At this time Don McCook will give exchange tickets which will be placed first and after these are all arranged the remainder of the house will be open to everyone including the townspeople.

Drama

is a graduate of the University of Oregon with the class of 1913. Since then she has received her M.A. degree from here. Miss Carruth was affiliated with Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary national music fraternity. "Cajun" by Ada Jack Carverm was staged by the McMinnville group. A story centered about the time that the first cousin law was passed in Louisiana, makes an interesting play. The situation was one where a wedding is all set and they await the bridegroom who has gone for a license. Upon his return he tells that a license is unobtainable. They decide to go to Mississippi to get married. The mother objects saying she wants a priest to marry them in her home. The girl says that marriage is absolutely necessary under the circumstances. Taking part in the cast were, Elizabeth Davidson, Mary Bollen, Gene Inskeep, Frederick Paul, Leon Redmond and Warren Dunn.

Mrs. Glennie Nae Early, the director, is a graduate from the University of Wichita, Kansas. She is an English instructor, and dramatic coach, at McMinnville. "The Flower of Yeddo" by Victor Mapes, is a Japanese comedy, in which a poet falls in love with a young woman, who scorns him. She decided to try his worth. First she sends a friend as a dancing girl to tempt him. He remains true. She sends a warrior to prove his courage and he proves brave. Then she comes herself to test his honesty and generosity. In the end they disclose their mutual love, and all ends well. Taking part were Wendall

Ball, Susan De Moss, Margaret Lee and Regina Dusenberry. Miss Libbie Krichesky was the director of the above play. She is a graduate of Reed college. Miss Krichesky is head of the English department at Corvallis, and dramatic coach.
