

Delta Gamma To Build Home

Six Organizations Plan New Houses During Coming Months

The Delta Gamma girls are not homeless, but they have sold their house to the bachelors of Bachelordon, the final negotiations having just been completed. The girls are planning to build in the spring.

Several other organizations are also planning new homes. Members of Delta Tau Delta hope to build this term and expect to have their new house next fall. A meeting of the 500 active and alumni-members from Oregon and Washington will be held March 17, to decide about the new building. They have already purchased a lot on University street directly across from the Phi Gamma house, where they expect to build. Alpha Gamma Delta is planning to build although no definite plans have been made as yet. A lot has been purchased on Alder near the Alpha Omicron Pi house, however, and they expect to build next year. Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon are planning to build also, but have made no definite plans.

The new plans for the Delta Gamma house are being passed by the executive council of Delta Gamma alumnae building association. Both Colonial and English Gothic architecture is being considered. The architect will be named next week. The house is expected to cost about $25,000 or $40,000 and will be located on their lot, which is on 16th and Alder, about a block and a half from their present site. The future location covers a half block and all the property will be utilized by the fraternity.

The members of the executive council who are deciding the necessary plans are: Edna Gray, '19, of Portland, president; Lois Beth Scofield, president of the active chapter; Pauline Bondurant, Portland, secretary; Jeanette Calkins, Eugene, treasurer; Aline Noren Ehringer, '13, Dover, Delaware; Clem Cameron, '19, Portland; Marian Neil Giger, '18, Portland; and Mildred Lawrence Bigbee, '16, Portland.

Cadet Officers May Train in Air Corps

In lieu of taking the regular six weeks' training at the Cadet Officers' summer camp, those cadet officers who have deferred this requirement may attend one of the government flying schools this year, Colonel W. S. Sinclair has been informed by the war department. This action is part of the movement to train more men in the air corps.

However, those cadets who wish to avail themselves of the chance to take this much training must pass the physical examination given upon application. This examination is the regular series of tests all potential flying students must pass.

There are six student officers at the local unit who have not yet filled the summer camp requirement necessary for their graduation, Colonel Sinclair declares. They may make use of this opportunity if they wish.

Lloyd Hahn Triumphs In Indoor Track Meet

(By United Press) MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N. Y., Feb. 29.—Lloyd Hahn of the Boston Athletic association won the "mile of the century" tonight and established himself as the greatest middle distance runner of the present indoor track season.

He lead Ray Conger of the Illinois Otto Peltzer of Germany to the tape in a race which lacked excitement because it was entirely in Hahn's control throughout.

Conger finished second in the race, the feature event of Columbus games, while Dr. Peltzer, badly beaten, pulled up on the back stretch and trotted home.

Twenty thousand spectators, the largest throng that ever witnessed an indoor meet in the United States saw Hahn jump into the lead and gradually draw away from his tiring opponents to win in 4 minutes and 13 seconds, one second behind the world's record.

R.O.T.C. Ratings Policy Changed

Old System of Inspecting Units Now Taboo

No distinguished rating will be given any university or college R. O. T. C. unit this year due to a change in policy of inspection by the war department, Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall is informed in a letter from Major General J. L. Hines of the army.

Colonel William S. Sinclair, to whom the communication was forwarded pointed out that this is the result of the difficulties which have arisen in the past concerning the classification of the different units. Under the old system, all units—artillery, infantry, flying, cavalry, machine gun, and motor transport—were grouped under one head and inspected for distinguished rating without regard to classification. The similar units were not grouped under separate heads with their own standards of inspection.

"It was like grouping all of the animals at a stock show—pigs, goats, cattle horses, and so on—and judging them on the standards of a cow or some other one animal," Colonel Sinclair declared, in commenting on the system.

For this year, the war department is having each unit inspected by the various commanders of the corps area. For the local unit, Major H. Waddell, commander of the Ninth Corps area, will conduct the inspection April 18. In the meantime, the department is studying the matter of classification.

Machine Gun Ambush Kills Five Marines

(By United Press) MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 29.—Five marines were killed and eight wounded in rebel ambush Monday at Daraili, it became known tonight as details of the skirmish reached Managua. Thirty-six marines and eighty-five animals comprised the American pack train.

General Augustino Sandino, rebel chief, employed favorite tactics by setting a machine gun ambush against the small pack train column commanded by Lieutenant Edward F. O'Day.

After pouring his deadly, well-directed fire from his set machine gun position into the American column, Sandino took advantage of the marines' momentary disorder to disappear into the dense brush. Marine casualties since the first marines landed here were brought to 18 killed and 43 wounded.

Frosh Debaters Chosen by Coach

Four Oregon Colleges Are Slated by Yearlings

Teams for the four freshman debates to be held during the spring term with Eugene Bible University, Linfield College, Pacific University, and Willamette University were announced yesterday by J. K. Horner, University of Oregon debate coach.

The subject to be used in all the contests will be the same as that to be used in a number of the varsity debates: "Resolved, That the United States should cease to protect by armed force, capital investment in foreign countries, except after formal declaration of war."

The first contest will be April 10 with Eugene Bible University. Harvey Reynolds and Stanley Darling, with Neal Taylor and Charles McClun as alternates, will uphold the negative of the question.

The dates of the other three contests have not yet been definitely settled, Mr. Horner said. Hal Paddock and George Lowe, with Clarence Barton as alternate, will represent the negative for the frosh.

Clair Hammond and Stanford Brooks will debate the affirmative of the investments question against Pacific University. Sometime later the Willamette University negative team will come to Eugene to meet Harry Tonkin and Calvin Bryan, who will take the affirmative for Oregon. David Fortig will act as alternate in that debate. The freshman debaters will make no trips away from Eugene this year, Mr. Horner said, as the budget of the student body included no funds for them.

Program and Plans Made for Convention

Alton Bristol, chairman of the campus Seabeck committee, announces a very satisfactory meeting of the committee at the home of H. W. Davis last Sunday afternoon. In addition to the making of plans for getting recruits for the delegation to the annual Y. M. C. A. convention of northwest colleges at Seabeck on Puget Sound June 9 to 18, a few of the features of the program at Seabeck were announced by Wm. Shulze, chairman of the northwest Seabeck committee.

"We have the best program lined up for this year that we have had in my four years of experience at the conference. It looks like it will be a knock-out," says Shulze. "J. Stett Wilson will be there during the entire nine days. Other prominent speakers listed are Arthur Rugh, George Stewart, associate pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church, New York; C. J. "Dad" Elliott, and Bruce Curry, famous conductor of inspirational Bible classes."

Oregon Orators Compete March 9

Allan Belloni Represents University Here

The Oregon State Old Line Oratorical contest will be held in Villard hall Friday, March 9, at 8 o'clock, A. H. Baldrige, University oratory coach, announced today.

The Old Line contest is held annually under the auspices of the Oregon Intercollegiate Oratorical association of which the University of Oregon, Oregon State College, Willamette University, Pacific University, Pacific College, Linfield College, Reed College, Albany College, Oregon Normal School, and Southern Oregon Normal School are members. It is probable that the majority of these institutions will be represented in the contest next week.

Competitors in the Old Line contests will give original orations, not more than 15 minutes in length, on any subject. The winner will be awarded a bronze statuette of Abraham Lincoln.

The University of Oregon will be represented by G. Allan Belloni, junior in pre-law, who will speak on the subject, "Dollar Diplomacy." Belloni was a member of the frosh debate team two years ago. Following the contest a banquet will be given for all the contestants at the Eugene hotel. The chairman and judges have not yet been selected.

U. C. L. A., Los Angeles, Feb. 29. P. I. P.—Speaking on the subject of "The Press and Criminology," Louise Muroch of U. C. L. A. won first honors in the third annual Southern California women's extemporaneous contest held at La Verne College last week.

Intramural Track Meet Tomorrow

Finals To Be Run Saturday For Championship

...Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 the first day of the two-day intramural track meet will be held on Hayward field. Friday's events will consist of the trial heats of the 75 yard dash, 220, 440, 800 yard run and the mile. Saturday will see the finals and the field events.

This week-end track carnival marks the culmination of a series of indoor track meets which Coach Bill Hayward has staged this term. According to Bill, the meet should be good considering the times at this period of the track season. There are four contenders, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon tracksters, Betas, Independents and Phi Deltas, who Bill thinks will battle hard for the title. He thinks that this quartet will finish within four points of each other.

The winner of the finals Saturday afternoon will be awarded a large silver loving cup which is now on display in the Co-op.

Hark Back---

CAN you call to mind any particular occasion when you stepped into our store and asked for something which we did not have?—Very seldom, we'll bet.

And if we didn't have it, was there ever a time in which we failed to arrange for a special order from New York or San Francisco, or wherever it was, so that your needs were filled in the shortest time possible?—Haven't failed yet, we'll bet.

But we don't want to hark back and blow about our past. What we want to do is to blow out to the wide world what we're going to do so we'll have to live up to it. Highest grade service assured for the future—You Bet!
