

Eugene Society Gives Oratorio December First

Music Faculty Members To Carry Solo Parts In 'Messiah'

Handel's "Messiah," the first presentation of the reorganized Eugene Oratorio society, will be given at the Music building on Thursday evening, December 1, according to John Stark Evans, director.

Tickets for the event may be purchased early next week at the school of music and McMoran and Washburne's store. Since the seating capacity of the music auditorium is limited to 400, and the 200 members of the Oratorio have many interested friends, it will be necessary for other people to purchase tickets as soon as they are available.

All the main choruses of the "Messiah," including the famous "Hallelujah," will be given by the society, which is composed of both residents of Eugene and University students. Other choruses to be presented are "Glory to the Lord," "Glory to God," "Behold the Lamb of God," and the triple chorus, "Worthy is the Lamb," "Blessing and Honor," and "Amen."

The soprano solo parts to be carried by Madam Rose McGrew, professor of music, include a number of recitatives, "There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Fields," "And Lo, the Angel of the Lord Came Upon Them," "And the Angel Said Unto Them," "And Suddenly There Was With the Angel." John B. Siefert, also instructor in the school of music, will sing the tenor recitatives, "Comfort Ye My People," and "All They That See Him Laugh Him to Scorn." The alto recitatives and airs will be sung by Mrs. Prudence Clark, and the baritone solo parts by Eugene Carr, both University professors in voice.

The "Messiah" is particularly appropriate to the Christmas season and is noted for the stirring quality of its simple style. Although one of the earliest oratorios, it is still one of the most popular.

Another musical event of the near future, which is open to the faculty and University students as well as townspeople, will be the eighth annual presentation of the St. Cecilia Mass by the University choir, on Sunday, December 11, at the regular vesper hour. John Stark Evans will direct the choir and also play the organ accompaniment.

Volley Ball Game Won By Senior Girls' Team

The senior girls' volley ball team won from the freshman first team by five points in a fast game Monday afternoon.

Four more games were played off at the same time, the freshman third team winning from the sophomore by 12 points. The scores of the games were as follows: senior first 45, freshman first 35; freshman third 55, sophomore third 43; senior third 39, junior third 25; junior first 36, sophomore first 35. The junior second team won from the senior second team by default. All girls on volley ball teams are requested by Miss Duane to watch bulletin boards in the Woman's building and notices in the Emerald, as some necessary changes will be made in the schedule for the coming games.

Dear friends:

When you think of Christmas gifts, you just naturally think of jewelry, don't you?

And when you think of jewelry, of course you think of the Skeie's store. That's also natural.

I'm telling you again that this store is going to be regular Christmas headquarters this season. Yes, I know every other store in the United States says that same thing, but I'm going to stick to my statement just the same. This is headquarters!

The boss says to suggest that idea of mine again. He likes it. This is it. You select your gift now—a watch, pearl necklace, diamond ring, or anything—then pay something each week until Christmas time. Makes it easy for you, and you're sure of getting exactly what you want that way.

New York Herald-Tribune

Our advice is if you haven't made out your list of the ten best pictures of the year, don't do it until you see "The Fire Brigade."

The picture which opened at the Central Theatre last night is one of the pleasant surprises of the season.

New York Daily News

"The Fire Brigade" not only rhymes with "The Big Parade," but is as worthy a portrayal of the heroic deeds of peace as the other is of the deeds of war.

No scene in any picture has tingled my spine and made me sit up as straight as did the sight of those three gallant old fire horses racing alongside modern motor trucks, with the spark-smitting old steamer careening along behind.

Restraining myself considerably, I still must set down that it is a glorious picture and worth everybody's while to see.

A moment that grips the heart!
Another of her boys—heroes of peace—torn from her arms to face unknown perils!
