

Maddox Given Southern Job

Professor Will Leave as School Ends; Gavit to Teach Law Courses

William P. Maddox, for the past three years assistant professor of political science at the University of Oregon, will leave soon after school is out for Charlottesville, Va., where he has accepted a similar position on the staff of the University of Virginia.

While on the campus Mr. Maddox has been active in promoting widespread interest in international relations. He has organized through his activities, clubs for the study of international affairs and problems of peace.

Mr. Maddox went to Europe several years ago as Rhodes scholar from Maryland. While in England and on the continent he corresponded for the New York Herald-Tribune, and has also written for the Baltimore Evening Sun.

He conducted a weekly world events discussion column in the Emerald during the past year.

One of the most recent appointments made to the staff of the University of Oregon is that of Bernard C. Gavit, a prominent attorney of Hammond, Ind., who will serve as a member of the law school faculty. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago law school, obtaining his degree of doctor of jurisprudence in 1920. He was graduated from Washburn college in 1915, and during his college years was a member and captain of the track team, editor of the college paper, and active in dramatic work. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta, social fraternity, and Phi Delta Phi, national law organization.

He has been a member of the law firm of Ibach, Gavit, Stinson & Gavit since his graduation from the law school.

League Meet May 3; Offenders Brought Up

Thursday, May 3, was set as the date for the Women's League mass meeting for the installation of officers for next year, at a meeting of the league executive council last night. The time of the installation meeting has been placed ahead to this date in order that preparation for next year's activities of the league may be planned and begun as soon as possible with Edith Dodge, president-elect, just recently returned from the Seattle convention of the western conference of the Intercollegiate Associated Women Students, and full of plans for new developments in Women's League work. A running start on work to be done is also the more desirable since Dean Esterly will not be on the campus next year.

Action was also taken by the council regarding the University women who visited the men's smoker the night of April Frolic. The majority of those implicated submitted their own names upon the request of the league, and were brought before the council last night to receive reprimands in person regarding the seriousness of their offense to the other women of the University.

Rush Work on Annual For Junior Week-end

The Oregonian will be off the press Junior Week-end, if the work yet to be done runs off according to schedule, Mary Benton, editor, said yesterday.

"We are trying hard to have our book ready for distribution then," she said. All copy has been corrected and given to the printers and most of the proofs have been read.

Borders for the pages, done in a light tint, have been run off and the printing of the pages is about all that remains to be done.

Alumni Conference Meets in Minneapolis

Miss Jeannette Calkins, alumni secretary and editor of Old Oregon, left for Minneapolis yesterday to attend the fifteenth annual conference of the American Alumni Council, at the University of Minnesota, May 2, 3, 4, 5.

Miss Calkins will go directly to Minneapolis, but will stop at the state universities of Wisconsin, Utah, and California and the University of Chicago on her return trip. She plans to visit the alumni offices of these institutions and study their ideas of organization.

The alumni council is composed of editors of alumni magazines, alumni secretaries and administrators of alumni funds. One of the most interesting and helpful features of the conference will be a magazine clinic at which expert publishers, editors and advertising men of the country, review and criticize alumni publications.

The section devoted to alumni secretaries will study methods in alumni offices and the problem of obtaining funds. Representatives of state universities, women's colleges and large endowed institutions will

Finds Right Tobacco for the Tropics

October 6, 1926
Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va., U. S. A.
Gentlemen:
Most all well-known tobaccos smoke well in a cold or temperate climate, but very few in a tropical climate. They are mostly too heavy, don't seem to be blended right—at least that is my opinion gained from practical experience.

However, Edgeworth is the same in any climate. Again that is my opinion gained by practical experience.

I cannot get the same pleasure out of any brand of tobacco that I can out of Edgeworth, and I have tried many—and paid fancy prices, too. It costs real money to smoke imported tobaccos here; the import duty is very high.

Anyway, we cannot have everything we would like in these countries, so we hold on to all the little pleasures possible. Now you know why I smoke Edgeworth.

Yours respectfully,
R. C. Rigg
Cartagena, Columbia, S. A.

Legion Men Witness R.O.T.C. Unit Parade; Pledges Are Installed

Con Dillon, commander of the local American Legion post, and Ben Doris, prominent local American Legion man, were among the spectators watching the third parade ceremonies of the R. O. T. C. unit Thursday afternoon. The five companies marched on Kincaid field at 5 o'clock and, after report of the cadet officers, went through ceremonies while the band played.

After the unit had lined up for inspection by Colonel William S. Sinclair, the formal pledging of 12 new members to the recently installed chapter of the national Seaboard and Blade honorary was held. William Rutherford, captain of the chapter, left for the national convention of the honorary in the East last Sunday, and Mark Taylor, first lieutenant, acted in his place.

National Honor Award Arrives

Oregon Alpha Delta Sigma Highest in U. S.

The plaque awarded to the W. F. Thacher chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, men's professional advertising fraternity, for being the most outstanding chapter in the United States in 1927, has just been received and was shown to the members at their noon meeting yesterday. It will be hung permanently in Professor Thacher's office.

This honor, which is in bronze on mahogany, was awarded on the basis of excellence of personnel, activity of the active members, and success of alumni. Calvin Horn, who is now with the Botsford-Constantine Advertising Agency, was president, and James Manning, secretary. Manning was the newly elected president, but failed to return to school. He will be back again next year.

The annual meeting of the Willamette Valley Ad Clubs will be held in Eugene May 18. This meeting will include the Alpha Delta Sigma chapters of O. S. C. and of Oregon, and Gamma Alpha Chi, recently established women's professional advertising group on the campus. The Eugene groups will be hosts.

Professor W. F. G. Thacher and Carl Thuneman, advertising manager of McMoran and Washburn, from the Eugene Ad Club, Bob Warner and Bob Byington, from Alpha Delta Sigma, and Pod Sten, from Gamma Alpha Chi, will form a committee to put this convention over.

The date of the national convention of Alpha Delta Sigma has been set for October 12 and 13 of this year at Champaign, Illinois, at the state university. The local group is planning to send delegates.

Foreign Intervention Resented by Chinese

(By United Press)
LONDON, April 26.—Seven hundred Japanese troops, under the command of General Naito, are being sent inland to Tsingtao, Japan's nearest port to the present theatre of the Chinese war between the nationalists and the imperialists.

The dispatch stated that the troops were sent inland to the Shantung capital following reports of considerable looting by bandits and northern troops who are falling back before the nationalist advance. When it was first announced that 1500 Japanese troops would sail from Moji last Monday to Shantung as the first contingent of those which would be sent; a multitude of protests grew from the rising ire of the Chinese at the precautionary measures the foreign powers are taking in the present situation. Both the American and British naval commanders in Chinese waters have ordered precautionary measures in the event the position of their nationals becomes serious.

Stanford Military Ball Features Clever Motif

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Palo Alto, April 26.—(P.I.P.)—Huge skyscrapers, trains of giant aircraft, and inhabitants of the invaded heavens, were the subjects of the decoration motif at the military ball held here last week. Many-colored panels depicting celestial scenes decorated the basketball pavilion, and created a vivid bizarre atmosphere.
