

Donut League Starts Today

Two Baseball Games at 4; Lists of Ineligibles Published

Two new white horsehide balls will start on their way from pitchers to catchers this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the two baseball diamonds reserved for donut use. The intramural season begins with Phi Delta Theta swapping hits with Kappa Sigma, and Phi Kappa Psi taking turns at batting with Sigma Chi. Freddie West will officiate in the first named encounter, and Beryl Hodgson will call balls and strikes in the second.

At the intramural directorate's meeting this term it was decided that certain individuals would not be eligible to play donut baseball. Coach Bill Reinhart said that he would make out a list of the varsity men he wanted to retain for his own personal use, Coach "Spike" Leslie decided to list his freshmen diamond artists, and Bill Hayward, track coach, declared that all his varsity and frosh trackmen would not be allowed to play. He also promised to submit a list of the men he wanted.

Lists Follow

The coaches have been true to their word. The lists of men that are ineligible to play intramural baseball for the spring term of 1928 follow: Varsity baseball: Gabriel, Woodie, Baker, Fuller, Gannon, McDonald, Johnson, Nelson, Reynolds, Ridings, Hanley, Eddy, Robbie, McCormick, Mason, Edwards, Epps, Gould, Dutton, Benson, Giles. Freshmen baseball: Bloom, Chappel, Arnett, Basha, Long, Barber, Reed, Parks, Webber, Sussman, Knox, Olinger, Smith, Hande, Hilgers, Andrews, Felter, Guthrie, Blackburn, Page, Hollowell, East, Barnes, Horner, Moore, Beistel.

Trackmen Notice!

Hayward's lists are: Varsity track: Atkinson, Adams, Angstead, Banks, Bunn, Bracher, Bredthauer, Browne, Dashney, Dickson, Flangus, Foster, Hall, Hammond, Hamaker, Hildreth, Jensen, Kuykendall, Kelley, Kier, McKittrick, McKennon, McCarty, Overstreet, Pefley, Prendergast, Reed, and Robinson.

Among the freshman tracksters: F. Anderson, I. Anderson, Boone, Bristow, Baker, Corcoran, Cogswell, Cowins, Cruikshank, Everts, Estill, Gardner, E. Harrington, L. Harrington, Boggs, F. Hill, R. Hill, Lowry, Maultby, McCormick, Maginnis, I. Neal, K. Neal, Overstreet, Phibbs, Remyan, Steele, Stevens, Sigmund, Tutlich, Schroeder and Wilson.

Rent Shelf Has Books By Popular Writers

"I have tried to give a picture of an exasperatingly complex personality in the easiest possible terms," wrote Robert Graves of T. E. Lawrence in the introduction of his new rent book at the library, "Lawrence and the Arabian Adventure."

Ten Best Guessers In Contest Win Cash

The cigarette contest, sponsored by the College Side Inn, was won by Jack Reynolds and H. W. Root. The first and second prizes are $5 and $3, and each of the other ten contestants receive a carton of cigarettes.

Preliminaries for Jewett Prize Contest To Begin This Week

The annual oratorical prize contest under the auspices of Mrs. Wilson Jewett, which is open to members of the pre-legal English classes, will formally begin April 18, the date for the first of the preliminary tryouts.

At present there are two of the classes listed in the catalogue under Exposition 59c, and the enrollment numbers 38 men and 2 women. These students have been at work on their orations for the past month. The subjects are chosen by the students.

There are three prizes offered, the first $25 in cash, the second $15, and the third, $10.

Water Polo Ball Badly Neglected

Three Games Tonight, Maybe Fourth

The water polo ball fell into the water Tuesday night and immediately proceeded to get wet. No one chased it. It floated about for a few useless minutes until it was fished out soaking with indignation.

It will be tossed in again tonight at 7 o'clock and by rights the Independent and Sigma Phi Epsilon cohorts should be there to drown it. The next ducking match will be put on by Phi Delta Theta and Phi Kappa Psi. To finish up the "wet" evening, Delta Tau Delta and Phi Sigma Kappa will take their turn at flipping the slippery leather. It is whispered that Phi and Kappa Sigma will tangle also.

To come back to the indignation of the neglected water polo ball Tuesday night, let it be said the Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu swimmers were there alone and lonely. Sigma Alpha Epsilon must have used the tennis court too strenuously during the afternoon for not a single one showed up to do battle with the Sigma Nu cohorts, and thereby defaulted.

Coach Anderson of the Fiji splashers kept his men locked up in a room and lectured them on the fine points of the game for just exactly a half an hour too long, for just as Kappa Sigma was ready to leave, they came ensemble and together. It is rumored that they will play tonight.

Courts on 13th Street To Be Opened for Play

Playing will be started shortly on the three tennis courts between the old library and the Commerce building on the University of Oregon campus, which have just been re-equipped with backstops and other facilities by order of the board of regents. Explanation of new rules for use of all University tennis courts was given yesterday by Dean John Bovard of the school of physical education.

All courts are free to members of the University student body and administrative staff, Dean Bovard said, an extra charge having been added to the physical education fees. To outsiders, a fee of 10 cents an hour per player will be collected as usual.

Tubbing Contest At April Smoker

Football Men and Officers To Be Recipients

To see the football team and the student body officers "tubbed" would delight the wayfaring freshmen, who themselves have known of the delights of such measures. Who would not chortle in high glee at such a sight? Saturday night at the masculine April Frolic in the "Iglou" this desirable spectacle will come to pass.

Besides this wholesale "tubbing party," which is to be kept as quiet as possible so that the participants will not have a pressing engagement to spend the week-end elsewhere, there are other things to delight the masculine love of battles and to tickle his palate. So says the high mogul of the affair, George Stadelman.

He continues his dissertation on the pleasures to be encountered by enumerating music, boxing, wrestling, medicine ball contest, cock-fighting, tumbling, battle royal, and cats, with an accent on the last named.

Hot music that will make you forget that your girl may be at her own frolic having a good time without you, that is the kind George is going to serve. Boxing talent is abundant around this institution and the mitt slinging will be of a fast and furious variety, with lots of jabs and hooks and a soft pedal on the hugs and love-taps.

Wrestling champs will show their stuff, and tie each other in knots for the benefit of the spectators. Do not get scared at the name, medicine ball, for it has nothing to do with the small white variety, known as a pill. Very little is known as to who will enter this contest or just what it will be. Clients, let us stop right here and remark that it is expected of each and every fraternity and organization on the campus to enter at least one member in one event. Here is your chance. If you have a frosh who knows how to take his medicine shove him into the tilt.

Everybody knows what a cock-fight is. The bigger they are the harder they fall, but the littler they are the farther they go. The tumbling artists are practicing now and their ability will be the marvel of the ages. Everyone who witnessed the battle royal last year will not miss this one. It's like throwing one little piece of catnip into a cage of wildcats.

There will be a prize for the winner of each event. Not all events rate cups, but there will be prizes suitable to the occasions. The time is 8 o'clock Saturday night, and the place is McArthur court. Don't bring your girl!

Donald Barnes To Go To London in August

Professor Donald Barnes, who has been granted a year's leave of absence, is planning to leave before the end of August for London to begin his research on the life of Henry Pelham. Dr. Barnes, who has been on the faculty of the history department here for six years, was recently granted a fellowship in the

Returns to His Favorite Tobacco

Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va.
Dear Sirs:
I am a prodigal son. I began pipe-smoking with Edgeworth. But after a while I began to wander, trying other tobaccos, experimenting to see if there were any better tobacco for the pipe.
I have tried most of the best known brands and a number of the more obscure, both imported and domestic, but they didn't suit.
So now I have returned—I am using Edgeworth again, satisfied that no better tobacco is made.
"And the prodigal son partook of the fatted calf"; I bought a new pipe when I returned to Edgeworth.
With many thanks for my cool, melon, sweet smokes, I am,
Very truly yours,

Guggenheim Memorial Foundation for next year. The foundation offers a limited number of fellowships each year to men and women of high intellectual and personal qualifications who have demonstrated unusual capacity in research or creative ability. The purpose of the fellowship is to supply the most favorable condition for study and research. Last year, Avard Fairbanks, an instructor in sculpture here, was selected for a fellowship.

Dr. R. C. Clark, head of the history department, says that this is a distinctive honor for the University as well as for Professor Barnes.

Oregon Netmen To Play Huskies

Multnomah Club May Be Next Antagonists

With the next tennis matches scheduled against Washington for May 5, over three weeks away, the Webfoot tennis men are availing themselves of every opportunity to practice on the outdoor courts when the weather permits. There is a possibility, according to Coach Abercrombie, that the Oregon team will meet Multnomah Club, of Portland, before they meet the Huskies.

The coach is also trying to arrange a match with the Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club, to be played on May 3, two days before the Washington matches. The competition that these practice meets affords, the success of the team later in the declared last night, is vital to the season.

Besides the four men who recently represented Oregon in the California matches, there are twelve or fifteen others on the squad, including several lettermen of past seasons. It is very likely, according to the coach, that some of these will have improved enough by the time the next matches are held to replace some of these now holding the first positions.

Old Oregon Has Special Edition

Pictures, Articles Boost Summer Session

Study and recreation, available to all attending the coming summer school of the University, is explained in word and picture in the Summer Session number of Old Oregon, which will soon come off the press. It is one of the largest and most important issues of the alumni magazine for the year.

This number, in addition to being sent to the regular subscribers, will be used for distribution among prospective summer school students. A list of courses and the hour at which they will be given is provided for the benefit of prospective students.

One of the chief articles of the magazine was written by Alfred Powers, dean of the summer session, and is called "Some Visiting Celebrities on the Summer Faculty." It describes the personnel of the staff, many of whom are prominent nationally.

The Junior College situation is explained by Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, in an interesting and readable article for alumni who do not understand it.

"From a Summer Instructor's Notebook," by Graec Edgington Jordan, '16, is a clever and humorous description of the various types of students found at a summer session. Mrs. Jordan taught at several summer schools and is well qualified to write on this subject.

"BISMARCK" By LUDWIG

She was formerly alumni secretary and editor of Old Oregon. William Haggerty, '20, has a story describing the recreational possibilities for an Oregon summer "sessioner," the beaches, Oregon caves, McKenzie river, Three Sisters area, and Mt. Hood are described.

"Polite Letters and Rough—in Oregon" is the title of the book review section by S. Stephenson Smith, instructor in English. The faculty letter is, as usual, clever and snappy. Spring sports are furnished by Dick Syring.

Reports of alumni meetings of former Oregon students in Los Angeles and San Francisco are of interest to alumni. The cover design is in blue and contains a picture of a campus luncheon at the last summer session. There are several pages of pictures in the number and some very beautiful cuts have been used.
