Gate Crashers Make Quick Entrance And Evade Guardian Policemen

One-Eyed Connelly, most famous gate-crasher that ever existed, has nothing on some members of one of the prominent national fraternities on the campus. There's only one of him and there were ten of them . . . and still they got by.

It happens that in the past it has been the custom for college students to attempt to sneak into the pre-views presented by the Heilig theater on Sunday nights, but in the last few weeks the crowd has grown so great that the manager decided it might be well to curb the flow by issuing printed invitations as a requirement for entrance. These were issued and several dozen lone-some-looking University students stood around the entrance to the theater disconsolately while the lucky ones passed on and in.

Not so with a group of some ten students who arrived at a moment when the crowd was gradually dispersing. One of them had formerly been associated with the theater in capacity of stage-hand and he knew the ropes . . . also the entrances. Unfortunately, just as the stage door was safely gained a uniformed figure arrived in the background and the pace quickened perceptibly. At an undignified rate of speed the interior of the play-house was gained and the culprits took their seats hastily. Not three seconds behind them arrived the cop, but all was serene within. Every eye was intently focused on the flickering film, not a muscle quivered, not an eyelash so much as moved in the policeman's direction, no faces were ever so innocent as those of the new arrivals. The man in the uniform paced up and down a side aisle for a short time and then went out again, but no more people made their entrance at the same place. Printed invitations will be the only means of admittance from now on.

Varsity Swims Against O. S. C. Saturday Night

Frosh Enter First Water Meet With Oregon State Babes

The varsity and freshmen swimming teams will meet O. S. C. swimmers in the first conference swimming meet in the northwest division in Corvallis next Saturday night, February 18. The Oregon team goes to the meet with a feeling of confidence in the outcome, because of the enviable record in the two meets with the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club of Portland.

Johnny Anderson will attempt to diminish the present P. O. C. record of :56 in the 100-yard dash, held by O'Connor of Stanford. He is in excellent trim for the meet.

A re-arrangement of entries in the meet as given out last week makes necessary the following announcement. The order of events and list of entrants for Oregon varsity Saturday follows:

- 400-foot relay — Sharp, McCook, Slauson, Anderson.
- 200-yard breast stroke—Fletcher, Newbegin.
- 50-yard dash—Anderson, Slauson.
- 440-yard swim—Silverman, Reid.
- 150-yard back stroke—McAlpin, Abele.
- 100-yard dash—Anderson, Sharp.
- Fancy diving—Thomson, Stone.
- 220-yard swim—McCook, Abele, or Johnson.
- 300-yard medley relay—McAlpin, Smith, Sharp.

The freshman squad, meeting strong competition for the first time next Saturday night, is handicapped by not being completely represented in all events. Only one man is available in four of the swims, and no diving number will be featured in the freshman match.

Follows a lineup of the frosh entrants:

- 50-yard dash—Floyd, Johnson.

The Campus Stroller Observes . . . . .

(By J. L. W.)

THAT Valentine's Day ain't what it used to wuz!—not a single instance of a Prof's receiving a comic valentine has come to our notice.

THAT perhaps if comics were the style, the faculty could pass out some good ones to their students.

THAT there's no excuse for unshined opera lovers who moan at admission prices when opera is played at the local theaters have an opportunity of hearing an excellent performance tonight at the Music building, free of charge.

THAT it would seem as if the law school presumed on its powers in forbidding smoking within its sanctuary—since smoking is prohibited in all campus buildings by state law.

THAT rumblings from the column devoted to Communications indicate a threatened mutiny of the male in regard to this eternal footing of bills a la dime crawls, etc.

"Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here!"

WHETHER it is a football game or an exam knocked for a loop, there is always some joyous occasion for "Canada Dry." Then whoop her up with a light-fingered jazz-artist on the ukelele and "Hail, Hail! The Gang's All Here!" in close harmony.

"Canada Dry" has a delightful flavor . . . tang to it . . . dryness . . . sparkle. It contains no capsicum (red pepper). And because it contains only pure Jamaica ginger to give it that mild, subtle taste, it blends well with other beverages.

CANADA DRY

"The Champagne of Ginger Ales"

Extract imported from Canada and bottled in the U. S. A. by Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Incorporated, 25 West 43rd Street, New York, N. Y. In Canada, J. I. McLaughlin Limited. Established 1890.

Look for the name "Canada Dry" on the bottle cap. That shows you know your groceries.
