted Larsen, Mary Clark and Glenna Fisher. The issue will be decided April 28 when the student body votes.

Intramural Tilt For Water Polo Set This Week

Games to be Played on Tuesday, Thursday And Saturday

With a three day schedule weekly, intramural water polo tournaments will begin this week, with seven teams entered, is the announcement made by Ed Abercrombie, coach.

Teams matched for contests thus far are: Sigma Nu vs. Friendly hall; Delta Tau Delta vs. Chi Psi; Beta Theta Pi vs. Independents. Sigma Pi Tau has drawn a bye for the week.

The pool is available for practice every day at 4 o'clock, said Abercrombie, with goal nets and balls supplied. The scheduled periods for meets are Tuesday and Thursday at 7 o'clock in the evening and Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

"Scheduled games must be run off within one of the three weekly periods to be mutually agreed upon by the contestants," explained Abercrombie. "Teams should inform the physical education department not later than noon of the day the game is to be played, and officials and equipment will be supplied," he said.

Not much is known of the comparative strength of the teams entered, but the Independents loom as a strong contender, with Kirkham and Dungan on their squad. Kirkham won the cross-channel swim and Dungan placed second in that event which was held last term. Glen Howard and Roger DeBusk are regarded as the strong points of the Sigma Nu team, while the Betas rely on Kittle and Mason. Opinions hint that the Delt squad, headed by McAlpin, are to be feared by opponents. Chi Psi has Taylor Eccles as their threat.

The game is yet in the experimental stage, stated Abercrombie, but it is hoped that it will prove sufficiently popular to be listed in the fall as an intramural activity.

Seniors Must Attend All Classes Leap Week; Changes Made in Plans

The latest complications to set in on Senior Leap Week preparations have come from the faculty.

Seniors who have contemplated a three day rest from classes have gently but firmly been informed that they must necessarily attend their classes or be dealt with accordingly. As a result the Bow-Wow Brawl given by the Tri Deltas and the Alpha Chi Omegas Thursday afternoon and the Kappa Koffee to be given by the Kappas Friday afternoon will be held from 4:00 to 6:00 instead of 3:00 to 5:00 as formerly planned.

In addition to these two events of the week and the Bar Room Bust which will serve as a grand finale to the week-end, a Gamma Phi Theta dinner dance is being planned for Thursday evening with Janet Fenstermacher as chairman. The affair will be strictly informal, sport clothes being in order. The dance will begin at 6:30 and end at 9:30 and will be given at the Gamma Phi house. All girls intending to go should make their reservations with Lee Luders at 772 by Tuesday evening.

have his other political designs destroyed by the press. This so often happens when a young man, who has been successful in politics in college, believes himself capable of running the entire university with his mighty hand. But in most cases, what does the student body president know about the intricate problems of a publication? He probably has heard of galleys, ems, linotype machines, and type lice, and that is about the extent of his knowledge. Yet he wants to dictate the policy of the newspaper. "The editor of the Oregon Emerald is fighting for his rights; he is fighting for his liberty; he is fighting for free speech. May he have success! If he wins his fight, his next duty is to write an editorial criticizing the student body president."

Dear friends:

What would you think of a lawyer who took your case and then went around over town telling folks all about it?

So would I!

Same way in buying jewelry. There are times when you'd really prefer that nobody knew what you were buying in the gift line—an engagement ring, for instance.

That is a service you get at this store without asking for it. The folks here understand that rule and abide by it. The boss is absolutely hard-boiled on that subject.

Relay Carnival Scheduled for Next Saturday

State High School Track Teams to Compete on Hayward Field

A desire to stimulate track in the high schools of the state of Oregon prompts those in charge of athletics at the University of Oregon to hold a big Relay Carnival for the high schools. The relay carnival will be held on Hayward field, April 23.

Since the discontinuance of the state track meets held at the Oregon Agricultural College, and the University of Oregon there has been a lack of incentive for high school boys to consider track a major sport. To help rehabilitate track, the University proposes to conduct annually a big state high school relay carnival and hopes, a big state track meet for all high schools.

In order to bring track back it will be necessary for the high schools to expend some effort and make some sacrifices, as well as those conducting the meet, say officials.

The University will conduct the meet, furnish the officials, supply suitable trophies, and entertain all entrants and their coaches. It can not, however, undertake to guarantee the transportation of so many as have indicated a desire to enter this meet. There will be an admission charge, and whatever amount is taken at the gate will be pro-rated among the schools.

Paper Chase Won by Oregon Riding Team

Oregon equestrians again captured the intercollegiate paper chase blue ribbon trophy when they defeated the riding teams of O. A. C. and the University of Washington. Last year the Oregon riders also won. Nat McDougal, of the Portland Hunt club, laid the trail over a four mile course at the club, over which the race took place.

OLD GOLDS SURELY WILL TICKLE YOUR TASTE BUT THEY NEVER WILL TICKLE YOUR THROAT

1. "O'Connor," said the chief of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, "I want you to go out and find a cough in an OLD GOLD Cigarette."

2. "Righto!" replied "Fearless Dan" O'Connor, the trooper who had never failed to get his man. "That's a cinch," he said to himself as he mounted his horse and rode out into the Canadian wilderness.

3. One year later, to the day, "Fearless Dan" stumbled into Headquarters, empty-handed... foiled.

4. "I've worn out eight horses and covered 9,582 miles," he gasped, "but I couldn't find a single cough in OLD GOLDS."

5. "But I did find one thing... the best cigarette I've ever smoked... OLD GOLDS."
