

Oregon Daily Emerald

University of Oregon, Eugene

RAY NASH, Editor MILTON GEORGE, Manager

EDITORIAL BOARD

Robert Galloway	Managing Editor	Walter Coover	Associate Editor
Claudia Fletcher	Asst. Managing Editor	Richard H. Spring	Sports Editor
Arthur Schoeni	Telegraph Editor	Donald Johnston	Feature Editor
Carl Gregory	F. L. P. Editor	Margaret Long	Society Editor
Arden X. Fangborn	Literary Editor

News and Editor Phones, 655

DAY EDITORS: William Schulze, Mary McLean, Frances Cherry, Marian Sten.
NIGHT EDITORS: J. Lynn Wykoff, chief; Lawrence Mitchelmore, Myron Griffin, Rex Tussing, Ralph David, Floyd Horn.

ASSISTANT NIGHT EDITORS: Joe Rice, Mil Prudhomme, Warren Tinker, Clarence Barton, Joe Freck, Gordon Baldwin, Glen Gall, A. F. Murray, Harry Tonkon, Harold Bailey.

SPORTS STAFF: Joe Pigney, Harry Dutton, Chalmers Nooe, Chandler Brown, Warren Tinker.

FEATURE STAFF: Florence Hurley, John Butler, Clarence Craw, Charlotte Kiefer, Don Campbell.

UPPER NEWS STAFF: Amos Burg, Ruth Hansen, La Wanda Fenaison, Flossie Radabaugh, William Hager, Herbert Lindy, Dorothy Baker.

NEWS STAFF: Margaret Watson, Wilfred Brown, Grace Taylor, Charles Boice, Elise Schoeder, Naomi Grant, Maryhelen Koupal, Josephine Stoffel, Thirza Anderson, Etha Jeanne Clark, Mary Frances Dillard, William Cohagen, Elaine Crawford, Audrey Henriksen, Phyllis Van Kimmel, Margaret Tucker, Gladys Blake, Ruth Creger, Leonard Delano, Thelma Kern, Jack Coolidge, Crystal Ordway, Elizabeth Schultz, Margaret Reid, Glenna Hecock, Irene Urfer, Joe Rice.

BUSINESS STAFF

LARRY THIELEN—Associate Manager
 Ruth Street Advertising Manager Bill Bates Foreign Adv. Mgr.
 Bill Hammond Ass't Advertising Mgr. Wilbur Shannon Ass't. Circulation Mgr.
 Lucille George Mgr. Checking Dept. Ray Dudley Assistant Circulation Mgr.
 Ed. Bissell Circulation Manager

ADVERTISING SALESMEN—Charles Reed, Francis Mullins, Eugene Laird, Richard Horn, Harold Kester, Ray Smick, John Caldwell, Sam Luders.

FINANCE ADMINISTRATOR—George Weber.

ADVERTISING ASSISTANTS—Harold Bailey, Herb King, Ralph Millsap.

OFFICE ADMINISTRATION—Doris Pugsley, Haryette Butterworth, Helen Lauregaard, Margaret Poorman, Kenneth Moore, Petty Boynton, Pauline Primoros, Margaret Underwood.

The Oregon Daily Emerald, official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, Eugene, issued daily except Sunday and Monday during the college year. Member, United Press News Service, Member of Pacific Intercollegiate Press. Entered in the postoffice at Eugene, Oregon, as second-class matter. Subscription rates, $2.50 per year. Advertising rates upon application. Residence phone, editor, 721; manager, 2799. Business office phone, 1896.

Day Editor This Issue—Marian Sten
 Night Editor This Issue—L. H. Mitchelmore
 Assistant Night Editors—Joe Rice

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1928

NERVOUSNESS, SAYS A DOCTOR, MAY EASILY BECOME A HABIT.

Yep, he's right; especially if we thought we had to live in a university as long as a prof does.

PRESS LOUD IN PRAISE OF "ANGLE WORM'S REVENGE"

New York Times: "This gripping serial of an angle worm's struggle against poverty and broken arches tugs at the heart strings like a stump puller. The whole gamut of human passions is run with the throttle wide open on unbanked corners. It has more real sand in it than Bow Jest, more grit than a barrel of scratch-food. Discuss the 'Angle Worm's Revenge' with your friends and fool them by appearing intelligent."

Chicago Daily News: "No child under three should fail to read the heart-rending scene where the poor angle worm is crushed underneath his bicycle by the Ford caterpillar; later his cruel revenge when he bores a hole in his rival's soup bowl. Lord Nelson's last comment on the Angle Worm's Revenge was when he said, 'England expects every man to do his duty.'"

TODAY'S GEOGRAPHICAL ANSWER

"You passed us in your car yesterday. Why didn't you stop?"
 "Didn't see you. Why didn't 'Chehalis'?" (And her amusement was expressed in a series of volcanic guffaws.)

PORTLAND PUBLICITY COUNTS

"Eugene folks who attended the physical culture demonstration at U. of O. recently remarked that if Helen Foley, Portland, could swim as pretty as she looks the English channel ought to be rolled up and put to bed."—As printed beneath her picture in Portland Telegram.

Ralph McCulloch and Reba Brogden had to be introduced before their picture was taken for the Sunday Oregonian, but it looked good nevertheless under the title, "When Love Is Young."

HAVE YOU HEARD THE JAPANESE FURNITURE SONG, "MUNG MYSU VENEERS?"

The professor with the shiny blue serge suit says that the whole world likes a good loser, particularly if it gets some of his money.

TODAY'S THRILLER

L. H. Johnson, comptroller of the University, was seen coming up Thirteenth street all dolled up, except for the lack of a collar and tie. The reporter noticed powder on his cheek, thought of barber shop right away, and smilingly continued up the street.

(News item.)
 All Swiss lakes have risen markedly.
 Brides have been smashed, roads destroyed, and railway traffic disrupted.

FAMOUS SAYINGS OF FAMOUS PROFESSORS

P. A. Parsons: "A criminal has a sense of guilt, and fleas."
 Population in the Salem penitentiary now numbers 700, says warden. To solve the problem we suggest they move the outside population into the penitentiary and turn the prisoners loose.

IT'S WORTH WAITING FOR—IT'S WORTH WATCHING FOR—"THE ANGLE WORM'S REVENGE." AND IT STARTS IN THIS COLUMN SOON!

FAMOUS LAST WORDS
 "What a boon to us men!"

SEVEN SEERS

The Vagabond

(The lectures on today's calendar have been selected for their general appeal. Everyone is welcome.)

"Charles Lamb," by Associate Prof. S. Stephenson Smith. Class—Criticism. 108 Villard 9 a. m.
 "Marxian Period of Socialism," by Prof. Walter Barnes. Class—Modern Europe. 110 Johnson, 2 p. m.

"Paganism's Breakdown from Within," by Dr. George Rebec. Class—Philosophy of History. 111 Johnson, 3 p. m.

Krazy Kopy Krawl is NOT a costume affair. Regular informal dress will be the rule for this evening and the dance will be in the nature of a grille dance. Accommodations will be limited to 150 couples. Tickets are available at the Co-op and College Side. Be sure and present your tickets for table reservations some time during today.

Five o'clock chorus will rehearse at 4:30 at Y. M. C. A. Hut.
 The Cosmopolitan club meets tonight in the Y. M. C. A. Hut at 8:15. The meeting on India will be followed by a short business meeting of members.

Amphibian club meets tonight at 7:30. Will practice inter-campus life saving methods.

Junior vaudeville committee to meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock. Room 104, Journalism.

Oregana staff meeting today at 3 in room 104, Journalism building. Section editors urged to be present.

REX—Last day—Esther Ralston in "The Spotlight," a glittering drama of backstage life and love, with Neil Hamilton and Arlette Marchal in the Paramount cast; also, "Red Hot Bullets," a Christie comedy; "Mud," a Hodge-Podge novelty, and "Felix Switches Witches," with Marion Zurcher in musical accompaniment on the organ.

McDONALD—Second day—"Old San Francisco," a lavishly screened drama of the Paris of America, in the days of Chinatown, Barbary Coast, and the great earthquake and fire, with Dolores Costello as the beautiful girl held captive in the underground dens of Chinatown, with Warner Oland and Sojin heading the supporting cast; on the stage, "The Varsity Four," the last word in hot harmony trios, with Billy O'Bryant at the piano, nightly at 8:50; also, Frank D. C. Alexander, playing a musical prelude to the feature, and an atmospheric accompaniment on the super-organ; Krazy Kat cartoon comedy and International news events.

HEILIG—"Ben-Hur," the immortal, masterpiece that defies description! Four complete showings daily, 1:00, 3:00, 7:00 and 9:00. Presented with original road show musical score played by Freddy Holt. The huge set battle and chariot scenes depicted by the "Magnascope" and effects.

Cozy

That's the atmosphere here on these chilly days for—

BREAKFAST
LUNCH
TEA
DINNER
SUPPER

The Anchorage

Stepping Ahead Of the Crowd

SWEEEPING changes in the organization of lower division curriculum were ratified by the faculty when they met yesterday. Majors in the college, composed of students seeking liberal studies, will, as freshmen and sophomores, group themselves in four general classifications for broad background work. Students in professional schools on the campus will retain their present status.

The lower division reform paves the road to mastery. The indictment persistently charged against the American system of loose popular education is that it produces superficial and slovenly thinkers. Apparently the time has come in this country's development when the criticism can no longer be dismissed with a shrug. Without sacrificing the policy of universal education, leaders are striving to add quality to the already much bemoaned numbers. Oregon is merely in step with other progressive institutions all over the country.

The problem of maintaining mass accommodations for the American collegiate horde and of selecting its stellar intellects, both processes operating side by side on the same campus, is Herculean—Europeans say it is foolhardy. But that is just what the faculty is tackling. They mean to provide opportunity for unrestricted growth for superior students, while they minister to the wants of the many at the same time.

Some have wondered what became of the honors school after its tentative overtures to the student body last fall. They would be surprised to know the success that this infant innovation has met. The point is that it is difficult for students habituated to the American respect of size, to realize that the genuine merit of these reforms is measured in the achievement of the small group capable of profiting by them. Some have pointed out in derision that the Stanford individual-study plan has benefitted only a half dozen since it was inaugurated. But they are unconscious of possible potentialities among the six that would be more worthwhile cultivating than the total annual mob.

The new lower division organization of the liberal arts group will provide the basis for real mastery which the inadequacy of secondary schools has made necessary. The hodge-podge of today's freshman and sophomore courses will, we hope, be correlated so that students can grasp a sense of the unity and interrelations of all knowledge. The mettle and metal of the individual, in conjunction with the prospect of honors work in his chosen field during his upperclass days, will tell the result. The faculty has come more than halfway.

Value of Teamwork Is Shown by Sport

THIS week will see the close of another successful season for an Oregon basketball team.

One of the outstanding reasons for calling the season a success is the fact that the Oregon team has upset the prognostications of the wisecracks who predicted that the Lemon-Yellow hoopers would finish near the bottom of the list.

Now, with two more conference games yet to be played, the worst the Webfoot squad can do is to finish the schedule with six wins to four losses.

But to lay the subject of relative standing to one side, there is another aspect from which value may be derived; that of team play.

This year's basketball team has not performed consistently. There have been times when the men worked together as a harmonious whole and seemed less a machine composed of five independent units. There were times when the team appeared to disintegrate into five individuals with a unity of purpose but divergent ideas about how to bring about its realization.

Three games, counting the Whitman tilt, were lost on the home floor. In each case, team work was either lacking to a great extent because of a tendency toward playing the game alone, or it was inferior to the brand displayed by the visiting team. The contrast between a team which works together and one which achieved unity but for a few minutes at a time, was easily seen by most of those who watched the various games.

Individual prowess is but occasionally able to carry off the victory, whether it be in the general game of life or in the specific case of a sporting event. Most of us are so endowed as to make it necessary that we learn to cooperate with the other fellow so that we may reach our own goal.

Hopkins To Appear In Lecture-Recitals

Three out-of-town recital-lectures will be given by George Hopkins, member of the University piano faculty within the next few days. Under the auspices of the Longview high school the first of his programs will be given for high school students and townspeople of that city on Friday morning of this week. The following evening he will appear in concert at Chehalis. At The Dalles he will present a program before the Women's Musical club on Monday, February 27.

Mr. Hopkins plans to give programs in Hood River and Klamath Falls within the next few weeks.

Christian Scientists Hold Campus Meeting

The second meeting of Christian Science society will be held in the Murray Warner library, third floor of the Woman's building, this evening at eight o'clock.

The society was organized this term. It will hold services on the first and third Wednesday of each month. All persons connected with the University are cordially invited to attend.

Five o'Clock Chorus Sings at Y Bungalow

Betty Higgins, junior on the campus, will lead Five o'Clock services at the Bungalow today. The Five o'Clock chorus will sing under the direction of Margaret Lee Slusher.

The program follows:
 Meditations—Mary Harney.
 Processional—Five o'Clock chorus.
 "Now the Day Is Over" (Baraby)—Chorus.

Scriptural reading—Betty Higgins.
 "Son of My Soul" (Bitter)—Chorus.

Recessional—Chorus.
 The services are held from 5:00 till 5:30 every Tuesday. All Oregon women are invited to attend.

Theta Sigma Phi Open Meeting To Be Tonight

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary fraternity, is inviting all women in journalism to be its guests at an open meeting to be held this evening at the home of Mrs. George Turnbull, 1010 East Twentieth street, beginning at 7:15 o'clock.

William T. Tilden 2nd

to protect his throat, smokes Luckies

"The voice is essential to stage work and its care one of the actor's greatest worries. During the course of some of my stage appearances, I am called upon at intervals to smoke a cigarette and naturally I have to be careful about my choice. I smoke Lucky Strikes and have yet to feel the slightest effect upon my throat. I understand that toasting frees this cigarette from any throat irritants. They're 100% with me." William T. Tilden 2nd

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES

"IT'S TOASTED"

Prominent Tobacco Buyer says "The Cream of the Tobacco Crop" goes into Lucky Strikes

"Buying tobacco for Lucky Strike Cigarettes is a matter of selecting the finest grown. It is my duty and instruction to buy 'The Cream of the Tobacco Crop' for this brand. Nothing is omitted or spared in making my purchase just a little better. Quality always tells."

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

W. L. Israel