The hustle and bustle of Junior Week-end with the many athletic events and the annual Junior Prom kept the campus busy not only during the week-end but for several days before. Many engagements were announced during the last few days and many alumnae were visitors on the campus.

The annual Junior Prom had the distinction of being the first student body dance to be held in McArthur court. Transformed into an Aztec palace with colored lights reflected on the elaborate designs, the pavilion made a wonderful scene for the last dance of the college year. About 500 couples were present.

The Indian atmosphere was intensified by the arrival on horseback of an "Aztec maiden" who climbed to the heights of the balcony and there gave an interpretive dance against a background of a pagan altar.

In the receiving line were Governor and Mrs. Patterson, President and Mrs. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, Dr. and Mrs. John Straub, Judge and Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Onthank, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Walker, Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Rorer, Dean and Mrs. William G. Hale, Dean and Mrs. H. D. Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Washburne, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Zane, and Mr. George Turnbull.

The engagement of Miss Nona Proctor to Mr. Campbell Church was made known at the Phi Delta Theta house in a very novel manner last Friday evening. Mr. Church showed a five-reel motion picture of his trip in Alaska last summer, for which he assembled the members of the fraternity in the living room after dinner. After the last picture, a slide flashed on the screen announcing the engagement.

Miss Proctor is the daughter of A. Philimster Proctor, famous sculptor and the artist who made the statue of "The Pioneer" which stands in front of the library. Miss Proctor recently returned from Paris where she was attending school. Mr. Church, who is a resident of Eugene, is a junior on the campus and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Tiny corsages and violets and sweet peas marked the covers at the Founder's Day breakfast Sunday at which members and pledges of Sigma Beta Phi were hostesses. The patronesses present were Mrs. A. E. Roberts, Mrs. L. E. Bean, Mrs. Robert Thompson, and Mrs. W. G. Beattie. Additional guests were Miss Mary Kirkwood, Miss Dorothy Cushman, and Miss Margaret Acherman.

News of the betrothal of Miss Marian Linn to Mr. Merrill C. Williams of Long Beach, California, came as a surprise to her many friends on the campus. Miss Linn was formerly a resident of Eugene and was very active while on the campus, being a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and Mu Phi Epsilon. Following graduation, she attended Harvard University where she obtained the degree of master of arts. Mr. Williams attended the University of Nebraska and was affiliated there with Delta Upsilon fraternity. The announcement was made at a Mu Phi luncheon in Long Beach, California. The wedding will take place this summer.

News of the engagement of Miss Mildred Archibald and Mr. Joe Frazer was received at the Phi Delta Theta house last week. Miss Archibald attended the University of Idaho where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta. Mr. Frazer graduated from the University of Oregon with class of '26 and is now working for the General Motors Acceptance Corporation. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta. The wedding will take place in August.

After the Junior Prom on Saturday night, the announcement of the engagement of Miss Kathryn Short and Mr. Harold Brumfield was made at the Delta Gamma and Alpha Tau Omega houses. The table at the Delta Gamma was decorated with black and white tapers and each place was marked with a corsage carrying heart-shaped cards with the names of the two printed upon them. Both young people are seniors in the University and Mr. Brumfield was recently selected as honor graduate in the military department.

Miss Margaret Beans, Miss Margaret Van Horn, Miss Saralette Phelps, and Miss Margaret Ault were guests at the Delta Gamma house for Junior Week-end. They are all attending the University of Washington.

Miss Ethel Montgomery announced her engagement to Mr. Ralph Herron at the Kappa Delta house on Friday evening. The table was decorated with a large pink hat as a centerpiece with a band around it asking that the news it contained be "kept under your hats." Little folders with the pictures of the couple were drawn from the hat by little pink ribbons which led to each place. Rosebuds, sweet peas and cream colored tapers decorated the table. The favors were miniature pink hats.

Miss Montgomery is a senior in the University, and Mr. Herron is attending the medical school in Portland where he is affiliated with Nu Sigma Nu, medical fraternity. The date of the wedding has not been set.

Miss Helen Dodd, who was a student in the University last year, was a guest at the Chi Omega house for Junior Week-end. Miss Dodd would have been a sophomore if she had returned to school this year.

Miss Ruth Creager and Miss Beth Sutherland were guests at the Alpha Delta Pi house for the week-end. Miss Frances Pratt also visited the house from the Corvallis chapter.

Mrs. A. W. Arnold, Mrs. T. P. Blair, Mrs. E. L. Graham, and Mrs. W. B. Hare were all guests at the Pi Beta Phi house visiting their daughters, Miss Margaret Arnold, Miss Vivian Blair, Miss Coral Graham, and Miss Frances Hare.

The O. A. C. chapter of Delta Delta Delta entertained the Oregon chapter with a tea dance held at the Corvallis chapter house on Saturday afternoon. About fifteen members of the Oregon chapter attended.

Miss Jean Velm, Miss Betty Clark, and Miss Inez Plumb were guests at the Pi Beta Phi house Saturday and Sunday. They are members of Oregon Beta chapter at Corvallis and were in Eugene to attend the Prom.

Miss Helen Shank, former society editor of the Emerald, was a guest at the Delta Delta Delta house for the week-end. Miss Shank came down from Portland on Friday and returned on Sunday.

Mrs. Richard McLardy (Mary Alice Ball) was a guest at the Alpha Phi house on Saturday. Mrs. McLardy is now living in Albany. Miss Margaret Vincent and Miss Josephine Purcell of Portland were also guests at the house for the week-end.

At the home of her aunt, Mrs. Caroline Benson Unander, Miss Georgia Benson was married to Mr. Paul Linton Patterson on Monday evening. Only a few friends and members of the family were present. Mrs. Glenn Hall of Seattle, sister of the groom, acted as the matron of honor and Miss Margaret Macgowan was bridesmaid. Mr. Hubert Brazeau acted as best man. The couple will be at home in Hillsboro after June first.

At a quiet ceremony on Thursday, May 12, in Marshfield, Miss Geneva Smith was married to Mr. Arnold Hasle. Miss Smith's father, Reverend James A. Smith, came from Portland to read the ceremony. The couple left for a short wedding trip and then Mr. Hasle left for Long Beach, California, where he has been transferred by his business firm. Mrs. Hasle will follow as soon as she has completed the year as a teacher in the Coos River high school.

Mrs. Hasle is a graduate of the University of Oregon, and a member of Alpha Phi sorority, where she was a guest this last week-end. Mr. Hasle attended the University of North Dakota and was affiliated with Kappa Psi Beta.

Communications

(Continued from page 2) guide the voting of the students at the polls Wednesday, but rather one of competence in the field, past experience that has proved ability. The loss of such office by the one capable is not, as some seem to think a loss to the students of the "shack," but a loss to the students of the University.

A Logical Incompatibility?

To the editor: What is wrong with making it compulsory that college students dance to the "Pipe of the Militant"? Will investigation reveal consistency?

This question is being asked spontaneously throughout our country. From the viewpoint of those who believe in freedom of the individual mind, and absolute tolerance, the most hopeful phase of the whole situation is that students in all parts of the United States are being moved to protest—some because they respect a spirit of freedom of thought; some because they object to the spirit of war; and a great many (a rapidly increasing number) because of a sense of humor aroused by the incongruity of the proceedings of the R. O. T. C. in an institution of higher learning.

A less encouraging aspect is to find educational authority ready to be indirectly caught with what some folks might wish to call, if they only dared, the "chaff of pseudo-educationalism." Along with a denunciation of war in the abstract, we are conducting an organization to pass on the habit of militarism—through means of compulsion!

In institutions jealous for freedom of thought nothing could be more subversive to the true aims of education than the inculcation of the military mind. Modern thought has, at least nominally, outgrown a feeling of allegiance toward perpetuation of traditionalism in our institutions. It is reasonable to believe that in an institution of rationalized thought, nominalism can give way to reality.

It may appear to be only incidental that militarism is being so widely discussed in its relation to free thought; but the idea of compulsory military training is on trial. The trial arises as an aspect of the inevitable articulation of minds in the making, under influence of modern thought, as opposed to that of the dark ages.

Student Optional Training Leagues conceivably have much to support their growth.

Experience.

To the Emerald Editor: When I read that a man who has never worked on the Emerald and is inexperienced is trying to defeat for the position one who had earned the job through Emerald work and through merit of the position, a number of questions suggested themselves to me.

Would you trust a legal case to a dentist?

Would you put a preacher in charge of an electric plant?

Would you ride in a passenger train if the engineer was an inexperienced schoolboy?

Why put a man in as editor who is not only inexperienced, but has not worked on the Emerald?

Is it unnecessary to study and practice journalism to run a paper successfully?

If so, why study to be a newspaper man?

If so, why should students spend time studying it in the University?

Should a man who has never worked on the Emerald be put in as boss over those who have spent their time in the University working on the Emerald doing technical work in order to be able the better to portray University news and life?

Can a man who has consistently opposed the Emerald staff as Bergh did in the case of the Emerald "gag rule" amendment (which failed miserably to pass) expect cooperation from the staff if he would be put in above them to boss them?

Can a man who in journalism fails to represent campus opinion as in the case of the Emerald amendment truly represent the University as editor of the student's paper.

A man who knows the job and can get staff co-operation should be elected.

First 'Junior Vod-vil' Manager Featured on Musical Bill Friday

Arthur Johnson, Oregon '23, will be the featured soloist on the program to be given at the school of music on Friday, May 27th, by Portland artists for the Oregon Music Teachers' convention. In the story of this young singer is found one of those accounts of unusual development and attainment in music that only occasionally makes an appearance.

During his days on the campus, "Art" Johnson was known for the diversity of his interests and activities. For three years he was a soloist with the glee club. He was a member of Fergus Reddie's Little Theatre "Company," manager of Guild theatre for a year, and for a time a teacher of "dramatics."

During his entire college career he was a library assistant in the circulation department, thus earning his way through school. For four years he was tenor soloist at the Congregational church and part of that time also held down the position of choir director at the Springfield Methodist church. As a junior he staged the first "Junior" Vaudeville, ever brought to actual production and before that managed a Y. M.-Y. W. "Mix" at which, for the first time, the two religious organizations sponsored a dance. Johnson was also active in "donut" debate and basketball. He appeared on innumerable musical programs and was one of the most ardent workers for the establishment of the University Concert series. Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Mu

Alpha honored him with membership.

Professors Listed To Give High School Commencement Talks

Eighteen Oregon high schools will hear members of the University faculty give commencement addresses this week. Thirteen professors are scheduled for talks.

W. G. Beattie, university lecturer, speaks Tuesday at Riverton, Thursday at Mapleton, and Friday at Harrisburg. Victor P. Morris of the economics department will address the high school in Umatilla, Thursday, and the one at Cottage Grove Friday.

President Arnold Bennett Hall is scheduled Thursday for the commencement exercises in Woodburn. High schools in Clatskanie and Rainier will hear James H. Gilbert, acting dean of the college, Thursday and Friday, respectively. H. W. Davis, University pastor, will speak at Yoncalla Thursday and Wolf Creek Friday.

Other addresses scheduled include: D. Oberbauer, member of the physical education staff, Thursday at Goldendale, Washington; Dean John F. Bovard, of the school of physical education, Friday at Langlois; Walter C. Barnes, professor of history, Friday at Sweet Home; N. B. Zane, of the school of architecture, Friday at Blachly; Dean E. C. Robbins, of the school of business administration, Friday at Oakland; L. A. Woods of the economics department, Friday at Dorena; E. E. DeCou, head of mathematics department, Friday at Kerby; Harold S. Tuttle, assistant professor of education, Saturday at Gervais.

Dear friends:

Out in front of the store the other day a lady broke her chain necklace as she stepped out of her car. She came right on into the store here and Mr. Skeie had the break repaired in short order.

Maybe you've had a similar accident. Or maybe you have some jewelry at home that needs repairing. Rings, necklaces, mesh bags, bracelets, silver table articles, etc.

Mr. Skeie repairs jewelry even better than I write ads. I couldn't recommend him any higher than that!
