

Music Lecture To be Given by Sigmund Spaeth

Campus to Hear Author Of Clever Anthology Next Tuesday

By BARBARA BLYTHE
Have you read "Read 'em and Weep," by Sigmund Spaeth, and one of the late best sellers? If you have, you will surely want to hear Dr. Spaeth when he comes to the campus next Tuesday, May 10, as the last speaker on the student lecture series for this year.

Dr. Spaeth's book has fulfilled the demand that has been circulated for more and more of the old songs and ballads that used to throw the country into convulsions of sentimental harmony. Dozens of the old favorites that would otherwise have been lost forever are presented in the book.

But "Read 'em and Weep" is more than just an anthology of songs. Words and music are presented but more than that, each song is accompanied by an entertaining history of its author, its time, and the actors or actresses who made it famous, as well as a multitude of the keen, mirthful footnotes for which Dr. Spaeth is famous.

Sigmund Spaeth is a favorite chairman at smokers and musical parties of all kinds in New York. He was a successful song leader during the war and for the last few years has been in demand throughout the United States as a platform speaker.

Among the various subjects on which Spaeth lectures, all of which have a definite personal interest, are: "The Common Sense of Music," which explains how to remove painlessly the inferiority complex of the average listener; "America's New Folk Music," which answers the question, "What shall we do with our Jazz?"; and "Exposing the Close Harmony Gang," explaining why unregulated mankind breaks into song practically without encouragement.

Dr. Spaeth's subject for his lectures on May 10 has not yet been determined but it will be a lecture adapted to his audience and will be supplemented by illustrations on the piano.

Phi Beta Kappa Will Discuss New Members

Phi Beta Kappa will meet next week to discuss members to be delegated to membership this spring. The annual spring meeting of the Oregon chapter, and initiation, will be held Wednesday afternoon, May 25th. The address will be given by Dr. Ira B. Cross, professor of economics at the University of California, said M. H. Douglass, secretary of the Oregon chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Caps and Gowns Must Be Ordered by May 7

Saturday, May 7, is the last day that commencement announcements and caps and gowns may be ordered, according to Ralph Staley who is in charge.

Caps and gowns are $5, half of which will be refunded upon return of the outfit. Orders must be placed at the University Co-operative store.

Try-outs for W. S. C. And Rooks Meets to Be At 3:30 This Afternoon

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock varsity track aspirants who excel in the 120 high hurdles, 880 and pole vault events, will be picked by Bill Hayward, track mentor, to represent the lemon-yellow against W. S. C. this week-end.

The meet with Washington State was planned for Friday afternoon, to allow participants to go to Corvallis on Saturday and view the O. A. C.-Washington track meet but the time has been shifted back to Saturday afternoon.

"The limiting of track squads to 18 men," Hayward stated, "will make it difficult to say in advance, what men will be chosen for the squad."

Try-outs for the frosh-rook meet to be held on Hayward field Friday afternoon, will also be held this afternoon. The yearlings will have trials in the 110, 220, 880, and mile events.

Mrs. Beck Surveys Seattle Music System

Anne Landsbury Beck, instructor in the school of music, returned yesterday from a week-end trip to Seattle where she made a complete inspection of the public school system of that city. She made a survey of all phases of the work in music from the grades through the high schools, and reports that she found a very splendid and well-organized music system. Mrs. Beck also conferred with Miss McClure, director of music in the Seattle public schools, on the public school music question.

New Student Officers To be Installed May 12

Newly elected student body officers will assume their duties after May 12 when they will be installed at the last A. S. U. O. business assembly of the term to be held in the Woman's building.

Donald Beelar, after being sworn into office by Hugh Biggs, outgoing president, will deliver a short talk in which his policies for the coming year will be briefly mentioned. Biggs plans to give an informal farewell address.

Other officers are to be sworn in collectively. A musical program of instrumental and vocal numbers will take up the remainder of the hour.

Mrs. Charles Beebe Makes Donation to Oregon Medical School

$2,000 has been presented to the University of Oregon medical school by Mrs. Charles Beebe of Portland. The gift was made for the purpose of buying an instrument for the accurate diagnosis of disorders of the heart, and is known in medical language as the electro-cardiogram.

The instrument will be used not only by the medical school, but also because it is so expensive, by the Doernbecher Memorial hospital for children, the Multnomah county hospital and the Portland free dispensary. This instrument completes the equipment of the school in apparatus for studying heart defects and diseases.

Mrs. Beebe gave the gift in memory of her husband, General Charles Beebe. It supplements a corresponding gift recently received from Miss Mary Falling, which was installed in the Multnomah county hospital.
