

George Rebec Asked to Give Two Speeches

Southern Oregon Norm, San Francisco Club Sends Requests

Clubmen Show Interest In Junior College

Dr. George Rebec, dean of the graduate school, has accepted an invitation to deliver the first commencement address at the new Southern Oregon Normal school, at Ashland, on June 14. The subject for his address has not yet been selected.

A further honor has been accorded Dr. Rebec in the form of an invitation to address the Commonwealth Club of California, at San Francisco, sometime in August or September. The exact date is undetermined but the dean will speak on the subject of "The Future of Higher Education in America."

Public Affairs Interest

The Commonwealth Club is an organization of public-spirited men interested in public affairs rather than in the mutual promotion of members' private businesses. It served as the model for the City Club, of Portland.

Composed of men from all walks of life, the club membership contains experts on many questions. When a question of public importance arises, a committee of men qualified in the particular field involved is appointed to investigate and to gather disinterested information which is disseminated over the state. Experts from outside the club membership are frequently called in to address the club.

Press Dispatches Attract

Dr. Rebec's call came as a result of press dispatches telling of his address before the City Club of Portland on the same subject, also because of publicity given the adoption of the junior college plan by the University of California, said Dr. Rebec, is now confronted with the junior college problem, which, coupled with the growing interest in higher education in general throughout the country, lead to investigation by a committee of the Commonwealth club and his invitation to speak before it.

Committee Makes Rule On Housing Problem

The increasing popularity of small apartments, and the recent building boom has caused the problem of the housing of women students to become acute, according to the housing committee of the University, which has decided that after this term no girls will be allowed to live in apartments without adult chaperones.

Public apartments and hotels have never been approved as living quarters for girls, according to Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, dean of women, who is on the committee with Mrs. Charlotte R. Donnelly, employment and rooming secretary. Girls have been allowed to live in apartments approved by the committee with the written consent of parents and the dean of women.

Co-eds at California, Washington, and other sister colleges are not allowed to live in apartments unchaperoned, said Mrs. Esterly, so the situation here has been exceptional, rather than the rule.

There will be a few housekeeping suites on the approved list next year available for women students.

Equestrian Drill to Commence Week-end

Every day this week has seen the girls in the horseback riding classes practicing on the drill which is to be the first feature of Junior Week-end, starting at 9:15 on Friday morning, on Kincaid field.

It promises to be an artistic event, according to Eleanor Glass, who is head of the sport. The girls will appear in white costumes, and will give many drills, wheel formations, and other such that appear in the equine repertoire.

Those taking part are: Margaret Clark, Katherine Delanty, Ruth Corey, Kathleen Rogers, Frances Simpson, Grace Creighton, Dorothy Baker, Catherine Clendening, Marian Leach, Louise Clark, Sarah Starr, Luola Benge, Margaret West, Helene Oates, and Agnes Petzold.

Marine Zoology Summer Course Plans Completed

Dean Powers Arranges Student Excursion Trip July 3-4

Alfred Powers, dean of the extension division, who last week visited Sunset Bay with Professor H. B. Yocom, of the zoology department, reports all plans completed for the marine zoology course which will be given there this summer.

Dean Powers also went to Bandon to make final arrangements for the excursion there July 3-4.

A new road is being built to the station at Sunset Beach, he said, which will be finished in time to make transportation easier for the summer students. The boy scout cabin which has been secured is spacious and comfortable with a fireplace and a porch overlooking the ocean.

Girls will occupy one end of the cabin, and the men will use tents on the bluff. Total expenses for the summer course, transportation included, will be but $88.

Accommodations for at least two hundred summer session students are being made for the fourth of July excursion. A special train will take the group to Coquille, where busses will await to bring them to Bandon Beach.

Reservations are made with the three hotels there, and the salt water natatorium and open beaches will make swimming available to all. A clam-bake or some sort of sea food feed will be held on the beach that evening.

Groups will be taken across the river, by arrangement of the chamber of commerce, to see the well-known Bandon light house. Tugs will also carry those who wish out into the ocean where they can see Bandon rock, the stone that looks like a human face.

Next day the students will go south to Port Orford, the center of the world-famous cedar, where they may visit Battle Rock, the scene of one of the old Indian quarrels. Stages will take the group to Gold Beach and Cape Blanco over the most picturesque section of the Roosevelt highway, according to Powers' plans.

Monday night, July 4, the students will again reach the campus. Expenses will be kept between twelve and fourteen dollars if possible.

Me and the joy-friend... Prince Albert

WHEN my father was in college, "Put that in your pipe and smoke it!" was considered snappy conversation. I'm ready to take this old line literally when the talk centers around Prince Albert. Because P. A. makes two of what I like in a pipe.

All wise-cracking aside, P. A. is the money when it comes to deep-down satisfaction in a smoke. It's got everything! Cool as the trail of the ice-man across the kitchen. Sweet as vacation. Fragrant as a pine forest.

Think up your own similes. You'll write them all in the column headed "Superlative Degree" when you learn the joys of a jimmy-pipe and Prince Albert. If you don't know this grand old smoke, come around to my room and I'll give you a load.

Blind man's buff

Remember the game? A handkerchief over your eyes . . . your hands searching for someone, feeling blindly over features your eyes could so easily know. It seems foolish—deliberately to blindfold yourself and go searching. You wouldn't blindfold yourself deliberately when you start out in search of purchases that help make life a game.

If you read advertisements first, you are spared the doubts and mistakes. Advertisements take the handkerchief off your eyes. They equip you with keen vision. They lead you direct to the shaving cream that will give most freshness to your skin, to the most tempting clothes, to the sparkling drinks most pleasing. They put in your hands familiar good things guaranteed to please.

You can't afford to buy under a blind man's buff. Read the advertisements to avoid the blindness—and the buff. Don't overlook these today.
