McDONALD: First day: "White Gold," a tremendous drama of a beautiful woman, and three men... one who loved her, one who wanted her, and one who hated her. The picturization of this compelling stage drama has been acclaimed by press and public as the outstanding dramatic production of the year, with Jetta Goudal, Kenneth Thomson and George Bancroft featured; also, the next to the last adventures of "The Collegians," those sparkling comedies of campus capers; on the stage: Sharkey Moore and the melody making Merry-Macks in "Woodland Echoes," with "Miss Eugene," (Renee Grayce Nelson) soprano soloist, twice nightly, at 7:28 and 9:42; Oregon Pictorial News, featuring Mayor Williamson and the twelve most beautiful girls in Eugene, taken during the recent "Beauty Contest;" Frank Alexander in solo and setting on the super-organ.

Coming (Monday): Clara Bow in Elinor Glyn's "It," a captivating

comedy romance of personality plus, with the vivacious Clara in her most captivating role, supported by Antonio Moreno and a star cast; (soon) "Men of Steel," with Milton Sills and Doris Kenyon; John Barrymore in "Don Juan."

REX: First day: Ken Maynard in "Somewhere in Sonora," a thrilling romance of the west, with the screen's newest favorite hot in pursuit of adventure in the land of dark eyed señoritas and blackhand plotters, with Kathleen Collins co-featured; comedy, "Jane Misses Out," a laugh in every foot; International News and Bray cartoon; John Clifton Emmel at the organ.

Coming (Monday): Monte Blue and Patsy Ruth Miller in "Wolf's Clothing;" Buster Keaton in "The General;" Marie Prevost in "Getting Gertie's Garter."

COLONIAL: Today and Saturday: Colleen Moore in "Irene," with the world's greatest style show in natural colors. A festival of fashion. Pathe news and a comedy.

President Hall Will Address B'nai B'rith

President Arnold Bennett Hall has made comparatively few engagements for the coming weeks, as he plans to spend as much time as possible in Eugene. He will be in Portland Wednesday and Thursday of next week, and while there will address the B'nai B'rith society at their club house.

The following week President Hall will speak before the Oregon branch of the American Institute of Bankers in Portland. He is scheduled for several commencement addresses during the latter part of next month.

Geology Camp Course In Wallowa Mountains

Twelve students have already signed up for the geology camp course which will be given in the Wallowa mountains from June 15 to July 13, according to reports from Dr. Warren D. Smith of the geology department.

Six days a week will be used in the work, and seven term hours of credit may be earned. The total expenses, exclusive of transportation, amount to fifty dollars. For several years this field work has been carried on in different places, once in the Ashland country, another time near the Three Sisters.

On the latter trip E. T. Hodge and his students made the discovery of ancient Mt. Multnomah.
