Vacation Marked By Social Affairs

As Christmas vacation approaches and only one week-end remains before examinations, the main subject for discussion is the holiday season and the multitude of social events that have been planned to take place during the much welcomed eighteen days of leave granted from classes and studying in general. Afternoons find students down town, rushing hurriedly from one store to another in an effort to do Christmas shopping, and on the streets, Christmas trees and holly being sold tend to add to the Christmas spirit and make a more cheerful atmosphere than ever.

Perhaps the largest college affair scheduled in Portland will be the Christmas College Ball at the Multnomah hotel, December 27. This is an annual dance given for the benefit of the foreign scholarship fund on the campus, and is sponsored by Women's League.

Tentative plans are being formulated for various dances, teas, and bridge luncheons in Portland and as usual, rushing parties will occupy a prominent place on the social calendar.

Miss McClellan To Be Married

The marriage of Miss Ellen McClellan to Kenneth Wilshire, whose engagement was announced last month, is to be solemnized on December 20, at 4:30 o'clock, at the Delta Delta Delta chapter house.

For the pleasure of Miss McClellan, Mrs. Kenneth Shumaker entertained at a lovely luncheon and trousseau shower at her home, Saturday afternoon, December 3.

Dance Honors Independent Students

Honoring independent students on the campus, the Girls' Oregon club and the Webfoot club, a newly organized group composed of non-affiliated men, sponsored an informal dance, Friday evening, December 2, in the dancing room of the Women's building.

In the receiving line were: Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, Mrs. H. D. Sheldon, Mrs. Evelyn Anderson, Dean Straub, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Horn.

At the Chi Omega and Phi Delta Theta houses Saturday night the announcement of the engagement of Miss Jane Bo Dine, of Portland, and Edwin Douglas Warren was told. Both Miss Bo Dine and Mr. Warren are graduates of the University of Oregon and the engagement came as a pleasant surprise to their friends on the campus.

Of interest to a number of college people was the marriage of Miss Alice Dellar to Arthur E. Kraus at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dellar, in Portland, at 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Dellar was a former University of Oregon student.

Mrs. E. E. De Cou has invited a few mutual friends of Miss Maude Kerns, who will leave soon for Europe, and Miss Alice Capps, who recently returned to Eugene from New England, for tea tomorrow afternoon, December 7.

Guests from the Oregon State College chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon visiting on the campus this week-end were Foster Timpink and Merlin McCormick.

Mrs. E. W. Hicks, of Portland, visited her daughter, Lavina, at the Alpha Xi Delta house last week.

Mr. Guy Young, of Sacramento, California, was a guest of Elmer Grimm at the Alpha Upsilon house last week-end. Mr. Young formerly traveled with the Ellison-White chautauqua company and is a brother of Miss Janet Young, a former University of Oregon student, who is now with the Moroni Olsen players.

William Giles, ex-'29; Robert Knight, ex-'28, and Orville Blair, '27, were guests at the Delta Tau Delta house Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. William B. Hare and Mrs. Jack Fletcher were week-end visitors at the Pi Beta Phi house.

George Barron, Vinton Hall, Bill Knight, Larry Ogic and Johnnie

Mohr attended a dance at the Phi Sigma Kappa house in Corvallis, Friday evening.

Robert Boggs and Calder McCall, former University students, spent the week-end on the campus.

Max Hubbs, '27, was a guest at the Alpha Tau Omega house last week-end.

Miss Elizabeth Lee Baker spent the week-end in Albany, the guest of Miss Iantha Smith.

Mrs. Cyrus M. Dolph visited her daughter, Miss Anne Louise Dolph, last Friday.

Students spending the week-end at Oregon State College were the Misses Agnes Palmer, Luola Bengoe, Dorothy Robinette, and Edith Pearson.

Miss Ina Lou Parkin, Miss Mary Louise Bo Dine and Misses Jane and Ruth Cochrane were week-end visitors in Portland.

Maurice Warnock, '26, was a guest at the Phi Kappa Psi house last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Cottrell, Mrs. Albert Rives and Miss Jeanette Dentler, all of Portland, spent last Friday at the Delta Delta Delta house.

Donald McCook, Robert Foster, Donald Jeffries and Larry Shaw attended an informal dance at Oregon State College, Friday evening, given by Theta Delta Nu fraternity.

Miss Mae Anderson and Miss Dorothy Franklin spent the week-end in Portland.

Mrs. Doy Gray, of Beaverton, visited last week with Miss Crete and John and Myron Grey.

Catalogue Announces Changes in Courses

Copies of the Correspondence-Study catalogue for 1928 were released from the press Monday afternoon. Several additions and revisions have been made since the last edition was published, the change having occurred in the education, psychology, and English sections. Problems of the Class Room, a new course, was written by Professor W. G. Beattie of the Extension division.

Moral Training, by Professor H. S. Tuttle of the educational department, is another new subject. Among other additional courses are Exposition, Narration, and Argument, by Miss Mary H. Perkins; Book and Play Reviewing, outlined by S. Stephenson Smith; Social Psychology, by H. G. Wyatt, professor of psychology last year; and Introduction to Modern Social Problems, compiled by Dr. P. A. Parsons, dean of the social work in Portland.

Revisions to the English and American Poetry course were made by Pat V. Morrissitte, and some changes in the Educational Psychology course were made also.

The purpose and aim of the correspondence school work is well explained by the diagram appearing on the cover of the new catalogue. An outline map of Oregon is covered with red lines which radiate from a brilliant dot representing Eugene.

Students Employed by U. S. Mail Department

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—(P.L.P.)—Over 500 U. C. L. A. students will receive post office employment through the alumni employment bureau, during Christmas recess. This exceeds last year's quota by 200; the reason for this is that last Christmas' mail was handled so successfully by the university employees, that the post office officials decided to use university students entirely as extra workers.

Last year, the average wage for two week's work was $50, although some earned as high as $130, while the lowest salary was $35; the average wage per hour was 65 cents.

Why God Made Hell

Do you know why? If you don't, you should learn NOW—at once. One reviewer has said: "When Dante went to Hell he must have steered clear of the roasting apparatus. . . it remained for Dr. Saubrah to interestingly and fearfully describe the nether regions." Over 2,000,000 have read it. Why not you? One Dollar post-paid.

Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Plans Included in Architectural Exhibit

Fantastic Creations by Ferris Show Cities in Air; University Sculptor Represented

Renderings from the office of John Russell Pope of New York of the winning design in the competition for the memorial to Theodore Roosevelt, to be erected at Washington, D. C., may be seen in the exhibit at the architectural gallery on the second floor of the art building, this week.

The essential idea of the monument is a single living stream of water, about two feet in diameter, symbolizing the life of Roosevelt, which will rise, gushing to a height of more than a hundred feet, and fall back into a decorative basin surrounded by colonnades arranged in circular form. The architect has planned that the monument should be coordinated with the general plan of the Capitol city.

Directly in line with the United States Capitol may be seen the Washington and Lincoln monuments. The Roosevelt memorial would be placed on the bank of the Potomac river directly across the city from the White House, and would thus be given equal prominence with these other historic structures.

One of the best points of the plan, according to John A. Walquist, a member of the architecture faculty, is that it is near the Potomac, yet does not obstruct the view to the river. "The structure has been magnificently conceived," he stated. Photographs of drawings by Hugh Ferriss, New York delineator and designer, which are imaginary solutions of the problem created in that city of high buildings, also appear in this exhibit. Many of Ferriss's drawings have been used to illustrate magazine articles. Some are mere fantastic creations, showing sidewalks elevated 50 stories above the street, quiet terraces and gardens lifted beyond the surge of city life. Other drawings represent buildings stepped back so that the light may filter down to the streets which are narrow canyons between the high buildings.

The pencil sketches by Otto Eggers, architect in the office of John Russell Pope, are finely drawn. Many have been used for magazine illustrations.

Among the photographs of executed work from the office of Goodhue Associates, New York, appear studies of the Nebraska State Capitol at Lincoln, Nebraska. Harry Camden, head of the sculpture department at the University of Oregon, did some of the modelling for this structure. The relief work shows up to good advantage in the pictures.

The exhibit, which was sent to the University of the American Institute of Architects, includes some architectural drawings from eastern schools, as well as the work of professional eastern architects. It will remain in the gallery this week and next.

Ship's Crew Nabs Novel Writer 'Getting Color'

(By United Press) HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 2.—Stephen McKenna, British novelist, was discovered in the steerage of the steamship Niagara bound from Sydney to Vancouver, here today.

When his identity was discovered McKenna was offered a first class cabin by the captain of the ship but refused it.

"It is really not so bad, you know," he said, "and in order for a writer to learn life he must live it."

McKenna, who wrote "Vindication," "An Affair of Honor," and a number of other well known novels, said he is collecting material for another book.

(Continued from page one) street, the most prosperous part of Tokyo, with the students, Messrs. Thompson, Hempstead and McCroskey. But as it was after the contest, we couldn't enjoy pleasantly.

And at last by the express train at 10:30 p. m. they left the Tokyo station for Osaka. At the last moment of their start from Tokyo so mysteriously good friendship was expressed between the two.

As I believe if only we do our best efforts to bring a good understanding with each other, really and truly, we shall be able to realize a good warm friendship between us, My Friend at Oregon!

As Mr. McCroskey shows, between countries, especially you and us, the real understanding and a warm friendship will bring "happiness" to us.

That's the Last Milestone, you see. If I could handle my pen
