

Montana Has Two Hoop Captains on Team

Southern Swimming Trip Is Unsettled; Bears Want Aquatic Meet

By RICHARD H. SYRING
Sports Editor

If captains help a collegiate hoop team, the University of Montana Grizzlies, who meet the Webfoots tonight in McArthur Court at 7:15, should be world beaters. On the Montana team are two captains, Cloyse Overturf, forward, and Sam Kain, center. Both men are playing their third year for the Missoula team, and it seems that instead of showing any partiality to one, Jack Benefiel both were accorded the honor this year.

In addition to the two captains, Coach "Doc" Stewart has one other experienced hoopster, Louis Wendt, a two lettered guardsman. Two of the Grizzlies' first stringers are hoopsters playing their first year of varsity competition. At one forward, paired off with Overturf, is Eddie Chinske. Carl Rankin, guard, is the other newcomer on the Montana team. Other performers include Hank Miller, forward, Ted Rule and Emil Percy, centers, and Ray Lewis and Jack Doherty, guards.

The Montanians have had fair luck so far this season. They dropped two contests to the fast moving Montana State quintet, 58 to 31 and 77 to 26. To lose two games to the Montana Bobcats is no disgrace, however. In the second Bobcat game a five-man defense proved impregnable to the Grizzlies, but Sam Kain and Eddie Chinske succeeded in scoring a few long shots.

Displaying a fast breaking offense which could not be checked, and putting up an air-tight defense when necessary, the Grizzlies ran up their highest score since entering the conference when they defeated the Washington State Cougars, 40 to 16. Chinske and Overturf were the outstanding performers in this contest. "Bud" Rankin, last year Cub star, scored nine points while playing guard.

Against the University of Washington Huskies last Saturday night, the Grizzlies used long passes and long shots but it was all to no avail and the Montana hoopsters lost, 44 to 24.

It looks like the varsity swimming team's trip into California is all off as far as Los Angeles is concerned. Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, said yesterday that he was unable to schedule a meet with the University of Southern California. Stanford is sending its swimming team east to compete, and have no money in their budget to help defray expenses of an Oregon team. With the elimination of these two, only California is left. The Golden Bear swimmers are willing to meet the Webfoots, but another meet would have to be scheduled near the Bay region in order to take care of the expenses. There is some possibility that the second meet could be arranged with the Olympic club of San Francisco or the Athens Athletic club.

Benefiel said the only other alternative in case a second meet couldn't be arranged for in the south, would be to bring the Californians to this campus. In order to do this the Oregon Aggies would have to be willing to schedule a meet also.

This is the way things stand at present but Benefiel hopes to have something more definite soon.

Last fall the aesthetic senses of the athletic world were shocked when several eastern college football teams entered into competition with knee-length pants of brilliant colors. Now, Coach Leo Calland of the University of Southern California Trojans, is planning something new for basketball. He is thinking of substituting silk for the ordinary wool as material with which basketball jerseys at the southern school are made. Calland believes that silk is much more fitted to California climate than wool.

Vesper Choir Makes First Appearance at Five o'Clock Today

The Vesper choir will make its first appearance of the term at five o'clock services, which will be held today at the Bungalow. Margaret Lee Slusher, junior in music, has just taken over leadership of the choir.

Glenna Heacock, who organized and directed the work last fall, is unable to continue this year; and Miss Slusher will take her seat on the Y. W. cabinet.

Daphne Hughes will lead the services. All Oregon women are invited. The program follows: Meditations.....Mary Harney Professional.....Vesper Choir Scriptural Reading.....Daphne Hughes "When Day Is Dying in the West".....W. Sherwin Vesper Choir Recessional.....Vesper Choir

Positions Open For Graduates Just Published

Many Departments Offer Assistantships and Fellowships

A list of various graduate assistantships and fellowships offered in the University of Oregon for the year 1928-29 has been released, and is being sent to other State universities. These positions are awarded annually for the promotion of graduate study and research, and are open to graduates of any standard university or college.

Graduate assistantships are open in many departments in both part-time and whole-time service. A teaching fellow renders part-time service to the University, and is expected to be more advanced in his graduate study than is the graduate assistant. A research assistant aids some faculty member in research. The positions open this year are of particular interest not only to other University graduates, but also to Oregon students who wish to continue work in the University with the aid of graduate appointments.

Except for occasional reappointments, the following positions will be available for 1928-29:

Animal Biology—One teaching fellowship, four graduate assistantships, two part-time graduate assistantships.

Architecture and Allied Arts—Two graduate assistantships.

Chemistry—Four graduate assistantships, three part-time graduate assistantships.

Economics—Two graduate assistantships.

Education—Four graduate assistantships.

English—One teaching fellowship, three graduate assistantships, four part-time graduate assistantships.

Geology—One teaching fellowship, two graduate assistantships.

German—One teaching fellowship, one graduate assistantship.

History—Three graduate assistantships, one part-time graduate assistantship.

Journalism—One graduate assistantship.

Latin—One graduate assistantship.

Mathematics—Two graduate assistantships, one part-time graduate assistantship.

Music—Three graduate assistantships.

Physical Education—One graduate assistantship.

Physics—Four graduate assistantships.

Psychology—Three graduate assistantships.

Romance Languages—One teaching fellowship, one graduate assistantship.

Sociology—One graduate assistantship.

Graduate School—Five research assistantships.

Extension Division To Renovate Courses

The correspondence courses conducted by the Extension Division are being revised to correspond with courses offered by the University, according to report given out by Dan E. Clark.

Te also stated that more classes are to be added so that a student who is forced to quit school may continue his work in regular courses by correspondence.

The correspondence course for January shows an increase in enrollment of 17 per cent over that of January, 1927.

Blanshard to Address Four Groups Today

Y. M. C. A. Brings Noted Expert on Problems In Industry

Economics Classes To Hear Laborite

Sigma Delta Chi Entertains At Luncheon

Paul Blanshard, author, labor expert, and traveler, who has lectured during the past two years to more than 75,000 students in the leading American universities, will speak today before two classes on the campus, and will address students and townspeople at 5 p. m. at the "Y" Hut on "From Henry Ford to Bernard Shaw."

"The story of the British Labor Movement" is to be his subject at 9 a. m. in 105 Commerce building. Blanshard is the author of the only American textbook on this subject now in use. He has visited Europe three times, making special studies of the British labor movement and the Italian Fascist.

Labor Is Subject

The subject for discussion at the 10 o'clock class in 110 Johnson hall is to be "Labor in the Southern Cotton Mills." "Blanshard is an authority," said L. A. Wood, professor of economics. "His talks are based upon personal experience, and investigation in the South."

"Where is Radicalism going?" Blanshard asks in his talk on "From Henry Ford to Bernard Shaw." He discusses the future of industrial society, from the Utopia of big business to the Utopia of Fabian Socialism.

Speaker Here Before

As field secretary for the League of Industrial Democracy, Blanshard has toured the country several times. He spoke here two years ago. Just now returned from a trip around the world, he brings first hand, vivid pictures of social movements in Japan, Soviet Russia, Denmark, and Great Britain.

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, will entertain Mr. Blanshard at its regular weekly luncheon this noon at the Anchorage.

Bill Schulze, president of the campus Y. M. C. A., under whose auspices Blanshard is coming, heard him address the Pacific Northwest Student Field Council of the Y. M. C. A. at Portland last Saturday, and declares that Blanshard compares very favorably with Kirby Page, noted lecturer on the outlaws of war, who was on the campus recently.

'Hit the Deck,' Musical Comedy From the East, At Heilig This Evening

"Hit the Deck," musical comedy playing at the Heilig theater tonight, is reputed in theatrical circles to be a very brilliant and successful presentation.

Its composer is Vincent Youmans, whose "No, No, Nanette" was such a success among music loving folk.

Its producer is Lillian Albertson, a familiar figure among prominent play producers, who not only sent "No, No, Nanette" on tour throughout the Pacific coast but also several other successes as "What Price Glory," "The Cradle Snatchers," and "Romance."

Already in its second year in New York and London, "Hit the Deck" has entered its sixth month in Chicago, and only recently closed a most successful run in San Francisco. In Los Angeles it is still displaying the "Sold Out" sign at every performance.

"Hit the Deck" is a story of the navy, and works with a smash and a dash that is enlightening. The height of the entertainment is reached when "Hallalujah!" is sung, then acted, then swayed and danced and interpreted in a dozen different ways.

The story of "Hit the Deck" is that of the stage triumph, "Shore Leave," that David Belasco presented with Frances Starr in the stellar role. The musical version follows the original closely.

The show begins tonight at 8:20.

Problems in Physics Discussed by Forum

Members of the Physics Forum met last night at the home of A. E. Caswell to discuss problems in physics. The group is made up of upperclassmen in the physics department and graduate assistants.

U. of W. Campus War Dies Down; 6 Confess To 'Ducking' Party

(By United Press)
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 6.—President Lyle M. Spencer today had postponed action on the punishment of eight University of Washington students who last Thursday night kidnapped Marion Zioncheck, president of the student body, hazed him and then threw him into Lake Washington.

Six of the eight who took part in the hazing have confessed their part and Spencer is waiting for the other two to admit their guilt before he decided on the punishment. Zioncheck, who was back at his classes today, has asked Spencer to deal with the hazers leniently.

The affair is said to have grown out of attacks which Zioncheck made on the handling of student affairs. His attack started a campus war which divided the student body into two factions.

Swimmers Send Multnomah Club To 50-18 Defeat

Pacific Coast Conference Records Are Topped By Webfoots

The Oregon varsity swimming team generously verified all pre-meet predictions by administering a 50 to 18 defeat to their formerly dangerous rivals, the Multnomah clubmen, in a return match with them Saturday night in the pool in the Woman's building. Two Pacific coast conference records topped unofficially; three P. N. A. records were set aside and another tied; and five University pool records were set up anew during the fast paced tilt with the club natators. This decisive exhibition of swimming skill by the Webfoot team places them well to the front in Pacific coast swimming circles.

A slender blond-haired lad on the Oregon squad named Johnny Anderson set the enthusiastic crowd of swim fans agog by easily out-distancing the club star, Dana Thomas, in the 40 yard dash. He covered the distance in :19.1, thus setting aside the recently established mark of Vanden Akker of Stanford, which was :19.4. Johnny demonstrated his versatility as a swimmer a few moments later when he stole glory from another Cardinal merman by finishing first in the 150 yard backstroke event in the remarkably fast time of 1:49.5, three-fifths of a second better than the time of Driggs of Stanford, 1:49.8, established as a coast conference record on January 27, 1928. Anderson has been steadily improving in form and stamina since starting training under the supervision of Coach Abercrombie.

Charles Silverman, with a surprising spurt of speed, finished the gruelling 440 yard swim six yards in advance of George Horsfall, thus clipping three seconds from the latter's P. N. A. record, and establishing a new mark for the northwest division of 5:43.8. The race was a steady grind and the two lead men were neck and neck until the last two laps, when Silverman, suddenly increasing the cadence of his smooth crawl stroke, rapidly widened the distance from his rival.

Breast-Stroke Wins

The breast-stroke race was patently a Webfoot event, and Julian Smith and Wade Newbegin captured the first and second positions. The new pool mark set by Smith in this race was 3:6.9.

Stocks, low board artist of the club team, took first honors in the fancy diving division. Stone and Thomson of Oregon placed second and third.

The tour into California contemplated by the swimmers is yet hanging fire because of lack of financial guarantee. But if the Oregon team does not get to meet the California team at Berkeley, it will probably have the privilege of meeting the Bear swimmers here February 25.

Schedule of Events

Following is a schedule of events, entrants and scores of the Multnomah meet:

40 yard dash: Time :19.1. Anderson, O, first; Floyd, O, second; Thomas, M, third.

440 yard swim: Time 5:43.8. Silverman, O, first; Horsfall, M, second; Hansen, M, third.

200 yard breast-stroke: Time (Continued on page four)

Eugene Will Greet Barker Wednesday

Portland To Welcome New Vice-President First, States Regent

Dr. Hall and Officials To Arrange Reception

Attorney Is Enthusiastic Over Prospects

(By United Press)
PORTLAND, Feb. 6.—Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University of Oregon, accompanied by Mrs. Barker, will arrive in Portland Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock, it is announced by C. C. Colt, member of the University board of regents. Mr. Colt will head a party which will meet Mr. and Mrs. Barker upon their arrival.

The new vice-president will spend Wednesday in Portland, visiting friends made while on a trip out here last summer, and Wednesday evening he will go to Eugene, where he will be welcomed by President Arnold Bennett Hall and other University officials.

Stay Several Days

He will remain in Eugene for several days, and while there will address the Oregon newspaper conference banquet Friday evening. He will then return to Portland.

Mr. Barker is already enthusiastic over his work in Oregon, and in a telegram to President Hall declared that he had succeeded in arranging his business interests so that he could come here several weeks before he had originally anticipated.

Talks to Money Men

Before leaving for Oregon, Mr. Barker spent considerable time with various educational foundations, and it is hoped that funds for various research projects at the University may soon be forthcoming.

The vice-president is well acquainted with many of the noted educators and philanthropists in the east and it is expected that he will interest many of these people in the educational needs of the state of Oregon.

U. S. Frowns on Cut In Tariffs at Havana

(By United Press)
HAVANA, Feb. 6.—Refusal of the United States delegation to agree to a proposal which sought reduction of tariffs today proved another stumbling block in the path of the sixth Pan-American conference.

The sub-committee of the conference which is attempting to formulate a preamble to the Pan-American union draft convention met in a two-hour private session but adjourned without reaching an agreement.

According to authoritative information emanating from the United States sources, the insistence of Honorio Pueyrredon, president of the Argentine delegation and ambassador to Washington, that the preamble contain a declaration of economic principles through reduction of "unnecessary barriers of trade" caused adjournment.

House Grade Ratings To Be Compiled Soon

House grades will be out during the first part of next week, if possible. Work was started on the averages last week, and is expected to be finished by a week from Wednesday, according to Miss Gertrude Stephenson of the registrar's office.

The house ratings will be compiled a little differently this term, and will contain the number of hours passed by each house, the number of points made by the house, the number of students in the house on November 22, and the rating.

No Preppers To Come For Junior Week-end

High school students and other prospective University students will not be entertained by fraternities during Junior week-end, according to a ruling made by the inter-fraternity council last Thursday at its regular meeting.

The council voted to continue the same regulation, adopted last year, making Junior week-end an affair solely for those attending the University.

Aggies Drub Montana Basketeers by 31-12 After Poor Beginning

(By United Press)
CORVALLIS, Feb. 6.—Oregon State College's basketball team had little difficulty in defeating the University of Montana, 31 to 12, here tonight, although it was very slow in starting to pile up its score. Montana was held to two field goals in each half.

Neither team scored a point in the first five minutes of play and when only five minutes remained in the first half the score was tied at four all. The local team then started shooting baskets from all angles and lead at the end of the half, 14 to 5.

Bill Burr of the Aggies was high scorer of the game with nine points. The Aggies used 12 men during the contest.

Term Dime Crawl Is Set by League For Wednesday

Mazie Richards Appoints Group Helpers; Two Houses Move

You did well last fall, campus eds. That is, you brought more dimes to the dime crawl than ever before. Do it Wednesday night for that is the date scheduled for the winter term crawl. Surpass the amount you brought to the fall term crawl, though, for the money goes to the foreign scholarship fund of Women's League, which this year is bringing Therese Chambelland, student from France, to the campus as a major in English.

The only changes in residence of women's houses for the evening that have been scheduled are Susan Campbell at Friendly Hall, and Delta Zeta at the College Side Inn. Any other who will be moving for the affair are asked to schedule their whereabouts with Mazie Richards, chairman of the foreign scholarship committee and in charge of the crawl.

Miss Richards also asks that both men's and women's houses plan an early dinner so that they will be ready to begin the crawl at 6:30. It will close at 7:30.

Those appointed by Miss Richards to take the money in the various women's houses are: Alpha Chi Omega, Lucille McDonell; Alpha Delta Pi, Virginia Hunt; Alpha Gamma Delta, Ruth Wonacont; Alpha Omicron Pi, LaWanda Fenlason; Alpha Phi, Elise Sundbom; Alpha Xi Delta, Ruth Felter; Chi Omega, Margaret Price; Delta Delta Delta, Katherine Kneeland; Delta Gamma, Pauline Prigmore; Delta Zeta, Elizabeth Jones; Gamma Nu, Margaret Underwood; Gamma Phi Beta, Jane Cullers; Kappa Delta, Eleanor McDermott; Kappa Alpha Theta, Helen Peters; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Marion Leach; Phi Mu, Ruth Street; Pi Beta Phi, Ruth Burcham; Hendricks Hall, Alice Collier; Susan Cambell Hall, Ione Wedemeyer; Sigma Beta Phi, Lucile Larsen; Three Arts Club, Janet Alexander; Thacher Cottage, Dorothy Southard; Oregon Club, Lois Tuttle.

Lindy Nearing Goal; Next Hop Takes Him To Cuba Conference

(By United Press)
PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Feb. 6.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh neared the end of his good will trail today, flying 160 miles from Santo Domingo to Haiti to be enthusiastically greeted by silk-hatted officials, American marines, and superstitious natives from the wild interior.

On Wednesday he leaves for his final destination, Havana, and the Pan-American conference, ending a circuitous flight of several thousand miles which began in Washington and has taken him to Mexico, Central America, South America, and the Caribbean islands.

Fully 100,000 persons joined in tumultuous greeting of Lindbergh as his plane landed and as he headed the parade to the home of American High Commissioner Russell.

The Grizzlies' starting lineup will include Overturf and Chinske, forwards; Kain, center, and Rankin and Wendt, guards. Ralph Colman, Corvallis, will referee, and Bill Milligan, Spokane, will umpire.

University Day Heads Will Meet Today at 5

All chairmen of committees for University day will meet in 110 Johnson hall at 5 o'clock today to talk over plans for the affair.

Virginia Judy Estery, dean of women, and Jeannette Calkins, alumni secretary, will give short talks regarding University day.

Chairmen should bring their reports, and it is very important that everyone attend, according to Edith Dodge, general chairman.

Amphibian Club Holds Tryouts at 7:30 Tonight

The Amphibian club, girls' honorary swimming club, will have its tryouts at 7:30 this evening in the Woman's building tank. Swimming tests for form and speed, and diving for form will be the deciding factors in the tryout, the requirement for which is membership in the senior Red Cross life-saving corps.

Since tryouts are held every term, the ones who fail to make the required grade may try for the club next term.

Montana Quint Plays Oregon Here Tonight

Webfooters and Grizzlies Battle on McArthur Court at 7:15

Teams Stand Even in Percentage Column

New Combination Probable For Contest

By JOE PIGNEY
The Webfootes will be seen in action tonight against Montana University at 7:15 in the last home game of the season. Oregon, having lost two straight conference battles, must win all the remaining six games to stay in the running for championship honors.

The Grizzlies and Webfootes stand even in the percentage column, Washington Huskies a close fight throughout the first half, the final score being 44 to 24.

Surprise Coming
William J. Reinhart declares that he has at last found a lineup which will keep the Webfooters in the title race. The Webfoot coach, however, refused to announce his combination, and is leaving the surprise for the opening whistle of the Montana tilt.

Dave Epps, moved from guard to forward in the Aggie contest, is being forced to extend himself to retain his job over Mervyn Chastain. Whichever of these two men are used, Gordon Bidings is a certainty for the other forward berth.

McCormick Stars
Center will either be Ick Reynolds or Scotty Milligan. If Milligan starts, the problem will be to bolster up the vacancy at guard.

Assumed that Milligan may start at center, Joe Bally and Don McCormick will break in at guards. McCormick was one of the outstanding players on the Oregon team last Saturday against the Beavers.

Sent in as a substitute, he connected for two field goals to help start the delayed Oregon rally. Reinhart believes that McCormick will give considerable offensive power to the strength of the team, and he will be a hard man to keep off the lineup the remainder of the season.

All Games Won
Montana has been a member of the conference since 1926, coming in during the winter that Reinhart had his greatest quintet. In the seasons that the Grizzlies have been included in the standings, Oregon has won all four games played. In 1926 the Webfoot defeated the Montana five 40 to 19 and 35 to 17 and repeated in 1927, 37 to 24 and 54 to 32.

Oregon is by no means eliminated from chances to win the championship of the northern division. The leading Huskies still have difficult hurdles in Oregon, the Aggies and Idaho. Oregon will play its first road game next Saturday night in Corvallis, and with the evenness of the two teams already evident the outcome of the battle is shrouded in doubt.

The Grizzlies' starting lineup will include Overturf and Chinske, forwards; Kain, center, and Rankin and Wendt, guards. Ralph Colman, Corvallis, will referee, and Bill Milligan, Spokane, will umpire.

18 Mexican Rebels Die In Church War Battles

(By United Press)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 6.—Eighteen rebels were killed in a battle with Federal troops at Salamanca, in the state of Guanajuato, according to dispatches today.
